BOARD OF ZONING ADJUSTMENT HEARING.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 7, AT 2 P. M. IN HEARING ROOM, 401 CITY HALL ANNEX.

Petition No. 111.—Public hearing on petition of David H. Evans for a change of zoning lines in the vicinity of Embankment road, Cambridge street, Charles street and Pinckney street, Boston proper, from an R-65 (general residence, 65 feet height) district and an L-65 (local business, 65 feet height) district, to an R-155 (general residence, 155 feet height) district.

REWARD IN COMEAU DEATH CASE DISTRIBUTED.

Mayor Nichols announced on December 23 that following a study which he directed to be made by Police Commissioner Wilson, City Auditor Carven and Corporation Counsel Deland, of the various claims relating to the reward offered by order of the City Council and approved by him on March 30, 1926, that the amount authorized by the city for procuring the detection and apprehension of the person or persons responsible for the death of Frank J. Comeau, late member of the Police Department, be expended by the Police Commissioner under the direction of his Honor, he had directed the Police Commissioner to pro-rate and pay the award to the following persons: Mr. William F. Sullivan, 81 Ocean street, Lynn, $500; Mrs. William F. Sullivan, 81 Ocean street, Lynn, $500; Mr. Franklin P. Webber, 13 Winthrop street, East Boston, $500; Mrs. Franklin P. Webber, 13 Winthrop street, East Boston, $500, and Dr. Marion Cowan Burroughs, 19 Ocean street, Lynn, $100.

The Mayor regrets that because of the law of this Commonwealth that a police officer cannot participate in a reward for the detection of criminals, that Captain Curry and Sergeant Muckien cannot participate in the reward offered. Few murders were ever committed in this city which had so few clues to its actual perpetrators as this case, and great credit is due Captain Curry and Sergeant Muckien for their intelligent, persistent and indefatigable activities.

To all other police officers the city is greatly indebted, and his Honor desires to give public recognition to their work on this case, and the work also of all the police of other cities and towns in the Commonwealth, including the State Police and the State Patrol. Special mention is also made of the splendid service rendered by Patrolmen Driscoll, Patterson and McNamara for their intelligent and brave conduct in this case.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

DIRECTOR OF SCHOOL HYGIENE REPORT.

The School Committee has approved the following report of the Director of School Hygiene on his attendance at the annual meeting of the American Public Health Association, held at Buffalo, N. Y., October 11 to 14:

BOSTON, December 9, 1926.

FROM: Director of School Hygiene.
TO: Superintendent of Public Schools.
SUBJECT: Report of Attendance at Convention of American Public Health Association at Buffalo, N. Y.

Through the courtesy of the School Committee, the Director of School Hygiene was granted the privilege of attending the Annual Meeting of the American Public Health Association which was held at Buffalo, N. Y., October 11 to 14, 1926, inclusive.

This meeting was typical of all other meetings of the American Public Health Association. Delegates from all parts of the United States and Canada were present and took active and inactive parts in the program. The exercises began at 9 o'clock a. m., and lasted until midnight on every day of the convention.

Special papers on specific subjects were read and discussed in the various section meetings.

The Director of School Hygiene attended the section meetings on child hygiene, school hygiene, preventive medicine, health education and laboratory methods, and entered into formal and informal discussion on papers in these various sections.

Of course the meetings in the sections that pertained to school hygiene and health education administration in the schools were naturally most interesting to the Director of School Hygiene, and he received much valuable information from attendance at these section meetings.

The Director of School Hygiene lost no opportunity in acquainting the various section members as to the growth and expansion program in the Department of School Hygiene of the Boston Public Schools. The great number of communications received at this office since the meeting at Buffalo requesting results of specific surveys and original medical inspection policies, indicate the desire on the part of many cities and towns in the United States area not only to adopt the school hygiene activities of the Boston Public Schools, but also to carry them out to a successful termination.

The Director of School Hygiene naturally is proud of the achievements of his department but knows that these achievements would not have been possible except for the reason that he had the entire support and co-operation not only of his personnel, but also of the School Committee and the Board of Superintendents.

Pursuant to instructions from the Superintendent, the Director of School Hygiene studied the school lunch system in Buffalo, N. Y., and forwarded a report on the subject to the Superintendent under date of October 18, 1926.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN A. CECONI, M. D.,
Director.

AREA OF BOSTON TO WARD LINES.

Total, 30,598 acres (i. e., 47.81 square miles), 2,944 acres being filled land, 1,143 acres water area and 1,436 acres flats. Land area only, 28,019 acres (i. e., 43.78 square miles). Included in the latter are 160 acres of filled flats recently added to the land area of South Boston and 175 acres to that of East Boston.

Original Boston contained about 780 acres of land. Of the twelve leading American cities, eight are larger in land area than Boston, viz., Los Angeles (364 sq. miles), New York (318), Chicago (199.4), Philadelphia (129), Baltimore (91.9), Detroit (80), Cleveland (56.6), and St. Louis (61.25). The only city in Massachusetts with larger land area is Taunton (50 sq. mi.).

If Boston should expand by annexations as New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and others have expanded, its total area, in case of including the 39 cities and towns within the 15-mile radius, would exceed the largest, viz., Los Angeles, the present land area of "Greater Boston" being 409.3 square miles.

METROPOLITAN AREA AND POPULATION.

Area of Northern Division, 150.8 sq. miles and population in 1920, 699,685, or a density of 4,619 per sq. m.; Southern Division, 214.8 sq. miles and 211,191 population, or density of only 983 per sq. m.; in the whole Metropolitan District, 4,051 per sq. m. In percentages Boston shows 10.5 p. c. of District's area and 45.09 p. c. of population; Northern Division, 36.2 of area and 42.18 of population; Southern Division, 58.3 of area and 12.73 of population. In the period 1915-1920, increase of population 34,798 larger in Northern than in Southern Division.

Total land area of District, 409.3 square miles; population by census of 1920, 1,713,744 (as corrected) or 7.52 per cent increase over that of 1915. Of the total population of the State in 1920 "Greater Boston" had 43.86 per cent.

In 1925, as ordered by the new census law (Chap. 453, Acts of 1924) each municipality of the District undertook its own enumeration, the total population counted being 1,808,845 as of March 31. Boston's proportion of said total was 43.10 per cent. By the more reliable State Census of 1915 that proportion was 46.77 per cent.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

Upon December 24 the Mayor approved a contract with Kenney Brothers & Wolkins for furnishing, delivering and setting up pupils' school furniture in various schoolhouses for the financial year from January 1 to December 31. Bids, opened December 2, were as follows:

* Bid on maple.

Of these three bids, the American Seating Company's bid did not comply with the specifications. This left the choice between the Heywood-Wakefield Company and Kenney Brothers & Wolkins, whose bids are exactly alike on every item.

On investigation it appears that the Heywood-Wakefield Company's desks do not comply with the specifications, because the hinges inside the desk are not covered, leaving the possibility of tearing books placed inside the desks, and also of causing injury to the pupils' fingers by jamming.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Upon December 15 the Mayor approved a contract with Frank J. Gallagher & Co. for repairs and renewals on the third floor of the Fire Headquarters. A communication from E. C. Hultman of the Fire Department was as follows:

BOSTON, December 13, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I am sending herewith a letter requesting your Honor's approval for additions to a contract with Frank J. Gallagher & Co. The amount of the additions is $1,027, and is to be added to the contract dated November 12, 1926, for making repairs and renewals to the third floor of the Fire Headquarters Building.

Since the work started I decided that there were a few small changes which were required in the layout of the second floor, on which floor the office of the Fire Commissioner is located. The work is all in the same building and some of the work, such as the plumbing, involves both floors. Because Frank J. Gallagher & Co. are on the job here in this building, I think the city is obtaining a fair price for the additions and request your Honor's approval.

Yours very truly,

E. C. HULTMAN,
Fire Commissioner.

OVERSEERS OF THE PUBLIC WELFARE.

Upon December 24 the Mayor approved a contract with William J. Dolan for painting at the Wayfarers' Lodge.

A communication from Frank Leveroni of the Overseers of the Public Welfare was as follows:

BOSTON, December 20, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested for the award of a contract, without advertising, to William J. Dolan, 100 Boylston street, for painting at the Wayfarers' Lodge, 30 Hawkins street, Boston, at a price of $1,831.

Estimates for this work were requested and received from two other reputable painting contractors and in each instance their estimates were considerably higher than the estimate submitted by William J. Dolan.

This work should be done immediately in order that the large dormitory, now being unused, may be made available to accommodate the large number of wayfarers applying for lodging at this time of the year. It would appear that no advantage would be gained by public advertisement and the work would be greatly delayed.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK LEVERONI,
Chairman.

INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 17, 1926.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Institutions Department:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $2,750, to the appropriation for Child Welfare Division, B-17, Care of Persons, $2,750.

From Reserve Fund, $50, to C-7, Furniture and Fittings, $50.

From Reserve Fund, $2,000, to C-16, Wearing Apparel, $2,000.

From Reserve Fund, $200, to D-1, Office, $200.

The rapid and continued increase in number of children in care of the department and the necessity of expending more money to secure adequate care makes necessary the request for an additional appropriation of $5,000 to cover the estimated expenditures for the remainder of the year.

Since last July the number of children for whom board is paid has increased 17 per cent which accounts for need of funds under B-17 for board.

The number of children fully clothed at present is 25 per cent greater than last December. Already $3,800 has been transferred to C-16, Wearing Apparel, from the Boston Almshouse and Hospital and the steamer "Hibbard," and further transfers from these appropriations is impracticable.

Special effort under this administration to bring the care of children up to a proper standard has had much to do with increase in expenditure.

In 1925 the per capita per week was $3.32 and with the changes this year it will still be under $4, which is considerably less than $5.64, which we understand is the per capita under the state.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM S. KINNEY,
Commissioner.

The transfer of $4,000 to E-13, General Plant, is necessary to pay for the purchase of stock for various school department jobs. Previously the stock for this work was always furnished by the School Department but this year we were requested to purchase it for them. This naturally increased the expense under E-13. The transfer of $50 to D-11 is to cover the cost of gasoline for our motor truck for the balance of the year.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM J. CASEY,
Superintendent.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 89.

I. CONTRIBUTION TO BOSTON FIREMEN'S RELIEF FUND.

The Fire Commissioner has received from Mrs. Elliott W. Pratt a check for $100 as a contribution to the Boston Firemen's Relief Fund, in appreciation of the services of the members of this department at a fire in her home December 8, 1926.

The check has been turned over to the treasurer of the Boston Firemen's Relief Fund.

II. SKID CHAINS.

Skid chains are a very necessary appliance for the operation of our motor vehicles during the winter months when snow and ice are to be encountered on the streets.

Company commanders should make sure by inspection that all apparatus under their command, including reserve apparatus, is properly equipped with skid chains. Spare chains should be carried on the apparatus so as to be available in the event of loss or damage to chains en route to and returning from fires.

All reserve apparatus has been properly equipped with skid chains. When this apparatus is placed in service in a company, the company commander will note the number of chains delivered with the apparatus and make positive that these chains are returned with the reserve apparatus when their regular apparatus is returned to quarters.

III. PERMITS FOR THE STORAGE OF LIGHT FUEL OIL.

The attention of the department is called to the fact that under the new delegation of authority recently received from the State Fire Marshal the granting of permits by the Fire Commissioner for the storage of light fuel oil is limited to 1,500 gallons. All permits in excess of 1,500 gallons, if such permits were legally issued, may be renewed by the Fire Commissioner at the time of their expiration.

By order of Fire Commissioner E. C. Hultman.

DANIEL F. SENNOTT,
Chief of Department.

TO MAKE SECURE PARTY WALL.

The Mayor has approved the following request received from the Building Department:

BOSTON, December 16, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—In the widening of Dock square, the Public Works Commissioner found it necessary to let a contract to demolish the building at 1 North street.

During the demolition of this building it was found that the party wall separating 1 North street and 3 and 5 North street and 62 North Market street, owned by James D. Casey heirs on one side and by Fanny P. Frederick and William Minot on the other, was in an unsafe condition.

Both owners have been notified that owing to the demolition of the building at 1 North street the remaining party wall is in an unsafe condition, but nothing has been done to remove this condition.

We respectfully request your permission to secure the wall.

Respectfully yours,

L. K. ROURKE,
Building Commissioner.

NAMES NEW MEMBERS OF BOARD OF OVERSEERS OF PUBLIC WELFARE.

Mayor Nichols announced on December 27 that he had removed from the Board of Overseers of the Public Welfare James J. Crowley, Frank Leveroni and James H. Stone, and accompanying the removal his Honor made the following statement:

"I have removed three of the members of the Board of Overseers of the Public Welfare, as I am convinced it will be impossible for the Board as at present organized to work with the Mayor for the best interests of the city.

"Whether these removals will be followed by others I am not in a position definitely to state at this time.

"By the provisions of the city charter and by common sense itself, the Mayor is directly responsible to the public for the conduct of the affairs of the city.

"When members of a Board embark on a program of their own and do so with an utter lack of frankness, leaving the Mayor to suppose they are in agreement with him, they may then be deemed to have placed their resignations in his hands.

"Therefore, I consider that seven resignations have been submitted, of which I have accepted by this act of removal three, on the maxim of equity that what ought to be done is done."

Mayor Nichols announced that he had designated Election Commissioner Patrick H. O'Connor, Election Commissioner Nina M. Gevalt, and Principal Assessor Horace B. Mann, to fill the vacancies temporarily, and had further informed the Board that it was his wish that they meet promptly and effect a temporary organization by the choice of Nathan A. Heller, acting chairman.

MAYOR NICHOLS COMMENTS ON TRANSIT PROPOSALS FOR METROPOLITAN BOSTON.

Mayor Nichols commented upon the report of the Metropolitan Planning Division, relating to transit, as follows:

Improved transit facilities are important not only for the growth of Boston but for the development of the greater city. Better transit means in the long run less street congestion. People should be encouraged to use the Elevated.

The Metropolitan Planning Division has given a great deal of attention to its study, and has produced a report which contains much excellent suggestion. In view of it we should proceed with the matter closest at hand, that is, the extension of the Boylston Street Subway under Governor square.

The City of Boston is immediately and directly interested in this improvement, primarily for the reason that it should bring the Boylston Street Subway to the use for which it was originally intended, that is, the routing of through car trains. This will make possible a real rapid transit such as we have not had up to this time in the Boylston Street Subway.

It is my opinion that our attention should first be directed to this improvement. The legislation for this has already been authorized, and I think that it should be assumed without delay by the Elevated. I do not think it should await the major questions relating to the operation and management of our transportation system.

INCOME OF PARKMAN FUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, December 20, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—There is now pending before your honorable body an order authorizing the appropriation of income now available in the Parkman Fund to the following items:

Parkman House Improvements..... $25,000.00
Fens, Improvements..... 51,309.51

This order was sent to the Council at the request of the Park Department. Subsequent to making this request, officials of the department conferred with the Law Department and were advised that an appropriation for the purpose indicated in the first item could not legally be made under the terms of the George F. Parkman bequest. This being so, the department now desires to rescind that part of the order pertaining to the improvement of the Parkman Building and appropriate the balance made available through such action for Fens, Improvements. I accordingly submit an order providing for the appropriation of $25,000 from the income of the Parkman Fund for Fens, Improvements. I recommend that Item 1 in the order now pending before your honorable body be rescinded and that the order submitted with this message be substituted in its place, thus making a total appropriation of $76,309.51 available for improvements in the Fens section of the park system.

Respectfully,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, December 17, 1926.
Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—On December 2, 1926, we sent a letter asking that a request be made on the City Council for the transfer from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund in the sum of $25,000 for the purpose of making improvements in the Parkman House which are very much needed.

We are informed by the Law Department that the income of the George F. Parkman Fund cannot be used for this purpose, and we would respectfully ask that our request be canceled, and the following request substituted:

Fens, Improvements..... $25,000

This money is asked for continuing the improvements now going on in the only undeveloped section of Boston's Park System, and will be used in part for the building of a lagoon, straightening of the road in front of the Evans Memorial, and the resurfacing of the playground area. In addition to our request now before the City Council, amounting to $51,309.51, this makes a total request for Fens, Improvements, in both letters, of $76,309.51.

Yours very truly,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

Ordered, That the sum of $25,000 be and hereby is appropriated from the income of the Parkman Fund, to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners, for the maintenance and improvement of the Common and parks in existence on January 12, 1887, as follows:

Fens, Improvements..... $25,000

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I move reference of the matter to the Executive Committee.

President KEENE—Will the councilor state to the Council the reasons why?

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, the will under which the Parkman Fund was created provides that the income which is not spent in any calendar year must become a part of the principal, cannot be carried over as income, and if the income from the Parkman Fund is to be disposed of within the current calendar year it must be done at this meeting. It is not possible to handle it in any other way. Therefore, if it is to be disposed of this year, I feel that the matter should now be referred to the Executive Committee, where we can consider it and we can then act upon it. Therefore, I move reference to the Executive Committee.

The matter was referred to the Executive Committee.

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor, December 13, 1926, viz:

1. Thomas J. Nomile and Maurice Rosenberg, to be Constables.

2. Charles H. Grant, John K. Holland, John J. Mahoney, Frank L. Bennett, Kenneth C. Bond, Clifford A. Hotelling and Edward M. Murnane to be Weighers of Coal.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Green and Arnold. Whole number of ballots, 16, yeas 16, and the appointments were confirmed.

RELEASE ON WASHINGTON STREET LAND.

President KEENE called up, under unfinished business, No 3 on the calendar, viz:

3. Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be and he hereby is authorized, in the name and behalf of the City of Boston, to execute an instrument satisfactory in form to the Law Department of the said City of Boston, wherein the said City of Boston shall release so far as it may lawfully do so, without affecting the legal or other equitable rights of others holding title under it, the following conditions which were contained in deeds from the City of Boston to Amos Farnsworth, recorded with Suffolk Deeds, libro 713, pages 119 and 120, wherein the said City of Boston conveyed to the said Amos Farnsworth land on the north-westerly side of Washington street, being Lots Nos. 116 and 117,—“the front line of the building which may be erected on the said lot shall be placed on a line parallel with and ten feet back from said Washington street . . .”—and

“ . . . no dwelling house or other building except the necessary out buildings shall be erected on the rear of the said lot.”

On December 6, 1926, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 18, nays 0.

ACCEPTANCE OF FOSTER STREET, WARD 18.

Coun. WRAGG offered an order—That the Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Foster street, Ward 18, from Water street to its present end, as a public highway.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESOLUTION OF THANKS TO MR. SIMON E. HECHT.

Coun. HEFFERNAN offered the following: Whereas, Mr. Simon E. Hecht for nineteen years gave to the City of Boston unselfish and devoted service, without payment, as chairman of the Board of Overseers of the Public Welfare, and

Whereas, He has retired from this post to which he has given so much of his time and thought, to the betterment of the condition of the worthy poor of our city, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council extend to Mr. Hecht its sincere appreciation and thanks for his faithful labors in behalf of the deserving and needy citizens of Boston.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, I move a suspension of the rules that the resolutions may be acted upon at this time, and I would like to say in this connection that I think it is only proper that the Council should go on record expressing its feelings in regard to a man who has given to one of the important departments of our city the benefit of nineteen years of his time without payment. It is unfortunate that he has been sacrificed on what you might call the political altar. We in this body have had the opportunity of seeing the correspondence that passed between his department and the executive department. We know well that the department requested $200,000, and we know that the department was given only $150,000. It seems unfortunate that this man, like Doctor O'Brien and others, has been sacrificed for political expediency. Therefore, I ask the Council to go on record as thanking Mr. Hecht for his years of faithful service to the City of Boston.

The resolutions were passed under suspension of the rule.

MORE GOLF LINKS.

Coun. WARD offered the following:

Whereas, The golf course at Franklin Park is now used beyond its capacity and

Whereas, This popular form of healthful, outdoor recreation is appealing each year to a large number of persons, be it hereby

Resolved, That public health and recreation require more golf links in Boston.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

APPROPRIATION FOR NEW GOLF COURSE.

Coun. WARD offered the following:

Ordered, That the sum of $250,000 be and the same is hereby authorized, to be expended by the Park Commission, for the purchase of land and establishing thereon of a golf course, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be and hereby is authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I move a suspension of the rule and the passage of the order.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I do not like to disagree with my nearest neighbor, because he is one of my best friends in the Council. I don't like to say that this is an extravagant proposition; I do not want to characterize the order at all. I simply do think, in fairness to the Council and in order that it may go on record in an intelligent manner, that this order should be referred to the Executive Committee.

President KEENE—The Chair would suggest the Committee on Finance.

Coun. DOWLING—Well, I have no objection to the Committee on Finance.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I would rather have the order threshed out in Executive Committee. I would prefer to have the order passed under suspension of the rule, but if it is to be referred to any committee, I would like it referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, it would seem to me that there will be nothing in the way of the order being threshed out in the Executive Committee after it is reported by the Committee on Finance, so that every member of the Council would then have an opportunity in Executive Committee to be heard upon the order. I think it would be unprecedented, on a loan order of this type, not to have it referred to the Committee on Finance. I think that is the proper place for it in the first instance, at least.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I think this order that I have presented here this afternoon is one that interests the vast majority of the people of Boston. There have been loan orders presented in this body that have not been referred to the Committee on Finance; there have been orders almost identical with this that have been passed under suspension of the rule in our open discussion. I believe the order I have now presented is an order that should be so acted upon by this body, and I would therefore move a suspension of the rule and the passage of the order. I would like to have a vote upon it, Mr. President.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I move that the vote be taken by roll call.

The Council refused to suspend the rule for the passage of the order, yeas 2, nays 15:

Yeas—Coun. Keene, Ward—2.

Nays—Coun. Arnold, Donovan, Dowd, Dowling, Englert, Gilbody, Green, Guild, Heffernan, Mahoney, McGrath, McMahon, Parkman, Ruffy, Wilson—15.

President KEENE—Has the councilor any objection to referring the order to the Committee on Finance?

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, the councilor has nothing to say about it.

President KEENE—The Chair thinks it proper that orders involving appropriations of that nature should go to the Committee on Finance, as they have to be considered in connection with the debt limit. Therefore, if there is no objection, the Chair will refer the order to the Committee on Finance.

The order stood referred to the Committee on Finance.

ABOLITION OF BOSTON SANATORIUM DEPARTMENT.

Coun. GUILD offered the following:

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston as follows:

Section 1, Chapter 16, of the Revised Ordinances of 1925, as amended, hereby is further amended, by striking out the first sentence of section 2, and inserting in place thereof,—“The Health Department; Medical Division; Child Hygiene Division; Sanitary Division; Food Inspection Division; a Division of Vital Statistics, Records and Accounts, to be in charge of the officer intrusted with the duty of preparing vital statistics; a Conservation Division for the study of conditions and problems of cancer and contagious diseases, except tuberculosis; and a Tuberculosis Division for the study, prevention and curing of tuberculosis.”

Section 2, Chapter 17, of the Revised Ordinances of 1925 hereby is amended by striking out section 1 and inserting in place thereof the following two sections:

Section 1. The hospital department shall be under the charge of a board of five trustees, who shall have charge of the Boston City Hospital, and the Boston Sanatorium, and of the care and maintenance thereof; shall make all needful improvements in the land and grounds connected with said hospital and sanatorium; shall have charge of all real estate held for purposes connected with the City Hospital and Sanatorium, and pay or cause to be paid to the city collector the income thereof.

“Section 2. The trusts shall exercise the powers and perform the duties herein enumerated, and all other powers and duties now or heretofore required by statute, ordinance or law to be exercised and performed by the trustees of the Hospital Department and by the trustees of the Boston Sanatorium, except as provided in chapter 16 of these ordinances as amended, and shall be the lawful successors of the trustees of the Boston Sanatorium.

“Section 3. The trustees shall admit to the City Hospital only sick or injured persons requiring temporary relief, unless for good cause, and shall remove all patients as soon as their condition will permit they may allow persons making compensation therefor separate apartments and special accommodations in the City Hospital. They shall admit to the Sanatorium only persons who are bona fide residents of Boston at the time of their application for admission, and have been certified by the Tuberculosis Division of the Health Department. The charges for the support of patients who are able to pay for the same, or who have persons or kindred bound by law and able to maintain them, shall be paid by such patients, persons or kindred at a rate determined by the trustees. All amounts received by the trustees from persons making compensation for separate apartments and special accommodations in the City Hospital, and received by them as charges for support in the Sanatorium, shall be paid to the city collector.

“Section 4. The trustees may make such other regulations regarding admission to and discharge from the City Hospital and the general management of the City Hospital and Sanatorium, not inconsistent with this ordinance, as they may deem necessary or expedient.”

Section 4. Chapter 17 is hereby further amended by striking out section 3 and inserting in place thereof the following:

“Section 5. The trustees shall, in their annual report, include a statement of the condition of the City Hospital and of the Sanatorium, the numbers of patients in each, the admission to, discharges from, and the births and deaths therein during the year.”

Section 5. Chapter 8, of said ‘Revised Ordinances of 1925’ and so much of section 1 of chapter 2 thereof as requires the Mayor, in the municipal year in which the term of the incumbent expires, to appoint one or more Boston Sanatorium trustees for the term of five years beginning with the first day of May in the year of appointment, are hereby repealed.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I am filing this ordinance with the expectation that it will be referred to the Committee on Ordinances. It follows out the recommendation made in the report on tuberculosis in Boston by Dr. Haven Emerson, dated October, 1926. In April of this year I filed an ordinance which has at my request been in the Committee on Ordinances awaiting this identical report. The report in substance carries out the terms of the ordinance originally filed, with a few minor exceptions, and the ordinance which I am filing now embodies those exceptions. The recommendations of the disinterested examiner of the tuberculosis situation in Boston contained this recommendation:

“It is recommended that a change of ordinance by the City Council be requested by the Mayor, which will authorize the early discontinuance of the responsibility and administrative functions of the Board of Trustees of the Boston Sanatorium, and at the same time provide for the transfer to a Division of Tuberculosis in the Department of Health of the city, of all phases of the control and prevention of tuberculosis except the institutional care of the tuberculous sick and preventorium care of children exposed to the disease in their homes, which activities should be added to the duties of the Trustees of the Boston City Hospital.”

For the purpose of embodying those recommendations in our ordinances, I am now introducing this ordinance, which in substance covers those points.

The ordinance was referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

SKATING ON CONNOLLY PLAYGROUND.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to flood for skating during the present winter the John J. Connolly Playground, and to make such arrangements as may be required to prevent the water from draining off on the adjoining property.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ELMER N. BUSWELL SQUARE.

Coun. ARNOLD offered the following:

Ordered, That the space at the junction of Beacon street and Audubon road be named Elmer N. Buswell square, in memory of Corporal Elmer N. Buswell, Company D, 101st Engineers, who died July 31, 1918, a prisoner of war, from wounds received in action, and that said space be suitably marked with signs.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

APPORTIONMENT OF SUFFOLK COUNTY EXPENSES.

Coun. PARKMAN offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to prepare, draft and file a petition and bill in the General Court for the year 1927 providing for the equitable apportionment of the charges and expenses of the County of Suffolk among the City of Boston, the City of Chelsea, and the towns of Revere and Winthrop. And be it further ordered, that the Legislative Committee take such action as it may deem advisable in the premises.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, at the time we were discussing the appropriation bill for 1926, last spring, it was brought home to all of us very forcibly that the City of Boston pays the entire expenses of the County of Suffolk, not only its own expenses, but the expenses of the city of Chelsea and the towns of Revere and Winthrop, which form a part of the county; and not only that, but the fines and fees collected by the Chelsea Police Court, for the running of which Boston pays, go not into the county treasury nor the treasury of the City of Boston, but to the city of Chelsea. This seems a most unfair and inequitable arrangement, and it is necessary to go back for more than one hundred years to find any reason for it at all. I am not going to weary you at this time by delving at length into ancient history, but suffice it to say that the original reason has long since ceased to have any basis in fact, and as long ago as 1860 the City Council of Boston was making a futile effort to put the county relations on a fairer footing. In 1822, in connection with the granting of a city charter to Boston and with the difficulties attendant thereon on account of Chelsea's inclusion in the county, legislation was passed which in effect transferred to Boston the civil administration of the county and further provided that Chelsea should be exempt from contribution to the county expenses “until the Legislature shall otherwise order.” In 1831 this legislation was further amended at a time when Chelsea surrendered its interest in certain county property, so as to extend the existing connection between Boston and Chelsea “for the space of twenty years and thence afterwards until it shall be altered by the Legislature.” That twenty years was up in 1851, seventy-five years ago. The conditions which existed in 1831 and made that arrangement equitable have long ago ceased to exist, and yet Boston continues to carry the burden of the whole county expenses with no compensating advantages from the growing towns of Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop. So far as the conditions under which this original legislation was passed, it is worthy of note that in 1822 Boston had 43,000 population and a valuation of $42,000,000; Chelsea—what is now known as Chelsea in those days comprised Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop—had a population of 642 and a valuation of $30,000; or in percentages, Chelsea had less than one-tenth of one per cent of the total combined valuations. In 1831 Boston had a population of 61,392 and a valuation of $61,000,000; Chelsea had a population of 771 and a valuation of $244,261. The comparative percentages were 99.6 and .4 of one per cent. The total expenditure in those days for the entire county was a little over $15,000, and Chelsea's contribution would have been less than $100. It was on these figures that it was considered just that in return for Chelsea's surrender of its interest in certain county property Boston should pay the entire county expenses for twenty years. Glance at the figures for the present day. In 1925 Boston's valuation was $1,862,842,700. The combined valuation of Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop was $113,382,500. In percentages these figures are expressed by 94.3 per cent and 5.7 per cent. The entire county's net expense was $2,500,000 for an eleven-months year, and after deducting certain items such as the county debt, for which those towns might not be considered liable, we have left $2,000,000 for a twelve-months year. Their contribution on a proportionate basis would have amounted to $100,000 instead of the $100 of a century ago, or a thousand times as much. Furthermore, it was estimated in 1912 that since 1851 Boston had paid $750,000 of county expenditures which equitably should have been borne by Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop, and since 1912 expenditures have so increased that this figure has been at least doubled. In other words, Boston has paid $1,500,000 since 1851 for certain advantages which in 1831 was considered to be amply paid for by a few thousand dollars, and year by year Boston is paying over $100,000 for which Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop should be responsible. In addition, it should be noted that in the last fifteen years the assessed valuation of Boston has increased 25 per cent, whereas the valuation of Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop has increased 80 per cent, or over three times as fast. The county expenditures have increased in proportion to the growth of the county as a whole, and Boston, therefore, is falling behind. In 1914 a commission of the Legislature studied this subject in detail and recommended legislation to put these relations on a proper footing. The act failed of passage at that time, but it seems proper that similar legislation should be presented again at this time, when the taxation in the City of Boston has become an almost intolerable burden.

The order was referred to the Committee on Legislative Matters.

STOP FOR THROUGH TRAINS AT FOREST HILLS STATION.

President KEENE offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to arrange for a conference with the officials of the New York New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, a representative of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, the chairman of the Transit Commission, a representative of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, and of the United Improvement Association, and such others as he may deem advisable, to consider the advisability and feasibility of arranging for the stopping of through trains at the Forest Hills Station of the New York New Haven & Hartford Railroad, either to take on or let off passengers or both, and of providing a suitable physical connection by a footbridge or otherwise between the said station and the Forest Hills Station of the Boston Elevated Railway Company.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

REDUCTION IN TAX RATE.

Coun. GILBODY offered the following:

Whereas, A preliminary study of the financial condition of the city shows an estimated balance of more than $6,000,000 at the close of this fiscal year which represents an approximate reduction of more than $4 per thousand in the tax rate;

Be it resolved, That we, the members of the Boston City Council, favor a tax rate of not more than $28 for the year 1927.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I would like to say just a few words on this resolution. I have presented it following action by real estate organizations in regard to the matter. This is an extremely hard time financially for the City of Boston. Within a few months the Commonwealth has returned to the city $1,300,000, and the situation presented to the city government is, how to apply that money. It seems advisable, in view of the conditions now existing in our city, that that money should be applied to the reduction of the tax rate for next year. A cursory examination of the figures in the auditor's exhibit, which are available to the Council, will show that in one department, for instance, the Schoolhouse Commission, more than $6,000,000 was appropriated for the department and not more than $3,000,000 has been used by the department. We find there a situation that certainly commands our attention, and which seems to indicate the possibility of a saving of more than $3,000,000. I just picked up today the auditor's exhibit for November 30, and on two pages alone, 43 and 45, affecting various branches of the public health and welfare, we can see an unexpended balance for this year 1926 up to the present moment of more than $5,000,000. Certainly that enormous amount cannot be spent by one department in the balance of this year. The situation has aroused and amazed me, and, while in this season the Christmas spirit of peace on earth and good will to men should prevail and I do not desire to enter into any personalities in this discussion, I still feel obliged to call to the attention of the Council the fact that it would seem possible next year, in the circumstances, by a careful pruning of the budget, to effect a saving which will reduce the tax rate down to at least $28, thus relieving the situation in which our people find themselves. The people of our city in the different wards are so hard hit by the tax rate as to suffer in their homes. I think that is a matter which should especially appeal to us in this hard season of the year. Therefore, I move a suspension of the rule and the passage of the resolution.

The rule was suspended, and the resolution was adopted.

AMENDMENT TO RULE 7.

Coun. WARD offered an amendment to Rule 7, as follows:

Amendment to Rule 7 (to read)—The President shall declare all votes; but if any member doubts a vote the President shall cause a rising vote to be taken, and when any member so requests shall cause the vote to be taken or verified by yeas and nays, and the roll shall be called by numerical order of the wards they represent.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

ACCEPTANCE OF FERNALD TERRACE.

Coun. McMAHON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out as a public highway Fernald terrace, Ward 15.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE UNEMPLOYMENT CONDITIONS.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:

Ordered, That a committee of five members of the City Council be appointed by the President, the Mayor and President to serve ex-officio, for the purpose of investigating unemployment conditions in Boston with a view to ascertaining whether or not the public service corporations are responsible, to any great extent, for the present acute situation.

Referred, on motion of Coun. FITZGERALD, to the Executive Committee.

RECESS.

On motion of Coun. DONOVAN the Council voted, at 3.41 p. m., to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President KEENE at 4.52 p. m.

VETO OF LICENSE FOR BOSTON MOTOR TOURS COMPANY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, December 8, 1926.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return, without my approval, the petition of the Boston Motor Tours Company for a license to operate motor vehicles in Boston in connection with a proposed line to Fall River, Mass.

Such a transportation line would, in my opinion, seriously compete with the existing railroad facilities, and is objectionable for the reasons set forth in my veto message of March 29, 1926.

Respectfully,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Placed on file.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. DOWLING, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on order (referred today) that the space at junction of Beacon street and Audubon road be named Elmer N. Buswell square—that the same ought to pass.

The question came on the acceptance of the report and the passage of the order.

Coun. ARNOLD—Mr. President, I appreciate the fact that the report of the committee on this order is favorable, but I believe the Council should have upon its records an account of the services of the young man for whom it is proposed to name the square. The war records, from Washington, D. C., read as follows:

Oliver Ames, Jr., Post, No. 117,

The American Legion,

339 Massachusetts Avenue,

Boston, Mass., December 16, 1926.

Dr. Seth F. Arnold, Councilor,
92 Huntington Avenue,
Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir and Comrade,—It is the desire of the Oliver Ames, Jr., Post, No. 117, The American Legion, located at 339 Massachusetts avenue, Boston, Massachusetts, to gain the permission of your Honorable Council to name the square at Beacon street and Audubon road Elmer N. Buswell.

War records at Washington, D. C., read: That Elmer N. Buswell was enlisted April 19, 1917, at Boston, Mass., for the Massachusetts National Guard. He reported for Federal Service July 25, 1917; sailed from the United States for foreign service September 26, 1917, and was taken prisoner by the Germans on or about July 16, 1918 (Chateau Thierry), a corporal, Company D, 101st Engineers, 26th Division. He died July 31, 1918, from wounds received in action, while he was a prisoner of war.

Corporal Buswell was the son of Dr. and "Ma" A. T. Buswell, Newbury street, now of Queensberry street. "Ma" Buswell is devoting her means and time to helping the disabled veterans and the widows and orphans, as Elmer was a favorite son. "Ma" is a member of the Yankee Division Veterans Auxiliary and of the Auxiliary Unit of the Oliver Ames, Jr., Post.

Corporal Buswell served in the company officered by Col. Carol J. Swan, now president of the YD Club of Boston.

It is the earnest desire of the petitioners that a real Christmas present may be given "Ma," that the square is to be named for her son.

The Board of Park Commissioners will have no objection to the naming of the desired square, by verbal assurance of the secretary, Daniel J. Byrne, given today after the Board meeting.

Assuring you of my personal regards,

I remain,

Sincerely yours,

F. W. Foss, Adj.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON COUNTY ACCOUNTS.

Coun. FITZGERALD, for the Committee on County Accounts, submitted a report on the communication from the Justice of the Roxbury Municipal Court (referred December 6) relative to salaries of probation officers, recommending the passage of the following:

Ordered, That the salaries of the probation officers of the Municipal Court, Roxbury District, as determined by the Justice of said Court, to date from January 1, 1927, be and the same hereby are approved, viz:

Passed under suspension of the rule.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

On motion of Coun. McGRATH, the Council refused a general reconsideration of all action taken today.

THE NEXT MEETING.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, I move that when we adjourn today it be to meet two weeks from today.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I would like to amend that motion in order that we may legally and justly finish the business of this year, by meeting on Friday December 31, at 12 o'clock noon. I do that in order to comply with all legal requirements of the city government. The Mayor may have some business that should be cleared up, and I think we should meet before the year is over. There are some things that we know about. There are matters concerning the Parkman Fund which may have to be straightened out, so that money coming from that fund may be used this year and not revert back to the principal of the fund. I would suggest, therefore, that we meet on Friday, December 31, instead of adjourning at this time for two weeks.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, I withdraw my motion in favor of the motion made by Coun. Gilbody.

Coun. Gilbody's motion prevailed, and the Council voted, at 5 p. m., to adjourn to Friday, December 31, at 12 noon.

UNDERGROUND RAPID TRANSIT IN BOSTON.

The Boston Transit Commission, consisting of five members, two appointed by the Governor and three by the Mayor, began its official existence, July 1, 1894, and ended it July 1, 1918, after seven extensions of the original term. It constructed, under the authority of Acts of the Legislature, the following subways and tunnels, the ownership of which is vested in the City of Boston, and all costs to be covered by revenue from same, not by taxation; Tremont Street Subway, from Broadway and Tremont St., South End, to North Station and from Boylston St., near Charles to Park St., 1.63 miles, opened to Park St. September 1, 1897, and to North Station on Sept. 3, 1898, costing with subsequent alterations, $4,416,000, the first transportation subway in the United States; East Boston Tunnel, from Maverick square, E. Boston, under Boston Harbor and State St. to Scollay square, Boston Proper, 1.42 miles, opened December 30, 1904, costing $3,336,000, the first all-concrete underwater transportation tunnel in the world; Washington Street Tunnel, from Ash st. opp. Nassau, South End, to Traverse st., near North Station, 1.16 miles, opened November 30, 1908, costing $8,496,700 (including $2,850,000 land damages; Cambridge Connection Subway, from under Park st. station of Tremont St. Subway to Grove st., near Cambridge Bridge, 0.47 miles, opened March 23, 1912, costing $1,465,000; Boylston Street Subway from Commonwealth ave., near Kenmore st., Back Bay, to Tremont St. Subway, near Charles st., 1.5 miles, opened October 3, 1914, costing $5,485,639; East Boston Tunnel Extension from Scollay square to North Russell st., 0.41 miles, opened March 18, 1916, approximate cost, $2,523,000; Dorchester Tunnel, from Park st., Boston Proper, to Andrew square, South Boston, 2.26 miles, opened December 3, 1916, as far as South Station; on December 15, 1917, to Broadway, South Boston, and on June 29, 1918, to the Andrew Square terminal. Trains of four or six cars are run in the East Boston Tunnel, the Washington St. Tunnel, continuing on elevated track to Forest Hills, also in Dorchester Tunnel from Andrew sq., So. Boston, connecting with Cambridge Tunnel, to Harvard sq., Cambridge, while only single or double street-cars are run in the other tunnels and subways. Cost of Dorchester tunnel, $11,016,700 to Jan. 31, 1925; of new Arlington Station extending under Boylston St., between Arlington and Berkeley, $1,230,676; of East Boston Tunnel Alterations, Maverick sq., $3,768,857.

Total gross debt on Feb. 1, 1925 for all subways and tunnels, $42,096,700; against which a sinking fund of $7,825,262 has been accumulated from the revenue, making the net debt $34,271,438. The loans are payable mostly in 40 years from date of each (loans since 1911 payable in 45 years), annual interest averaging 3.8 per cent.

These underground ways, about nine miles in all with total of 19.27 miles of single track, were leased to the Boston Elevated Railway Company (which furnished the equipment) for term of 25 years (except Tremont Street 20 years) at annual rental of $\frac{4}{3}$ to $\frac{4}{3}$ per cent of net cost (except East Boston Tunnel which was at $\frac{3}{8}$ of one per cent of all annual gross receipts of said company).

In accordance with Chapter 741, Acts of 1911, the various leases were extended to July 1, 1936, the rental to be $\frac{4}{3}$ per cent of net cost after expiration of the first-term leases.

By Chap. 185, Special Acts of 1918, the powers of the Transit Commission, whose term expired that year, were transferred to the Mayor, Commissioner of Public Works and City Treasurer, or such person or persons, not exceeding three, as the Mayor might appoint. By Chap. 3, Ordinances of 1918, the Transit Dept. was established as a regular City department, to be in charge of three commissioners.

By Chap. 480, Acts of 1923, the extension of the Dorchester Tunnel from Andrew Square about 1,300 feet southwesterly was ordered, the proposed new railway location then coming to the surface 400 feet southeast of Dorchester Ave., thence continuing to Harrison Square; thence along the Shawmut Branch railroad to its termination at Blue Hill Ave. and River St., Mattapan.

Loans issued in 1924-25 for Dorchester Tunnel extension, $300,000 and for Dorchester Rapid Transit, $150,000.

CHAIRMAN HELLER REPORTS WELFARE BOARD NEEDS ONLY $12,000 TO MEET ALL OBLIGATIONS FOR POOR RELIEF.

The Mayor has received the following communication from Nathan A. Heller, chairman Board of Overseers of Public Welfare:

BOSTON, January 3, 1927.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—I am happy to report that the accounts of the Overseers of the Public Welfare for the fiscal year just concluded reveal the interesting fact that, after exhausting the appropriation provided in the annual budget, the actual requirements of the department for the remainder of the year have called for the expenditure of only $162,000. This, of course, is but slightly in excess of the estimate of $150,000 which you made several weeks ago.

This gratifying result, in my opinion, is attributable in no small measure to the watchfulness and close attention to the affairs of the department shown by the Board of Overseers in recent weeks, and was accomplished without in the least degree depriving the unfortunate poor of the city of the relief which they are entitled to receive both by law and by humanitarian dictates.

Very respectfully,

NATHAN A. HELLER,
Chairman.

C., notified Mayor Nichols on December 31 that a copy of the Mayor's telegram to the Shipping Board relative to the re-allocation of the Shipping Board, South American Service will be furnished each member of the Board and will be given every consideration.

MAYOR NICHOLS REPLIES TO MAYOR RALPH S. BAUER.

The Mayor has sent the following communication to Mayor Bauer of Lynn.

Boston, December 30, 1926.

HON. RALPH S. BAUER,
Mayor, City of Lynn, Mass.

DEAR MAYOR BAUER,—I have your letter addressed to me under date of Christmas Day suggesting that the balance remaining unpaid of the reward offered by the City of Boston be turned over to the Lynn and other Police Relief Associations because of the fact that the police officers of Lynn and Boston who assisted in bringing about the detection and apprehension of the men involved in the Comeau murder were not entitled under the law to receive any portion of the reward offered.

I have had your suggestion considered carefully by the Corporation Counsel of the city and am advised by him that Boston has no legal right to pay the balance remaining unpaid, if any there be, to these associations. In the order passed by the City Council and approved by me, the amount of the reward was not fixed at $5,000 but provided rather that "an amount not exceeding $5,000" be expended. It is apparent, therefore, that no definite amount to be paid was established by the City Council and only the maximum amount which the city might expend was fixed by the order.

Under the circumstances it cannot be said that there is a balance remaining unpaid after payment had been made to those persons deemed entitled to receive a portion of the reward. When such payments have been made the offer of reward has been fully satisfied.

May I suggest that, even assuming that there is a balance unpaid of this reward, the City of Boston would have no legal right to pay this balance or any portion of it to a police relief association, or to any other association if such association did not actually assist in the detection and apprehension of the persons for whom the reward was offered.

Cities and towns in this Commonwealth in the absence of legislation authorizing the same cannot pay from moneys raised by taxation by any sum as a reward for the apprehension of criminals. It is only by virtue of the provisions contained in clause 17 of section 5 of chapter 40 of the General Laws that cities and towns may make payment of rewards. This clause provides that cities and towns may appropriate money "for procuring the detection and apprehension of any person committing a felony therein."

Before, therefore, the City of Boston may pay any portion of the reward offered it must be established that the money to be paid is to those persons who have complied with the offer of the reward in "procuring the detection and apprehension of any person committing a felony" in the City of Boston. The theory of the law is that an offer of a reward is a conditional promise by those offering the reward and if any one to whom such offer is made performs the service requested such performance is consideration and the offer becomes a legal and binding contract.

Your Honor will observe, therefore, that the payment of the reward offered must be as a result of a contractual relationship brought about by the performance of a condition imposed by the person offering the reward. The Police Relief Associations have no contractual relationship with the City of Boston because they have not performed any condition imposed by the offer of the reward, and, therefore, the city cannot legally pay any portion of the reward if any balance did remain unpaid.

Furthermore, entirely aside from the subject of reward, the city would not legally make a donation to this or any other institution, as the expenditures of the city are limited and the purposes defined by the statutes of the Commonwealth.

Under these circumstances, I do not see how anything can be done in line with your suggestion.

With very kind regards, I am,

Sincerely yours,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Mayor Bauer's letter was as follows:

At home, Christmas Day, 1926.

DEAR MAYOR NICHOLS,—I wish to express to you in behalf of the people of Lynn their appreciation of your commendation of Lynn police officers—Captain Curry and Sergeant Muckien—in the capture and obtaining the confession of Toothaker, which led to the arrest of Deshon and Sambursky in the Comeau murder case. Because of state enactment these Lynn officers cannot receive any of the reward.

Police officers are human beings the same as the rest of the folks—and stand ready at all times in the carrying on of their work, to be murdered by bullets from underworld people, and yet when they perform extraordinary service cannot share in the rewards. Not much incentive here for extraordinary good work—the police officers get the bullets and others get the reward money. From any human slant this is neither co-operation nor recognition. Can you not arrange that the unpaid balance of this reward money be turned over to the Lynn and other police relief associations which are constantly taking care of the sick and needy among the police forces. This at least would be some material appreciation of work well done by the officers.

Very truly,
RALPH S. BAUER,
Mayor of Lynn.

FINANCE COMMISSION REPORT.

The Mayor has received the following report from the Finance Commission:

BOSTON, December 31, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

SIR,—On December 7 your Honor authorized the purchase, without competition, from the Kinney Manufacturing Company of four Kinney-Springfield pick-up sweepers for the Public Works Department for the sum of $7,500 each. The total sum involved was $30,000.

The city has purchased similar sweepers from the Kinney Manufacturing Company before. In 1923 an earlier type of sweeper cost the city $6,850. In 1924 apparently the present type cost $7,500, and in 1925, without four left side brooms, $7,250. The evidence shows that other New England cities have paid $7,500 net for the machine, but that the city of Waltham in 1926 was given a discount of 2 per cent.

In other parts of the country the sweeper has been offered on bids at various discounts from the Boston price, ranging from 5 per cent to 10-5 per cent, for example:

Farrell, Pa., $7,500 less 10-5 per cent equals $6,412.50.

Kittanning, Pa., $7,500 less 10 per cent equals $6,750.

Washington, Pa., $7,500 less 10 per cent equals $6,750.

These prices were given in public competition. The reason given by the vice president of the company for this difference in price was that the company was attempting to introduce its machine into territory where it was unknown. The commission, however, finds that there is a wide margin between the price at which the company can sell its machine to agents at a profit and its contract price to the City of Boston.

There are other sweepers on the market, and notwithstanding the difficulty of comparing different types of sweepers, public competition would give all producers a fair chance and tends to bring down the price. In view of these facts the commission finds that the city was not justified in purchasing these machines from the Kinney Manufacturing Company without first seeking public competition.

The commission finds that Courtenay Guild, a member of the commission, is a stockholder and a director of the Kinney Manufacturing Company. It further finds on all the evidence that Mr. Guild took no part in the sale to the City of Boston of the machines in question and that, as soon as he learned that the sale was to be made, he complied with all the provisions of the city charter, by giving notice in writing to the Mayor, the City Council and the Finance Commission.

The commission recommends that the city should apply to the company for a discount and that hereafter it should adhere to the policy of seeking public competition in its purchases.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by CHARLES L. CARR,
Chairman.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 1.

I. INVESTIGATION OF APPLICANTS.

The attention of district chiefs is called to the fact that exceptional care and diligence must be exercised by them in the investigation of applicants when names are sent to them for that purpose. One district chief recently reported that one of the candidates he investigated was a fit man for acceptance for appointment in the Fire Department and that he had no police record. It later developed from an investigation conducted through other channels that this man had been arrested on a serious charge less than two years ago. He was found not guilty on this charge, but at the present time is out on bonds of $5,000 for another alleged serious violation of the law. No mention of these facts was made in the report of the district chief although the information could have been obtained had the district chief made the slightest attempt to conduct a proper investigation. Such neglect of duty on the part of a superior officer in the department constitutes an unwarranted violation of the trust that is imposed in him, and manifests a lack of interest in the character of the men who are selected to comprise the personnel of the Boston Fire Department. District chiefs will be held strictly accountable for the reports forwarded by them after the investigation of candidates for appointment.

II. CHANGE IN CODE SIGNAL.

The present method of sending the "All out" signal by code in the absence of a telegrapher will be discontinued on and after this date, and the following signal will be adopted:

Send a series of quick taps followed by 2—2 2—2, then the box number. Upon receipt of this signal the operator will answer "O K" (2—3) unless he requires the signal repeated, in which case he will write 1—2 1—2.

III. INSPECTIONS.

District chiefs will submit a monthly report on the last day of each month of the number of schools and public buildings inspected monthly in their respective districts.

IV. DEFECTIVE CHIMNEYS.

Whenever defective chimneys are reported inspecting officers will describe briefly the nature and location of the defect.

V. PROMOTION.

The following promotion, which took effect December 27, 1926, is hereby announced:

Engineer William H. Hildreth of the High Pressure Service to Engineer in Charge.

RUPERT S. CARVEN,
City Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations for City Documents:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $7,500, to the appropriation for City Documents, B-1, Printing and Binding, $40,000, $7,500.

If you recall last year the original estimate was $46,000. This item was cut down to $40,000 but the same number of documents and quantity were printed this year as was the year before.

Our budget estimate on this item for each year is based on the previous year's expense and there is no way that it can be determined accurately in advance. The amount expended will depend entirely on the nature and volume of the documents actually printed. This expense has averaged for the past three years about $44,000 and included in this average is one year of eleven months.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM J. CASEY,
Superintendent.

The above transfers were made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor December 30, 1926.

CITY PLANNING BOARD REPORT.

The Mayor has received the following report from the City Planning Board:

BOSTON, December 30, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—The City Planning Board, in its studies of traffic and transportation conditions throughout the city, is impressed with the desirability of securing some means of communication from South Boston, with its radial highways leading to the south and west, its existing industrial and manufacturing plants, and its tendencies and opportunities for future development, to East Boston as a distributing center to points on the north, without the present necessity of utilizing Atlantic avenue and the ferries, with the attendant congestion and delay, or of following a circuitous route to the west of the city.

The establishment of a lighterage system or a new ferry from South Boston to East Boston has been several times proposed, but the cost of new landings and equipment, probably in the vicinity of $3,000,000, appeared prohibitive in comparison with the toll charges which might be levied in return.

The need has been constantly growing, however, and in order to meet existing conditions without imposing an undue burden of expense, the City Planning Board recommends transferring the westerly terminus of the South Ferry from its present Atlantic avenue location to the location of Pier No. 3 (not yet built) of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad near the Commonwealth Pier, making it a truly south ferry between East Boston and South Boston, leaving the North Ferry as a link between East Boston and the city proper.

Its reasons are as follows:

(1.) A substantial portion of the traffic that now uses the South Ferry originates in South Boston, the railroad yards, wool warehouses, etc. This traffic reaches the ferry via Northern avenue and Atlantic avenue. It adds substantially to the Atlantic avenue congestion both in transit and when waiting for or leaving the ferry.

(2.) The modernization of the North Ferry is already under way and when completed it will have a capacity equal to that of both the North and the South Ferries as they at present exist. This will be ample to take all except the South Boston traffic. Furthermore, the location of the North Ferry is removed from the congested portion of Atlantic avenue so that traffic awaiting a ferry does not affect the moving traffic on Atlantic avenue.

(3.) The ferry landing in South Boston as suggested would serve the following elements which would gradually develop ample traffic to warrant the terminus suggested:

(a.) New Haven yards to East Boston.
(b.) Wool, warehouses and other South Boston traffic.

(c.) Produce freight being newly accommodated by the New Haven with new freight sheds. The service would relate to that large portion of this produce that has destination to the north of the city by using the South Ferry and going through East Boston.

(d.) Motor traffic of Old Colony Boulevard seeking North Shore.

(e.) Leather district and Boston & Albany yards to East Boston. The new location would be substantially as convenient as the present location;

(f.) All portions of city proper to the west of Northern Avenue Bridge. All this district would be served as conveniently or more conveniently than at present.

(4.) This change would offer substantial relief to Atlantic avenue and Northern Avenue Bridge and to all South Boston-East Boston traffic.

(5.) The plan proposed contemplates surface connections to Northern avenue over a pier built so that ferries when berthed would be just inside the existing pierhead line. This would give more than 400 feet of space on which to assemble waiting traffic.

A ramp and overhead viaduct connected with the Commonwealth Pier viaduct would very greatly relieve the congestion on Northern avenue and offer added inducement to motors to and from the South Shore.

(6.) The saving in gasoline for a loaded truck would be from 10 cents to 15 cents and this alone would warrant an increase in ferry fares for all South Boston traffic, without considering the saving in wear and tear and time which might safely be assumed to be $1 a trip for each truck. This would warrant reopening the question of ferry fares and the lifting of all fares enough to at least carry the cost of the new landing in South Boston.

(7.) The present ferry traffic is about 3,000 to 3,500 vehicles per day. Assuming an average increase of 20 cents per vehicle, the increased revenue would amount to $600 per day or $180,000 per year (300 days). This is the equivalent of 6 per cent interest on $3,000,000. With the cost of a new landing and viaduct estimated at about $1,500,000, carrying charges at 6 per cent, would be $90,000 a year, leaving a net increase over and above such charges of $90,000 a year.

The proposition has been taken up informally with representatives of the market and trucking interests and of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad. In each case the reaction has been entirely favorable, and in view of the very considerable interest which each group would inevitably have in such a project, their co-operation, which is essential, might be reasonably considered assured.

The plan proposed involves not merely the single question of a ferry from South Boston to East Boston. It has a bearing upon and would materially relieve the general traffic situation in the downtown district. As such the City Planning Board submits it for your Honor's consideration and recommends that the plan be referred to the Bridge and Ferry Division of the Public Works Department, with which the matter has been already tentatively discussed, for a further consideration of details with a view to its ultimate adoption. In this further consideration, the City Planning Board will be very glad indeed to co-operate, particularly with regard to the various physical aspects of the project, including the location of viaduct and related problems.

Furthermore, in view of the possibility of the development of other projects which might interfere with the carrying out of the plan here proposed, the Board believes that an early consideration of the matter would be advisable.

Respectfully submitted,

THE CITY PLANNING BOARD,
FREDERIC H. FAY,
Chairman.

REPLY TO REPORT OF FINANCE COMMISSION RELATING TO CONSTRUCTION OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the following communication be sent to His Honor the Mayor in reply to His Honor's communication addressed to the School Committee under date of Aug. 20, 1926:

On Aug. 4, 1926, the Boston Finance Commission submitted to His Honor the Mayor a report relating to the construction of school buildings in the City of Boston. The author of this report makes certain definite criticisms of the School Committee, which may be briefly summarized as follows:

1. That the Boston School Committee has never clearly recognized the establishment of the 6-3-3 plan of school organization.
2. That the School Committee has been dilatory in organizing the 6-3-3 unit.
3. That the School Committee failed to make adequate studies or surveys of school accommodations.
4. That the School Committee has failed in foreseeing the possibility of converting traditional eight-grade school buildings into those of the newer types.
5. That the School Committee has failed to recommend smaller furniture for school rooms.
6. That the School Committee has failed to standardize school buildings and equipment.
7. That there is insufficient articulation or co-operation between the School Committee and the Schoolhouse Commission; and that an additional co-ordinating expert should be appointed.

These criticisms may be summarized and discussed seriatim:

1. That the Boston School Committee has never clearly recognized the establishment of the 6-3-3 plan of school organization.

(It should be remarked that the 6-3-3 type of organization referred to in the report of the Finance Commission means simply this: Elementary schools for pupils of the first six grades, I to VI inclusive; intermediate or junior high schools for pupils of grades VII, VIII, and IX; and high schools for pupils of the last three grades, namely, X, XI, and XII.)

Intermediate schools, both from an educational and an organizational point of view, has been the foremost topic of discussion by the Boston School Committee and its officials during the past ten years. All the details of reorganization and reconstruction have been repeatedly presented by its experts to the committee and thoroughly digested by that body. The qualification of teachers for the new work, the utilization of existing plants, the necessity of additional school revenues and of new buildings—all have been debated at length by the School Committee and its officials, and definite conclusions have been reached. The construction of high schools for pupils of grades X to XII inclusive, of intermediate units for grades VII to IX inclusive, and of six-grade schools for elementary pupils has become the consistent policy of the School Committee and has been incorporated in all its building programs from 1920 to the present time.

The author of the report of the Finance Commission declares:

"The school authorities have not yet sufficiently assimilated the requirements of the class grouping of the new system to think clearly in terms of the 6-3-3 divisions, much less to act according to them. Terms describing the old system have persisted and apparently it has been difficult to learn to think in the new terms, much more to plan for new divisions."

In view of the patient and sympathetic consideration of the School Committee during the period of intermediate school development, such language as the above is gratuitous and undignified, and unworthy a place in serious deliberations.

2. That the School Committee has been dilatory in organizing the 6-3-3 unit.

The traditional units of school organization in days gone by included eight years of elementary instruction (grades I to VIII inclusive), and four years of secondary instruction (grades IX to XII inclusive). It seemed to students of education that another organizational division was preferable. Accordingly, several cities in the country, Boston among the first, began an agitation in favor of a different organizational division based upon six years of elementary instruction and six years of secondary instruction and it seemed desirable to subdivide the upper six years into two units embracing a three-year intermediate school and a three-year high school. This became known as the 6-3-3 plan of organization. One of the fundamental principles underlying this scheme of organization was that elementary education, as such, should cease at the end of the sixth grade, and that secondary education should continue for six years more. This was a movement of far-reaching significance, and each successive step needed to be worked out with sound judgment and infinite care. And in Boston we have succeeded. Every child in the seventh grade in our public schools today in whatever school located is beginning his secondary school life and is accumulating points toward his high school diploma. The School Committee refused to jeopardize the welfare of pupils by rushing recklessly into city-wide redistribution of pupils and reconstruction of curricula. The School Committee wisely decided to "hasten slowly." Somewhere in its memoranda the Finance Commission accuses the school authorities of unfamiliarity with what is occurring in other school systems. Perhaps there are certain occurrences in other school systems that may enlighten the author of the Finance Commission's report. For instance: Very recently an association in the city of New York adopted the following resolution:

"This association favors the adoption of a uniform division of grades in our public school system—an 8-4 division, or a 6-3-3 division; and believes that there are no conditions which necessitate or justify the existence of the two divisions at the same time under our school government or system."

Replying to this criticism, Dr. Gustave Straubenmuller, Associate Superintendent of Schools in charge of the junior high school division of the New York City schools, says:

"The policy of the Board of Superintendents and the Board of Education is to establish junior high schools and to do away with eight-year schools as rapidly as possible consistent with the proper management of these schools in the interest of the pupils."

"No practical school man who knows anything about school management will organize a new movement in a wholesale manner before teachers and executives are prepared for it."

"A junior high school must have a sufficient number of classes to permit pupils to make a choice as to a course and a language. In certain sections of the city there is not a sufficient number of children to warrant the organization of a junior high school. There are other complexities that arise which sometimes are trivial in nature but sufficient with other causes mentioned to interfere with the formation of a junior high school."

(It should be observed that "Junior High" and "Intermediate" schools are interchangeable terms.)

3. That the School Committee failed to make adequate studies or surveys of school accommodations.

Several years ago, on the recommendation of Superintendent Thompson, the School Committee established a board known as the Board of Apportionment. This board comprises the Superintendent of Schools, two Assistant Superintendents, and the Business Manager. For certain purposes, such as study of salaries and consideration of important out-of-pocket items, this Board includes the six Assistant Superintendents. It is the chief function of this board to advise the School Committee concerning all budgetary matters and to keep the Committee definitely informed with reference to the demands for additional school accommodations and for substantial alterations in existing school buildings.

In October of each year the Board of Apportionment addresses a circular letter to principals of schools and districts, requesting specific information about existing conditions and the immediate or prospective needs for additional school accommodations. These reports containing a voluminous amount of data are scrupulously prepared by the principals and thoughtfully organized by members of the Board of Apportionment. Supplementary to this inquiry, the Assistant Superintendents in their visits throughout the entire city, are making notes all the time of school enrollments, of changes in school population, of adjustments of district boundary lines, and of suitable sites for new school buildings. Each Assistant Superintendent in turn reports his observations to the Board of Apportionment. There is, therefore, in progress all the time a continuous and intelligent survey of all constructional needs throughout the whole school system. These reports and studies of the Board of Apportionment, frequently submitted to the School Committee, have been of invaluable service to the latter Board in formulating its various building programs during recent years.

Since the criticism of the Finance Commission seems to be directed more specifically toward intermediate school construction, it might be well to indicate briefly what has been done in this direction and what is proposed.

Beginning with Hyde Park, it is contemplated in the future to erect an intermediate school building somewhere in the Tremont district to provide for the seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupils from a portion of Hyde Park and Mattapan.

It is further proposed to erect an intermediate school on Wellington Hill to provide for seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupils from the Edmund P. Tileston District, from the southerly edge of the Oliver Wendell Holmes District, and whenever it becomes necessary from the Frank V. Thompson, which is one of our newer intermediate schools.

Again, a lot has been purchased for an intermediate school on Pershing Road off Center Street in Jamaica Plain, to provide accommodations for seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupils from the Jefferson School and from the Agassiz, Bowditch and Lowell Districts.

Furthermore, the Schoolhouse Commission is contemplating the purchase of a site in the Dudley District, to provide for seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupils from the Comins School, from the Dudley and Dillaway Districts, and possibly from a part of the Sherwin District.

Another project in view is the erection of an intermediate school at the corner of Camden Street and Shawmut Avenue on land recently purchased for this purpose by the Schoolhouse Commission. This building will house seventh and eighth grade pupils from several surrounding districts, including the Hyde, Everett, Rice and Dwight, and will relieve the central high schools of certain pupils of the ninth grade.

The Abraham Lincoln School is at present organized on an intermediate basis.

Thus, to one who understands the geography of Boston, it becomes apparent that the School Committee in its judgment has taken steps to provide intermediate schools relatively equi-distant from one another for that lengthy strip of territory extending all the way from the city limits in Hyde Park to the old West End. (Reference is made again to the West End in paragraph 4).

Also in this connection it should be noted that there is in the present provisional four-year building budget an appropriation of $1,230,000 for the purchase of a site and the erection of an intermediate school in the Warren-Bunker Hill District, the center of Charlestown. This building will take care of all seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupils of Charlestown, making all the other schools of this section six-grade schools.

It should be noted in passing that as the various intermediate schools enumerated in this paragraph are constructed, to a corresponding extent the traditional elementary eight-grade schools will be converted into six-grade schools.

4. That the School Committee has failed in foreseeing the possibility of converting traditional eight-grade school buildings into those of the newer types.

Quite the reverse! The School Committee from the very outset has made use to the utmost of existing building resources. The Robert Gould Shaw School in West Roxbury; the Mary Hemenway, Henry L. Pierce, and Oliver Wendell Holmes Schools in Dorchester; the John Winthrop and Lewis in Roxbury; and the Abraham Lincoln in the City Proper—all formerly eight-grade schools—were converted into intermediate schools with little or no constructional expense. Similarly, eight-grade buildings in South Boston have assumed intermediate organizations.

The present building program of the School Committee provides very properly for a new high school in Hyde Park, the site for which has already been purchased. The School Committee, when this new building is completed, contemplates the remodeling of the present Hyde Park High School and converting it into a central junior high school.

The Schoolhouse Commission purchased several years ago a beautiful site for a new high school in Brighton, and when this new building is completed, the School Committee purposes likewise to convert the old high school structure into a central intermediate school. In the meantime the Bennett—an old eight-grade building—is accommodating intermediate grade classes. Sometime another intermediate school will be provided for that section of Brighton.

Contemporaneous with the opening of the magnificent new high school building in East Boston, the old high school building was reconstructed and is now used most satisfactorily as an intermediate school, accommodating all intermediate grade pupils of that section of East Boston; the other section having already been provided with a new forty-room intermediate school, the Donald McKay. By virtue of these changes and transfers, all the traditional eight-grade schools in East Boston have become six-grade schools (except the Blackinton-John Cheverus).

Frequent studies made by the Board of Apportionment convinced the School Committee that school population in the West End is rapidly diminishing. A new intermediate school in this section of the city, therefore, was found impracticable.

In order that intermediate school facilities might not be denied the pupils of the West End, the School Committee recommended that the seventh and eighth grades of existing elementary schools be transferred to the Washington, and that this school become distinctively intermediate. The necessary changes were made by the Schoolhouse Commission and an intermediate school was organized, the traditional elementary schools becoming six-grade schools.

Influenced by studies that have been made by its officials, the School Committee last year decided to utilize the Michelangelo School (formerly elementary) in the North End as an intermediate center for the seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupils of the Hancock and Eliot Districts. This rearrangement of classes was perfected at the end of the last school year, and in September of this school year the Michelangelo became exclusively intermediate, and the Eliot and Hancock became six-grade districts.

5. That the School Committee has failed to recommend smaller furniture for school rooms.

The author of the report of the Finance Commission speaks with characteristic assurance and finality concerning the kind of furniture to be used in school rooms. Nevertheless, whether there should be desks and chairs of traditional standards attached to the floor, whether furniture should be movable or immovable, or whether a chair with an arm rest would suffice, are debatable questions. Visits made recently to school systems by the Superintendent and an Assistant Superintendent fail to reveal any uniform standards of desks and chairs for pupils. To get beyond the range of an individual opinion, the Superintendent recently requested the presidents of our various principals' associations, in co-operation with one of the Assistant Superintendents, to make a thorough study of school furniture, including pupils' desks and chairs, and report the results of their deliberations at an early date. The School Committee feels confident that the expert opinion received from this committee of principals will go far toward solving this disputed question.

6. That the School Committee has failed to standardize school buildings and equipment.

It is evident that so far as practicable, school buildings and school equipment should be standardized. Frequently either the School Committee or the Board of Apportionment with that object in view has made specific recommendations regarding standards such as shop equipment for boys and girls, health rooms, intermediate science and drawing rooms, kindergartens and standard classrooms by grades. It is very likely that these suggestions of the School Committee are embodied in the report on standards which the Finance Commission declares is already in its possession, having been transmitted to that body by the Schoolhouse Commission. The School Committee, however, is strongly of the opinion that standards though carefully established should be flexible, subject to change as occasions demand. To illustrate:

The Finance Commission in its report criticizes the construction of the new Washington Irving School in Roslindale and volunteers the following remark:

"The failure to distinguish between the different types of schools is most apparent in the Washington Irving School, which is referred to both as a high school and an intermediate school, and which apparently is a conglomeration of both."

We tried to make clear earlier in this paper (vide par. 2) that one of the fundamental purposes of the intermediate schools is differentiation at the end of Grade VI. When the construction of the Washington Irving School was originally considered, the School Committee believe it practicable in the Roslindale section to erect a school building to provide for all the pupils of secondary grades, namely, the seventh to the twelfth inclusive. It took this action advisedly because there are many students of education who believe that the so-called 6-6 type of organization is preferable to the 6-3-3. The Public Latin School was founded on the 6-6 basis and for two hundred fifty years has successfully maintained a six-grade secondary course supplementary to the six-year course in the elementary grades. This original idea of the fathers, therefore, still persists in both the Public Latin School and the Girls' Latin School.

Cleveland is committed to the so-called 6-3-3 plan of organization. But in a recent visit to that city the Superintendent of Schools of Boston and one of the Assistant Superintendents found in process of construction a very large central secondary school of six grades, namely, grades VII to XII inclusive. Another Assistant Superintendent of the Boston schools comes back from Rochester with the information that that city though committed to the 6-3-3 idea is likewise constructing a large six-grade secondary school; and it may be remarked that in the opinion of many school people Rochester has one of the best intermediate school organizations in the country.

Yes, we should have standards, but we must never make a fetish of them!

7. Is an additional coordinator necessary?

It is unfortunate that the Finance Commission did not inquire more carefully into the machinery established by the School Committee for cooperation with the Schoolhouse Commission. Such an investigation would have revealed the fact that the Board of Apportionment is frequent! in conference with the Schoolhouse Commission and its officials for the purpose of considering constructional needs, and school accommodation and equipment. Moreover the Board of Apportionment annually prepares lengthy lists of major educational items which are approved by the School Committee and are given precedence by the Schoolhouse Commission in its program of repairs and alterations of school buildings.

Supplementary to the effectiveness of the Board of Apportionment as a unifying agency, the Superintendent of Schools has deputed an Assistant Superintendent to act as liaison officer between the School Committee and the Schoolhouse Commission. This representative devotes about one-third of his time exclusively to service in this important role; and it is needless to remark that he is heartily welcomed at the offices of the Schoolhouse Commission and that his counsel and judgment are respected. Happily this representative has had mechanical training and experience. But what is of greater significance, he is an educational expert; and in consequence of his familiarity with city-wide educational policies and problems, his services are likely to be more substantial and fruitful than would be those of another coordinator lacking these essential educational contacts, even though the latter were employed on a full-time basis.

For an intelligent appreciation of the official relations between the School Committee and the Schoolhouse Commission, one should understand the legal status of the two bodies as defined by Statute Law (Chapter 473 of the Acts of 1901). The power to appropriate moneys and to designate school districts in which new buildings are to be erected is vested in the School Committee. The Superintendent of Schools is required to express an opinion (only) concerning school sites, plans for new or reconstructed buildings, and school furnishings. But the choice of land for school purposes; the selection of architects; the construction of new buildings; the repair, alteration or remodeling of school buildings; the purchase of school furnishings, etc.—all are unqualifiedly and unmistakably within the legal province of the Schoolhouse Commission.

With a sensitiveness of the minimum amount of authority given the School Committee under the Statute of 1901 and the maximum of power bestowed upon the Schoolhouse Commission, the officials of the School Committee in their approach to problems of school construction, repairs, etc., have striven at all times to keep within the limitations defined by the Statute, have studiously avoided seeming obtrusive, and have sought to secure and maintain a spirit of cooperation founded upon confidence and goodwill. And in our efforts to foster this sort of amicable and workable cooperation, we are pleased to record that invariably we have been met 'half-way' by the Schoolhouse Commission and the members of its official family.

I am attaching order authorizing the payment of these preliminary expenses from the appropriation.

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Ordered, That any unpaid charges and expenses incurred by the Citizens' Public Celebrations Association and Memorial Day Survey Committees in connection with surveys of public celebrations by order of the Mayor be allowed and paid, subject to the approval of the Mayor, from the appropriation of $500 authorized by the City Council October 19, 1925, and approved by the Mayor October 20, 1925.

ADDITIONAL WATCHMEN FOR CITY HALL BUILDINGS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, December 29, 1926.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a communication from the Public Buildings Department in reply to your order of December 13, 1926, in relation to additional watchmen at all times after working hours.

Yours respectfully,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Buildings Department,
December 20, 1926.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—Replying to the order of the City Council that the Superintendent of Public Buildings be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to appoint additional watchmen to properly police the City Hall and Annex Buildings, I wish to respectfully state that at the present time there are two policemen stationed in the City Hall Building at all times after working hours. In the City Hall Annex Building there are two of our employees who go on duty at 4.30 p. m. and remain until 11 p. m., when they are relieved by a watchman who patrols the building the rest of the night.

There has never been any more protection in the buildings than at the present time and if said order pertains to the employment of members of the regular police force, I would have no jurisdiction over same.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN P. ENGLERT,

Superintendent of Public Buildings.

INSPECTORS FOR CONCRETE MIXERS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, December 29, 1926.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a communication from the Building Department in reply to your order of December 13, 1926, relative to two concrete inspectors being placed on work where more than one concrete mixer is in operation.

Yours respectfully,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Building Department, December 21, 1926.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—With reference to the attached order introduced in the City Council on December 13, regarding concrete inspectors, I beg to say that it is the custom of the department to consider the character of work being done on a building, and when the conditions warrant to assign an additional inspector or inspectors to the work. It is rarely necessary to assign more than one inspector to a building.

Respectfully yours,

L. K. ROURKE,
Building Commissioner.

FIRE STATIONS IN CHARLESTOWN.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, December 29, 1926.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a communication from the Fire Department, in reply to your order of November 29, 1926, relative to an investigation of the fire stations in Charlestown to ascertain necessary improvements and expense of same.

Yours respectfully,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

"Ordered, That the Fire Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to investigate the fire stations located in the Charlestown district for the purpose of ascertaining what improvements may be necessary to place them in a sanitary and modern condition, and that the expense of making said improvements be provided in the annual budget for 1927."

In reply thereto I would advise that a study is being made of the proposition outlined above with a view to providing more efficient service as well as more sanitary and comfortable quarters. This study is extensive in its scope and as soon as it is completed a report will be forwarded to your Honor.

Yours very truly,

E. C. HULTMAN,
Fire Commissioner.

INSPECTOR FOR HALLS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, December 29, 1926.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a communication from the Building Commissioner in reply to your order of December 13, 1926, relative to assigning an inspector to each hall or building in the City of Boston where dances, etc., are held.

Yours respectfully,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Building Department, December 21, 1926.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—With reference to the attached order introduced in the City Council, I beg to say that I do not consider that this is necessary.

There are 172 licensed halls, fifty-one theaters and thirty-three moving picture houses in the City of Boston. These are all licensed. In addition to the above there are a great number of churches, lodges, and various societies where meetings are held.

If the above licensed halls, theaters and moving picture houses are not conducted with due regard to safety and order, the licenses may be revoked and the building closed.

There has been but one case during the past year where overcrowding and disorder occurred, and that was at the Arena during last November. This trouble was caused by a near riot of several hundreds of people who burst through the doors and took possession of the place, necessitating a riot call being sent in to the Police Department. On learning of this trouble I immediately took the matter up with the management and made certain arrangements with it which I think will obviate any repetition of such an occurrence.

Respectfully yours,

L. K. ROURKE,
Building Commissioner.

SALE OF TWO FERRYBOATS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, December 27, 1926.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—During the current year two new ferryboats have been placed in service in the Ferry Division of the Public Works Department. At the same time two of the old boats, namely, the "Hugh O'Brien," which was built in 1883, and the "Governor Russell," built in 1897, have been withdrawn from the service. These latter boats have no further value to the city and in order to save expensive storage costs it is desired to sell the boats at public auction. The Public Works Commissioner has caused an examination to be made of the boats and, as a result, has recommended an upset price on each craft. I submit herewith orders authorizing the sale at public auction of the "Hugh O'Brien" and "Governor Russell," and respectfully recommend the adoption of these orders by your honorable body.

Respectfully,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be and hereby is authorized in the name and behalf of the city to sell at public auction, at an upset price of $1,000, the paddle wheel steam ferryboat "Hugh O'Brien."

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be and hereby is authorized in the name and behalf of the city to sell at public auction, at an upset price of $6,000, the screw steam ferryboat "Governor Russell."

WIDENING OF PIKE'S ALLEY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, December 31, 1926.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a communication from the City Planning Board in reply to your order of October 4, 1926, in relation to widening Pike's alley.

Yours respectfully,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,

City Planning Board, November 26, 1926.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—In compliance with the accompanying order passed by the City Council under date of October 4, 1926, the City Planning Board submits herewith report "on the advisability of widening Pike's alley, from Chambers and Leverett streets, Ward 3, to a width of twenty feet for foot travel only."

Pike's alley, which was formerly known as Marston place, changing to its present name in 1898, is a narrow passageway approximately 140 feet long, averaging about 5 feet in width and from 10 to 12 feet in height, with entrance between Nos. 91 and 93 Chambers street on the west and between 38 and 40 Leverett street on the east. It passes over private land assessed in the name of Morris Wiseblatt and the Beth Hackneseth Tiferetti Israel Synagogue and is roofed over by the buildings abutting on both sides with the exception of an open area in the center approximately seventy feet in length.

With the exception of Hammond avenue, a public passageway 43 feet wide running from 125 Chambers street to 62 Leverett street as shown on the accompanying plan marked "A," Pike's alley affords the only means of circulation between Chambers street and Leverett street for a distance of nearly nine hundred feet, bisecting as it does Blocks 155 and 164, between Green street and Ashland street. It is also to a certain extent the gateway for pedestrians from Causeway street, the North Station and points to the east, to the Massachusetts General Hospital and the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary as well as to the schools and churches in the West End (see plan marked "B"). Proof of the statement that it is largely used by pedestrians is found in the fact that, according to a count made by this office on Monday, October 18, 1926, 275 people passed through Pike's alley between the hours of 4.30 and 5.30 p. m.

There is little doubt but what the widening of this passageway to a width of twenty feet as suggested in the City Council order and its acceptance as a public way, properly paved and lighted, would be of considerable advantage to the throng of foot passengers by whom it is now used. Such a widening might be accomplished by the taking of properties No. 38 Leverett street, assessed value $14,000; No. 91 Chambers street, assessed value $13,800.

The cost of taking these properties, however, and the expense of paving, lighting, etc., would doubtless involve a total expenditure of not less than $50,000. It would also probably involve the relocating of the passageway itself in order to avoid complications which might arise on account of the present extension of adjacent buildings over the existing surface of the alley.

There are several factors entering into a consideration of this subject at the present time, however, which would make it appear advisable to delay action until a definite decision has been reached in connection with these other projects, i. e.:

1. The extension of Causeway street to Cambridge street has been repeatedly proposed, and, if carried across Block 155 as has been suggested, it would materially lessen the demand made at the present time upon Pike's alley.

2. The widening of Leverett street has also been proposed on a number of occasions and if such widening were to be accomplished on the easterly side of the street, it would affect to a considerable extent the physical conditions in the vicinity of Pike's alley.

3. The advisability of a more comprehensive treatment of the district in the immediate vicinity of Pike's alley has been suggested such as the extension of Poplar street through to Leverett street so as to connect with Causeway street. While rather steep grades would be encountered in the carrying out of such a plan, they do not constitute the serious obstacle that they have in the past in connection with horse-drawn vehicles.

For these and other reasons of a similar nature, the City Planning Board believes that it would be well to postpone action for the present on the particular project suggested in the City Council order. It has a full appreciation of the convenience which would be afforded by the widening suggested, but no disadvantage will result from delay and it is quite possible that a plan might be eventually decided upon which would be to the benefit of the people in the immediate vicinity of Pike's alley as well as to the entire West End district and the city at large.

Respectfully submitted,
THE CITY PLANNING BOARD,
FREDERICK H. FAY, Chairman.

REMOVAL OF OVERSEERS OF PUBLIC WELFARE.

Notices were received of the removal by the Mayor from position of members of Overseers of Public Welfare of Frank Leveroni, James J. Crowley and James H. Stone.

Placed on file.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I am not going to enter into a discussion at this time in regard to the four removals or any other removals that have been made from this Board, but I think we ought at least to thank the people who have served on the Board faithfully and without pay for the services they have rendered, irrespective of the controversy at the present time. I move, therefore, that we thank them for their services.

President KEENE—Will the councilor prepare a resolution in writing?

Later in the session Coun. GILBODY said:

Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege. I rise to say that, instead of introducing an order or resolution, as the Chair directed, commending personally the members of the Board who have been removed, for their services without pay, I would suggest that the Council now pass a vote declaring, if it is in order and if it is agreeable to every member, that we thank each and every one of such members of the Board of Overseers of the Poor for their services in such capacity to the City of Boston.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I was unable to gather from Coun. Gilbody's statement whether he was making a motion, or exactly what the nature of the question of personal privilege was. Is it a motion?

Coun. GILBODY—Yes, Mr. President, I make that as a motion.

Coun. GUILD—Then, Mr. President, I would like to ask if the councilor has any objection to putting it in writing?

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, the councilor has no objection, if the gentleman desires it, but I thought we might save time by taking action as I suggest.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I am willing to do it either way.

Coun. Gilbody's motion, that the thanks of the City Council be extended to each of the members of the Board of Overseers of the Poor who has been removed, for their services in that capacity, was declared carried.

SIDEWALK ON MATTAKEESET STREET.

Coun. WRAGG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Mattakeeset street, both sides, from River street to Edgewater drive, Ward 18, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REASONS FOR DISCHARGE OF OVERSEERS OF PUBLIC WELFARE.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to furnish the City Council with the reasons for the recent discharge of members of the Board of Overseers of the Public Welfare.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, in presenting this order I realize only too well that his Honor the Mayor is not compelled to furnish the City Council with any reason why he saw fit to discharge four men on the Public Welfare Board of the City of Boston, men who have served well and faithfully for years with no pay whatsoever. But this is the first time in the history of the City of Boston when any Mayor has seen fit to build up his own political fences on the needs of the poor people of the City of Boston. I say to his Honor the Mayor that, if he is fair and if he believes the Overseers of the Public Welfare were responsible for the recent cut in the allowance made to the poor people of the City of Boston, he should not only discharge every man whom he did discharge, but also every personal friend of his sitting on the Board at the present time, because they, the same as the other gentlemen, voted to cut the amount to be allowed to the poor. On the other hand, everybody sitting here realizes only too well that the buck has been passed to the Overseers of the Public Welfare by the Mayor, and I believe it is about time that the people should know who is responsible for the recent cut in the allowance made to the poor people of this city. We all realize that only a short time ago a request was submitted to the Mayor of the City of Boston by the Overseers for $200,000 to carry on the work of that Board for the past year. Everybody knows that no department head, whether paid or unpaid, dares to make a move until he is ordered so to do by the Mayor of Boston; and I say to you, gentlemen, in all fairness, that when the overseers submitted a request for $200,000 to the Mayor of Boston, he should have seen fit to give them the $200,000. Instead of doing that, the Mayor called in the chairman of the Board and told him to cut the amount down to $150,000, and the Mayor of Boston sent an order to the City Council providing $150,000 when the Board of Overseers had asked for $200,000. Those are the facts. There is one man, and one man alone, who should bear the brunt of the recent cut, and that man is the present Mayor of Boston.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I had not assumed that this whole matter would be pulled out and warmed over at this time, but I cannot personally sit here without saying a word on the other side, now that it has been brought up. My personal opinion is—and it may be worth little or nothing—that it might have been a little less like fighting windmills on a donkey if the chairman of the Finance Commission had done the Mayor of the City of Boston the courtesy of calling him on the telephone with reference to this rumored cut, and had talked it over with him. It seems to me that the chairman of the Finance Commission might well have done that, instead of running to the newspapers for a little political capital. As I understand the facts, a request was made for $200,000, which would seem to be in excess of what the poor people of the City of Boston would require for the balance of the year, in view of the history of past years for corresponding months. The net result was that the Mayor gave $150,000, and we so voted. If I am correctly informed, the Board, acting in its discretion and at the Mayor's behest, has made no cut in the doles allowed to the poor of Boston and, as a matter of fact, the $150,000 has been more than sufficient to carry the Board for the balance of the year. My personal belief is that the Mayor of the City of Boston, whether he be Republican or Democrat, whether it be Mr. Nichols or Mr. Curley, will take care of the poor of the City of Boston, and it is, in any event, a pretty poor thing to make political capital out of, one way or the other.

On motion of Coun. GUILD, the order was laid on the table.

FLOODING OF PLAYGROUNDS.

Coun. FREELEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Department be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to flood for skating the Mission Hill Playground and the Heath Street Playground, Ward 10.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ARC LIGHT, WARD 14.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install an electric arc lamp at the corner of Vassar street and Carmen street, Ward 14.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

On motion of Coun. RUBY, the Board voted at 1 p. m. to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The members reassembled in the Council Chamber at 1.30 p. m. and were called to order by President KEENE.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. DOWLING, for the Executive Committee, submitted reports as follows:

1. Report on petition (referred today) for permission for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement, viz.:

Amelia Burnham, Copley-Plaza, January 8,—that same be accepted.

Report accepted; said permit granted on usual conditions.

2. Report on communication from the Mayor and order (referred today) authorizing the payment of unpaid charges and expenses incurred by the Citizens' Public Celebrations Association and Memorial Day Survey Committees, in connection with surveys of public celebrations, etc.—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

3. Report on communication of the Mayor and order (referred December 20) appropriating $25,000 from the income of the Parkman Fund for Fenway Improvements,—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

PARKMAN FUND REPORT.

Coun. GUILD, for the Committee on Parkman Fund, submitted a report on the Mayor's message with accompanying order (referred December 13) with regard to disposition of money in the Parkman Fund—recommending the passage of an order in new draft, as follows:

Ordered, That the sum of $51,309.51 be and the same hereby is appropriated from the income of the Parkman Fund, to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners for the maintenance and improvement of the Common and parks in existence on January 12, 1887, as follows,—Fens, Improvement, $51,309.51.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 19, nays 0.

THE NEXT MEETING.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I understand that his Honor the Mayor will deliver an address on January 10, in this chamber. I move, therefore, that when the Council adjourn it be to meet on January 10.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I desire to amend that motion, moving that when we adjourn we adjourn sine die, and in doing so I cannot let this occasion pass without paying a tribute in all sincerity, regardless of politics or anything else that may enter into the discussion, to our present chairman, the President of this body. He has been a most valuable, square-shooting, decent, fair, he-man, and I don't think any member can rise up in this body and say that he has been otherwise. I simply say that at this time, Mr. President, desiring to pay to you my own personal tribute and, I think, the tribute of all the Democratic members of this body to you, sir. Your action in governing this body has been perfectly fair, decent and honorable at all times. But I do now move, sir, an amendment to the motion that has been made,—that we adjourn sine die.

President KEENE—The Chair will say to Coun. Gilbody that as he understands it, it is a rule of parliamentary procedure that a motion to adjourn sine die is not in order at this time. In other words, this not being the last meeting of the present Council, we must adjourn to a day certain.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I desire now, sir, to appeal from the decision of the Chair.

President KEENE—The councilor appeals from the decision of the Chair. The question is, whether the decision of the Chair shall stand as the decision of the body.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I hope the President will put the motion once more, so that we may all understand it clearly.

President KEENE—The question comes on Coun. Gilbody's proposed amendment to Coun. Fitzgerald's motion that when we adjourn it be to meet on January 10. Coun. Gilbody moves to an amendment that when we adjourn it be sine die, and the Chair has ruled, in accordance with his understanding, that that is out of order at this time. Those in favor of adjourning without day will vote "Yes"; those not in favor of so doing will vote "No."

Coun. GUILD—Mr. Chairman, I understand that the question comes on sustaining the Chair's ruling, and that those in favor of sustaining the Chair's ruling should vote "Yes" and those opposed to sustaining the ruling of the Chair should vote "No."

President KEENE—The councilor is correct. Those who desire to vote in favor of sustaining the ruling of the Chair will vote "Yes," those opposed "No."

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, talking on the appeal, I now desire to say just a few words. We, the Democratic members of this Council, have been in session in this chamber, sir, with your permission, and have decided in caucus on a certain line of action, and the salvation of each and every member of the Democratic party in their respective wards is now involved in this motion that we adjourn sine die. I took particular pains, Mr. President, to rise and pay my tribute of personal respect and appreciation of your decency, honesty and fairness in presiding in this body, but this is a battle of politics, Mr. President, not of religion or anything else, and I am now pressing the motion in view of the fact that your term of office, by passage of the motion to adjourn sine die, is over. Mr. Keene. I would simply say, with all respect, sir, that you are finished as President of the Council, and I now invite each and every member of Democratic faith in the Council, those who believe in the principles of the Democratic party in national and state politics, to a realization that that is the situation. I am not going to waste further time. I simply say to the members here, if you are Democrats, you are going to vote to adjourn sine die; if you are not, you are going to vote to sustain the present Republican scheme of a higher tax rate, and against a proper economic adjustment in the interests of the people of Boston, and so forth, and so on. We sat here and discussed the matter for an hour, we the Democrats of the body, with a view to the situation confronting the city in 1927. I simply say, Mr. President, now that I am on my feet, repeating that this action is simply proposed because of the political situation, that if all of the twenty-two members of the Council, I don't care who they are, if it were not for politics, should put their names in a hat, I would be perfectly willing and glad to vote for each and any one of them—for Charlie Keene, for Bob Wilson, for Guild, for Guy Wragg, for Ruby or any one else. They have all been decent, fair gentlemen in this body. But we are now in the battle of politics, and I now as a Democrat press my motion that we adjourn sine die.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, talking to the point that has been raised by my brother from the Dorchester district (Coun. Gilbody) it seems to me perfectly evident that if a motion to adjourn sine die prevails not only the President but every other member of the City Council will automatically pass out. That is, we would not adjourn for any particular time, but would simply adjourn, bringing the whole thing to an end. If we overthrow the ruling of the President that the motion is not in order, we are simply giving notice to the world at large that we are walking out for a year—not only the President, but every other member of the Council. We will all automatically walk out with him.

Coun. GILBODY—That is absolutely true, but it then simply rests on the head of each and every Democratic member of the Council to see that we meet on January 3 or January 10 at an appointed hour.

Coun. DONOVAN—Mr. President, I would like a ruling from the Chair or from our Clerk on the question of the parliamentary procedure involved in voting to adjourn sine die. As I understand it, we would practically be proroguing, if we accept Coun. Gilbody's motion, although as the result of the action electing us to this body our tenure of office goes on through the ensuing year. I would like a ruling of the Chair on that particular question, because it is not exactly clear in my mind. As I interpret Coun. Gilbody's motion, we might be bringing our existence to a close, although we are supposed to be members of the City Council for the ensuing year. While it may be perfectly proper to notify the President that his term of office as President terminates today, I don't see how we can take that action, adjourning sine die, without jeopardizing our own salvation here. We are elected as members for two years. I don't think we are now ready to be prorogued, but are supposed to continue until the last of next December. The motion might then be entertained.

President KEENE—The Chair will rule—

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I will simply say—

President KEENE—Perhaps the Chair had better make his ruling first, and we can then proceed with the discussion. The Chair rules that if you vote to adjourn sine die that is the end of the term of this body. It does not seem to me that there can be any question about that. In other words, we cannot then meet again unless we meet by and under somebody's else authority.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I move that the Council adjourn to January 10.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, there is a motion pending before the body.

President KEENE—The councilor is correct. The question is, shall the ruling of the Chair be sustained? Those in favor will vote "Yes," and those opposed vote "No." The Clerk will call the roll.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I desire, if possible, that the Chair make a clearer statement that we adjourn or do not adjourn, stating more clearly what the Chair has in mind.

President KEENE—The Chair cannot make the point any clearer, Coun. Gilbody. Suppose we take the vote of the body on the ruling of the Chair. The Chair has ruled that the amendment is out of order. You have appealed from the decision of the Chair. The Clerk will call the roll. Those in favor of sustaining the ruling of the Chair will vote "Yes," those opposed will vote "No."

The ruling of the Chair stood as the decision of the body, yeas 17, nays 3:

Yeas—Coun. Arnold, Donovan, Dowd, Dowling, Englert, Fitzgerald, Freeley, Guild, Green, Keene, Lynch, Mahoney, McMahon, Parkman, Ruby, Wilson, Wragg—17.

Nays—Coun. Gilbody, Heffernan, Ward—3. When Coun. Gilbody's name was called on the roll he said:

Mr. President, I desire in announcing my vote to say that the Democratic party has been absolutely and positively sold out, and I vote "No."

After the announcement of the vote Coun. GILBODY said:

Mr. President, I desire to have you, President Keene, if you will, announce the three members who have not sold out the Democratic party, if you please, the three votes in the negative.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I move to amend the motion of Coun. Fitzgerald, that we meet January 3.

President KEENE—The question comes on Coun. Fitzgerald's motion, being for the longer period.

Coun. McMAHON—Mr. President, I rise to a point of information. I would like to have that motion repeated. Is it that we adjourn to the 10th of January?

President KEENE—The 10th of January.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, what became of my request, that we find out the three men who have not sold out the Democratic party?

President KEENE—The Chair would say that it is a matter of record.

Coun. GILBODY—Will the Chair repeat the names of the three members who have not sold out the Democratic party?

President KEENE—I hardly think the Chair should be called upon to do that.

Coun. GILBODY—Will the Chair ask the Clerk to state the names of the three members?

President KEENE—You may make a motion, Councilor.

Coun. WRAGG—Mr. President, I move that the councilor name the three members himself.

Coun. GILBODY—I will, Mr. President, after the Clerk has read them off.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I move that we proceed with the regular order of business.

President KEENE—Those in favor of adjourning, when we do adjourn today, to meet on January 10 will say "Aye." (A number responded.) Those opposed will say "No." (A number responded.) It is a vote.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I doubt the vote.

President KEENE—Those in favor of adjourning, when we do adjourn today, to meet on January 10 will vote "Yes," those opposed will vote "No," and the Clerk will call the roll.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, on this question that comes before the members of the body—

President KEENE—The Chair must rule that no debate is in order while a doubt is being solved. The Chair will recognize the member immediately upon the completion of the calling of the roll.

The Council voted that when it adjourns today it be to meet on Monday, January 10, at 2 p. m., yeas 16, nays 4:

Yeas—Coun. Arnold, Donovan, Dowd, Englert, Fitzgerald, Freeley, Green, Guild, Keene, Lynch, Mahoney, McMahon, Parkman, Ruby, Wilson, Wragg—16.

Nays—Coun. Dowling, Gilbody, Heffernan, Ward—4.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I wish to explain my vote, which is due to the fact that I am informed that Coun. McGrath would feel that if we adjourn today to meet on the third he necessarily would have to come back from Canada to attend the meeting. It is wholly for that reason that I voted "Yes."

Coun. WARD—And I wish to explain my vote, Mr. President, that Coun. McGrath is in Canada, and that is the reason I voted "No."

Coun. McMAHON—Mr. President, with all due respect to the position just taken by my fellow member here, I will simply say that Coun. McGrath got married the other day, and is now on his wedding trip. In view of that fact, I have voted "Yes," and I hope when our friend, the other councilor here, steps out we can do the same thing for him! I promised Joe McGrath, as I think some of the other members here did, that I would so vote. If we voted to meet on the 3d, Joe would come back. I felt that we should accommodate ourselves, under the circumstances, to his plans, the same as we accommodated other members in the summer vacation. We promised Joe that when we adjourned it would be to the 10th, so that he would not have to come back. I don't think it is a case of selling out, at all. I felt that when the motion was made to adjourn to the 10th, all the members here would vote for it. I feel now that we should not meet until the 10th.

President KEENE—The vote stands 16 to 4, and the Council has voted that when we do adjourn today it will be to meet on January 10, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

Coun. PARKMAN, for the Committee on Claims, submitted a report on petition of J. Blanche McLain (referred December 20) recommending passage of the following:

Ordered, That there be allowed and paid to J. Blanche McLain the sum of eight dollars in compensation for the loss of four hens killed by a dog or dogs November 5, 1926, said sum to be paid from the income for dog licenses.

Report accepted; said order passed.

EXAMINATION OF SOAP FACTORY.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Fire Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to have the Fire Prevention Bureau examine the building used as a soap factory at the corner of Charles street, Charles Street place and Schoolhouse court, Charlestown, for the purpose of determining whether or not it constitutes a fire hazard.

Ordered, That the Building Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to examine the building at the corner of Charles street, Charles Street place and Schoolhouse court, Charlestown, which is now used as a soap factory, for the purpose of determining whether or not it is a safe structure and has proper means of egress.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

REMOVAL OF SNOW, SOUTH BOSTON.

Coun. MAHONEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish a sufficient number of men and teams to remove the snow and ice from Broadway, between Dorchester avenue and L street, South Boston, at the present time, and in the future after the downtown section has been taken care of.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION FROM FINANCE COMMISSION RE BUDGET.

Coun. PARKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Finance Commission be requested to furnish the City Council with such information as it may have with regard to the budget estimates of the various city departments for the year 1927.

Coun. DONOVAN—Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman if he will further amend that order by stipulating a date when we may receive a copy of the budget. I would like to have that here by January 10, the day that we convene.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, that date is satisfactory to me, but it occurs to me that possibly it may be a little early, as we do not get the budget until after the Legislature has fixed the tax limit which presumably is some time in February.

Coun. DONOVAN—The first of February.

President KEENE—Well, the amendment will be inserted if there is no objection.

The order was amended by inserting the words "on or before February 1, 1927," so that it reads as follows:

Ordered, That the Finance Commission be requested to furnish the City Council on or before February 1, 1927, with such information as it may have with regard to the budget estimates of the various city departments for the year 1927.

The order as amended was passed under suspension of the rule.

RENEWAL OF MOTION TO ADJOURN SINE DIE.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, inasmuch as the mover of the original motion has now left the chamber, I move that we adjourn sine die.

President KEENE—The Chair must rule the motion out of order.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

On motion of Coun. DONOVAN a reconsideration of all action taken today was refused.

USE OF SCHOOL YARDS FOR PLAY PURPOSES.

The Superintendent submitted the following communication:

Under date of October 4, 1926, the following order was passed by the City Council of the City of Boston:

"ORDERED: That the School Committee of the City of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of keeping open, for play purposes, the yards of all available school-houses in Boston, after school hours until sun-down, and all day on Saturday."

In reply thereto, the Superintendent offered the following statement:

An experiment tried several years ago when Mr. David A. Ellis was Chairman of the School Board indicated that school yards in general should not be open without proper supervision. Last year the School Committee petitioned the Legislature and secured from that body an additional sum of $53,400, representing three cents on each $1,000 of valuation to carry on larger play activities in our school playgrounds. This additional revenue made it possible to keep playgrounds open more generously than ever before so that from April 1 to November 1 the playgrounds offered excellent play facilities to children of school age. In fact lack of attendance of pupils caused the Physical Education Department to close a few playgrounds, which it had opened at the beginning of the season. This would indicate that it would probably be unnecessary to open all yards. At present opportunities could not be extended without securing additional appropriation from the Legislature, since provision of competent supervision involves expenditure of quite a large sum of money.

Some of the playgrounds most frequently used have been kept open this year until the Saturday before Thanksgiving. From then until next March, the time between the close of school and sun-down is so short that it would not be feasible to set up apparatus, and it is probable that most parents would desire their children to come home immediately after the close of the school session rather than to loiter and to play about the school building as darkness sets in.

If funds allowed, there probably would be a considerable opportunity to use playgrounds all day Saturday even in the winter, although for much of the time, because of weather conditions, very little could be done and it would be difficult to make a satisfactory arrangement with competent playground teachers unless their employment was to be steady.

Lack of funds makes it impossible to open playgrounds during the present season. Something could be done another year if the Legislature should see fit to grant a larger appropriation; even so it is unlikely that the demand would warrant opening a considerable number of these yards. The experiment might be made of opening a number of yards selected in the more congested districts and extending it if the success of the undertaking warrants its continuance.

Enclosed is a list of schoolyard playgrounds, children's corners in parks and athletic fields in various sections of the city. All of them have been in use during the summer, under our supervision. The athletic fields and children's corners, in parks, are open, but without supervision, at all seasons and are large enough to permit coasting, skating, skiing, and other winter sports which children enjoy.

The report was accepted and ordered transmitted to the City Council.

LIMITATION OF ADMISSIONS TO THE TEACHERS COLLEGE.

The Superintendent made the following statement which was ordered spread upon the records:

Under date of Nov. 22, 1926, the Board of Superintendents presented to the School Committee in Conference, certain recommendations with reference to the admission of candidates to the Teachers College of the City of Boston.

Among the recommendations was one to the effect that hereafter the number of candidates admitted to the Teachers College of the City of Boston be limited to 200—150 to the three-year courses and 50 to the college courses.

The basis of this recommendation was the fact that in the opinion of the Board of Superintendents there has been admitted to the Teachers College during recent years a larger number of students than the school system of Boston can absorb as teachers, and that in consequence, many of the graduates may fail of permanent appointment. Furthermore, the Board of Superintendents made a careful study of the number of appointments made to elementary, intermediate, and high school positions annually during the last five years, and found that the average number of appointments was approximately 150. It would seem, therefore, that 150 admissions to the Teachers College would adequately meet the needs of the service. In view, however, of possible retirement and elimination of students during their courses, it seemed advisable to the Board of Superintendents that this number of candidates should be increased from 150 to 200, and that the limitations, according to courses, should be 150 for the three-year courses and 50 for the four-year college courses.

In this connection, it should be recorded that hereafter examinations for admission to the Teachers College will be wholly competitive, and that admissions will be determined wholly by the numerical standing of candidates in their respective groups.

On motion, all unfinished business was referred to the next Committee.

The Board adjourned.

ADDRESS OF HONORABLE MALCOLM E. NICHOLS BEFORE THE CITY COUNCIL, MONDAY, JANUARY 10, 1927.

Gentlemen of the City Council:

Municipal business is better understood today than a few years ago, chiefly for the reason that our attention has been directed since the war to the sharp rise in municipal costs without expanding sources of revenue. During this ten-year period the burden of cost and maintenance has doubled in Boston and elsewhere.

COSTS AND CAUSES.

This rise in costs has been due not only to several causes, such as further shrinkage in the purchasing power of one dollar from 91 cents to 62 cents and to the growing number and greater magnitude of the things the city is called upon to do, but to insistent propaganda for spending money on projects desired by somebody but of doubtful worth to the public. Boston is highly organized with activities, many of them with schemes framed without regard either to value or expense.

In my inaugural last January I pointed out that Boston was confronted with a difficult financial situation due to fundamental and far-reaching causes, although her general financial condition was not unsound. I believed it helpful to present a survey of the facts, and estimated that the needs of the city would require a tax rate very close to $32. After the determination of the rate I presented an analysis, showing how the money was expended. This analysis, which is appended, demonstrated that of the rate of $31.80, the sum of $19.08 or 60 per cent was spent in public functions, not under the control of the Mayor.

Our tax problem is thus largely concerned with state, county and school administration. Our rate moreover, this year, was based upon the lowest increased valuation since 1921.

In the conduct of municipal government, possibly no single activity is of greater importance than the carrying on of a sound financial program. The net debt of the city, exclusive of the self-supporting Rapid Transit debt, is in a remarkably sound condition, although higher by reason of loan issues caused by major street and other improvements. The financial position of the city as regards the annual expenditures for maintenance is particularly noteworthy, in that every known liability incurred during the financial year 1926, including all of the expenses for two severe snow storms, will have been paid within the total appropriations for the year, with substantial assets yet to be collected in the form of unpaid taxes.

1927 TAX RATE TO BE LOWER.

Despite the impending high tax rate when I took office there were presented forthwith for my consideration new

LETTER TO FINANCE COMMISSION.

Mayor Nichols, on January 12, sent the following letter to the Finance Commission regarding bill rendered in favor of Guy C. Emerson for services rendered the District Attorney:

January 12, 1927.

THE FINANCE COMMISSION of the City of Boston, 11 Beacon street, Boston.

DEAR SIRs,—The City Auditor is in receipt of a bill from the Superior Criminal Court in favor of Guy C. Emerson for what Mr. Emerson terms services rendered the District Attorney's office in connection with investigations amounting to $720, plus $14.41 for expenses incurred. Such services are billed at the rate of $10 per hour.

There is a lead pencil memorandum appearing on the papers submitted indicating that it is a "Dearborn Case," which apparently has to do with the so-called paying contracts which were under investigation by the former District Attorney a short time prior to the recent election.

Neither Mr. Emerson's original bill to the County of Suffolk nor his letter of transmittal to the former District Attorney contains any reference to the case or cases for which services were charged. The memorandum is in pencil, and was apparently placed there by the officials of the county. The bill, therefore, as drawn by Mr. Emerson does not contain the full information that the auditor ought to have, as I feel sure you will agree.

Mr. Emerson is the engineer of the Finance Commission at a salary of $6,000 a year. If this bill of $734.41 is paid, will not Mr. Emerson have been paid twice for work which has fallen within the scope of his employment by you? Should not the Finance Commission provide whatever information may be necessary to the District Attorney without a further charge for his services?

The City of Boston pays all of the bills for your commission and all of those for Suffolk County, and is, therefore, being called upon to pay Mr. Emerson in two capacities, one at the rate of $6,000 per year in your employment, and the other at the rate of $10 per hour in the employ of the county. Is Mr. Emerson's employment in this dual capacity consistent with the high standard of excellence which ought to be maintained in city and county affairs?

Pending your answer I have requested the auditor to suspend payment upon this bill.

Respectfully yours,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

ASSESSMENT ABATED.

The Mayor has approved the following vote of the Board of Street Commissioners of the City of Boston:

In the matter of applications for revision of assessments levied on account of the construction of sewerage works the Board of Street Commissioners acting under the provisions of chapter 359 of the Acts of the year 1896, and deeming it just and proper that such action should be taken upon said applications.

Ordered, That the amounts hereinafter specified, being the annual apportionments of said assessments for the years specified below, be and the same are hereby abated.

HONOR LAFAYETTE.

Following announcement by Mayor Nichols on Monday, January 10, Madame Cecile Sorel, as the Countess de Segur, visited Boston, and in behalf of the theatrical profession of France, which, as Societaire de la Comedie Francaise, she has the honor to represent, placed a wreath, with humble prayer and salutation, at the bas-relief of Marquis de Lafayette on Boston Common.

The countess bears the name of a family directly descendent from the great soldier. The exercises took place at noon.

ADDRESS OF MAYOR NICHOLS.

undertakings, calling for over fifty millions. It has been frequently said that no city in the United States gives so much to her citizens as Boston. Nevertheless every project ought to be examined with especial care to see if it represents a real benefit and is worth what we pay for it.

Notwithstanding the volume of proposed undertakings I found it impracticable to commit the city to any except those of extreme urgency.

The taxpayers have borne a high tax rate with patience, it seems to me, because they felt the administration had made an effort to be candid about it. Nevertheless a steady rise in tax rates is regrettable and a sharp rise serious. During my administration I do not expect to see a tax rate as high as the present, and I am confident that this year we shall announce a rate that will be regarded as a substantial reduction. Anyway it will be lower.

BOSTON PAYS METROPOLITAN COSTS.

The financial conditions accounting for the current tax rate of $31.80 have been published in detail form. They disclose the rapidly growing needs of a great city, needs which have not in the period following the war been sufficiently met. They present in a way the story of a home that requires refurbishing. They bring grave emphasis to the fact that Boston is the business and social center of a metropolitan city twice her size and is therefore called to perform many and perhaps all of her municipal services upon a larger and more expensive scale, that is upon a metropolitan basis. For example, in the care of streets for the automobiles of a metropolis, in the policing of a business center of nearly two millions, in fire protection for this center, in the hospitalization of a greater population, in the maintenance of a separate park system largely enjoyed by nonresidents in a more elaborate health organization, Boston performs municipal functions metropolitan in character. Fifty per cent of the persons applying to the City Hospital for treatment have no legal settlements in Boston, and no worthy person is ever refused treatment there. In a larger degree this situation applies to the Haymarket Square Relief Station. Boston pays 55 per cent of the maintenance of the Metropolitan Parks which are outside her borders and in addition to her own park system. She pays all the bills for Suffolk County.

Probably the line cannot be definitely drawn on municipal expenditures. The horizon of requirements tends always to expand. Some requirements however excluded others, and so it seemed to me when I took office last January.

They related to outlay for schools, streets, health and public safety and other services that bore the stamp of necessity.

SCHOOLHOUSE ACCOMMODATIONS.

The normal yearly increase in our school population is 2,200 pupils, but our requirements this year were far beyond this average. In fact, the pressure of school population has for many years, in my opinion, not been sufficiently met. Temporarily, portable schools were resorted to, but they have been gradually discontinued; fifteen of them being so abandoned for schoolroom purposes this year. It was necessary to provide for a large number or permanent seats this year and the Schoolhouse Department did in fact provide 8,500 new permanent seats.

Under appropriations authorized by the School Committee there has been made available and spent in 1926, for schoolhouse construction, alterations and repairs, a sum greater than in any fiscal year in the history of the city. The Schoolhouse Department has carried through an unexcelled building program and has remodelled and thoroughly reconditioned more old schools than ever before. Seventeen new schools were finished and accepted, and of this number eight were begun during the year.

Moreover, all other projects of schoolhouse construction on the program of the department for 1926 have been placed on the market.

NEW STREETS AND RECONSTRUCTED STREETS.

On my recommendation a loan of one million dollars was authorized by your honorable body for new streets in residential districts, in recognition of the importance of new streets to the makers of homes. Thirty-nine such streets have been laid out, and plans for twelve others are very nearly completed. In making up the 1926 streets, the Street Laying-Out Department also worked on a 1927 program. At the request of the Public Works Department, the Street Commissioners made over eighty plans for sewer takings.

Of the streets laid out by the Street Commissioners in 1926, nineteen contracts were awarded by the Commissioner of Public Works and five completed. Of the streets laid out by the Street Commissioners in 1925, fifteen contracts were awarded by the Commissioner of Public Works in 1926 and eleven completed in 1926. Therefore, in 1926 there were thirty-four contracts awarded and sixteen completed.

Of course a portion of this work must be carried into the succeeding year and it is thus too early to comment upon it. Nevertheless it does establish a record both in the number of residential streets built, in the number of streets upon which construction work has already begun, and in the number of contracts ready to be carried out and it has satisfactorily prepared the way for a rapid completion of extensive work already well under way.

One of the budget items for 1926 was an appropriation of one million dollars for the repair and reconstruction of streets. In disbursing the appropriation it has been the policy of the administration to improve the main lines of traffic throughout the city, and also to give attention to the heavy teaming streets in the business area where the traffic is congested.

Contracts were awarded to do work on about one hundred streets and the paving division forces have been resurfacing and patching streets in their respective districts.

During the year the Tremont street and Cambridge street improvements were completed and opened to travel. Morton street was also completed. Work is progressing on Dock square and Kneeland street improvements. The most important work done in the business district was Franklin street, Devonshire street, Otis street, High street and Purchase street. Important work in suburban districts was as follows:

In Roxbury; Huntington avenue, Washington street, Warren street, Cliff street and a contract has been awarded to pave Harrison avenue.

In Dorchester; Blue Hill avenue, Boston street, Morton street and Adams street.

In Brighton; Tremont street and Harvard avenue.

In East Boston; Meridian street.

In Charlestown; work is going on in Medford street.

A contract has been awarded to repave Park square section where the Statler Hotel is being constructed.

Judging from much favorable comment and many letters of commendation the work on streets has been satisfactory and creditable to your support.

POLICE FORCE STRENGTHENED.

The Boston Police Department is not under the control of the Mayor but is under the direction of a commissioner appointed by the Governor. I am pleased to say that the relations of the police with the municipal administration have been co-operative and friendly in every way. The police force is fortunate in having at its head a highly competent official who has proceeded with care and success in the discharge of his duties. The public safety in which the police force is an arm is one of our chief concerns. One of the first acts of the Mayor and Council was to strengthen this arm by provision for 300 additional patrolmen. The wisdom of this step has amply justified the resulting expense.

Not only have these additional police rendered essential service in the regulation of traffic, but at a period remarkable for the boldness and frequency of crime they have furnished a reserve vital to the protection of property and human life.

MILLION CUT IN FIRE LOSS.

Another arm of the public safety is the Fire Department. Under my direction this department is being reorganized.

The Bureau of Supplies and Repairs has been enlarged and designated as the Maintenance Division, which will care for all repair work on buildings and fireboats. Divided authority and responsibility has been eliminated by placing this service under one experienced head. The rules and regulations of the department have been revised, and by conferences with the Civil Service the procedure has been amended to insure the appointment of younger officers.

The License Division and Fire Prevention Bureau have been completely reorganized and the Fire Prevention Division established. The results have been gratifying. The actual fire loss for 1926 is estimated at over one million dollars less than the fire loss in 1925, and less than in several years previous.

PUBLIC HEALTH.

The Health Department occupies a high place in the health administration of American cities. In importance it is second to none. The statistics for 1926 are encouraging, particularly in communicable diseases. During the year there was a steadily increasing attendance of babies and young children at the thirty-one weekly conferences in twenty-three stations devoted to child hygiene. About 60,000 children have been brought to the conferences. There has been considerable development in the nursing service and about 175,000 visits have been made by the nurses. The Boston milk supply is nearly 100 per cent pasteurized, and probably is not excelled by that of any other American city. I am gratified to find that the commissioner has the cordial support of the medical profession, and I ask that he be given wide public cooperation, particularly in matters relating to food and sanitation.

BUILDING PROTECTION.

The Building Department has a close relationship to the subject of public safety. Having in mind serious lessons from the collapse of buildings, the department has framed new regulations in the taking down of structures for the greater protection of workmen and of the public. A drive has been made against obsolete safety devices on freight elevators. The work of removing old and dilapidated structures throughout the city has been forwarded. Prosecutions for violation of the building laws have been effective. The office has been enlarged and rearranged for better service to the public. Under a new arrangement delay in granting permits has been shortened. Construction engineers are now held to a higher degree of responsibility by the requirement of a final affidavit that their completed work is in accordance with their design.

BOSTON INSURES WATER SUPPLY.

A serious problem confronting one of our neighboring cities in the metropolitan district brings to mind the perplexity of a few months ago relating to our future water supply. The plan before the Legislature, almost predestined of acceptance, disclosed a serious doubt as to the quality of the water.

I was determined that no plan should be adopted which might impair the excellence of our water supply. With the expert advice and assistance of one of the greatest water supply engineers in the world the city was able to present certain facts, either unrecognized or ignored, with the result that the Legislature authorized the so-called Swift River Water Supply Extension.

Boston was given full credit for the enactment of the Swift river plan by X. H. Goodnough, chief engineer of the State Board of Health, who called her leadership a controlling factor in securing for Boston and for the metropolitan district a water of the highest quality, superior to the water supply of any other great city.

NEW STREET LIGHTING.

On Massachusetts avenue, between Columbus avenue and Harvard Bridge, there have been installed fifty-one new street lamps carrying a 1,500 candle-power lamp. The posts and globes are known as the boulevard type. The new Park roadway on Boylston street and Audubon road has been equipped with eight new arc lamps. On Morton street, between Forest Hills road and Canterbury street, fourteen new arc lamps have been installed.

During the reconstruction of Washington street, from Massachusetts avenue to Williams street, it was necessary to install ten new lamps on this important thoroughfare.

In and about the street adjoining the new Statler Hotel and the small parkway bounded by Columbus avenue, Stuart street and Tennyson street, nineteen new arc lamps are in process of being set up to take care of this new important center in the heart of the city.

On Washington street, from Park street to Welles avenue, there have been set up eight new street lamps of the boulevard type, and the installation of several more at or near Codman square is contemplated.

Eight new lamps were installed at White and Border streets at the new East Boston High School. Seven new arc lamps have been installed in the Allston district on Harvard avenue, between Cambridge street and Commonwealth avenue.

SNOW AND WASTE REMOVALS.

In 1916 there were in this state 136,809 automobile registrations. In 1926 there were 826,224. This enormous growth is reflected upon our street traffic and calls for extraordinary means of clearing streets made impassable by a winter storm. Motor and pedestrian traffic means one million dollars a day in our retail trade and the interruption of this traffic results in delay and loss which cannot be compensated.

For this reason and for the safety and convenience of everybody the Public Works Department has perfected an organization to fight winter storms. Aided by our new equipment the city forces have been handling difficult winter work with a degree of success that has won deserved public approval.

The systematic collection of ashes and garbage is of inestimable value. The new trucks have been effectively used in these collections and every effort is being made to improve the service both under city labor and under contract.

CITY HOSPITAL EXTENSIONS.

New buildings and more extensive services at the City Hospital have been provided to meet the growing problems of that splendid institution. For these purposes loans of $1,382,500 were authorized this year by your honorable body. A building for the care of expectant mothers and women who must have surgical treatment has been completed and accepted during the year. It is now being equipped and will soon be in use. A nurses' home is in process of completion. It will have recreation rooms, classroom and other features necessary for the comfort and well-being of the nurses who are to live there. Plans have been completed for a surgical building, the first floor of which will contain a new accident department. In the surgical building there are to be separate wards for men, women and children. Arrangements will be such that surgical patients need not be transferred from their beds for electrical treatment or massage. A new ward established for the treatment of patients afflicted with nervous disorders is now open. Plans are being made for a house officers' building similar to the nurses' home, and for a building to care for medical patients. Provision has been made for additions and alterations at the power plant.

NEW HEALTH UNITS.

In furtherance of the policy adopted by the Trustees of the George Robert White Fund, the second health unit has been established in East Boston, where, at the corner of Paris and Emmons streets, it was dedicated on August 4, last, and turned over to the Health Department of the city for its care and maintenance, in accordance with the terms of the will of the late George Robert White.

On November 15, 1926, the cornerstone was laid of the third health unit, located at the corner of Dorchester and West Fourth streets, in South Boston, which will probably be completed early in the coming summer.

These health units, together with the first unit established at the North End, furnish the districts which they serve with centers of co-ordination of the various health and welfare agencies at work in the city.

They are established in the respective centers of population, and provide accommodations and equipment fully adequate to the requirements of the people of the districts and also open-air parks for use in connection therewith.

With a continuance of the policy already adopted, it will be but a comparatively short time before six units, at least, will have been completed and the city will then be encircled by a band of helpful influence and assistance for the less fortunate in our midst.

BABY FARMS ABOLISHED.

No longer may it be said that any ward of the City of Boston is placed in any home where the motive of the foster parent is other than a genuine interest in the child. This was not so a year ago. There were homes in which children were being boarded solely as a matter of business. These were the so-called baby farms, one of which was in New Hampshire where sixteen children were placed. These baby farms no longer exist. Each child is placed where it shall receive as nearly as possible the care and guidance of a home.

NEW THOROUGHFARES AND TRAFFIC CONGESTION.

The years of increasing street traffic have made this item one of growing significance vital to the industrial and commercial life of the city. The wear on streets today presents a problem serious and insistent, and it is supplemented by the further problem of street congestion which results in many proposals for the location of new traffic thoroughfares and the widening and resurfacing of old streets.

Just prior to this year the city embarked upon a program of constructing such thoroughfares running into many millions. These locations and widenings are at the point of completion, and I have deemed it wise, in view of the financial burden and the divergence of opinion as to the practicability of various new plans, to proceed with deliberation upon future commitments.

Not inconsistent with such deliberation, however, is the resurfacing and widening of Ashland and Oakland streets and of River street authorized by your honorable body under an act of the Legislature. These are well traveled highways joining the populous districts of Dorchester, West Roxbury and Hyde Park and stand in urgent need of the improvement now being made upon them.

The subject of new traffic thoroughfares is concerned greatly with traffic regulations. The Street Laying-Out Department is charged by law with the duty of framing such regulations and has spent much time in hearings and conferences upon them. As every regulation is likely to interfere with somebody, it is probable that no suggestions for relief can be made without encountering some serious obstacle. It is my belief that the best traffic regulation is that which will command the most support, even though support brings some measure of self-sacrifice.

For a consideration of the traffic problem, I have appointed a traffic advisory board whose members reflect the views of various trade and business organizations.

CITIES NEED HELP FROM GAS TAX AND MOTOR FEES.

The method of securing funds for street and highway construction needs careful consideration. In all but four states funds are secured from two sources apart from general taxation: (1) Registration Fees and (2) Gasoline Tax. In Massachusetts the funds are collected solely through registration fees. Last year these were revised so as to increase substantially the amount received. The total received in 1926 will probably be about $13,000,000, of which about $10,500,000 represents registration fees and the balance represents miscellaneous fees, licenses and fines.

It is generally agreed that a gasoline tax is the fairest measure of the use of the roads by motor vehicles. About 300,000,000 gallons of gasoline is the probable consumption for 1926. If a tax of 2 cents were imposed it would bring in a revenue of $6,000,000. Such a tax would permit a substantial reduction in registration fees and more equitably assess the users of the various types of passenger cars and trucks. Today a truck that is used steadily pays the same fee as a similar truck that is used only eight months in the year.

A gas tax would secure also a similar revenue from the large number of cars from other states that travel over our roads, especially during the summer months. These cars now use our roads free of charge while most of them pay a gas tax when traveling in their own states.

At present almost the entire amount available for street and highway construction is spent on state highways and town and county roads. In 1925 the law was amended so as to permit the use of such funds also in cities, but this has not practically become operative. The increasingly large amounts spent in recent years on our state roads has built up a facility of movement that has now reacted on the congested city areas, by bringing to and through the cities a rapidly increasing flood of traffic. The cities contribute about 60 per cent of the registration fees but in addition must now finance out of taxes all their own street improvements. Consideration should now be given to the question of the gasoline tax and the use under proper administrative safeguard of some definite and substantial proportion of such funds upon city street improvements. A reasonable amount must be assured for the state highway program, but the whole question of taxation of motor vehicles should be reviewed and amended as necessary to provide for the use of cities some adequate portion of the sums so collected.

ELEVATED SHOULD ACCEPT GOVERNOR SQUARE ACT.

Boston needs further transit facilities not only to support the business growth of the city but to provide relief for traffic congestion.

It seems desirable at this time to talk of our obvious immediate need. For that reason I have urged upon the Elevated the prompt adoption of the act providing for an extension of the subway under Governor square. The Elevated ought to do this both for itself and for the city.

The rentals at Governor square would not start for nearly three years and would be around $200,000 a year.

The suggestion of direct taxation to pay costs that the 10-cent fare cannot meet is not a promising solution. It is natural and possible to meet such costs by the present procedure.

I believe the Governor Square Act could be accepted whether the Elevated is reorganized or not. It ought not to depend upon the reorganization. That will not make the undertaking any more profitable. And it is not a question of profit in any sense. The question is whether an admittedly necessary transit extension should be held up to await the solution of all manner of complicated questions, when the law providing for it has been enacted and merely awaits acceptance.

The extension of the Boylston street subway is not a street traffic question. It is one relating to passenger transportation and to the use as originally planned of the subway for train service in multiple units.

Again I express the hope that it may be possible to consider Governor square transit without delay. It is not only first in importance but distinct from general transit problems because of the existence of the Governor Square Act, a statute in standard form.

The share of the city in the Elevated deficit is one and three quarters millions. Much as the city desires a repayment of all or a portion of this sum, it recognizes as more desirable the immediate building of the Governor square subway.

Before legislation is passed to change the method of operating the properties of the company there should be given proper consideration to the repayment of this million and three quarters.

FINANCIAL ADMINISTRATION.

When the municipal finance act was drawn fourteen years ago the City of Boston was excluded therefrom because it was thought that the act was not well adapted to the larger financial problems of a metropolis. Our credit is the best of any large city in the country, as shown by the high market value of our bonds. With all respect due to the recommendation of His Excellency the Governor, I am unable to agree with him that the policy ought to be changed. It seems to me a mistake for the Legislature to take from Boston any part of the slight freedom she now enjoys in the conduct of her own affairs and to place her under restrictions which will further cramp her activities. Six millions for new school buildings came this year not from loans but from the tax levy, and since 1916 over twenty-three millions have come from the tax levy for this purpose. One million dollars for reconstructed streets which might have been taken from loans under another title came also this year from the tax levy. A considerable portion of our indebtedness is authorized by the Legislature under special acts. Our tax limit, unlike that of other cities and towns, is determined by the Legislature as part of the policy relating to the debt-incurring power of the city. I believe that the policy in reference both to tax limit and debt is wise and should be retained.

THE FINANCE COMMISSION.

Frequently of late I have been asked if I did not favor the abolition of the Boston Finance Commission and my reply has been in the negative. While a member of the Legislature I supported the present Boston charter and spoke particularly in favor of that provision of the bill creating the Finance Commission. It has a useful work to perform and could render a real service to the city if it would but lift its activities to the purpose for which it was created. The charter states that the duty of the Finance Commission shall be to investigate any and all matters relating to appropriations, loans, expenditures, accounts, and methods of administration affecting the City of Boston or the County of Suffolk, or any department thereof, that may appear to the commission to require investigation. Its practice, however, is to score a point and be sharp in taking every advantage.

The commission is of course right in directing the attention of the city to methods which appear to require correction, but it should carefully refrain from interference with the transaction of public business and above all it should be fair.

Gentlemen of the City Council.

There is abundant evidence of new life throughout all New England in agriculture, trade and industry. We are much nearer to every part of the world than we were five years ago. I see at every hand men who believe in the future of Massachusetts and her capital city. There is a determination to put better methods into farm and factory, shop and counting room. There is a realization that the effort of mind and hand will always receive recognition here.

Boston is the business and industrial center of one of the wealthiest communities to be found anywhere. The thrift of New England people is proverbial. This is further emphasized by the savings bank deposits of the state which have now reached the great total of almost two billions of dollars, of which sum Boston banks have on deposit nearly six hundred millions.

The Mayor and City Council of Boston have in serving this historic city an honor in which they may take deep pride. It is a city whose future is bright with the promise of material prosperity and sure in the steadfast quality of its citizenship. We have been associated in this honorable service for one year and I have thought it of advantage to review with brevity a few of the public questions with which we have been occupied. They are not the only important ones that could be discussed. Nevertheless, I am sure they are among those that have required a great deal of time and effort. It has not been my purpose to present these public affairs as a record of accomplishment, but rather to indicate to you the results for which your honorable body and myself have been at work together.

The City Council and the Mayor do not always share the same view, but the Mayor is at this time glad of the opportunity to say to you that no difference of opinion has yet worked injury to the public service. On the contrary, the two branches of the government have worked well together and for the public good. In this belief I can speak with confidence of the great opportunity now before us to join our best thought and highest endeavor for the task at hand.

OBRION, RUSSELL & Co.,
108 WATER STREET,
BOSTON, January 3, 1927.

HON. EUGENE C. HULTMAN, Bristol Street, Boston.

DEAR SIR,—We beg to acknowledge receipt of yours of December 31 inclosing report of the various companies that responded to the alarm of fire, Box 4181, 770 Washington street, December 19. Please accept our thanks for this very full report.

We personally inspected the premises on Friday last and I wish to express my appreciation of the very efficient manner in which this loss was handled by your department and for the small volume of water that was used.

The water damage was very slight, the principal damage being from heat and smoke. The amount finally agreed upon was $14,985, which I consider a fair settlement. This would have been much larger but for the discretion used by the department.

Very truly yours,

OBRION, RUSSELL & Co.

Boston, December 31, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Receiving information to the effect that the appropriation of this court under heading C-10, Library, would be insufficient to take care of expenses, his Honor Judge Thomas H. Connelly respectfully request that $160 be transferred from the appropriation for this court under heading A-2, Temporary Employees, and $160 transferred from D-1, Office, to take care of the said deficit, the appropriations for A-2 and D-1 being sufficient to stand this withdrawal, and it appearing that the said deficit has been caused by conditions which were overlooked, but were absolutely necessary.

Yours very truly,

DANIEL F. CUNNINGHAM, Clerk.

SETTLEMENT IN HOSPITAL CASE.

Mayor Nichols announced on January 10 that he had approved the acceptance by the Law Department of the offer of the Thomas D. O'Connor Company and the settlement of the case by an agreement for judgment for $135,000, without costs and without interest.

This suit is now pending in the Superior Court, the ad damnum being placed at $400,000, and was brought against the city for damages claimed on account of the cancellation of a contract entered into by the company and the city, acting through its Institutions Commissioner for the building and completion of the chronic hospital building, Parker Hill avenue, Roxbury.

Mayor Nichols had requested the Finance Commission to inquire into this contract and that commission recommended that the contract be terminated and the site abandoned, and in its findings stated that "giving every advantage to the claimants it finds that the maximum amount it would cost the city to terminate the contract was $276,238.86." It was of opinion, however, that settlement could be effected for substantially less than the above figure.

ASSESSMENT ABATED.

The Mayor has approved the following vote of the Board of Street Commissioners.

Voted, That in the matter of the Hotel Westminster Company, petitioner for abatement of betterment assessment levied for the improvement of Stuart street, under the order of the Board of January 30, 1924 (lot 18A, $8,146.50), after consultation with the Law Department, and on its advice, the Board agrees to the abatement of $750 from said betterment assessment; and consents that the Corporation Counsel agree to judgment in said case on the terms herein stated.

FINANCE COMMISSION LETTER.

The Mayor has received the following letter from the Finance Commission:

BOSTON, January 7, 1927.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,

Mayor of Boston.

SIR,—The Finance Commission calls your attention to the bids opened December 29, 1926, by the Public Buildings Department in the public competition for supplying furniture for the Dorchester Courthouse. The contract involves an expense of between $10,000 and $20,000. The commission finds, as it has already found in many other contracts, that the time allowed for preparing and filing bids and the time allowed for fulfilling the contract was altogether too short. It also finds that the architect, Mr. J. Edward Holmes, who drew the plans and specifications and who is in charge of the work, assisted the lowest bidder in preparing his bid.

The Dorchester Courthouse was designed and its construction supervised by Mulhall & Holmes, a firm of architects of which J. Edward Holmes was the junior member. Later, Mr. Holmes' firm was appointed architect of the furniture needed for the new courthouse. Although it was obvious that the furniture would be needed early in the year 1927, the department took no steps to have it designed until late in the year 1926. Thus the plans and specifications were not finally ready until on or about December 18, 1926. In June the department had $10,000 available for the purchase of this furniture and on November 8 obtained $10,000 more. Even if the department thought that the original sum was not adequate, it should with reasonable foresight have had the plans prepared so that it could call for bids as soon as the requisite amount was available.

The bids were advertised in the City Record of Saturday, December 18. A few copies of the Record are available on Saturday, but they are not generally received by the public until the following Monday, December 20. The time set for opening the bids was December 29. Unless a contractor could furnish all the articles specified from his own stock, he must shop around the various manufacturers for prices and delivery dates. Representatives of reputable contractors testified before the Finance Commission that the time for filing bids was too short.

The time set for the performance was twenty-one days after the awarding of the contract for the greater part of the furniture specified, and thirty and sixty days from the date of signing the contract for certain other articles. Here again, representatives of reputable contractors testified that the time for performance was too short. The contract contained a clause imposing a penalty of $25 for each day by which the contractor exceeded the limit in performing his work.

These penalties are seldom enforced by the city, but they are a menace to any reputable contractor who may chance to secure a contract contrary to the wishes of the head of a department. There was no need of setting this short limit for performance. The department had on December 18, 1926, let a contract for certain steel furniture for the courthouse to be furnished within seventy days. If this contractor took all the time allowed, he would not complete his work until the middle of February. Thus, if the department honestly desired to hasten the opening of the Dorchester Courthouse, it would gain nothing by forcing the contractor in the competition of December 29 to complete his work before the other furniture contractor.

The commission found that George A. Murphy, the lowest bidder, intended to have certain work which had to be specially constructed done by the Norfolk Woodworking Company. The manager of this company was summoned before the commission and testified that Mr. Holmes, the architect in charge of the work, had telephoned to him to come to Mr. Holmes' office and had then sent him to Mr. Murphy's office to assist him in making his bid. Mr. Holmes had previously testified before the commission and had said nothing about this.

Recalled and asked if he assisted Mr. Murphy in making his bid, Mr. Holmes refused to answer on the ground that it would tend to incriminate him. He admitted receiving a letter from Mr. Murphy, but refused to divulge its contents, on the ground that this also might incriminate him. A few days later, however, Mr. Holmes appeared before the commission, at his own request, and produced the letter. In this letter Mr. Murphy requested Mr. Holmes to get an estimate for him from the Norfolk Woodworking Company. Murphy also asked Holmes to telegraph to Chicago in Murphy's name to get a bid from a Chicago firm whose name he did not know, but whose goods had been described by the architect.

Mr. Holmes complied with both these requests, sent for the manager of the Norfolk Woodworking Company, and on his own wire telephoned to the Western Union Telegraph Company a message to be sent in Murphy's name to the Chicago business house. Mr. Holmes testified that he answered questions asked him by two other contractors. He did not help these other contractors in making up their bids. Mr. Holmes stated that in designing the furniture he had in almost all cases specified articles which were regularly kept in stock by the manufacturers thereof. It is obvious that assistance to any prospective bidder, by informing him what manufacturers produced the articles specified, would give him undue advantage over competitors without this knowledge.

As a result of the advertisement for public competition, three firms submitted bids. The lowest bidder was the George A. Murphy who, as shown above, had been assisted by Architect Holmes. Mr. Murphy is not generally known to the furniture trade. He was a salesman for about two years for the Art Metal Construction Company. In 1925 he was engaged in the real estate business. In 1926 he returned to the furniture business on his own account. He has an address for receiving mail at 69 Federal street, but has not even a desk at this location. Nevertheless, he has been so successful in obtaining business from the city that since April, 1926, he has sold to the Schoolhouse Department approximately $5,000 worth of goods and to the Public Buildings Department approximately $4,500 worth of goods, without competition.

The second lowest bidder was Herbert W. Doten. He is a furniture broker. Mr. Doten was the lowest bidder in the competition for supplying furniture for the City Council Chamber a year ago, but his bid was rejected in favor of the Gray Furniture Company, a higher bidder (see Finance Commission's Reports, Volume XXI, pages 24 to 26). The third and only other bidder was the Casper Furniture Company, having a place of business in Hyde Park. This concern is managed by Casper Katz, whose first name is used in the business, and who while conducting a furniture business under another name, was petitioned into bankruptcy in January, 1925, and discharged in April, 1926.

It is obvious that the City of Boston has lost the confidence of the established furniture houses of Boston, because they have reason to believe from recent experience that fair competition is not to be expected, and so—with a few exceptions—do not go to the expense of estimating and filing bids. The manager of one well known concern, whose salesman figured the courthouse job for one of the bidders, advised the salesman to let it alone as he would be sorry before he got through with it. There is need of regaining the confidence of the reputable business concerns in Boston which actually produce the goods required.

The Finance Commission recommends:

1. That all bids opened on December 29, 1926, be rejected.
2. That competition again be sought by public advertisement, in which adequate time both for filing bids and performing the contract, be given and in which equal information be made available to all prospective bidders.
3. That some other architect be placed in charge of this work.

Respectfully submitted,
THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by CHARLES L. CARR,
Chairman.

BUILDINGS RAZED.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, January 10, 1927.

Meeting of the City Council held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President KEENE in the chair, and all the members present.

ADDRESS BY MAYOR NICHOLS.

President KEENE—The Chair is advised that the Mayor desires to address the Council, and the Chair will appoint Councilors Gilbody and Wragg a committee to wait on his Honor the Mayor and advise him that we have assembled.

The committee so appointed retired at 2.06 p. m. and presently returned escorting his Honor Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols.

Mayor Nichols delivered the following address:

Gentlemen of the City Council.

Municipal business is better understood today than a few years ago, chiefly for the reason that our attention has been directed since the war to the sharp rise in municipal costs without expanding sources of revenue. During this ten-year period the burden of cost and maintenance has doubled in Boston and elsewhere.

Costs and Causes.

This rise in costs has been due not only to several causes, such as further shrinkage in the purchasing power of one dollar from 91 cents to 62 cents and to the growing number and greater magnitude of the things the city is called upon to do, but to insistent propaganda for spending money on projects desired by somebody but of doubtful worth to the public. Boston is highly organized with activities, many of them with schemes framed without regard either to value or expense.

In my inaugural last January I pointed out that Boston was confronted with a difficult financial situation due to fundamental and far-reaching causes, although her general financial condition was not unsound. I believed it helpful to present a survey of the facts, and estimated that the needs of the city would require a tax rate very close to $32. After the determination of the rate I presented an analysis, showing how the money was expended. This analysis, which is appended, demonstrated that of the rate of $31.80, the sum of $19.08 or 60 per cent was spent in public functions, not under the control of the Mayor.

Our tax problem is thus largely concerned with state, county and school administration. Our rate, moreover, this year, was based upon the lowest increased valuation since 1921.

In the conduct of municipal government, possibly no single activity is of greater importance than the carrying on of a sound financial program. The net debt of the city, exclusive of the self-supporting Rapid Transit debt, is in a remarkably sound condition, although higher by reason of loan issues caused by major street and other improvements. The financial position of the city as regards the annual expenditures for maintenance is particularly noteworthy, in that every known liability incurred during the financial year 1926, including all of the expenses for two severe snow storms, will have been paid within the total appropriations for the year, with substantial assets yet to be collected in the form of unpaid taxes.

1927 Tax Rate to be Lower.

Despite the impending high tax rate when I took office there were presented forthwith for my consideration new undertakings, calling for over fifty millions. It has been frequently said that no city in the United States gives so much to her citizens as Boston. Nevertheless every project ought to be examined with especial care to see if it represents a real benefit and is worth what we pay for it.

Notwithstanding the volume of proposed undertakings I found it impracticable to commit the city to any except those of extreme urgency.

The taxpayers have borne a high tax rate with patience, it seems to me, because they felt the administration had made an effort to be candid about it. Nevertheless a steady rise in tax rates is regrettable and a sharp rise serious. During my administration I do not expect to see a tax rate as high as the present, and I am confident that this year we shall announce a rate that will be regarded as a substantial reduction. Anyway it will be lower.

Boston Pays Metropolitan Costs.

The financial conditions accounting for the current tax rate of $31.80 have been published in detail form. They disclose the rapidly growing needs of a great city, needs which have not in the period following the war been sufficiently met. They present in a way the story of a home that requires refurbishing. They bring grave emphasis to the fact that Boston is the business and social center of a metropolitan city twice her size and is therefore called to perform many and perhaps all of her municipal services upon a larger and more expensive scale, that is upon a metropolitan basis. For example, in the care of streets for the automobiles of a metropolis, in the policing of a business center of nearly two millions, in fire protection for this center, in the hospitalization of a greater population, in the maintenance of a separate park system largely enjoyed by nonresidents, in a more elaborate health organization, Boston performs municipal functions metropolitan in character. Fifty per cent of the persons applying to the City Hospital for treatment have no legal settlements in Boston, and no worthy person is ever refused treatment there. In a larger degree this situation applies to the Haymarket Square Relief Station. Boston pays 55 per cent of the maintenance of the metropolitan parks which are outside her borders and in addition to her own park system. She pays all the bills for Suffolk County.

Probably the line cannot be definitely drawn on municipal expenditures. The horizon of requirements tends always to expand. Some requirements however exclude others, and so it seemed to me when I took office last January.

They related to outlay for schools, streets, health and public safety and other services that bore the stamp of necessity.

Schoolhouse Accommodations.

The normal yearly increase in our school population is 2,200 pupils, but our requirements this year were far beyond this average. In fact the pressure of school population has for many years, in my opinion, not been sufficiently met. Temporarily, portable schools were resorted to, but they have been gradually discontinued; fifteen of them being so abandoned for schoolroom purposes this year. It was necessary to provide for a large number of permanent seats this year and the Schoolhouse Department did in fact provide 8,500 new permanent seats.

Under appropriations authorized by the School Committee there has been made available and spent in 1926, for schoolhouse construction, alterations and repairs, a sum greater than in any fiscal year in the history of the city. The Schoolhouse Department has carried through an unexcelled building program and has remodelled and thoroughly reconditioned more old schools than ever before. Seventeen new schools were finished and accepted, and of this number eight were begun during the year.

Moreover, all other projects of schoolhouse construction on the program of the department for 1926 have been placed on the market.

New Streets and Reconstructed Streets.

On my recommendation a loan of one million dollars was authorized by your honorable body for new streets in residential districts, in recognition of the importance of new streets to the makers of homes. Thirty-nine such streets have been laid out, and plans for twelve others are very nearly completed. In making up the 1926 streets, the Street Laying-Out Department also worked on a 1927 program. At the request of the Public Works Department, the Street Commissioners made over eighty plans for sewer takings.

Of the streets laid out by the Street Commissioners in 1926, nineteen contracts were awarded by the Commissioner of Public Works and five completed. Of the streets laid out by the Street Commissioners in 1925, fifteen contracts were awarded by the Commissioner of Public Works in 1926 and eleven completed in 1926. Therefore, in 1926 there were thirty-four contracts awarded and sixteen completed.

Of course a portion of this work must be carried into the succeeding year and it is thus too early to comment upon it. Nevertheless it does establish a record both in the number of residential streets built, in the number of streets upon which construction work has already begun, and in the number of contracts ready to be carried out and it has satisfactorily prepared the way for a rapid completion of extensive work already well under way.

One of the budget items for 1926 was an appropriation of one million dollars for the repair and reconstruction of streets. In disbursing the appropriation it has been the policy of the administration to improve the main lines of traffic throughout the city, and also to give attention to the heavy teaming streets in the business area where the traffic is congested.

Contracts were awarded to do work on about one hundred streets and the paving division forces have been resurfacing and patching streets in their respective districts.

During the year the Tremont street and Cambridge street improvements were completed and opened to travel. Morton street was also completed. Work is progressing on Dock square and Kneeland street improvements. The most important work done in the business district was Franklin street, Devonshire street, Otis street, High street and Purchase street. Important work in suburban districts was as follows:

In Roxbury: Huntington avenue, Washington street, Warren street, Cliff street and a contract has been awarded to pave Harrison avenue.

In Dorchester: Blue Hill avenue, Boston street, Morton street and Adams street.

In Brighton: Tremont street and Harvard avenue.

In East Boston: Meridian street.

In Charlestown: work is going on in Medford street.

A contract has been awarded to repave Park square section where the Statler Hotel is being constructed.

Judging from much favorable comment and many letters of commendation the work on streets has been satisfactory and creditable to your support.

Police Force Strengthened.

The Boston Police Department is not under the control of the Mayor but is under the direction of a commissioner appointed by the Governor. I am pleased to say that the relations of the police with the municipal administration have been co-operative and friendly in every way. The police force is fortunate in having at its head a highly competent official who has proceeded with care and success in the discharge of his duties. The public safety in which the police force is an arm is one of our chief concerns. One of the first acts of the Mayor and Council was to strengthen this arm by provision for 300 additional patrolmen. The wisdom of this step has amply justified the resulting expense.

Not only have these additional police rendered essential service in the regulation of traffic, but at a period remarkable for the boldness and frequency of crime they have furnished a reserve vital to the protection of property and human life.

Million Cut in Fire Loss.

Another arm of the public safety is the Fire Department. Under my direction this department is being reorganized.

The Bureau of Supplies and Repairs has been enlarged and designated as the Maintenance Division, which will care for all repair work on buildings and fireboats. Divided authority and responsibility has been eliminated by placing this service under one experienced head. The rules and regulations of the department have been revised, and by conferences with the civil service the procedure has been amended to insure the appointment of younger officers.

The License Division and Fire Prevention Bureau have been completely reorganized and the Fire Prevention Division established. The results have been gratifying. The actual fire loss for 1926 is estimated at over one million dollars less than the fire loss in 1925, and less than in several years previous.

Public Health.

The Health Department occupies a high place in the health administration of American cities. In importance it is second to none. The statistics for 1926 are encouraging, particularly in communicable diseases. During the year there was a steadily increasing attendance of babies and young children at the thirty-one weekly conferences in twenty-three stations devoted to child hygiene. About 60,000 children have been brought to the conferences. There has been considerable development in the nursing service and about 175,000 visits have been made by the nurses. The Boston milk supply is nearly 100 per cent pasteurized, and probably is not excelled by that of any other American city. I am gratified to find that the commissioner has the cordial support of the medical profession, and I ask that he be given wide public co-operation, particularly in matters relating to food and sanitation.

Building Protection.

The Building Department has a close relationship to the subject of public safety. Having in mind serious lessons from the collapse of buildings, the department has framed new regulations in the taking down of structures for the greater protection of workmen and of the public. A drive has been made against obsolete safety devices on freight elevators. The work of removing old and dilapidated structures throughout the city has been forwarded. Prosecutions for violation of the building laws have been effective. The office has been enlarged and rearranged for better service to the public. Under a new arrangement delay in granting permits has been shortened. Construction engineers are now held to a higher degree of responsibility by the requirement of a final affidavit that their completed work is in accordance with their design.

Boston Insures Water Supply.

A serious problem confronting one of our neighboring cities in the metropolitan district brings to mind the perplexity of a few months ago relating to our future water supply. The plan before the Legislature, almost predestined of acceptance, disclosed a serious doubt as to the quality of the water.

I was determined that no plan should be adopted which might impair the excellence of our water supply. With the expert advice and assistance of one of the greatest water supply engineers in the world the city was able to present certain facts, either unrecognized or ignored, with the result that the Legislature authorized the so-called Swift River Water Supply Extension.

Boston was given full credit for the enactment of the Swift river plan by X. H. Goodnough, chief engineer of the State Board of Health, who called her leadership a controlling factor in securing for Boston and for the metropolitan district a water of the highest quality, superior to the water supply of any other great city.

New Street Lighting.

On Massachusetts avenue, between Columbus avenue and Harvard Bridge, there have been installed fifty-one new street lamps carrying a 1,500 candle-power lamp. The posts and globes are known as the boulevard type. The new park roadway on Boylston street and Audubon road has been equipped with eight new arc lamps. On Morton street, between Forest Hills road and Canterbury street, fourteen new arc lamps have been installed.

During the reconstruction of Washington street, from Massachusetts avenue to Williams street, it was necessary to install ten new lamps on this important thoroughfare.

In and about the street adjoining the new Statler Hotel and the small parkway bounded by Columbus avenue, Stuart street and Tennyson street, nineteen new arc lamps are in process of being set up to take care of this new important center in the heart of the city.

On Washington street, from Park street to Welles avenue, there have been set up eight new street lamps of the boulevard type, and the installation of several more at or near Codman square is contemplated. Eight new lamps were installed at White and Border streets at the new East Boston High School. Seven new arc lamps have been installed in the Allston district on Harvard avenue, between Cambridge street and Commonwealth avenue.

Snow and Waste Removals.

In 1916 there were in this state 136,809 automobile registrations. In 1926 there were 826,224. This enormous growth is reflected upon our street traffic and calls for extraordinary means of clearing streets made impassable by a winter storm. Motor and pedestrian traffic means one million dollars a day in our retail trade and the interruption of this traffic results in delay and loss which cannot be compensated.

For this reason and for the safety and convenience of everybody the Public Works Department has perfected an organization to fight winter storms. Aided by our new equipment the city forces have been handling difficult winter work with a degree of success that has won deserved public approval.

The systematic collection of ashes and garbage is of inestimable value. The new trucks have been effectively used in these collections and every effort is being made to improve the service both under city labor and under contract.

City Hospital Extensions.

New buildings and more extensive services at the City Hospital have been provided to meet the growing problems of that splendid institution. For these purposes loans of $1,382,500 were authorized this year by your honorable body. A building for the care of expectant mothers and women who must have surgical treatment has been completed and accepted during the year. It is now being equipped and will soon be in use. A nurses' home is in process of completion. It will have recreation rooms, classroom and other features necessary for the comfort and well-being of the nurses who are to live there. Plans have been completed for a surgical building, the first floor of which will contain a new accident department. In the surgical building there are to be separate wards for men, women and children. Arrangements will be such that surgical patients need not be transferred from their beds for electrical treatment or massage. A new ward established for the treatment of patients afflicted with nervous disorders is now open. Plans are being made for a house officers' building similar to the nurses' home, and for a building to care for medical patients. Provision has been made for additions and alterations at the power plant.

New Health Units.

In furtherance of the policy adopted by the Trustees of the George Robert White Fund, the second health unit has been established in East Boston, where, at the corner of Paris and Emmons streets, it was dedicated on August 4, last, and turned over to the Health Department of the city for its care and maintenance, in accordance with the terms of the will of the late George Robert White.

On November 15, 1926, the cornerstone was laid of the third health unit, located at the corner of Dorchester and West Fourth streets; in South Boston, which will probably be completed early in the coming summer.

These health units, together with the first unit established at the North End, furnish the districts which they serve with centers of co-ordination of the various health and welfare agencies at work in the city.

They are established in the respective centers of population, and provide accommodations and equipment fully adequate to the requirements of the people of the districts and also open-air parks for use in connection therewith.

With a continuance of the policy already adopted, it will be but a comparatively short time before six units, at least, will have been completed and the city will then be encircled by a band of helpful influence and assistance for the less fortunate in our midst.

Baby Farms Abolished.

No longer may it be said that any ward of the City of Boston is placed in any home where the motive of the foster parent is other than a genuine interest in the child. This was not so a year ago. There were homes in which children were being boarded solely as a matter of business. These were the so-called baby farms, one of which was in New Hampshire, where sixteen children were placed. These baby farms no longer exist. Each child is placed where it shall receive as nearly as possible the care and guidance of a home.

New Thoroughfares and Traffic Congestion.

The years of increasing street traffic have made this item one of growing significance vital to the industrial and commercial life of the city. The wear on streets today presents a problem serious and insistent, and it is supplemented by the further problem of street congestion which results in many proposals for the location of new traffic thoroughfares and the widening and resurfacing of old streets.

Just prior to this year the city embarked upon a program of constructing such thoroughfares running into many millions. These locations and widenings are at the point of completion, and I have deemed it wise, in view of the financial burden and the divergence of opinion as to the practicability of various new plans, to proceed with deliberation upon future commitments.

Not inconsistent with such deliberation, however, is the resurfacing and widening of Ashland and Oakland streets and of River street, authorized by your honorable body under an act of the Legislature. These are well-traveled highways joining the populous districts of Dorchester, West Roxbury and Hyde Park and stand in urgent need of the improvement now being made upon them.

The subject of new traffic thoroughfares is concerned greatly with traffic regulations. The Street Laying-Out Department is charged by law with the duty of framing such regulations and has spent much time in hearings and conferences upon them. As every regulation is likely to interfere with somebody, it is probable that no suggestions for relief can be made without encountering some serious obstacle. It is my belief that the best traffic regulation is that which will command the most support, even though support brings some measure of self-sacrifice.

For a consideration of the traffic problem, I have appointed a traffic advisory board whose members reflect the views of various trade and business organizations.

Cities Need Help From Gas Tax and Motor Fees.

The method of securing funds for street and highways construction needs careful consideration. In all but four states funds are secured from two sources apart from general taxation: (1) registration fees and (2) gasoline tax. In Massachusetts the funds are collected solely through registration fees. Last year these were revised so as to increase substantially the amount received. The total received in 1926 will probably be about $13,000,000, of which about $10,500,000 represent a registration fees and the balance represents miscellaneous fees, licenses and fines.

It is generally agreed that a gasoline tax is the fairest measure of the use of the roads by motor vehicles. About 300,000,000 gallons of gasoline is the probable consumption for 1926. If a tax of 2 cents were imposed it would bring in a revenue of $6,000,000. Such a tax would permit a substantial reduction in registration fees and more equitably assess the users of the various types of passenger cars and trucks. Today a truck that is used steadily pays the same fee as a similar truck that is used only eight months in the year.

A gas tax would secure also a similar revenue from the large number of cars from other states that travel over our roads, especially during the summer months. These cars now use our roads free of charge while most of them pay a gas tax when traveling in their own states.

At present almost the entire amount available for street and highway construction is spent on state highways and town and county roads. In 1925 the law was amended so as to permit the use of such funds also in cities, but this has not practically become operative. The increasingly large amounts spent in recent years on our state roads has built up a facility of movement that has now reacted on the congested city areas, by bringing to and through the cities a rapidly increasing flood of traffic. The cities contribute about 60 per cent of the registration fees but in addition must now finance out of taxes all their own street improvements. Consideration should now be given to the question of the gasoline tax and the use under proper administrative safeguard of some definite and substantial proportion of such funds upon city street improvements. A reasonable amount must be assured for the state highway program, but the whole question of taxation of motor vehicles should be reviewed and amended as necessary to provide for the use of cities some adequate portion of the sums so collected.

Elevated Should Accept Governor Square Act.

Boston needs further transit facilities not only to support the business growth of the city but to provide relief for traffic congestion.

It seems desirable at this time to talk of our obvious immediate need. For that reason I have urged upon the Elevated the prompt adoption of the act providing for an extension of the subway under Governor square. The Elevated ought to do this both for itself and for the city.

The rentals at Governor square would not start for nearly three years and would be around $200,000 a year.

The suggestion of direct taxation to pay costs that the 10-cent fare cannot meet is not a promising solution. It is natural and possible to meet such costs by the present procedure.

I believe the Governor Square Act could be accepted whether the Elevated is reorganized or not. It ought not to depend upon the reorganization. That will not make the undertaking any more profitable. And it is not a question of profit in any sense. The question is whether an admittedly necessary transit extension should be held up to await the solution of all manner of complicated questions, when the law providing for it has been enacted and merely awaits acceptance.

The extension of the Boylston street subway is not a street traffic question. It is one relating to passenger transportation and to the use as originally planned of the subway for train service in multiple units.

Again I express the hope that it may be possible to consider Governor square transit without delay. It is not only first in importance but distinct from general transit problems because of the existence of the Governor Square Act, a statute in standard form.

The share of the city in the Elevated deficit is one and three quarters millions. Much as the city desires a repayment of all or a portion of this sum, it recognizes as more desirable the immediate building of the Governor square subway.

Before legislation is passed to change the method of operating the properties of the company there should be given proper consideration to the repayment of this million and three quarters.

Financial Administration.

When the municipal finance act was drawn fourteen years ago the City of Boston was excluded therefrom because it was thought that the act was not well adapted to the larger financial problems of a metropolis. Our credit is the best of any large city in the country, as shown by the high market value of our bonds. With all respect due to the recommendation of His Excellency the Governor, I am unable to agree with him that the policy ought to be changed. It seems to me a mistake for the Legislature to take from Boston any part of the slight freedom she now enjoys in the conduct of her own affairs and to place her under restrictions which will further cramp her activities. Six millions for new school buildings came this year not from loans but from the tax levy, and since 1916 over twenty-three millions have come from the tax levy for this purpose. One million dollars for reconstructed streets which might have been taken from loans under another title came also this year from the tax levy. A considerable portion of our indebtedness is authorized by the Legislature under special acts. Our tax limit, unlike that of other cities and towns, is determined by the Legislature as part of the policy relating to the debt-incurring power of the city. I believe that the policy in reference both to tax limit and debt is wise and should be retained.

The Finance Commission.

Frequently of late I have been asked if I did not favor the abolition of the Boston Finance Commission and my reply has been in the negative. While a member of the Legislature I supported the present Boston charter and spoke particularly in favor of that provision of the bill creating the Finance Commission. It has a useful work to perform and could render a real service to the city if it would but lift its activities to the purpose for which it was created. The charter states that the duty of the Finance Commission shall be to investigate any and all matters relating to appropriations, loans, expenditures, accounts, and methods of administration affecting the City of Boston or the County of Suffolk, or any department thereof, that may appear to the commission to require investigation. Its practice, however, is to score a point and be sharp in taking every advantage.

The commission is of course right in directing the attention of the city to methods which appear to require correction, but it should carefully refrain from interference with the transaction of public business and above all it should be fair.

Gentlemen of the City Council.

There is abundant evidence of new life throughout all New England in agriculture, trade and industry. We are much nearer to every part of the world than we were five years ago. I see at every hand men who believe in the future of Massachusetts and her capital city. There is a determination to put better methods into farm and factory, shop and counting room. There is a realization that the effort of mind and hand will always receive recognition here.

Boston is the business and industrial center of one of the wealthiest communities to be found anywhere. The thrift of New England people is proverbial. This is further emphasized by the savings bank deposits of the state which have now reached the great total of almost two billions of dollars, of which sum Boston banks have on deposit nearly six hundred millions.

The Mayor and City Council of Boston have in serving this historic city an honor in which they may take deep pride. It is a city whose future is bright with the promise of material prosperity and sure in the steadfast quality of its citizenship. We have been associated in this honorable service for one year and I have thought it of advantage to review with brevity a few of the public questions with which we have been occupied. They are not the only important ones that could be discussed. Nevertheless, I am sure they are among those that have required a great deal of time and effort. It has not been my purpose to present these public affairs as a record of accomplishment, but rather to indicate to you the results for which your honorable body and myself have been at work together.

The City Council and the Mayor do not always share the same view, but the Mayor is at this time glad of the opportunity to say to you that no difference of opinion has yet worked injury to the public service. On the contrary, the two branches of the government have worked well together and for the public good. In this belief I can speak with confidence of the great opportunity now before us to join our best thought and highest endeavor for the task at hand. (Applause.)

Appended to the Mayor's address was an analysis of the tax rate including a survey of city expenditures with comparative tables.

APPOINTMENT BY THE MAYOR.

Subject to confirmation by the Council the Mayor submitted appointment for the term ending December 31, 1927 of James E. Hagan, Weigher of Goods, 351 Washington street, Somerville.

Laid over for a week under the law.

Frank S. Deland, Corporation Counsel, Boston Law Department.

At a meeting held by this Board on Saturday, January 8, 1927, Professor Miller McClintock of Harvard University, a recognized expert in this important work, after a preliminary survey of conditions in Boston, was decidedly in favor of a more extensive study being made and that said expense should be borne by the city. It was then unanimously decided that the City of Boston be asked to appropriate the sum of $25,000 to defray the necessary expenses incident to the work of this survey.

I respectfully recommend the adoption of the accompanying order by your honorable body.

Yours respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) be and hereby is appropriated to be expended by the Traffic Advisory Committee, under the direction of the Mayor, in the prosecution of its duties, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund when made.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

APPROPRIATION FOR BOARD OF ZONING ADJUSTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 3, 1927.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am advised by the chairman of the Board of Zoning Adjustment that the appropriation granted this Board in 1924 is practically exhausted and that, in his opinion, an appropriation of $3,500 will be required to conduct the activities of the Board during 1927. In accordance with the request of the Board, I submit herewith an order providing for the appropriation of the desired sum and respectfully recommend adoption of the same by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Board of Zoning Adjustment,
December 23, 1926.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—The Board of Zoning Adjustment was originally allowed an appropriation from the Reserve Fund of $5,000. This amount has defrayed all the expenses of the Board from the time of the enactment of the Zoning Law on June 4, 1924, up to and including December, 1926, with an unexpended balance at the present moment of $410.13.

This money has been expended for verbatim reporting of public hearings, transportation in connection with inspection trips on the part of members of the Board in the case of each petition, secretarial, clerical, stenographic, drafting and investigational service, office supplies, maps, advertising, messenger service and miscellaneous items.

The Board accordingly voted at an executive meeting held on Friday, November 12, 1926, to request an appropriation of $3,500 for the year 1927, which request I trust will meet with your Honor's favorable consideration.

Yours very truly,
FREDERIC H. FAY,
Chairman.

Ordered, That a sum not in excess of $3,500 be and hereby is appropriated to be expended by the Board of Zoning Adjustment, under the direction of the Mayor, in the prosecution of its duties, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund, when made.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

APPROPRIATION FOR RENT AND HOUSING COMMITTEE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 10, 1927.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am advised by the chairman of the Rent and Housing Committee that the appropriation granted last year for the work of the committee will be practically exhausted on or around the thirtieth of this month.

During the year 1926, approximately 6,500 complaints were adjusted or disposed of by this committee. The following table indicates the nature and approximate average of the cases considered during the past year:

Rent increases, 13 per cent.
Notices to vacate, 16 per cent.
Complaints of lack of heat, 20 per cent.
Information given to landlords and tenants as to rights, 30 per cent.
Miscellaneous, 21 per cent.

I feel that it is desirable to continue the work of this committee for at least another year, since through its continued existence both landlord and tenant are afforded the opportunity of securing without expense an amicable adjustment of their peculiar problems which are bound to arise. It is estimated that an appropriation of $6,500 will be necessary to conduct the activities of the committee during the current financial year. I accordingly submit herewith an order providing for the appropriation of this sum and respectfully recommend its adoption by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $6,500 be and hereby is appropriated to be expended by the committee on Rent and Housing, under the direction of the Mayor, in the prosecution of its duties, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund, when made.

CHANGES IN SNOW TRUCKS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 5, 1927.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a communication from the Public Works Department in reply to your order of November 29, 1926, in relation to making such changes in the bodies of the new snow trucks as will lower the sides of the trucks sufficiently to permit of them being loaded without the extraordinary labor upon the part of the loaders which the present height of the sides makes necessary.

Respectfully yours,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, January 3, 1927.
To the Honorable the Mayor.

I return the order of the City Council relative to the height of the new trucks, and report as follows: The total height of the trucks, from the ground to the top of the body with sideboards, down, is 6 feet 4½ inches,—less than 1 inch higher than the trucks we have been using for the past six years. With the sideboards up, our new trucks are 6 inches lower than the majority of cities, towns and contractors are using in the various parts of the state for the collection of ashes and refuse.

Notwithstanding the above data, orders were issued to have the boards down while loading. These orders have been complied with, but in the meantime our men are experimenting with side brackets and steps which will overcome the objectionable features.

Yours respectfully,
JAMES H. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Office of the Mayor, January 7, 1927.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Park Department in reply to your order of December 31, 1926, in relation to flooding the Mission Hill Playground and the Heath Street Playground for skating.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of January 4, with inclosure, order from the City Council that the Park Department be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to flood for skating the Mission Hill Playground and the Jefferson Playground, Heath street.

In reply I desire to say that arrangements were made to flood same on Monday, January 3, 1927. I do not think it will be possible to hold the water in either place on account of the porous condition of the ground.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

FLOODING OF CONNOLLY PLAYGROUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 5, 1927.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a communication from the Park Department in reply to your order of December 20, 1926, in relation to flooding the John J. Connolly Playground for skating, and to making such arrangements as may be required to prevent the water from draining off on the adjoining property. Also copy of letter which the Park Commissioner sent to Councilor Englert, who is interested in this matter.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, December 30, 1926.
Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of December 28, with inclosure, request of City Council to flood for skating purposes the John J. Connolly Playground.

In reply I desire to submit a copy of a report sent to Councilor Englert relative to same.

I will, however, endeavor to build a small skating area adjacent to the building.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

City of Boston,
Park Department, November 15, 1926.
Edward L. Englert, City Councilor, Council Chamber, City Hall, Boston.

My dear Councilor,—I am in receipt of a very careful report from our engineer relative to skating on the John J. Connolly Playground, Marcella street, Roxbury.

He informs me that it was never intended that skating should be arranged for on this playground. A skating pond has never been there and the grading of the ground is 7 feet lower at the bleachers than at the house. If we attempted to flood this area the water would run into the city yard. Incidentally, it would undermine the bleachers and destroy the ball field.

For the general good of the locality the Board of Park Commissioners feel it would be inadvisable to destroy this area under these conditions.

I regret exceedingly that it cannot comply with your request and provide a skating area on this playground.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

LOAN FOR SEWERAGE WORKS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 10, 1927.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—Under the provisions of chapter 426 of the Acts of 1897, as amended by chapter 204 of the Acts of 1908, the city may appropriate in any one year sums not exceeding $1,000,000 for the construction of sewerage works. Experience has shown that, in order to keep pace with the natural expansion of the city, it is desirable and necessary that the maximum amount provided in the above-mentioned acts be appropriated. I accordingly submit herewith an order providing for the appropriation of the maximum amount and respectfully recommend the adoption of this order by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, January 4, 1927.

Yours respectfully,
JAMES H. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 426 of the Acts of 1897, as amended by chapter 204 of the Acts of 1908, the sum of $1,000,000 be and hereby is appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works for sewerage works, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, the committee appointed under an order of the City Council November 15, 1926, to confer and make a report at the first meeting in 1927 on the subject of budget control, has completed its work and is practically ready to submit its report. The report itself, however, is not in its final form and the committee would like an extension of time for one week and the authorization of the Council to present the report at the next meeting.

President KEENE—If there is no objection, an additional week will be granted.

COMMITTEE ON INSPECTION OF PRISONS.

Coun. LYNCH, for the Committee on Inspection of Prisons, presented the following report:

City of Boston,

In City Council, December 31, 1926.

In accordance with the provisions of chapter 223 of the Revised Laws, the Committee on Inspection of Prisons of the City Council submits herewith its annual report.

Suffolk County Jail.

The semiannual inspections of the jail were duly made.

Conditions at the Suffolk County Jail, in the opinion of your committee, warrant the commendations this institution generally receives. Despite the large increase over the normal population there was no evidence of decline in the management or morale of the institutions.

Your committee concurs with previous committees in the recommendation that the boilers be removed from within the jail building and be housed in the jail yard in a separate structure, located outside the building proper. The presence of these boilers within the jail building constitutes a constant menace to the safety of officers and inmates. We indorse the recommendation of previous committees that the unsanitary and dilapidated buildings of the West End Division of the Sanitary and Street Cleaning Department, adjoining the jail yard, be abandoned and the land made available for jail uses.

Your committee, after a thorough investigation of the jail, indorse the model method of feeding the inmates and the excellent hospital and dental systems in operation at the jail.

House of Correction.

The required number of visits were made to the House of Correction by your committee during the year and the committee was particularly impressed by the excellent condition and the well-kept appearance of the buildings. Nearly all of the buildings have been repainted on the outside and inside. The cells are clean and in an orderly condition. The food is wholesome and plentiful.

Practically all of the vegetables used at the institution during the year are raised on the farm connected with the institution, while all of the bread and pastry are furnished by its bakery.

The cows owned by the institution not only supply all the milk used there, but they also take care of part of the needs of the Long Island Hospital. A pasteurizer is being installed to sterilize the milk.

The clothing and shoe shops are still doing very excellent work and supplying practically all the needs of both institutions.

During the year, from December 31, 1925, to December 15, 1926, the population has decreased from 658 to 605. For the same period the commitments were 3,463, while 3,516 were discharged. The committee regrets to report the death of seven inmates during the year.

For the Committee.

WILLIAM G. LYNCH,
Chairman.

Appended were reports of commitments and discharges from Sheriff Keliher and Masters James L. Molloy and George F. A. Mulcahy.

Report accepted and ordered printed as a public document.

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby favors the enactment of legislation authorizing the borrowing by the City of Boston, outside the debt limit, of three million dollars to be used for the erection of a new courthouse for Suffolk County.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

REMOVAL OF PRESIDENT FROM OFFICE.

Coun. DOWD offered an order—That the President of the Boston City Council be and hereby is removed from office.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, in offering this order I want it clearly understood by the President that it is not aimed at him personally in any way, shape or form. I do believe, however, that it was the intention of the Council when we elected you as our President one year ago to elect you as President for one year and for one year only. I understand, however, that a ruling has been sent down from the Law Department to the effect that you were elected President for two years. I believe in justice to the other twenty-one men sitting here, and not knowing who may come back for another term, that each and every one of us should have a chance to have the honor of being President of the Boston City Council. I know only too well, Mr. President, that it probably takes nerve to offer an order like this in the City Council, but I cannot be any worse off than I have been during the past year. I want to call upon every fair-minded Republican in this Council, whose intent one year ago was to elect a president for one year, and I want to call upon every Democratic member of this body, in Democratic Boston, to stand with Dowd in his order to remove the present President of the Boston City Council. I want you all to realize, and realize full well, that the order is not directed at our President personally. It is directed at the office, the Chair. I believe the Boston City Council should have a Democratic President, and if we find ourselves together we can and should elect a Democratic President of the Boston City Council.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I believe you will agree with me that a year ago this month I was not one of the least active of your supporters for the presidency of the Boston City Council. In reply to Coun. Dowd I would state frankly that I personally voted for the present presiding officer of this body to preside for what I understood was a term of one year. On the other hand, I have endeavored to read the decisions in the courts of this state upon the question. As I understand it, you were elected to preside over this body not for one year or for two years, but during the pleasure of the City Council, and twelve votes in this body can declare the Chair vacant today, next week or six months from now. Personally, I feel very strongly that a vote to unseat you as President of this Council today might well be misconstrued outside of this body as a reflection on you personally; and I, voicing what I feel is the entire membership of the City Council, in view of your fair and square rulings during the year, would not want to see that misconception go outside. There is one other factor in my mind with reference to the question that has been brought up here at this time, and it is this. I was not elected to this City Council to represent the Dorchester district selfishly or exclusively, but I am here to do my level best to see to it that Ward 17, Dorchester, receives its fair and proportionate share of benefits at the hands of the city, in the way of street improvements, police protection, adequate lighting, and other facilities. Only so long as Ward 17, Dorchester, receives its fair and proportionate share, am I to be numbered as among those who favor the present order of things. From then on, in the now famous words of Coun. Guild, I save my rights, and that will go for today, a week from today or six months from today. We have heard the Mayor of Boston address us here today. I feel personally very strongly that his Honor the Mayor has made fair, substantial progress during 1926, under hard circumstances, in his first year as Mayor of this city. I feel very strongly, and am relying on the fact that his constructive efforts during the past year will bear real proof during the coming year. I hesitate to swap horses just as we reach the middle of a stream. I feel that we are not called upon, whatever we may have intended a year ago, to go to the extreme to which we must go if we want to make a change in our presiding officer, under the law, of declaring the President's chair vacant. I do not feel that we should put the presiding officer of this body in that position, certainly not after the fair and impartial treatment that he has shown toward the members of this body during the past year. I do not personally feel whatever may be the aspirations of any member of this body, that we should indirectly slap the face of the President of the Boston City Council. I trust, therefore, for that reason that the majority of the members of this Council on that particular question will side with me. If it were a new election, it might be a different proposition; but, in order to have a new election, we have to act indirectly and displace the present presiding officer.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I regret very much that the order before the Council was presented in the form in which it appears. I suppose this is the most embarrassing moment I have ever had in my life. My relations with the President of this Council have been cordial, friendly, honest and sincere, as they have been with every other member of the Council. I regret that the motion before us is to remove the presiding officer from authority as presiding officer of the Council. Embarrassed as I feel at the position in which the language of this order places me, I cannot help feeling that I must stand by my original idea that our presiding officer was last year elected for a one-year term. I think that I must act in accordance with my feeling and my idea in this matter, in spite of the embarrassment thereby placed upon me and with all due respect personally for our President. I voted last year, and I believe every member of the Council voted, for a presiding officer for a one-year term. I want to be as fair as I can with you, Mr. President, and I want your continued friendship, but I have got to do what I think is right. I do not think, Mr. President, that you ought to have taken the attitude that you were elected for a two-year term. Had there been any doubt about the length of the term of the presiding officer of this Council it certainly would have been expressed at the beginning of the term, when it was clearly announced, and printed in the records of the city, that you, sir, were elected for the year 1926. While I know that the motion for your election did not include the length of the term, I felt that it was for a one-year term, and I believe that every member of this Council felt that it was for a one-year term. Therefore, Mr. President, much as I regret it, and with the possibility, which I certainly hope will not result, of losing your friendship, I am going to vote for a one-year term for President of the Boston City Council, carrying out an established rule, a precedent that has existed ever since I knew City Hall.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I am going to go one step farther than my learned brother from Ward 17 (Coun. Wilson) and say it is not only probable but almost certain beyond peradventure that if the City Council passes the motion which has been offered the general public will regard it as a slap in the face to the presiding officer of this body. During the past year this body, made up of twenty-two different individuals coming from all parts of the city, each with a different background, has sat in this chamber and conducted itself with dignity and decorum and in a manner warranting the respect of the citizens of Boston. For this body to stand up now and deliberately offer a slap in the face to its presiding officer is almost, to my mind, unbelievable. With all due deference to my learned brother from Ward 21 (Coun. Dowling) I stand here and say that if he has a sincere belief that every member of this City Council in casting his vote a year ago this time voted for a presiding officer for one year, then his belief is utterly without any foundation whatever. The motion was made to proceed to the election of a President. It was made in those words, and the mere fact that the member from Ward 21 (Coun. Dowling) who was in the chair in announcing the result of the election said, "We have elected a president for one month," or "We have elected a president for one year," would not have affected the result one particle, would not have changed in any respect the action which the City Council had taken. It had elected a president without specifying in terms for how long a period, but presumably, as my learned brother from Dorchester has pointed out, during the pleasure of the City Council. If it is now the pleasure of the City Council to stand up and say to its presiding officer, "You have been a fine man, you have treated all of us squarely, you are a regular fellow, square-shooting," and all that, and then deliberately turn around and give him one on the chin, the citizens of Boston can only put one interpretation on that action, and that is that the Boston City Council still is a body unworthy of its serious consideration. The Boston City Council in the past, Mr. President, has been referred to as a polite debating society. We have been polite during the past year. We have not transgressed the bounds of dignity and decorum. That would be no mean achievement under any circumstances, and when it is considered that we have given serious and earnest consideration to the very serious matters that have been presented to us for consideration, it is still more no mean achievement. We have been handicapped, each and every one of us, myself included, by the background which we have. We are each of us representing a district and, representing a district, it is difficult for us at times to remember at all times that above all we are Bostonians. We have had that difficulty, each one of us, and we have all met it, to our credit be it said. When the occasion has arisen to consider Boston rather than our particular district, we have considered Boston. As a glowing example of that, at the last meeting of the City Council, to our credit be it said, we met the test. We are now confronted with another test. Are we going to conduct ourselves in a manner that will merit the approval and commendation of the citizens of Boston, or are we going to do a childish and unfortunate thing? I hope whatever embarrassment is caused by the form of the motion will be recognized as due to the fact that the City Council is offered an opportunity to do an unmerited thing, and that that, and not any conduct of the Chair, is the real cause of whatever embarrassment may be felt around here. I do not propose to have anybody except myself say what was in my mind when I voted a year ago this time for a president of the City Council. Speaking just as frankly as the speaker who preceded me, I had only one thing in mind, and I don't see how anybody else could have had in mind anything except what was pointed out by the gentleman from the Dorchester district, and that is the election of a president during the pleasure of the Council.

On motion of Coun. FITZGERALD, the Council voted at 3 p. m. to take a recess until 3.15 p. m. The Council was called to order by President KEENE at 3.44 p. m.

President KEENE—The Council will please come to order.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, earlier in the session—

President KEENE—The councilor is not in order at this time. The Council will please come to order. The question before the house is on the passage of the order that the President of the Boston City Council be and hereby is removed from office. The question comes on the passage of the order and the vote will be by roll call. I want to say, gentlemen, inasmuch as the order has been presented, I want nobody to feel any embarrassment.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President—
President KEENE—Just a moment, Councilor. The question was submitted to the justices of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of the officers of the Legislature, when there was an enactment changing from yearly to biennial elections. The rule of law is that the presiding officer of any assembly can be removed by the same number of votes by which he was elected. The question comes on the passage of the order.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I had an understanding that that order offered by Coun. Dowd was going to be withdrawn, that the President was going to resign and that we were going to proceed to the election of a new president.

President KEENE—The Chair would necessarily, Coun. Ward, have to rule that out of order, inasmuch as there is no vacancy at this time.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, am I right, I will ask the President, in assuming that the order I have presented is perfectly legal and the only way to elect a new president, or not?

President KEENE—The councilor is absolutely correct.

Coun. DOWD—Then, Mr. President, I would ask whether a motion to proceed to a new election is in order, or whether the Chair rules it out of order?

President KEENE—It will have to be ruled out of order, because there is no vacancy at this time. The councilor has taken the only proper and legal way in which to meet the issue.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, in drawing up my order, I went into it very carefully. I did not desire to embarrass any member of this Council or the President. As I stated at the outset, the President has been a very fair, very impartial and very efficient presiding officer of this Council. But I also believe that a term of one year as president is sufficient for any one man in a body of twenty-two members. Here we are in this Council, thirteen Democrats, and I believe we should have a Democrat as presiding officer. Under the motion before the house, while it is to remove the President, I don't care who the Democrat is if he votes to retain the President, he is voting to retain a Republican President for another year. I believe it is about time that we should take some action on this order.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I desire to offer an amendment to the order offered by Coun. Dowd.

President KEENE—The gentleman will state his proposed amendment.

Coun. FITZGERALD—That we proceed to the election of a President of the Boston City Council for the year 1927.

President KEENE—The Chair must, Coun. Fitzgerald, rule that out of order. I might at this time, for the information of the members, read a memorandum.

The Chair, with great reluctance, feels obliged to rule the motion out of order for the reason that no vacancy exists in the office of President of the City Council. On January 4, 1926, the Council voted to proceed to the election of a President and on the eighth vote the present presiding officer was elected. There is no provision governing the President's term of office in the rules and the facts as shown by the record are that no time limitation was expressed in the several motions made in connection with the election. It is true that the stenographic report of the meeting contains an announcement by the temporary presiding officer of the result of the vote and a statement by him that the President was elected for the year 1926, but it is obvious that that statement was merely an expression of opinion, and is in no sense declaratory of the actual legal situation unless it is borne out by the facts. (See Ogden v. Cudworth, Supreme Ct. Decision, Jan. 4, 1927.) An identical situation occurred in the Massachusetts Legislature the first year of biennial elections. The President of the Senate and the other officers were elected without any limitation of time in the vote by which they were elected, and in answer to questions submitted by the Senate the justices of the Supreme Court furnished an opinion (239 Mass. 603) which was confirmed as law in 233 Mass. 325, from which the following is quoted:

"Q. In the absence of any rule defining their respective terms, and in the absence of any provision defining the term in the vote by which they were elected, would such officers hold for one year or two years?"

The justices replied to this question as follows: "The answer to the third question is that such officers will hold, under the circumstances there stated, for two years unless that term shall be shortened by vote of the Senate."

I do not propose to weary the Council by citing the opinions of the Attorney-General, the Corporation Counsel and others familiar and expert in parliamentary law and practice for the reason that the opinion of the Supreme Court seems to be conclusive. If the President was elected for the term of two years there is no vacancy and the motion to proceed to the election of a President is clearly out of order, and I am compelled to so rule.

It is a well established rule of parliamentary law that the presiding officer of a body is removable, at the pleasure of the body, by the same vote by which he was elected. In this connection it may be of interest, perhaps, to quote from Cushing, par. 299:

"The presiding officer, being freely elected by the members by reason of the confidence which they have in him, is removable by them, at their pleasure, in the same manner (i. e., by the same vote), whenever he becomes permanently unable by reason of sickness or otherwise to discharge the duties of his place and does not resign his office; or whenever he has, in any manner, or for any cause, forfeited or lost the confidence upon the strength of which he was elected."

If, therefore, the present presiding officer has so conducted himself in the office as to forfeit the confidence and trust of the members of this body the proper procedure is to remove him from his position and not to attempt by indirection and subterfuge to obtain a new presiding officer. Accordingly, the Chair must rule the motion out of order, and we will now proceed to act on the order introduced by Coun. Dowd.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I desire to ask that the decision in 242 Mass. be brought into the Council and read to the Council, in view of the fact that I think there may be slight misinterpretation placed on the decision by the various members of the body. Couns. Mahoney and Dowd have brought before us the fact that the order is introduced in all fairness, despite the smoke screen that has been attempted to be created in the Council Chamber to the effect that we are giving to our present presiding officer a slap in the face, a knock on the chin, or anything else. I think such statements are decidedly out of order, and I respectfully ask that we get the decision in 242 Mass. and that it be read in its entirety—not that I doubt the sincerity of the President in quoting certain passages in his favor. I think, however, if the whole opinion is read, not simply referring to sickness, misconduct, malfeasance, nonfeasance in office or anything else, the body can have before it the whole opinion and then can govern itself accordingly. It is entirely within the province of the Council to vote for a new presiding officer, I understand, regardless of the facts quoted, and I am going to ask the City Messenger if he will get that report and I will then ask to have it read.

President KEENE—Will the City Messenger get 239 Mass.? The Chair will state that the opinion of the justices of the Supreme Court, referred to by him, is in 239 Mass., 603.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I stand corrected.

(The City Messenger procured a copy of 239 Mass., handing it to President Keene.)

PRESIDENT KEENE—Gentlemen, this is the opinion of the justices to the Senate:

"Since the ratification and adoption of Article 64 of the amendments to the Constitution, the Constitution of the Commonwealth does not require that the officers of the Senate be elected for each annual session, but they may be elected to serve throughout the two-year term of the General Court and until its dissolution.

"It is competent for the Senate by rule to limit the terms of its officers to one year or to provide that such terms shall be coextensive with the period for which the Senate was elected.

"The election of officers by the Senate on January 5, 1921, without any rule defining their terms of office, imported that the officers so selected should serve during the pleasure of that Senate and they will hold office for two years unless that term is shortened by vote of the Senate.

"The following order was passed by the Senate on May 27, 1921, and was transmitted to the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court on June 3, 1921, after the adjournment of the annual session of the General Court on May 28, 1921."

"Whereas, The Constitution of the Commonwealth provides in Article VII of section II, chapter I, that the Senate shall choose its own president, appoint its own officers and determine its own rules of proceedings, and

"Whereas, Acting in pursuance of said provision, the Senate did, on the fifth day of January, nineteen hundred and twenty-one, elect a president and other officers, as appears from the journal of the Senate, a copy of which for said date is hereto annexed, and—

We would like to have Coun. Gilbody present in the Chamber.

(Coun. Gilbody, who had temporarily gone to the anteroom here returned.)

PRESIDENT KEENE (Continuing)—

"Whereas, Grave doubt exists as to whether the officers so elected are the duly elected officers of the Senate for the entire term of the members thereof, as defined in Article LXIV of the amendments to the Constitution, or whether the Constitution requires that they be elected for each annual session, therefore be it

"Ordered, That the Senate require the opinions of the Honorable the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court on the following important questions of law:

"1. Does the Constitution require that the officers of the Senate be elected for each annual session, or may they be elected to serve throughout the two-year term of the General Court and until its dissolution?

"2. Is it competent for the Senate by rule to limit the term of its officers to one year or may its rules provide that said term shall be coextensive with the period for which the Senate was elected?

"3. In the absence of any rule defining their respective terms, and in the absence of any provision defining the term in the vote by which they were elected, would such officers hold for one year or for two years?

"On January 4, 1922, there was read to the Senate the opinion of the justices which had been filed with the clerk of the Senate on October 31, 1921, and which was as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts:

"The Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court, having considered the questions in the order of May 27, 1921, a copy whereof is hereto annexed respectfully submit these answers:

"The Senate is required by chapter 1, section 2, Article 7 of the Constitution to "choose its own president, appoint its own officers, and determine its own rules of proceedings." Neither this nor any other provision of the Constitution by express words fixes the term for the president or for any of the other officers of the Senate. From the adopting of the Constitution until the year 1920, senators were elected annually for a term expiring on the preceding first Wednesday of the second January after the annual state election at which they were chosen. Constitution Massachusetts, chapter 1, section 2, Articles 1, 2, 3; Amendments, Articles 10 and 15. It follows from these provisions that the officers of the Senate could not serve as a constitutional right for longer than the constitutional life of the Senate itself. The clerk of the House of Representatives of the United States by old usage is said to continue in a new Congress. It was almost inevitable that the membership of the Senate would be altered more or less with every annual election. Each member, whether elected for the first time or re-elected, sat by virtue of a fresh election. The official life of the Senate as a legislative body was thus limited to a single year.

"The ratification and adoption of Article 64 of the Amendments changed this. Biennial elections are thereby substituted for annual elections. The term of office of each senator is two years in place of one year as theretofore. The official life of the Senate as a legislative body is thereby lengthened to two years instead of being limited to the one year previously established. The provision of section 3, Article 64 of the Amendments that "The general court shall assemble every year," does not break the continuity of the Senate as a legislative body. It simply assures two sessions of one legislative body. In this particular the two branches of the General Court now resemble the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States, which although required by Article 1, section 4 of the Constitution of the United States to "assemble at least once in every year," is nevertheless a single continuous legislative body during the two years for which by section 2 of the same article its members are chosen.

"To the first question we answer that the Constitution does not require that the officers of the Senate be elected for each annual session, but they may be elected to serve throughout the two-year term of the General Court and until its dissolution.

"The power conferred upon the Senate to 'appoint its own officers, and determine its own rules of proceedings,' by implication grants authority to fix the terms of such officers for periods not exceeding its own official life. That whole subject is within the control of the Senate.

"To the second question the answer is that it is competent for the Senate by rule to limit the term of its officers to one year, or to provide that said term shall be coextensive with the period for which the Senate was elected.

"The election of officers of the Senate by the votes shown in the journal of the Senate, copy of which accompanies the order, under the constitutional provisions to which reference has been made, in the absence of any rule fixing the term, imports that the several officers shall serve during the pleasure of the Senate. Unless contrary action is taken by the Senate, they serve during the life of the Senate as a legislative body.

"The answer to the third question is that such officers will hold under the circumstances there stated for two years unless that term shall be shortened by vote of the Senate.

"For convenience in answering these questions the official term of the members of the Senate has been designated as two years, although speaking with strict accuracy, under Article 64 of the Amendments to the Constitution, it extends from the first Wednesday in January succeeding their election . . . to the first Wednesday in January in the third year following their election and until their successors are chosen and qualified.

The official existence of a particular Senate, and, in the absence of a vote of contrary tenor, of its president and its officers, precisely corresponds to these words of the amendment.

"The order submitting these questions was not transmitted to us until after the adjournment of the session of the General Court for 1921. Therefore the answers were not given precedence over other pressing work of the court but are returned before the reassembling of the Honorable Senate.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I would like to ask if there are any such words in the decision as were mentioned in your statement—such as sickness, malfeasance, nonfeasance in office, and so on?

President KEENE—The Chair will say that in that connection he was quoting from Cushing's Manual, paragraph 299.

Coun. GILBODY—I beg your pardon, Mr. President, I thought you were reading from the Massachusetts report.

President KEENE—No. The rule is that a President may be removed at any time by the same number of votes by which he was elected, regardless of the term of his election. The question is on the passage of Coun. Dowd's order, and the Clerk will call the roll.

Coun. Dowd's order, declaring the President removed from office as President, was put upon its passage, and the Clerk was directed to call the roll.

When Coun. Bush's name was called, it appeared that he was in the anteroom, and word was sent to him through the City Messenger that a roll call was in progress. He presently entered the chamber and voted. When Coun. Fitzgerald's name was called it appeared that he likewise was temporarily absent.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege. Inasmuch as when Coun. Bush's name was called and he was absent, notification was sent to him that a roll call was in progress, I think we ought to extend the same courtesy to Coun. Fitzgerald, notifying him that the roll is being called on this important question.

Coun. FITZGERALD re-entered the chamber at this moment, and was recorded.

The result of the roll call was as follows: Yeas—Coun. Donovan, Dowd, Dowling, Fitzgerald, Freely, Gilbody, Green, Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, Ward—12.

Nays—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Englert, Guild, Keene, McMahon, Parkman, Ruby, Wilson, Wragg—10.

President KEENE—There having been twelve votes in the affirmative and ten in the negative, the President is removed. The President will now call Coun. Dowling, the senior member, to the chair.

Coun. DOWLING here took the chair.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I move that we adjourn.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I second the motion.

Chairman DOWLING put the motion, which was declared lost.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I move that we proceed to the election of a President.

Coun. WARD'S motion was declared lost. Coun. Ward doubted the vote and asked for a rising vote. The motion was declared carried by a rising vote, 14 to 8.

Chairman DOWLING—The Clerk will call the roll, and each member will express his choice when his name is called.

The roll was called, and the members expressed their choice for President, with the following result:
For Charles G. Keene—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Englert, Guild, Keene, Parkman, Ruby, Wilson, Wragg—9.

For John J. Heffernan—Coun. Donovan, Dowd, Freeley, Gilbody, Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, Ward—9.

For Timothy F. Donovan—Coun. Fitzgerald, Green, McMahon—3.

For Henry Parkman, Jr.—Coun. Dowling—1.
Chairman DOWLING—The result of the ballot just taken is one vote for Coun. Parkman, three for Coun. Donovan, nine for Coun. Heffernan and nine for Coun. Keene, and there is no choice.

Coun. MAHONEY—Mr. President, I move that we take a recess for ten minutes.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, prior to our taking a recess I would ask unanimous consent to introduce a few orders relating to lighting facilities that are sadly needed on Franklin Field.

(Unanimous consent was not accorded.)

Coun. MAHONEY'S motion to take a recess for ten minutes was carried at 4.08 p. m. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by Chairman DOWLING at 4.19 p. m.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. ARNOLD—Mr. President, in connection with that order offered by Coun. Parkman, I would like to make this motion, that the remarks made by Coun. Parkman at the meeting of December 20 in regard to this apportionment be printed as a public document. I do that as the time is short, the legislative committees will be having their assignments, and the remarks then made will be of value to our committee on Legislative Matters, to whom the matter has been referred.

It was voted that the remarks made by Coun. Parkman upon the matter at the meeting of December 20, 1926, be printed as a public document.

LOAN IN ANTICIPATION OF TAXES.

Chairman DOWLING—The Chair will at this time withdraw from the Executive Committee the customary order to raise by loan $25,000,000 in anticipation of taxes. That order has been referred to the Executive Committee, and there has been no opportunity presented for them to pass upon it. Therefore, if there is no objection, the Chair will withdraw the order from that committee, and there will be an opportunity for it to take its first reading at this time.

The order referred to, to raise temporarily by loan such amounts as the City Treasurer may need, not exceeding $25,000,000 in the total, in anticipation of revenue of the current municipal year, was withdrawn from the Executive Committee, and the question came upon the first reading and passage of the order at this time.

Chairman DOWLING—The Chair will state that the law requires that the order have two readings in fourteen days, so that members may have an opportunity to make any investigation they may desire.

The order was given its first reading and passage, yeas 21, nays 0.

IMMEDIATE ACTION ON RADIO CONTROL.

Coun. WARD offered the following:
Resolved, That the Boston City Council go on record as favoring immediate action on radio control legislation, and be it further

Coun. FREELEY, for the Committee on Unclaimed Baggage, submitted the following:

NAMES DEER ISLAND OFFICIAL.

Mayor Nichols announced on January 19 the appointment of Andrew H. McCarthy of 31 Waverly street, Roxbury, to the position of deputy master of the House of Correction, Deer Island, at a salary of $2,200 a year and maintenance.

Mr. McCarthy was born in Boston, August 9, 1889, attended the Boston public schools and was appointed officer at the House of Correction, Deer Island on August 14, 1925. He is a veteran of the World War, and served overseas in the 301st Field Artillery.

GOVERNOR SQUARE TRAFFIC STUDY REPORT.

Mayor Nichols made public on January 19 a study of traffic conditions at Governor square. The study was made at the request of the Mayor by the Park Commission, with its consulting architect, Mr. Arthur A. Shurtleff, and deals with the streets without any modification of the subway at Governor square.

The Mayor, in giving out the study, said that it did not make less important the extension of the subway at Governor square which was primarily for the adaptation of the Boylston Street Subway to more effective rapid transit. He further added that he intended to take the matter up immediately with the City Planning Board.

The report was as follows:

BOSTON, December 22, 1926.

WILLIAM P. LONG, Esq., Chairman, Boston Park Department, 33 Beacon Street, Boston.

DEAR MR. LONG,—In pursuance of your request I have made a study of the whole region surrounding Governor square. A comprehensive plan of this tract of about two square miles has never been made though the park system within this area has received careful study. The territory lies within the planning field of the Planning Boards of Boston, Brookline, Cambridge, and of the Metropolitan Planning Division.

The jurisdiction of your commission in the park property in the heart of Governor square and in Commonwealth avenue has kept the traffic problems of the square constantly before your Board. To the Boston Park System the importance of a satisfactory solution of the difficulties which embarrass pleasure travel at this point near the inner and outer parkway routes is apparent. Study of this single point of traffic congestion, however, cannot precede a consideration of pleasure traffic accommodation in the whole region between the Fens and the Charles River Basin and between inner Commonwealth avenue and the Cottage Farm Bridge.

At the Charlesgate, in the inner sections of the Fens, and upon the whole reach of Commonwealth avenue traffic difficulties are assuming great magnitude and threaten, if they are not met, to lead to an invasion of motor trucks, whose presence in parks and upon the parkways would be disastrous to the pleasure use of the park roads and to the full enjoyment of the parks themselves.

Regarding these matters I have conferred with the Metropolitan District Commission, the Police Department, the Boston Elevated Railway, the Chamber of Commerce, with other officials and interested citizens, with your Board and its engineer, and with his Honor Mayor Nichols. The appended report embodies the results of these studies and conferences together with my own conclusions and recommendations.

MAYOR REPLIES TO FINANCE COMMISSION.

The Mayor on January 15 addressed the following communication to the Finance Commission:

BOSTON, January 15, 1927.

THE FINANCE COMMISSION, 11 Beacon Street, Boston.

DEAR SIRs,—Under date of January 14, 1927, you acknowledge with thanks the receipt of my letter relative to the bill of Mr. Guy C. Emerson, consulting engineer of your commission, for services rendered to the office of the former district attorney in the sum of $734.41. In this letter you are good enough to admit that the City Auditor is entitled to the details of the work rendered before making payment, nevertheless the bill has been examined by you and returned to the City Auditor with no additional details stated thereon. You state as the reason for the omission of these details that the case had not been tried, and he did not think it proper to disclose in his bill the name of the case for which he had been working. If it is improper for Mr. Emerson to state what case he worked on, it is certainly improper for the auditor to pay him.

The question I raised with you was whether if this bill is paid Mr. Emerson will not have been paid twice for work which falls within the scope of his employment by you. In support of a position which my letter need not compel you to take, you cite Mr. Emerson's work upon the Pickwick Club collapse. A bill for this work was rendered December 26, 1925, and was paid February 28, 1926. Mr. Emerson received $1,750 for this work, and the bill contained full details as to what Mr. Emerson had done, including the name of the case upon which he worked. The Pickwick Club bill called for a payment at the rate of $100 a day, and the bill about which we are talking, for a payment at the rate of $10 an hour. Both are at a generous rate of compensation, but the Pickwick Club disaster was not one which had been passed upon officially by your commission, and was therefore not within the scope of Mr. Emerson's employment by you. The bill about which I am querying you, however, clearly relates to the investigation of city paving which has been for a long time the subject of your official inquiry, and which was directly within your investigation at the time when Mr. Emerson was at work on city paving for the former district attorney.

The Emerson bill contains a pencil memorandum which identifies in a general way paving work for which he claims compensation. It is, therefore, beyond a doubt that he was doing work for the former district attorney which falls within the scope of his employment for the Finance Commission. That the Finance Commission properly includes within the scope of its duty service to the district attorney is made clear by your correspondence in which you state to me that where you find improper conduct on the part of any city official or employee, you are not only at liberty but under duty to communicate the facts found to the district attorney.

Mr. Emerson as your consulting engineer has devoted considerable attention to paving contracts, and has written numerous reports upon paving. He is the employee upon whom you rely for such technical information. You had from the auditor's office certain paving contracts which are connected with Mr.

Emerson's bill for services to the former district attorney. Mr. Emerson did not, and indeed could not, separate himself from the activities of the Finance Commission. His presence in the district attorney's office did not differ in any way from the presence of other city officials who have rendered no bills for services. It was, therefore, the duty of Mr. Emerson, as your employee, to assist the district attorney in every way for the communication to him of all the facts officially in your possession.

In view of the foregoing, I must regretfully conclude that you either will not or cannot answer my question as to whether or not Mr. Emerson has charged twice for work which has fallen within the scope of his employment by you.

Mr. Emerson renders to the public part time service at the rate of $6,000 a year, and as a favor to you he maintains a private engineering office in your own office for the purpose of rendering other services to the public for which he charges the public at a rate varying from $10 an hour to $100 a day. His private letterhead carries upon it the telephone numbers of the Finance Commission. I do not know what you would think of any other department of the city making any such contract with anyone. However, you justify it in your letter, and recommend to the Mayor of Boston that he accept your point of view. Our engineers at City Hall give full time service, and there is not an engineer at City Hall except a department head who gets as much salary as Mr. Emerson.

The chairman of the Finance Commission is paid a salary of $5,000 a year for part-time service, and the other eminently respectable members of the commission also render part-time service. I wonder what would happen if you all went on a full-time basis. The rest of the city works full time, including the tax payers who pay all the bills for Boston and Suffolk County.

My recommendations to you, therefore, are as follows:

- (1) That you direct Mr. Emerson to withdraw his bill from the City Auditor.
- (2) That you make a new contract with Mr. Emerson wherein for the salary he is now receiving he shall render full-time service.
- (3) That you will instruct Mr. Emerson to remove his private office from the office of the Finance Commission.

Respectfully yours,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

FINANCE COMMISSION'S LETTER.

The Finance Commission's letter was as follows:

BOSTON, January 14, 1927.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

SIR,—The Finance Commission has received your letter relative to the bill of Mr. Guy C. Emerson, consulting engineer of the commission, for services rendered to the district attorney's office (during the incumbency of Mr. O'Brien), in connection with investigations. The bill amounted to $720 plus $24.41 for expenses.

The commission thanks you for calling this matter to its attention. In the interest of good government the commission is always ready to review not only its own acts, but the acts of its members and employees.

The proceedings in which the services were rendered were not initiated by the Finance Commission and the services were not rendered to the commission, but to the office of the district attorney. As the bill bears the approval of the former district attorney, Mr. O'Brien, he was called before the commission and questioned in regard to it. He stated that the services rendered were valuable and that the charges were fair and reasonable.

The City Auditor is certainly entitled to have the details of the work rendered before making payment. Mr. Emerson has stated to the commission that his letter transmitting the bill to the district attorney specified the dates and length of services rendered but that, in view of the fact that the case had not been tried, he did not think it proper to disclose in his bill the name of the case for which he had been working.

Whether Mr. Emerson has the right to render services for hire to anyone besides the Finance Commission depends on his contract with the commission. Mr. Emerson was employed in 1910 by the commission while John A. Sullivan, Esq., was chairman. The commission did not contract for his exclusive services. It was the understanding that he should give to the commission so much of his time as was necessary for the accomplishment of its work. It was expected that this would occupy at least half of his time, but the commission was at liberty to require more time if needed. Outside of his duties to the commission under his contract, Mr. Emerson is free to render other professional services, provided they do not conflict with his duties to the commission and are not in opposition to the interests of the City of Boston.

Mr. Emerson at first maintained a private office. As the work of the commission developed, however, it was found that so much of his time was required by the commission that he was requested to take up his quarters with it in order that, without revoking the original agreement, he might be available when needed by the commission.

He has previously rendered similar services to the district attorney's office, for which he was paid and no question was raised by the present City Auditor. It would seem to make no difference in principle whether his services were rendered in connection with the Pickwick Club disaster, or in connection with an investigation by the Grand Jury of the Warren Brothers Company, or that the investigation may have affected some members of your administration.

The Finance Commission finds that the action of Mr. Emerson in accepting employment as an expert by the district attorney's office was not improper under the terms of his employment by the Finance Commission.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by CHARLES L. CARR,
Chairman.

DAMAGES AWARDED.

Katherine Theysen has agreed to accept the sum of $1,200 as full payment for all land taken from, all rights acquired in, and all damages occasioned to her estate on Cufflin street, northwest corner Ricker terrace, by the laying out and construction of Cufflin street, under the order of the Street Commissioners and Mayor of October 31, 1925. This acceptance is made upon the condition that any betterments assessed on said estate for the laying out and construction of said Cufflin street shall be assumed by the City of Boston.

GOVERNOR SQUARE REPORT.

GOVERNOR SQUARE TWO SEPARATE PROBLEMS.

In attempting to find a solution for the traffic difficulties of Governor square we must not lose sight of the fact that the problem would not exist in its present bulk and complexity if the location of streets in the neighborhood had been well arranged when they were laid out, and if the streets already partly built and projected were completed. The aggravated form of the problem results from bringing too many important streets together at one meeting point, and from a failure to provide within a mile of the square a sufficient number of additional through streets which would permit vehicles to cross this territory at will without being forced to go through Governor square. See plans No. 4 and No. 5.

We must also keep clearly in mind the fact that solutions of the problem which would invite more vehicles into the square by facilitating passage through it but which would not at the same time correct the radical faults of the present incomplete street system in the region within a mile of the square would undoubtedly aggravate in the long run rather than cure the present evils. We cannot eliminate traffic congestion wholly from Governor square in these days when congestion occurs at most important street intersections. Our aim must be to reduce congestion to a normal magnitude expectable at any street junction of equal importance when surrounded with a system of well-connected neighboring streets. We can then apply with some chance of success the best possible local traffic control system which can be devised. Several ingenious control systems of merit have already been suggested and if applied at once would doubtless greatly relieve momentary difficulties. The best scheme would soon be overwhelmed by volumes of traffic whose unnecessary arrival in the square is the result of the faulty arrangement of surrounding streets.

The general problem consequently resolves itself into two parts. The first requires for its solution a reduction in the number of vehicles which are forced unnecessarily to pass through the square for lack of the more direct, less crowded and more agreeable routes which remain to be provided. The second requires a scheme for handling the traffic which really needs to enter or pass through the square and which should not be required to make detours. The latter part of the general problem is rendered difficult of solution by the presence in the square of surface rapid transit electric car lines, passenger platforms, and a subway portal and incline.

THE FIRST PART OF THE PROBLEM.

To reduce the unnecessary forcing through Governor square of a great volume of vehicles which could find more direct and less crowded routes elsewhere the extension and improvement of important existing or proposed through streets must be undertaken in the region within a half mile or a mile of this point of congestion. This region requires such street improvements for its own local convenience quite aside from the influence upon Governor square. To determine both the order in which such street connections should be carried out and their exact location involves co-operative study between the town of Brookline, the City of Boston, the city of Cambridge, and the Metropolitan Planning Division, within all of whose jurisdictions these planning problems lie. This study should reach vastly important results for the communities directly effected and for the metropolitan districts which need the best plan which can be found for this centrally located region through which passes so great a part of the north to south and the east to west traffic of the entire region.

My own study of the region between Dartmouth street and Cottage Farm Bridge and between the Cambridge side of the basin to Longwood avenue and the Fens indicates some of the more obvious features which such a co-operative study would probably include.

The following projects now either under way or contemplated would bring practical relief to the traffic congestion in Governor square:

1. The underpass now under construction at the southerly end of Cottage Farm Bridge. See "A" plan No. 6. This underpass, by receiving vehicles from Cambridge along the west bank of the Charles river and the south bank of the Basin, will tend to lead vehicles through Bay State road, thus detouring Governor square. This improvement will be in operation in about two years.

2. The proposed extension of Essex street, from the southerly end of the Cottage Farm Bridge to Longwood avenue, about as shown at "B." This long contemplated connection, if provided, would detour much Cottage Farm Bridge travel coming from the north and would carry it to Beacon street and into the section south and southeast of the Fens without passing through inner Commonwealth avenue or Brookline avenue at their point of meeting in Governor square.

3. The proposed connection of Audubon circle with Ashby street by way of St. Mary's street. See "C" on the plan. This connection would enable vehicles on Bay State road, Mountfort street, Commonwealth avenue and Beacon street, to detour Governor square on the west by passing through Audubon circle and Audubon road, thus reaching the district south of the Fens, Roxbury and South Boston.

4. The contemplated extension and widening of Back street or the construction of a drive along the southerly margin of the Charles River Basin to connect the Charlesgate with Bay State road. This connection, in combination with improvement described in No. 1 above, would provide a direct and exceedingly attractive route for pleasure vehicles between Boston, Cambridge and Brighton upon a line which would detour outer Commonwealth avenue, outer Beacon street and Brookline avenue and thus avoid Governor square. See "D" on the plan.

5. The project recently suggested for the extension of Lansdowne street across Beacon street to meet Mountfort street. This improvement, involving the construction of a few hundred feet of new street either through nearly vacant land, sparsely built up land or over the railway tracks of the Brookline circuit would provide a new thoroughfare over a mile in length from the Cottage Farm Bridge to Massachusetts avenue, paralleling Commonwealth avenue, detouring Governor square and also underpassing the park system via Ipswich street. See "E" on the plan.

6. The proposed extension of Blanford street to Beacon street. This short connection, recently advocated, would permit, when combined with No. 5, outer Commonwealth avenue, outer Beacon street and inner Brookline avenue as well as Lansdowne street and Mountfort street to make interchanges of traffic which would eliminate some of the most aggravating left-hand turns in Governor square, detouring the square altogether by such traffic movements. See "F" on the plan.

7. The completion of Van Ness street. This street, already laid down for construction and partly built, should be completed to give better circulation for the south of Governor square territory which now lacks sufficient highway connections east and west, and is consequently dependent more or less needlessly upon passage through Governor square via Brookline avenue. See "G" on the plan.

8. A similar completion of the proposed extension of Kilmarnock street for the reasons given in No. 7 above. See "H" on the plan.

9. The completion of the double roadway now under contract in the Fens, between the vicinity of Avenue Louis Pasteur and the Agassiz Bridge forming, with the double roadway already completed between Agassiz Bridge and the Richardson Bridge, a continuous double vehicular route which will carry along the northerly margin of the Fens some pleasure vehicles which might pass through Governor square. See "I" on the plan.

10. I suggest the unification of the easterly and westerly ends of Newbury street by an underpass beneath Charlesgate West. This proposal, if executed, would make this street a direct and safe route for east-west vehicular circulation and would bypass many motors from Governor square through Brookline avenue and through the proposed extension of Lansdowne street. See "J" on the plan.

11. A proposed extension of Hereford street to and along the southerly edge of the Charles River Basin, either via Back street or along the water, thence under the southerly end of the Harvard Bridge to Charlesgate West. This highway improvement would permit Beacon street vehicles to escape the annoyance of long waits for the Harvard Bridge traffic on Massachusetts avenue by passing beneath the end of the bridge and making a direct connection with Bay State road via Charlesgate West, thus detouring Governor square. See "K" on the plan.

12. The proposed underpassing of Massachusetts avenue by Commonwealth avenue at their junction to avoid all east-west cross traffic conflicts here. This improvement if carried out at once would probably increase congestion in Governor square by facilitating the crossing of Massachusetts avenue at this single point. See "L" on the plan.

13. The extension of Dalton street to Hereford street. This improvement if carried out would reduce congestion on Massachusetts avenue, between Huntington avenue and the Charles River Basin. To the extent by which vehicles would be detoured, through the improvement suggested for Hereford street and Back street and vicinity, this change would relieve congestion in Governor square by detouring the square. See "M" on the plan, also, note southerly extension to Huntington avenue opposite Cumberland street.

14. Charlesgate East and West are becoming important distributing arteries for north-south transfers of vehicles from Bay State road to Beacon street, to Marlborough street, to Commonwealth avenue, to Newbury street and to the Fens. The overcrowded condition of Massachusetts avenue makes similar selective vehicular movements increasingly difficult upon that thoroughfare. Widening of Massachusetts avenue or changes of its level to meet these conditions and to permit underpasses at the intersecting streets will be prohibitive probably on account of cost. It is also apparent that Massachusetts avenue near the Harvard Bridge is rapidly showing itself too narrow to accommodate the bridge traffic. Local widenings for this purpose would be destructive and costly.

If traffic conditions become still more serious in this vicinity I suggest the construction through the Charlesgate of a high-level roadway on attractively planted embankments and bridges as shown in dotted lines on the plan at "N" and in detail on appended plans and a bird's-eye view. This high-level pleasure roadway would avoid grade crossings at Bay State road, Beacon street, Marlborough street, Commonwealth avenue, Newbury street and the Fens but it would provide connections with all these roadways by the ramps which are indicated.

I also suggest for serious consideration the extension of the proposed high-level roadway of the Charlesgate and its present side driveways across the Basin to the Cambridge shore, either parallel with the Harvard Bridge as shown on one of the accompanying plans and the bird's-eye view, or upon a more direct course toward the Cambridge end of Massachusetts avenue, and as shown on the diagram by the line OP. Exceedingly ample accommodations for pleasure vehicles could be made by this means without conflict with the commercial vehicle traffic of the Harvard Bridge, and without awaiting the antiquation of the Harvard Bridge before their needs were met. When the Harvard Bridge becomes antiquated it could be rebuilt without the special cost of a temporary bridge. The accompanying plans A, B, C and D show these extensions in relation to the Charlesbank and illustrate four ways of carrying the connecting roadways across the Basin to the Cambridge side.

These studies indicate the union which would be made between the Boston Parkway System, the Esplanade on the Boston side of the Basin, the Esplanade in Cambridge, and the whole system of metropolitan parkways toward Medford and toward Cambridge and Arlington without conflict on grade with the heavy truck traffic of Massachusetts avenue or of the Harvard Bridge. Evidently the length of relatively short bridges and the length of earth approaches to the bridges from both shores are elements which can be increased or decreased upon further study of the appearance of the Basin, its use for boating, and popular opinion. The opportunities for memorial sites and pleasure grounds are evident.

Reference to plan No. 2 indicating streets approaching the Harvard Bridge from the east and from the west indicates that a much greater number of streets and vehicular lanes approach Massachusetts avenue from the west than from the east. Thirty-one (31) vehicular lanes lead from the east and fifty (50) from the west. Consequently the above scheme for crossing the Basin would be more convenient for the use of approaching streets than the present line of Massachusetts avenue, as far as pleasure vehicles are concerned.

TIME REQUIRED FOR THE WORK.

Many years will be required to bring about all the street improvements required for the development of the whole region which surrounds Governor square. Some of the improvements could be executed in a year's time. The need for them is not to relieve traffic congestion at that single point alone, but to provide circulation at all points in the interest of public convenience and safety, and to preserve the attractiveness of this entire region for residence purposes and for business. The result of this work should be to disperse vehicular movements through a dozen or more new channels, all of which or any one of which would aid Governor square and all other intersection points to accommodate the normal volume of travel which would normally seek them and not force upon any one of them an abnormal volume which is detoured to it for want of adequate passage elsewhere.

The time to undertake the work is now. It ought to have been undertaken before the ground upon the lines of the improvements was occupied with buildings which either constrict the width of desirable through streets or partially block their passage. These obstacles are not sufficient, however, in kind or extent to warrant the abandonment of the projects which are described or to involve inordinate cost. An examination of the ground clearly indicates the feasibility of the improvements and the importance of undertaking them before they are further blocked or cramped.

COST OF THE WORK.

The cost of such a program of desirable improvements is not chargeable to Governor square, or to any other single point of congestion. It is chargeable to the whole area whose present rudimentary street plan has created traffic congestion at Governor square and at other street intersections. The whole area needs the improvements for itself and for the surrounding parts of Boston, Brookline and Cambridge.

Estimates of the cost of most of the improvements described have been made by the City of Boston Street Department, the Park Department, the Metropolitan Park Commission, the Planning Division, the town engineer of Brookline, the city engineer of Cambridge, the Boston Planning Board, or by committees of citizens. Where estimates have been made over a period of years a comparison of costs indicates the penalty for longer waiting if the work is ever to be carried out.

ORDER OF MAKING THE STREET IMPROVEMENTS RECOMMENDED.

Evidently those improvements should be undertaken first which will yield the greatest return in deflecting traffic from the bottle neck at Governor square. This is another way of saying that those improvements which would appeal most strongly to the public on account of the reduction in traffic delays, on account of greater directness and reasonable cost, should be undertaken first. The proposed connection of Beacon street with the Charlesgate via Hereford street and Back street passing under the Harvard Bridge should be put into operation first for those reasons.

For similar reasons land ought to be acquired at the earliest moment for the extension of Mountfort street to Lansdowne street before large permanent buildings block the line of this improvement. The extension of Newbury street under the Charlesgate West to join inner Newbury street at Charlesgate East logically should follow the above.

Land for adequate connection of the Cottage Farm Bridge with Beacon street ought to be secured soon for the same reason and made ready for use when the new bridge now under construction is completed.

The connection between Audubon Circle and Bay State road and between this circle and Essex street via outer Mountfort street to the Cottage Farm Bridge should be arranged for use with the new Cottage Farm Bridge.

The extension of Bay State road under the Cottage Farm Bridge is already provided for in construction under way but the acquisition of the last small parcels of land needed for the northerly extension of this roadway to River street in Cambridge and the construction of the park road on the river bank above the bridge remains to be undertaken.

The construction of the extension of the double roadway in the Fens is already under contract.

The southerly extension of Hereford street to Dalton street ought to be planned while open land is available.

The separation of grades at Massachusetts avenue and Commonwealth avenue should not be carried out until the last because its effect would be to increase the number of vehicles entering Governor square unless the other improvements named had been put into operation to provide ample through routes to the north and to the south of the square.

THE SECOND PART OF THE PROBLEM.

The solution of the second part of the problem requires a satisfactory scheme for handling the traffic which actually needs to enter or pass through Governor square. Such a scheme logically should be taken in hand after the square has been freed of the traffic streams which now converge upon it unnecessarily for want of the additional streets mentioned above. Obviously, it is not possible to wait for the completion of all such street improvements before attempting to abate the local traffic difficulties. On the other hand, it would be highly undesirable to install in the square costly local improvements which would either aggravate the present conditions by inviting an increased amount of traffic into the square or which would become antiquated when the needed street changes of the neighborhood have been carried out.

In reviewing the methods suggested below by which the local problem can be taken in hand, I make the assumption that the general street improvement program already described is to receive attention immediately with the result that in a year or two substantial reductions in the number of vehicles unnecessarily forced through the square would be brought about.

The future development of the Boston Elevated lines in or under Governor square is also a factor of uncertainty. There are indications that the importance of the Beacon street car lines may become less and therefore that the construction of a subway from Governor square under Beacon street to the vicinity of Audubon circle should not be undertaken until a forecast can be made. On the other hand there is good reason to believe that the permanence of the Commonwealth avenue line for rapid transit is assured though the time at which moneys can be found for the extension of a subway beneath Governor square to Commonwealth avenue is uncertain. Evidently the elimination of surface car lines from Governor square would vastly simplify the problem of local traffic control, and the day when this improvement can be brought about is eagerly awaited.

Obviously, all the methods which have been suggested in the press for the local improvement of traffic conditions would be simplified and made more efficient by the removal of the tracks.

Of the many ingenious plans for handling the local traffic of the square, I recommend trying out, by actual experiment in the square itself, the simplest and least costly first. The plan for eliminating all left turns, routing Beacon street traffic (in the square) in one direction only, keeping the northerly lane of that traffic stream constantly moving, and indicating by electric signals in all distant parts of the square the appropriate movement for each of the four periods of direction change, might be tried first. This plan has been studied in detail by the subcommittee on street traffic of the Boston Chamber of Commerce in consultation with the Police Department and other interested departments. I suggest, however, that the electrical signaling devices should be installed temporarily until the location and kind of each signal has been thoroughly tested by the peculiar requirements of the parts of the square and approaching streets to which they are assigned.

During the course of these experiments, and others which have been suggested, much light will be thrown upon the feasibility of reducing the number of empty trolley-car movements across Massachusetts avenue by confining some of these movements to the center of the square within a larger reserved area and by relegating some of them to Beacon street east of the bridge where new cross-overs could be tried out at very small cost and without committing either the city or the railroad authorities to the permanency of such installations until their efficacy is established. If the number of these empty car movements which are not timed with corresponding vehicular movements can be reduced, the gain to vehicular movements will be substantial. Moreover, the nearer waiting trolley cars can be brought to the edge of the narrowest feasible vehicular lanes between Commonwealth avenue and Beacon street, the more rapidly such cars can make the crossing and to that degree the less will be the interruption to vehicular movements. Temporary movable fences used to define the vehicular lanes and the reserved spaces required for the safe operation of trolleys are available for such experimental use.

During such studies upon the ground under actual traffic conditions, further consideration could be given to the extension or limitation of parking privileges, the routing of inward-bound commercial vehicles at rush hours and at normal periods through Beacon street, through Charlesgate East, and subsequently through Kenmore street and Newbury street (in case the latter is extended under the parkway) and through the extensions of Mountfort street and Lansdowne street (in case these improvements are adopted).

Undoubtedly the full capacity of the square to meet the present demands upon it can be increased by these experiments as it has been increased in the past by new routings, new equipments for the traffic officers, new uses of tracks and platforms, and other changes. Through the efforts of the Police Department the dangers and delays in the square have not increased in proportion to the growth of traffic. Improved methods of traffic control have pretty much kept pace with the needs. Remedial measures of this kind have by no means been exhausted. Scarcely a month passes without the discovery of some new device or technique which aids the work of traffic control in Boston as in other cities. In the same time motor drivers have learned to respond more willingly and more promptly to the requirements of officers and they are finding new routes to use during rush hours. They are also learning to time their trips when possible to avoid moments when congestion is at a maximum.

During the course of these local traffic studies and improvements valuable time will be gained to bring into existence the highway improvements which are needed to reduce the number of vehicles unnecessarily forced to pass through the square. Useful time will be gained also for the necessary future extension of the subway beyond Governor square without loss of opportunity to study it in all its phases and with assurance that the moment for making the great expenditure of money involved and for carrying on the disturbing work of construction has been chosen for a time when the highways of the region about the square are functioning to make the facilities most useful and the interruptions incident to building operations least objectionable.

TRAFFIC COUNTS AND TRAFFIC VOLUMES

The traffic counts made during the past season and tabulated by the Street Traffic Subcommittee of the Chamber of Commerce have been used in this study. Graphs showing the volume of traffic at all hours of the day were compiled, also graphic representations and tables of the direction and volumes of traffic streams, the proportion of commercial trucks in each stream as compared with pleasure vehicles, not only in Governor square itself but in the adjacent tributary streets, from 8.45 a. m. to 11 a. m.; 12 noon to 2 p. m.; and 3.30 p. m. to 6 p. m. The above material is appended to this report.

STREET WIDTHS AND SUBDIVISIONS.

A compiled plan showing the width of street locations, sidewalks, and traveled ways for all highways and park roads within this two mile region is appended to this report.

STREETS EAST AND WEST OF THE GOVERNOR SQUARE BOTTLE NECK.

The capacity in vehicular lanes of the streets leading from the east and from the west to Governor square in comparison with the actual number of such lanes at the square itself are shown on plan No. 1. On the east there are twenty-one (21), on the west twenty-two (22), and at the square seventeen (17).

RESTRICTIONS ON USE OF TRUCKS.

Plan No. 2 shows the location and width of streets near Governor square upon which trucks are excluded, or upon which limitations are placed during certain hours of the day, or upon the tonnage or tires of such vehicles.

PARKING RESTRICTIONS.

Plan No. 3 shows the location and width of streets upon which parking is restricted to assist the movement of nearby vehicular streams.

TRAFFIC CONTROL STUDIES.

Two plans are appended, No. 8 and No. 9, showing data prepared by the Chamber of Commerce and reproduced by its courtesy indicating the number of vehicular movements which are possible in the square without intelligent control, the number of these which may be eliminated, and for comparison the number which occur at a normal right angular street junction. Three plans are also attached, No. 10, No. 11 and No. 12, showing the three periods of traffic control which the Chamber of Commerce has suggested to be put into operation tentatively as an experiment during the course of which other alternative routings might be tried. The manager of the Boston Elevated Road has signified his willingness to participate in these studies by routing the electric cars to correspond and if necessary by the construction of special switches or cross-overs and the installation of temporary guard fences.

Respectfully submitted,
ARTHUR A. SHURTLEFF.

MAYOR'S BENJAMIN FRANKLIN MESSAGE.

On January 17 Mayor Nichols sent the following message of greeting to the San Francisco Printers Board of Trade at their banquet celebrating the birth of Benjamin Franklin:

It is a great pleasure to extend to you the greetings of Boston as well as my own. The cradle place of the man whose birthday you celebrate gladly joins you in the commemoration of the two hundred and twenty-first anniversary of that birthday. I am glad to be the instrument through which this great city joins you in remembrance of the life of the man who has become known as a great Bostonian.

Benjamin Franklin was born in an humble home at what is now 17 Milk street, Boston, on January 17, 1706. He died in Philadelphia April 17, 1790. At the age of eleven he was withdrawn from school to become an apprentice to his father, a tallow chandler and soap boiler. After two years as a mechanic under his father, he became a printer's apprentice under his brother, and ever after wished to be known first of all as a printer. Before all other titles he placed that of his chosen craft. As a printer he set on foot the first subscription library, the mother of all such in America, and it was as a printer that he wrote his essays, moralities, satires and sayings, as well as "Poor Richard's Almanac."

He was the most distinguished of Boston's native sons. He was a man of the people. In the historical annals of the past no man has more nobly illustrated the virtues of the humblest position or has felt with greater credit the higher stations of honor. Whether performing the labor of a printer's apprentice or receiving the adulation of the titled amid the brilliance of the Versailles salons, he always preserved the noble simplicity of his character. His example has inspired the hearts of the great mass of America. His life has stirred to a spirit of emulation that has builded and shaped the characters of every generation since his day.

The annals of Boston are enriched by the record of the birth of the illustrious Franklin.

The annals of our country are enriched by the record of his public career, and the annals of mankind have been enriched by the record of his wisdom and his philanthropy.

He was Boston's second greatest benefactor. He bequeathed 1,000 pounds sterling to the city to be kept at interest for 100 years to be expended "for whatever that may make living in the town more convenient to its people," et cetera. Out of this fund has come the Franklin Foundation with the Franklin Trade School, which aids apprentices for trades to establish themselves.

His statue was placed in position in the front of City Hall with elaborate ceremony on September 17, 1856, the two hundred and twenty-sixth municipal birthday of Boston, and 150 years after the birthday of its illustrious citizen.

I could give to you no better message than to say, "Let us ever cherish the memory of Franklin, let us emulate his virtues, and thereby elevate our own standard of character."

EXTENSION OF CONTRACT.

DeCristoforo and Brothers Company have been granted an extension of the time of completion of the contract for the building of sewerage works in View South avenue, West Roxbury, from December 31, 1926, to January 15, 1927 (15 days).

LEGISLATIVE MEASURES BY THE MAYOR.

Mayor Nichols has filed in the Legislature, in line with his address to the Council, a measure to distribute among cities and towns one half of the registration fees, a measure for a gasoline tax of two cents per gallon, the entire amount of which would be distributed among cities and towns, and a measure to return the automobile fines to the county where they originated rather than to the state. At the present time Boston pays all of the expenses of Suffolk County, but is not permitted to retain the fines which go into the State Treasury.

The Mayor expressed himself as sure that the Legislature would relieve cities and towns of the state in the burden which they now carry by having to provide and maintain thoroughfares for an enormous automobile traffic, which in ten years has increased from 136,809 in 1916 to 826,224 in 1926.

The Mayor again laid emphasis on the fact that the traffic burden placed upon cities was now so great that it was unfair to ask cities to take out of the tax levy the sums required for the building of expensive traffic thoroughfares.

The Mayor stated that the City of Boston was facing a problem which required the earnest attention of the Legislature, and that he had no doubt that legislation would be enacted this year to help cities and towns by giving them money from the revenue collected from the gasoline tax, and from distribution of fines.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Upon January 13 the Mayor approved a contract with Simpson Brothers Corporation for construction of a tunnel at Arlington square. A communication from J. H. Sullivan of the Public Works Department was as follows:

BOSTON, January 12, 1927.

To the Honorable the Mayor.

In the City Record of September 4 and 11, proposals were invited for the construction of a concrete tunnel with steel pipe shafts under the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad and the Boston and Albany Railroad at Arlington square, city proper. The proposals were opened on September 21, at 12 noon, and of the nine bidders William Barrett & Co. was the lowest bidder, at $72,700.

Shortly after the opening of the bids, and prior to your Honor's approval being requested, I notified the Barrett Company that they were the lowest bidder and that the contract would be awarded to them. Thereupon a member of the Barrett Company appeared and stated that they would not accept the contract because a serious error had been made in their bid by their bookkeeper who had transposed certain figures in their proposal blank. The next lowest bidder was Simpson Brothers Corporation, whose bid was $100,000.

At this conference I suggested to the officer of the Barrett Company before making the formal award to his company that he should supply me with information that I might be satisfied that an error had been made and that it would be for the best interest of the city to reject his bid. Thereupon the Barrett Company furnished me with certain information which indicated that an error had been made. On October 16 your Honor gave your approval for the award of this contract to the Barrett Company which expressed unwillingness to accept the contract.

I have carefully reviewed this whole matter, have investigated more thoroughly the entire situation, have consulted further with my Division Engineer, Mr. Carven, whose estimate for this work is $162,100. As a result of my further investigation and additional inquiries, I do not believe it would be possible for the contractor to complete this work for the sum bid by him; that, undoubtedly, the city would be the loser as well as the contractor, that even with the bond which the contractor would supply for the faithful performance of the contract, in my opinion the city would still be the loser.

Under the circumstances I do not think it can be said that the Barrett Company can be regarded as the lowest responsible bidder, and I therefore would not feel like awarding the contract to the said company even if they were willing to accept it; on the other hand, as the city has suffered no loss, I would recommend that their check be released.

The range of bids indicates that a readvertising of this contract might result in bidding considerably higher than the second lowest bidder. Therefore, it is my recommendation that the contract be awarded to Simpson Brothers Corporation, which is the lowest responsible bidder, at $100,000.

Yours respectfully,

J. H. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SHIP CAPTAIN RECEIVED BY MAYOR.

Mayor Nichols announced on January 19 that he had received at his office Capt. John McMillan, commander of the steamer "City of Baroda." Captain McMillan began his seafaring career about thirty-two years ago, and for twenty-five years has been in command of vessels of the Hall line. In Captain McMillan's opinion, Boston has the best port in the country. He stated that his vessels receive quicker dispatch here than at any other port. The big shipment brought in on this particular trip will be all unloaded and the steamer ready to leave here tomorrow.

The "Baroda" is now unloading at the Army Base, South Boston, one of the largest and richest cargoes ever shipped from the Far East to the port of Boston. The cargo is valued at approximately $2,000,000, including among other consignments, 10,000 packages of raw rubber, each package valued at $100, making a total value of the rubber alone of $1,000,000.

This rubber was loaded at Singapore, part of the consignment being destined for Akron, where it will be used in the manufacture of rubber tires, and part of it to the factories at Chicopee Falls. The steamer also brought hemp from the Philippines, tea from Ceylon, wool, tapioca, gambier, rattans, from Singapore, gallnuts from Hankow, grass from Port Swettingham; shellac from Colombo, and consignments of spices, silks, skins, and other products of Oriental countries. An unusual shipment was a consignment of 402 pieces of lumber from the Philippines.

TO PRESENT MEDALS TO SEA HEROES.

Mayor Nichols, on Monday, January 24, at noon, will present to members of the S.S. "West Harecuvar" awards that have been made to them by the Life Saving Benevolent Association of New York, in recognition of the heroic rescue made by the crew in February of 1926, at sea. The S.S. "West Harecuvar," owned by the United States Shipping Board is a vessel plying in the regular service of the Yankee Line, operated by Messrs. Rogers & Webb, 110 State street, Boston, in their regular service from Boston to Hamburg and Bremen. The vessel was manned by a crew consisting entirely of New England men.

On January 23, 1926, the "West Harecuvar" sailed from Hamburg, Germany, bound for Boston with a full cargo of general merchandise. After proceeding down the English Channel the vessel encountered heavy gales practically the entire trip. The vessel is commanded by Capt. L. F. McLain, who is characteristic of the men who grow up in ships along the coast of Maine, and Patrick Driscoll of Dorchester as chief officer.

In the early morning of February 5, during these heavy gales, the lookout of the "West Harecuvar" sighted a two-master schooner approximately seven miles away, flying signals. As is customary at sea, the "West Harecuvar" immediately changed her course and proceeded in the direction of the schooner to determine what signals she was flying. These signals proved to be distress signals, and as the schooner was without wireless, it was necessary to communicate by signals.

The captain of the schooner informed Captain McLain that his schooner was in a sinking condition and requested to be taken off immediately. Volunteers were asked for to man the lifeboats and every member of the crew volunteered. It was not necessary, however, that they all should man this boat, therefore Chief Officer Driscoll in charge picked up his lifeboat crew, consisting of himself, Third Officer Arthur Hayes, Fred Sorensen, Chris Bjornsgaard, Fred Bengston, E. Corbett and L. Chicoine.

The "West Harecuvar" was maneuvered so that it was possible to launch the lifeboat and with great difficulty the boat was put out and proceeded to the schooner. Upon arriving at the schooner she was found to be the "Muguet," a French vessel of about 800 tons burden, loaded with salt. Having experienced the gales the "West Harecuvar" had been through she had lost her sails, and her bulwarks along the sides of the vessel had been washed away, deck planking ripped up and the main boom gone. The hull was in a very battered condition and leaking badly and prior to sighting the "West Harecuvar" the crew of the schooner had been without food or water for approximately twelve days and the only means of sustaining life was a small quantity of wine and pepper.

Prior to the sighting of the "West Harecuvar" the "Muguet" had already lost overboard two men of the crew. During the rescue the seas were breaking over the "Muguet" constantly, making the work of rescue difficult and dangerous. The first to be taken off the schooner was a small boy of thirteen years of age and his pet dog, Lulu. The last to leave the schooner was the captain, as the vessel at that time was practically sinking. In addition to these two, there were two members of the crew also rescued, all being French sailors. After the crew had been taken off the lifeboat proceeded on its return to the "Harcuvar" and experienced great difficulty in getting back on board on account of the heavy roll and pitching of the steamer. The only accident that occurred was in the case of Chief Officer Driscoll who fractured two ribs when the lifeboat was caught in the heavy sea and dashed against the side of the "Harcuvar," throwing Mr. Driscoll across the lifeboat. It required great seamanship to effect this rescue and fortunately no lives were lost.

The "Harcuvar" then headed for Boston and fortunately had sighted the schooner at the very best time during the entire trip, as shortly after the rescue was made the gale increased and the steamer experienced such weather that the decks were awash for three days thereafter. The rescued crew were placed in the hands of the steward who gave them every possible attention and they arrived in Boston in good condition and were turned over to the French Consul and then returned to their homes in France.

The "West Harcuvar" arrived in Boston on another voyage from Germany and Monday noon, next, has been fixed as the time when Mayor Nichols will make the awards. These awards will come as a complete surprise to the entire crew involved in the rescue.

Rogers & Webb, operating the Yankee Line service from Boston to Hamburg and Bremen, have been operating this service for the past five years. It is one of the oldest firms engaged in the shipping business in Boston. Prior to and during the war they were engaged in the operation of a number of vessels which have plied to all ports of the world in previous years. They are now engaged in the operation of steamers from this port in the upbuilding of foreign trade in this territory. The awards are as follows:

L. F. McLain, captain of the steamship "West Harcuvar." Large gold medal suitably inscribed.

Patrick Driscoll, chief officer of steamship "West Harcuvar." Large gold medal with a suitable inscription setting forth that he was in command of the lifeboat that made this heroic rescue.

Arthur Hayes, third officer of steamship "West Harcuvar." Gold medal pin and $25 in gold.

Fred Sorenson, boatswain, steamship "West Harcuvar." Bronze medal pin and $25 in gold.

Chris Bjornsgaard, sailor, steamship "West Harcuvar." Bronze medal pin and $25 in gold.

Fred Bengston, sailor, steamship "West Harcuvar." Bronze medal pin and $25 in gold.

E. Corbett, sailor, steamship "West Harcuvar." Bronze medal pin and $25 in gold.

L. Chicoine, bronze medal and $25 in gold.

Unfortunately some of these men have since left the steamship "West Harcuvar," and as is customary with sailors, failed to leave their proper address, and at this time it is impossible to locate some of them. Some of them are employed on other vessels operated by Rogers & Webb, and will not be available for the presentation of the awards, but they will be presented to them upon their return to this port. The captain, chief officer and boatswain are on the "West Harcuvar" on this present voyage, together with some of the sailors who manned the lifeboat.

Of the twelve leading American cities, eight are larger in land area than Boston, viz., Los Angeles (364 sq. miles), New York (318), Chicago (199.4), Philadelphia (129), Baltimore (91.9), Detroit (80), Cleveland (56.6), and St. Louis (61.25). The only city in Massachusetts with larger land area is Taunton (50 sq. mi.).

If Boston should expand by annexations as New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and others have expanded, its total area, in case of including the 39 cities and towns within the 15-mile radius, would exceed the largest, viz., Los Angeles, the present land area of "Greater Boston" being 409.3 square miles.

North and northwest of Boston are situated 11 of the cities and 12 of the towns; south and southwest, 2 cities and 14 towns.

APPROPRIATION FOR EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 17, 1927.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen—I am informed that the funds for the maintenance of the Employment Bureau are practically exhausted, and I feel that the work which is being performed by this Bureau should be continued, and I consequently recommend the adoption of the accompanying order providing that the sum of $15,000 be appropriated for the further maintenance of this Bureau.

Respectfully yours,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $15,000 be and hereby is appropriated to be expended by the Municipal Employment Bureau, under the direction of the Mayor, in the prosecution of its duties; said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund, when made.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

TRANSFER TO BROADWAY BRIDGE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 17, 1927.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—Under date of August 4, 1926, your honorable body approved a loan order of $70,000 for the rebuilding of spans 11 and 12 of the Broadway Bridge over the main line tracks of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad in South Boston. Within the last week bids have been received on this item and it now develops that because of certain changes it has been necessary to make in the original design for the rebuilding that the original amount appropriated will not be sufficient to permit the award of the contract to the low bidder. In the opinion of the Public Works Commissioner, an addition of $10,000 will be necessary to the original amount appropriated. A balance remains in the loan appropriation originally issued for the reconstruction of the Massachusetts Avenue Bridge sufficient to cover the extra amount required for the Broadway Bridge, and, in accordance with the suggestion of the Public Works Commissioner, I am submitting herewith an order providing for the transfer of $10,000 from this unexpended balance. I respectfully recommend adoption of this order by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Massachusetts Avenue Bridge, $10,000, to the appropriation for Broadway Bridge, South Boston, $10,000.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

Office of the Mayor, January 17, 1927.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I submit herewith an order for the providing of an expenditure in the sum of $1,000,000 for the Street Laying-Out Department, Highways, Making of, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 393 of the Acts of 1906, and respectfully request an early approval of the same by your honorable body so that advantage may be taken of the possibilities of early spring in the preparation of plans for new streets.

Yours respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

In Board of Street Commissioners,
January 17, 1927.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.
Dear Sir,—The $1,000,000 loan for highways for the year 1926 has been wholly apportioned. This leaves us without funds for the making of new streets for the current year.

The Board recommends to your Honor the early introduction and passage of the loan order for 1927, so that every advantage may be taken for preliminary work, making of plans, etc.

If this is done an appreciable amount of time may be saved.

Respectfully,
For the Board of Street Commissioners,
THOMAS J. HURLEY, Chairman.

Ordered, That the sum of $1,000,000 be and hereby is appropriated for Highways, Making of, under the provisions of chapter 393 of the Acts of 1905, and that to meet said appropriation the treasurer be authorized to issue from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount. Referred to the Committee on Finance.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON BUDGET CONTROL.

Coun. PARKMAN, for the Special Committee on Budget Control, submitted the following report:

REPORT OF THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE

APPOINTED BY THE CITY COUNCIL, NOVEMBER 15, 1926, TO CONFER AND REPORT THEIR FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS IN REGARD TO BUDGET CONTROL.

Boston, January 10, 1927.

In accordance with the following order of the City Council, dated November 15, 1926, the undersigned committee submits this report.

"Ordered, That the Chair appoint two members of the Council as a committee to confer with his Honor the Mayor, the City Auditor, the Budget Commissioner, and the Superintendent of Supplies with a view to providing by ordinance or otherwise for an effective control of expenditures in all city and county departments, in accordance with the intent and terms of the annual budget and appropriation bill, and

That the said committee report the result of such conference, together with its findings and recommendations, not later than the first meeting of the Council in the year 1927."

Your committee has conferred with the City Auditor, the Budget Commissioner, and the Superintendent of Supplies at various times, has exchanged correspondence with the Committee on Municipal and Metropolitan Affairs of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, the Municipal Administration Service of the National Municipal League, and with other individuals of experience who are interested in the finances of the City of Boston. In addition the Bureau of Administration and Finance of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts has been consulted in regard to the operation of the state's budget system, and such investigation has been made as time and circumstances have permitted of the operation of the city's budget system. It has also, as the Council's order directed, conferred with his Honor the Mayor.

The present budget system was instituted in 1917 in charge of a budget commissioner, and since that time no change has been made in the method of its operation. The findings which the committee makes hereunder have reference simply and solely to certain defects of system which the committee believes to exist and not in any degree to its method of operation under any particular administration. It makes the following specific findings:

Findings.

(1) Under the present system there is no method for controlling expenditures to the specific physical items for which the city's money is originally requested in forming the budget, and appropriated in the annual appropriation bill.

(2) Under the existing system there is no method for limiting in advance the expenditure of money within any item to the amount limited by the budget and appropriation bill to that particular item.

1. Taking it for granted that the wisdom of the budget principle has been established by the test of time, not only in city finances but in those of the state and nation, your committee believes that it logically follows that the operation of the budget should not stop at the threshold with its framing by the Budget Commissioner and its acceptance in the Appropriation Bill by the City Council, but should continue throughout the year in an adequate control of expenditures to the purposes and the specific physical items for which the money was appropriated. Under existing conditions the Budget Commissioner's duties and his authority cease with the compilation of the budget upon the requests of the various department heads. In order that any item may appear in the Appropriation Bill in the first instance, the department head must satisfy the Budget Commissioner of the necessity of the particular physical thing which lies behind the mere figure in dollars and cents. And yet, though his authority must be obtained in the first place for the insertion of any item, and though he is the official responsible for the budget and most familiar with its details, he is without power to see that it is carried out. Purchases are made by requisition upon the Superintendent of Supplies who can and does honor them without reference to the Budget Commissioner, subject only to the Auditor's approval, who is not concerned with the control of expenditures to the purposes contemplated in the budget but solely with the auditing problem of whether or not there are sufficient funds remaining in that particular item to cover the purchase contemplated. Your committee is not prepared to state to what degree the budget principle has been, or is being violated on this branch of the inquiry, but it does find that this loophole exists, and that it opens the way to avoid the effective operation of the budget. It believes that, even allowing for unforeseen expenditures, and necessary elasticity, the budget as presenting a picture of materials to be bought, repairs to be made, and services to be rendered, may become under the existing scheme so distorted and altered by the end of the year as not to be recognizable. Items may be requested and obtained year after year under cover of a showing of necessity and yet never acquired; while other items for which no necessity exists or has been demonstrated may be purchased in their place.

2. The other loophole which the committee finds to exist in the present operation of the budget is in the lack of any effective pre-control of expenditures for any particular item to the amounts limited in the budget. Your committee intends to distinguish this finding from its first finding as being rather an auditing problem in the administration of the budget than one pertaining to the operation of the budget as applied to the physical things or services lying behind the figures themselves. To some extent one involves the other or rather may be the cause of the other, as the lack of control of expenditures for the purposes contemplated may give rise to expenditure in excess of the amount allowed. They differ perhaps more in the appropriate method of remedy than in their inherent nature. Theoretically if it were possible to estimate exactly in advance all the thousands of material, repairs, services, etc., which the city would require in the course of the year and their exact cost, then a control of expenditures to those physical items would solve all problems. Actually, of course, that can never be the case. The value and market price of commodities are continually fluctuating. There may still exist the power to exceed an appropriation though purchases are restricted to the items for which the money was appropriated, and there is no authority in the financial or other officials of the city to control in any degree the exercise of this power. Furthermore, there are, of course, many ways in which the city may be involved in expenses besides the purchase of equipment and supplies made through the Superintendent of Supplies.

The City Auditor and the Budget Commissioner have admitted that there is no "pre-control," but that "post-control" exists in the sense that the books in the Auditor's office reflect expenditures which have actually been made but do not reflect contracts or requisitions which may be outstanding. Your committee has considered section 16 of the City Charter of 1909 (Acts 1909, chapter 486) and recognizes the restriction imposed upon city officials thereunder not to expend in excess of appropriations "except in cases of extreme emergency involving the health or safety of the people or their property." This provision may, however, refer only to a total departmental appropriation and not to the exceeding of the appropriation for any particular item, though the appropriation order annually provides that the appropriation for any particular item shall not be exceeded by any head of department. Under the law, therefore, even under its strongest interpretation, the responsibility rests entirely with the department head to watch his balances for all the items in the appropriation for his department and to take care that he makes no contracts or requisitions the payment for which will involve exceeding the appropriation for any budget item. However, in spite of the prohibition, the end of the year, which sees a general cleaning up of all outstanding contracts and requisitions for the year, finds numerous items for which expenditure exceeds the appropriation. It has been stated to the committee that while this power to incur expense or commit the city to expense in excess of the appropriation for any particular budget item exists, it has not been exercised to a serious degree. However, it does exist and to some extent at least is a source of danger to the proper and effective operation of the budget. "Post-control" is not a preventive nor even a cure. It merely results in regularizing after the event an expenditure of money not originally contemplated. Your committee believes it to be desirable that the power to check the exceeding of appropriations rests with the financial officers of the city.

Your committee is convinced that the foregoing defects explain largely the excessive number of transfers every year which it feels to be an evil, and to indicate in some degree the failure of the budget in operation. It is pertinent to recall a paragraph from the report of the Budget Commission in 1915. (City Document 92, 1915, at page 13):

"Attention has been directed to the fact that the city auditor and the mayor can, by exercising their charter power of transfer, defeat the proposed or any form of segregated budget. This is theoretically true, but the commission assumes that the power to transfer appropriations . . . will not be used for any such purpose . . . and then the report of the Boston Finance Commission for 1922 (Mass. P. D., 88, page 25):

"The experience of the past five years has shown that a segregated budget may be made an aid to extravagance rather than a check upon it, because of the ease with which department heads can obtain transfers from one item to another, and even from one department to another. . . . In some departments it has become the practice at the end of the year to gather all unexpended items in the budget into one fund, — so easy is it to obtain transfers, — and to expend this sum for a purpose not mentioned in the segregated budget. . . .

"Unless transfers are scrutinized carefully, and department heads are required to show a necessary, urgent and unforeseen reason for each transfer, the segregated budget system as an aid to economy and efficiency not only fails, but becomes an inducement to extravagance. . . .

The City Auditor and the Mayor continually strive to effect an adequate supervision and control by the department heads, but unless some adequate control is lodged in the auditor's hands, he has not the power under present conditions to avoid the necessity for a large number of transfers which must be allowed and which might otherwise be unnecessary.

The City Council is familiar with the number of transfers which come before it beginning fairly early in the year and increasing in volume until November 15. Towards the latter part of this time they attain such numbers and involve such detail as to make the approval of the Council largely perfunctory, however earnest its intentions and sincere its desire for careful investigation. It seems to your committee that the time to apply the remedy is before the necessity for the transfer arises, and that if a remedy can be found for the two defects considered above the need for many transfers will be found to disappear and the budget system be by so much more effective in operation. Your committee finds therefore that it is desirable in the interests of economy and efficiency that means be devised to control expenditures to the specific physical items for which appropriation was made, and to limit expenditure for any item to the amount allowed for such item in advance of the expenditure being incurred.

Recommendations.

In considering what recommendation this committee should make to the Council it gave initial attention to the order which directed it to confer "with a view to providing by ordinance" for the desired control. It appears there may be certain difficulties in so doing under existing law and your committee is not prepared to recommend an ordinance on the subject. That being so, the jurisdiction of the City Council, in view of the prohibition imposed upon it under section 8 of the City Charter, would not extend to any action involving a taking part in the conduct of the executive or administrative business of the city. However, your committee is glad to report that it has received the utmost co-operation from the executive officers of the city who have admitted the existence of the problem and indicated their willingness to solve it.

As to (1) the Auditor and the Budget Commissioner state as follows:

"Under our present budget system the specific physical units which make up or lie behind the appropriation under any one item are lost sight of immediately upon the passage of the budget by the City Council.

"It would appear feasible for the Budget Department to co-operate with the Supply Department in regard to the purchases which the latter department makes after receiving requisitions from department heads. At the present time, these requisitions constitute the sole authority for the conduct of the purchasing activities of the Supply Department. This latter department has very little interest in the appropriation side of the picture, since naturally, the department assumes that no requisition would be made unless an appropriation was available. It would seem desirable in the interest of efficiency that the Supply Department should consider the appropriation side of the picture, and this consideration could be very easily effected by the Supply Department referring all departmental requisitions to the Budget Department for approval before starting in any way the machinery of purchase. . . .

As to (2) they say:

"At the present time, the books in the Auditor's office reflect the expenditures which have actually been made by the different departments and which have been allowed by the Auditor's force as being within the original amounts appropriated. In other words, the control which is now exercised may be termed as post-control. To exercise pre-control, as is contemplated, it would be necessary to establish a system providing for the encumbering of appropriations as requisitions orders are issued. Under such a system, before any requisition could be honored, it would be necessary to check the estimated purchase cost against the unencumbered balance. Approval of the requisition and subsequent purchase of the material requested would only follow provided the unencumbered balance was sufficient to cover the estimated purchase cost.

"The main criticism against this proposal is that the installation of such a system would double the accounting records of the city, since it would be practically necessary to duplicate the records now kept in the Auditor's office.

His Honor the Mayor has stated to the committee that he would put the first recommendation in effect at once by means of instructions to the Budget Commission and the Superintendent of Supplies and as to the second stated that he would take the matter up further with the City Auditor and consider the feasibility of the proposal.

Your committee recommends therefore that the Council take no action at this time, but that it continue to observe the operation of the budget in order to see whether or not effective control can be obtained by executive order, or whether it is advisable to consider further whether legislation or ordinance may be necessary.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY PARKMAN, JR.
JOHN J. HEFFERNAN.

The report was accepted, and ordered printed as a city document, on motion of Coun. BUSH.

BOILERS WITHIN THE JAIL.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I rise for information in connection with the report of the Committee on the Inspection of Prisons, which was presented at the last meeting and spread on the records without being read. I find on page 10 of the minutes of the City Council this statement of the committee:

"The presence of these boilers within the jail building constitutes a constant menace to the safety of officers and inmates."

The information which I solicit through the Chairman is, in what respect are these boilers a menace? Are they unfit, found lacking as a result of inspection, or in what respect are they unfit?

Coun. LYNCH—Mr. President, while these boilers are not really unfit, they are not in the best of condition. They are in the center of the building and if anything happened—that is, if they blew up in any way, the building itself would be gone and no inmate would have a chance to escape. It has been considered for the past six or seven years that these boilers should be outside the building itself.

Coun. GUILD—I would like to have information upon one other point, if I may. Would boilers which in the opinion of the committee were altogether safe constitute a menace if located in the jail building, or isn't it possible to have any boilers inside the jail building without jeopardizing the lives and safety of the inmates?

Coun. LYNCH—It is considered unsafe to have the boilers in the center of the building.

Coun. GUILD—So the recommendation of the committee is that no boilers of any description should be inside the building?

Coun. LYNCH—Yes.

PROPOSED DARTMOUTH STREET BRIDGE.

Coun. GUILD offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council hereby favors the enactment by the General Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts of legislation to authorize the construction of Dartmouth Street Bridge, between the cities of Boston and Cambridge, and for authority to meet the expense by loan outside the limit of indebtedness.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I would like to state in introducing that resolution that under a new rule of the Massachusetts Legislature—Joint Rule No. 7B, I think—petitions for legislation for pensions, for expenditure of money outside the debt limit, and for two or three other kinds of bills involving expenditure, are by the rule now referred to the next annual session, unless the cities concerned give their approval in advance. This is a more or less perfunctory matter, enabling the bill introduced into the Legislature on that subject to be referred to the proper committee and to have hearings held this year, instead of being held up for a year. The city of Cambridge, I am informed, has already given its consent to the enactment of legislation along the lines indicated by the resolution I have introduced. I move, therefore, a suspension of the rule and the passage of the resolve.

The resolve was passed under a suspension of the rule.

PENSION TO WIDOW OF DANIEL T. DINEEN.

Coun. WRAGG offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation to continue the pension heretofore allowed to the widow of Daniel T. Dineen, late a member of the Fire Department.

Coun. WRAGG—Mr. President, this resolution that I have introduced comes within the same category as that specified by the councilor from Ward 19 (Coun. Guild). I would, therefore, ask the suspension of the rule for its passage.

The resolution was passed under a suspension of the rule.

INCREASE FOR FIREMEN.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to include in the budget for 1927 a provision for an increase in salary of $200 a year for each private in the service of the Boston Fire Department.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAVING OF HAROLD STREET.

Coun. BUSH offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth paving Harold street, Ward 12.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAVING OF MAPLE STREET.

Coun. BUSH offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave Maple street, Ward 12, with smooth paving.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PENSION RIGHTS OF JAMES J. MAHAR.

Coun. GILBODY offered the following:
Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston favors the enactment of legislation for the restoration of the standing of James J. Mahar as a member of the Boston Retirement System.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, that order comes in the same category as the one referred to in the remarks of Coun. Guild. What he said is also applicable to this resolution, and I move its passage under suspension of the rule.

The resolution was passed under suspension of the rule.

REINSTATEMENT OF DAVID M. CLEARY.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:
Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation for the reinstatement in the Fire Department of the City of Boston of David M. Cleary.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BRANCH LIBRARY ON BUNKER HILL STREET.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Trustees of the Boston Public Library be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish a branch library on Bunker Hill street, Charlestown Heights.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RETIREMENT ALLOWANCE TO JOHN H. DUNN.

Coun. MAHONEY offered the following:
Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston hereby favors the enactment of legislation to authorize the payment of a retirement allowance to John H. Dunn.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ARC LIGHTS ON FATHER BUCKLEY PLAYGROUND.

Coun. MAHONEY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install two arc lights on the Father Buckley Playground on West Third street, South Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAVING OF HARRISON AVENUE.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave Harrison avenue, from Union Park street to Dudley street, Ward 8, with smooth paving.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAVING OF DUDLEY STREET.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave Dudley street, between Harrison avenue and Blue Hill avenue, Ward 8, with smooth paving.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INVESTIGATION OF GARBAGE COLLECTION.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:
Ordered, That a committee of five members of the City Council be appointed to investigate the system of collection of ashes and garbage throughout the city, and to report their findings to the City Council, together with such recommendations as they deem appropriate.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I believe it is about time, before the City Council passes the budget for another year, to find out what the subcontractors who are collecting garbage throughout the City of Boston are really doing, and if they are doing the work for which they are getting paid. I believe every member of the Council realizes and knows too well the clause in the contract they have with the City of Boston that calls upon them to employ none but citizens; yet every councilor knows that if he applies to any of these subcontractors, with the possible exception of one, and tries to place a citizen at work, he will get turned down flat. I believe it is about time that the subcontractors should stop putting aliens at work when citizens are available. We have a civil service list, and there are plenty of men on that list who should be employed by the contractors, if only for from three to six months. I think the citizens of Boston ought to know the difference in cost between having contractors do this business and having it done by the City of Boston. I believe every householder is interested in the collection of ashes and garbage, and I think it is about time that the contractors should give to our citizens and taxpayers at least courteous treatment and fair consideration, instead of insulting people when they call for garbage and ashes.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WIDENING OF FANEUIL STREET.

Coun. HEFFERNAN offered the following:
Resolved, That the Boston City Council hereby favors the enactment by the General Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts of legislation to authorize the widening of Faneuil street, Brighton, and for authority to meet the expense by loan outside the limit of indebtedness.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, that is another order that comes within the classification referred to by Coun. Guild. This is merely in order that the legislation may be admitted at the State House, under the rule.

The resolution was passed under suspension of the rule.

REIMBURSEMENT TO JAMES O. JORDAN.

Coun. DOWLING offered the following:
Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation to authorize the city to reimburse James O. Jordan for an execution paid by him as a result of a suit on account of his acts as an employee of the Health Department.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BALLOTS FOR PRESIDENT.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I move you, sir, that we proceed to the election of a president.

Coun. GUILD—And I move to amend the motion, Mr. President, that if we elect a president it be to serve until December 31, 1927.

Coun. Guild's amendment was adopted, and the motion as amended was carried. The Clerk called the roll and the members when their names were called announced their choice, as follows:

For Charles G. Keene—Coun. Bush, Englert, Guild, Keene, Parkman, Ruby, Wilson, Wragg—8.

For John J. Heffernan—Coun. Donovan, Dowd, Fitzgerald, Gilbody, Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, Ward—9.

For Henry Parkman, Jr.—Coun. Dowling—1.

For Timothy F. Donovan—Coun. Freeley, McMahon—3.

Chairman DOWLING—The result of the ballot is, 1 for Parkman, 3 for Donovan, 8 for Keene, and 9 for Heffernan, and there is no choice.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I now move that we proceed to take another ballot for president. The motion was carried, and the Clerk called the roll, with the following result:

For Charles G. Keene—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Englert, Guild, Keene, Parkman, Ruby, Wilson, Wragg—9.

For John J. Heffernan—Coun. Donovan, Dowd, Fitzgerald, Freeley, Gilbody, Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, Ward—10.

For Timothy F. Donovan—Coun. Green, McMahon—2.

For Herman Bush—Coun. Dowling—1.

Chairman DOWLING—The result of the ballot just taken is 1 for Bush, 2 for Donovan, 9 for Keene, and 10 for Heffernan, and there is no choice.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I now move that we take a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I move that motion should be amended, that we take a recess for a certain period, if the Council wishes to take a recess at this time. With all due deference, I think it should be for fifteen minutes.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I simply have an idea that we might go into executive session at this time, as usual, and that is the reason for making the motion at this time. There are matters pending before us with which we should consider.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I would like to ask if there are some matters before the Executive Committee.

Chairman DOWLING—There are a number of matters before the Executive Committee.

Coun. RUBY—That is the object of my motion, Mr. President.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I see no real reason why the Council should take a recess at this time. I believe we have some business to attend to. The most important business before us at the present time is the election of a president. I believe it is our duty to stay here, if possible, until such time as we may agree upon a president. I cannot understand why an effort should be made to take a recess of this kind, at this time.

Chairman DOWLING—The question is on the motion to take a recess.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, my object in moving that we take a recess is simply, now that the preliminary business of the session is out of the way, that we may, as usual, act in executive session upon the matters that come before us, thresh them out and report them back to this body for action. To my mind, the business of electing a president to the Council is of no greater importance than the transaction of the business of the City of Boston. I was not elected to come here and allow other business to take precedence over the business of the city, and to my mind the business of the city is as important, and I believe it is to most of the other members of the Council, as the election of a president. To me, the election of a president is incidental, and the city's business comes first. I made the motion for that reason, because we adjourned last Monday without even going into executive session, although there were pending before us certain matters which had been sent to us by his Honor the Mayor, together with other matters that have come up today, that have been referred to the Executive Committee. I think the election of a president ought not to surpass or override the business we have before us. For that reason I made the motion—not that we go into caucus, not that we go into private conference, but that we go into executive session, and take care of the business that we should take care of. We can then come back and I shall be willing to stay until midnight, if necessary, on the question of electing a president, staying until a president is elected. But I do think we should go through the regular order of business, continuing with that until it is completed, and then elect a president.

(At this point speeches were made by Coun. Green and Heffernan, which were later stricken from the record.)

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I hope the motion of Coun. Ruby will prevail, and that we will take a recess. I am not going into any lengthy argument, or going to wash any dirty linen, but will simply say that, while we are a nonpartisan body, it is only fair that we take a recess so that the Democrats may arrive at some fair decision in this matter. Of course, we are elected as a nonpartisan body, but many of us are elected from Democratic districts, and whatever honors we have received in the past we got through Democratic votes. I have served in the Massachusetts House of Representatives and the Massachusetts Senate, and whatever honors I got I got from the Democrats of my district; and whatever honors any Democrat here has received he has received as a Democrat and not as a nonpartisan, and is there a Democrat here who, when he was a candidate for the City Council, would have dared to openly say that he would do other than follow Democratic doctrines? It is unfortunate that the Councilor from Charlestown (Coun. Green) made his speech and that Coun. Heffernan felt moved to say what he did, when we should all get together. Coun. Green may see the light and feel a little differently if the matter is intelligently debated and argued. But I want to say to the people of Boston that whatever difficulties the Democratic party here has gotten into are due to Democratic members, because at the beginning many of the members were not fair to each other, and I want to say that what Coun. Green said is so, that when I entered the Democratic caucus I saw only five in the chamber, and there were only five names in the hat; they pulled something out of the hat and left immediately when I entered.

Chairman DOWLING—The Chair would remind the Councilor that he is exceeding the scope of the motion to take a recess.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Excuse me, Mr. President. After the caucus was called and the matter was debated, it became evident that the Democrats had agreed on John J. Heffernan. Then the members went into caucus later and Heffernan received eight votes. Donovan had never released me; and it is a fact that certain Democrats would not vote for any Democrat who came from the Tenth Congressional District, notwithstanding the fact that no Democratic mayor can be elected who does not receive a majority in that district. Curley left Dover street with 5,700 majority, and many men, mayors and others holding public office, would never have been heard of but for the votes of Charlestown, East Boston and the ward I come from. Had it not been for the vote given by Charlestown, East Boston and my section, men who have become prominent in Dorchester and other parts of the city would never have been on the map—and history will prove it. The ward I come from has stood as a unit, a bulwark. It is unfair that this thing has taken place here, but we can get together in a caucus, and the people of this city are looking to us to do something. There are Democratic members of this Council who, as we know, in previous years have voted for a Republican. The records will prove that. Now they cry out in loud tones and cast insinuations. Personally, I have been with and have voted for Mr. Donovan for the presidency of this body, but I agreed at last that I could not vote for him longer, and I voted for Mr. Heffernan, who had the majority of the Democratic votes, and I apologize to none for my act. If Coun. Heffernan cannot get the Democrats, I think he is fair and will see the light. But he has at the present time received a majority of the Democratic votes, and I think it today the choice of the Democrats. Coun. Green has not perhaps been treated as he should be treated, on the basis of the record of himself and his family in the Democratic party. His father was a sterling member of that party, prominent in city, state and national politics, long before many who are here now were born, and his son has come after him as a staunch and loyal supporter and representative of that party. Coun. Donovan's father was one of the old wheel horses of the Democratic party, helping to make it what it is today, and served in the Council and in the House of Representatives. I have been identified with the party for years and years, and my people before me, and we have done something for the Democratic party and have had occasion to show what we could do. But we find this situation prevailing here. I say to all the Democrats present in this body, let us get together, let us have harmony in this matter. I say that, coming from the only district in Boston that maintains and has consistently maintained for years a Democratic organization, and men sitting in this body and serving here as representatives of the people can verify my statement that they are doing so with the help of the people of my ward. I have stood at the polls there until six o'clock on one of the toughest days we had, and the precinct where I was gave more votes to George Gilbody than he received in his own precinct in the ward he came from and that will be shown by the records. We have a Democratic organization, an organization that has existed for years, and an organization whose work counts on every election day. Let him look the records up and see if that is not so.

Coun. Ruby's motion, that the Council take a recess, subject to the call of the Chair, at 3.01 p. m. The members reassembled in the Chamber and were called to order by Chairman Dowling at 4.20 p. m.

ANOTHER BALLOT FOR PRESIDENT.

Coun. WARD—Mr. Chairman, I move that we proceed to ballot for a president.

Coun. GUILD—And I move as an amendment to the motion, Mr. President, for the term expiring December 31, 1927.

The amendment was adopted, and the motion as amended was carried.

The Clerk called the roll and the members when their names were called announced their choice, as follows:

For Charles G. Keene—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Englert, Guild, Keene, Parkman, Ruby, Wilson, Wragg—9.

For John J. Heffernan—Coun. Donovan, Dowd, Fitzgerald, Freeley, Gilbody, Green, Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, Ward—11.

For Henry Parkman, Jr.—Coun. Dowling—1.

For Timothy F. Donovan—Coun. McMahon—1.
Chairman DOWLING—The result of the ballot just taken gives 1 for Parkman, 1 for Donovan, 9 for Keene, and 11 for Heffernan, and there is no choice.

MOTION TO ADJOURN.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I move to adjourn.

The motion was declared lost. Coun. WILSON doubted the vote, and asked for the yeas and nays.

The motion to adjourn was lost, yeas 10, nays 12: Yeas—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Englert, Fitzgerald, Guild, Keene, Parkman, Ruby, Wilson, Wragg—10.

Nays—Coun. Donovan, Dowd, Dowling, Freeley, Gilbody, Green, Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, McMahon, Ward—12.

ADDITIONAL BALLOT FOR PRESIDENT.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I move that we proceed to ballot for a president.

Coun. WARD—And I move to amend, Mr. President, that it be for the term ending December 31, 1927.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. This Council will be through its duties early in January of the following year, 1928, when the Council will complete the duties for which it is elected and its term will terminate, the president whom we elect, therefore, automatically being no longer President of the Council.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, the councilor who has just spoken apparently misses the point of the amendment offered. The undertaking we are at present engaged in was precipitated by an alleged misunderstanding with regard to the term of office of a President of this Council, and the sole object of the amendment which has been offered by myself from time to time, and now by the councilor who sits at my right, is to avoid a repetition of the interesting proceeding we are now having at the expiration of say, four months or five months, when somebody becomes disgruntled.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I would like to be recorded in favor of Coun. Guild's remarks with the exception of the words "alleged misunderstanding."

Chairman DOWLING—The Chair would suggest, anyway, that the term would end the first Monday in January. That would be the correct date for the amendment, and if there is no objection the Chair will put the vote in that way.

The amendment, that the President, if elected, be elected for the term ending the first Monday in January, 1928, was adopted, and the motion to proceed to a vote for president, with that amendment, was carried.

The Clerk called the roll, and the members when their names were reached announced their choice as follows:

For Charles G. Keene—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Englert, Guild, Keene, Parkman, Ruby, Wilson, Wragg—9.

For John J. Heffernan—Coun. Donovan, Dowd, Fitzgerald, Freeley, Gilbody, Green, Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, Ward—11.

For Henry Parkman, Jr.—Coun. Dowling—1.

For Timothy F. Donovan—Coun. McMahon—1.
Chairman DOWLING—By the ballot taken, Coun. Parkman has received 1 vote, Coun. Donovan 1, Coun. Keene 9, and Coun. Heffernan 11, and there is no choice.

A MOTION TO ADJOURN.

Coun. WILSON moved to adjourn; declared lost.

Coun. GUILD moved that the Council take a recess for ten minutes; declared lost.

ANOTHER BALLOT FOR PRESIDENT.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I trust, sir, that on the next ballot, when we proceed to ballot for a presiding officer of this body, the members of the body who are in state politics known as Democrats shall follow through, so that their democracy cannot be questioned. I feel that perhaps there was a lot of truth in what the gentleman from Charlestown said awhile ago, although I am not at liberty now to discuss the proceedings in the caucus just held, because it was a secret caucus. But the gentleman from Charlestown impressed me, and I think impressed every other member of this Council who was in attendance at the caucus, by his frankness. He showed to me beyond the shadow of a doubt that he had entered into a gentleman's agreement that was so binding that it could not be broken without the consent of others. I can say, for the information of those who sit around this room, that we agreed to go through with the gentleman from Brighton whose name has been submitted for this office here, and the gentleman from Charlestown said, "I will show you that I am big enough to so vote as to avoid dissension in the party I love." The gentleman from Brighton releases us on this ballot and I hope that those here who desire to act in the interest of harmony will continue through the next two ballots to a third one, because at that time I feel that we can select one whose democracy can never be questioned, one who comes from a district the democracy of which has never been questioned. The name of the gentleman that I wish to submit to you now is the name of one who can preside as ably and as efficiently as any member of this Council. With all due respect to all the other members, and without further words, I hope that we will now vote to proceed to a ballot and to follow through for a real man in politics and in personal life, William G. Lynch of South Boston. I trust now, Mr. Chairman, that we will vote to proceed to the election of a president.

Coun. GUILD—And I renew my amendment, Mr. President, that it be for the term ending the first Monday in January, 1928.

The Council voted to proceed to the election of a president for the term ending the first Monday in January, 1928.

The Clerk called the roll, and as the members' names were reached, they voted for their choice, with the following result:

For Charles G. Keene—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Englert, Guild, Keene, Parkman, Ruby, Wilson, Wragg—9.

For William G. Lynch—Coun. Dowd, Freeley, Gilbody, Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, McMahon, Ward—9.

For Timothy F. Donovan—Coun. Donovan, Fitzgerald, Green—3.

For Henry Parkman, Jr.—Coun. Dowling—1.
Chairman DOWLING—The result of the ballot just taken is as follows: 1 for Coun. Parkman, 3 for Coun. Donovan, 9 for Coun. Keene, and 9 for Coun. Lynch, and there appears to be no choice.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. Chairman, I move you that we proceed to the election of a president.

Coun. GUILD—And, Mr. Chairman, I move the usual amendment, that it be for the term ending with the first Monday in January, 1928.

The amendment was adopted, and the motion as amended was carried.

The Clerk called the roll, with the following result:

For Charles G. Keene—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Englert, Guild, Keene, Parkman, Ruby, Wilson, Wragg—9.

For William G. Lynch—Coun. Dowd, Freeley, Gilbody, Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, McMahon, Ward—9.

For Timothy F. Donovan—Coun. Donovan, Fitzgerald, Green—3.

For Horace Guild—Coun. Dowling—1.

Chairman DOWLING—The result of the ballot just taken is, 1 for Coun. Guild, 3 for Coun. Donovan, 9 for Coun. Keene, and 9 for Coun. Lynch, and there is no choice.

A MOTION TO ADJOURN.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. Chairman, I move that we adjourn.

The motion was declared carried. Coun. DOWD doubted the vote and asked for a verification by yeas and nays.

The motion to adjourn was lost, yeas 9, nays 13: Yeas—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Englert, Guild, Keene, Parkman, Ruby, Wilson, Wragg—9.

Nays—Coun. Donovan, Dowd, Dowling, Fitzgerald, Freeley, Gilbody, Green, Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, McMahon, Ward—13.

RECESS.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. Chairman, I move that we take a recess for ten minutes.

The motion was declared lost. Coun. McGRATH doubted the vote and asked for a rising vote. The Council stood divided, and the motion prevailed, 11 to 8.

The Council took a recess at 4.45 p. m., and were called to order by Chairman DOWLING at 4.55 p. m.

Chairman DOWLING—The time having arrived to which the Council took a recess, the body will now come to order.

Coun. ARNOLD—Mr. Chairman, I move that we do now adjourn.

Coun. DONOVAN—Mr. Chairman, —
Chairman DOWLING—No debate is in order on a motion to adjourn.

The Council voted to adjourn at 4.58 p. m., to Monday, January 24, at 2 p. m.

PROCEEDINGS OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Jan. 3, 1927.

The meeting for organization of the School Committee of the City of Boston for the current municipal year was held in the Administration Building, 15 Beacon Street, at 5.07 o'clock P. M.

All the members of the Board, viz., Dr. Frederick L. Bogan, Mrs. Jennie Loitman Barron, Messrs. Francis C. Gray, William G. O'Hare and Edward M. Sullivan, were present.

The Board was called to order by Dr. Frederick L. Bogan, the senior member.

Dr. Bogan stated that under the provisions of Chapter 479 of the Acts of 1924—"An Act Providing for Biennial Elections in the City of Boston, etc.," the membership of the School Committee for the year 1927 is the same as that for the year 1926; namely, Jennie Loitman Barron, Frederick L. Bogan, Francis C. Gray, William G. O'Hare and Edward M. Sullivan.

ELECTION OF CHAIRMAN.

The Board proceeded to the election of a chairman.

In this connection, Mr. Sullivan made the following statement:

Before proceeding to the election of a chairman, I sincerely hope that this Committee will see fit to make a change in chairmanship. I say this with no direct reference to the present chairman—have differed with him cordially and often. I say this because I think that there should be a change. I think it is for the good of the service that there shall be a new chairman, because of the American principle of rotation in office and the sound progressive policy of change in order to inject new ideas into a given situation. For these reasons I hope that the members of this Committee will see their way to make a change, without any direct reflection on the present chairman, who has held office for four years—1921, 1924, 1925 and 1926. I hold that four years, indeed three years, is too long for anyone to occupy the chair. In my opinion two years is enough for any individual to occupy the office. I trust that the members of the Committee will agree with me.

Mrs. Barron: I have a high regard for every member of the Committee, even if he is not named by me for chairman. I am casting my vote for Dr. Bogan because this is the second year that this Board has been in operation, and I believe that from an administrative point of view it is better to have a man in the chair who is experienced. As to interjection of new ideas, I believe that every member is privileged to inject new ideas, whether chairman or otherwise. I will vote for Dr. Bogan.

Mr. Sullivan: Mrs. Barron gives as material reason for voting for the re-election of Dr. Bogan the fact that this is the second year of the new Committee and that his experience as Chairman has an appeal, and that for this reason she is going to vote for the present incumbent. She also stated that each of us, as members of the Committee, has a right to free discussion and that each of us, whether as chairman or member, should give to the Committee new ideas. That is true and logical, but a comparable application of the idea in the second part of her statement—namely, the attraction that Dr. Bogan's experience holds—proves my point. I assume or trust that Dr. Bogan would give the benefit of his experience to the Committee whether as member or chairman.

The members, as their names were called, respectfully stated that they voted as follows:

For DR. BOGAN—Mrs. Barron
Messrs. Bogan and Gray—3.

For MR. SULLIVAN—Mr. O'Hare—1.

For MR. O'HARE—Mr. Sullivan—1.

Dr. Frederick L. Bogan was thereupon declared duly elected Chairman of the Committee and assumed the chair.

ELECTION OF TREASURER.

The Board proceeded to the election of a Treasurer of the Corporation.

The Secretary was directed to call the roll, and the members, as their names were called, respectively stated that they voted as follows:

For MR. O'HARE—Mrs. Barron,
Messrs. Bogan and Gray—3.

For MR. SULLIVAN—Mr. O'Hare—1.

For DR. BOGAN—Mr. Sullivan—1.

The Chairman declared William G. O'Hare duly elected treasurer of the corporation.

Mr. O'Hare declined to accept the office of treasurer of the corporation, which position he has held for the past two years.

On motion of Mrs. Barron, the Board took a recess of five minutes.

The members of the Board then reassembled in the School Committee Chamber.

The Chairman stated that in view of Mr. O'Hare's declination, the Board would again proceed to the election of a treasurer.

The members, as their names were called, respectively stated that they voted as follows:

For MR. SULLIVAN—Mrs. Barron and Mr. Gray—2.

For MRS. BARRON—Dr. Bogan—1.

NOT VOTING—Messrs. O'Hare and Sullivan—2.

There being no choice, the Board proceeded to a second roll call.

The members, as their names were called, respectively stated that they voted as follows:

For MR. SULLIVAN—Mrs. Barron—1.

For MRS. BARRON—Messrs. Bogan and Gray—2.

For DR. BOGAN—Mr. Sullivan—1.

NOT VOTING—Mr. O'Hare—1.

There being no choice, the Board proceeded to a third roll call.

The members, as their names were called, respectively stated that they voted as follows:

For MR. SULLIVAN—Mrs. Barron and Mr. Gray—2.

For MRS. BARRON—Dr. Bogan—1.

NOT VOTING—Messrs. O'Hare and Sullivan—2.

There being no choice, the Board proceeded to a fourth roll call.

The members, as their names were called, respectively stated that they voted as follows:

For MR. SULLIVAN—Mrs. Barron—1.

For MRS. BARRON—Messrs. Bogan and Gray—2.

NOT VOTING—Messrs. O'Hare and Sullivan—2.

There being no choice, the Board proceeded to a fifth roll call.

The members, as their names were called, respectively stated that they voted as follows:

For MR. SULLIVAN—Mrs. Barron—1.

For MRS. BARRON—Messrs. Bogan and Gray—2.

NOT VOTING—Messrs. O'Hare and Sullivan—2.

There being no choice, the election of a treasurer was laid over until the next meeting of the Committee.

Subsequently, Mr. Sullivan offered the following:

ORDERED, That the rules be amended to provide that no member of the Committee shall be eligible for election or for service as Chairman of the Committee for more than two years; and further, that no member of the Committee shall be eligible for election or for service as Chairman of the Committee for two successive years, and further, that any member of the Committee who shall have been elected or shall have served as Chairman of the Committee at any time for two years shall be forever ineligible for election and for service as Chairman of the Committee.

Laid over.

BOSTON CHARTER CHANGES.

In 1854, 1885, 1909 and 1924 important changes in the original City Charter of 1821 were effected for the purpose of improving the methods and efficiency of the City Government. The revision of 1854 (Chap. 448, Stat. 1854) referred to the voters for acceptance, gave the Mayor a qualified veto over the action of the City Council, also the power of removal of appointed officials, besides providing for his election by a plurality instead of a majority vote. The amendments of 1885 (Chap. 266, Stat. 1885) were not submitted to the voters for approval. They transferred all the executive powers to the Mayor, prohibiting the City Council form interference with the executive and administrative business of the City. This was done in order to end the inefficiency resulting from an excessive number of joint committees, a municipal development conforming to the traditions of the outgrown town government.

The amendments of 1909 (Chap. 486, Stat. 1909) cut down the number and powers of the legislative branch of the government to a minimum, the Board of Aldermen (13 members) and the Common Council (75 members) being abolished. For these was substituted a single City Council of nine members to be elected at large for 3-year term. The Mayor's position was further strengthened by giving him a 4-year term, subject to recall at end of two years, but requiring a majority vote of the registered voters to make the recall effective. The Mayor's power over appointments was no longer subject to check by aldermen but by a State board, the Civil Service Commission and City elections were removed from all connection with national and State politics, no primaries nor caucuses being permitted, all candidates for office to be selected by means of nomination papers. The only question in this Act of 1909 which was submitted to the voters was contained in section 35, i. e., whether Plan 1 or Plan 2 should be adopted, the first providing for a term of two years for Mayor and a City Council of 36 members to be chosen in primaries. Plan 2, providing for City Council of 9 members, was adopted by a majority of 3,894.

Charter of 1909 amended later as follows: (1) By Chap. 437, Acts of 1910, exempting loans issued for Rapid Transit construction from the prohibition of the establishing of sinking funds, as contained in sec. 26. (2) Chap. 730, Acts of 1914, fixing date of annual municipal election on the sixth Tuesday after the state election instead of in the following January, as in sec. 32; changing the requirements as to signatures on nomination papers to 3,000 for Mayor and 2,000 for City Council and School Committee instead of 5,000 for all, as in sec. 53, also limiting the number of nomination papers issued to 300 for a candidate for Mayor and 200 for other candidates, referring to sec. 54. (3) Chap. 37, Special Acts of 1918, annulling the jurat at end of nomination papers. (4) Chap. 94, Special Acts of 1918, abolishing recall of Mayor and making him ineligible for re-election, i. e., establishing a single term of four years, but not prohibiting the election of any Mayor for other than consecutive terms. (5) Chap. 288, Acts of 1921, fixing date of the annual municipal election on the first Tuesday after the second Monday in December, also making slight changes as to nominations. (6) Chap. 133, Acts of 1922, changing publication of list of City officials and employees to every second year from 1923. (7) Chap. 479, Acts of 1924, providing for biennial City elections (dating from Nov. 3, 1925); for borough or ward representation in City Council; for a fiscal year dating from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, beginning in 1926, also a municipal year dating from the first Monday in January, to begin in 1926; for election of the five members of School Committee in 1925, the candidates receiving the two largest votes to hold office four years, the other three for two years and at the election in 1927 and thereafter the term for all to be four years.

The only amendment of 1924 subject to a referendum was the alternative of Plan 1 or Plan 2 as to the City Council. At the State election on Nov. 4 Plan 2 was adopted, providing for the election by each ward in 1925 and every second year thereafter of one councillor for 2-year term.

SETTLEMENT OF BOSTON, 1630.

Effected by Puritan colonists under Governor John Winthrop in the latter part of August, 1630. The name of the original settlement was changed to Boston from Trimountaine by order of the Court of Assistants on September 7 (O. S.), 1630. This date was moved forward by the New Style calendar in 1752 to Sept. 17, the recognized date of the founding of Boston. The name, Trimountaine, had been given because of the three peaks of the most prominent hill, afterward called Beacon Hill, much higher then than now. By the Indians the place was called Shawmut. The name, Boston, was derived from the English town of Boston in Lincolnshire, the home of some of the leading colonists and promoters of the enterprise.

TO IMPROVE JURY LISTS.

Mayor Nichols announced that he has taken up with the Board of Election Commissioners the question of preparation of the Jury List for the coming year, with a view to bringing about every improvement possible.

Chapter 234, sections 1 to 42 of the General Laws, providing for the making up of the Jury List has been amended since 1921.

The principal amendment adopted is chapter 311, Acts of the Legislature, 1924, which provides that—

"The Board of Election Commissioners shall summons before it all prospective jurors with whom they are not personally acquainted, for an examination relative to character, qualifications and fitness to serve as jurors."

Under this act the Board is going to send out this year a summons to each and every prospective juror, notifying them to appear before the Board, at which appearance they will be given a questionnaire to fill out, under oath.

This will necessitate considerable night work, as there are about nine thousand prospective jurors to be examined. These examinations will be held in different parts of the city, it being the desire of the Board to inconvenience these men as little as possible.

The Police Department, through Commissioner Wilson, has rendered valuable service to the Board in making investigations on jurors provisionally drawn.

From information received from the police after such investigations, the Board eliminates the names of those who would not be eligible for jury service.

The law imposes a penalty upon any man who is summoned and who fails to appear, and also a penalty upon any man who makes untrue statements in filling out his questionnaire.

Chapter 234, section 38 of the General Laws, provides that whoever solicits or requests an election commissioner to put his or any other name upon the Jury List shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, or imprisonment in jail or house of correction for not more than one year.

The Board expects to work three evenings a week during the month of February and will inform the press later of the time and places that these hearings will be held.

CONTRACT AMENDED.

B. Krivitsky & Co. have been allowed to amend the contract for building an iron fence at the William E. Endicott School by striking out the words and figures "October 1, 1926," on page 12, section 3, and substituting therefor the words and figures "December 1, 1926," so that the beginning of the last paragraph of said section 3, on page 12, shall read: "The work is to be commenced on or about July 19, 1926, and is to be completed on or before December 1, 1926."

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

SPEEDING UP ASHES AND GARBAGE REMOVAL.

Mayor Nichols announced on January 21 that he gave instructions to the Commissioner of Public Works to make a check up, both of contract work and the work of the city forces, on the removal of ashes and garbage. For the past three days a drive has been made to expedite this work. All the city contractors have now been notified to spend all their energy on it, and the city equipment has been fully utilized.

The importance of clearing this branch of municipal activity is in anticipation of further snow storms which may be expected during the coming week.

The city is already in much better condition than is usually the case at this time of the year, and there are fewer complaints being received.

The Mayor said that it is his purpose to have the work so well done as to remove all cause for complaint, and the Mayor asks the co-operation of the public. The Mayor points out that it is very difficult to carry on the work of removing garbage and ashes if the receptacles are in poor condition, both barrels and cans, as is frequently the case.

Scores of letters are being received daily in commendation of this work, and the work of snow removal.

MAYOR ATTENDS SHIPPING BOARD HEARING.

Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols left on the Everglades on the evening of January 24, accompanied by his secretary, Edward F. Condon.

Before leaving, the Mayor stated that he intended to be present at the hearing before the Shipping Board on the protest made by New York against the assignment of the twelve American Republic Line ships, by the Board, to the port of Boston.

Word was received from Washington by the Mayor that great pressure was being brought to bear by New York interests against the assigning of these ships to Boston.

The Mayor stated there was every good reason for the assignment of these ships to Boston and that the matter was of such extreme importance to every business interest and in view of the strong opposition, he felt it necessary to take an active part in the proceedings.

The Mayor conferred with Frank S. Davis of the Maritime Association of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, who has also left for the hearing. They attended a meeting with a delegation from Boston prior to the hearing in Washington.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS DEPARTMENT.

Upon January 20 the Mayor approved a contract with the Portland Elevator Company for installing safety devices in the elevators at the Suffolk County Courthouse. A communication from John P. Englert of the Public Buildings Department was as follows:

BOSTON, January 20, 1927.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I wish to advise you that on recent examination of the elevators in the Suffolk County Courthouse it was found that the safety devices on same were in such condition that they were practically useless in case of an emergency and I immediately took same up with the Elevator Division of the Building Department who confirmed the report.

I have since requested figures from four reputable elevator concerns in the City of Boston for doing this work, with the following result:

Portland Elevator Company, $2,250; F. S. Payne Company, $2,254; A. B. See Elevator Company, Inc., $4,085; Otis Elevator Company, $5,850.

I have taken the question of these bids up with the Building Commissioner and he informs me that the type of safety that would be installed by any one of these concerns would be perfectly acceptable to the city and I therefore respectfully request permission to award a contract to the lowest bidder, the Portland Elevator Company, in the sum of twenty-two hundred fifty (2,250) dollars, for installing these safety devices on the elevators, without the usual form of advertising, as I feel that there would be no gain to the city in advertising same, but possibly only a delay in their installation.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN P. ENGLERT,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

Upon January 22 the Mayor approved a contract with R. J. Connolly for new floors in the Quincy Market Building. A communication from John P. Englert of the Public Buildings Department was as follows:

BOSTON, January 19, 1927.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—On January 10, 1927, I sent your office a communication regarding new floors in a section of the Quincy Market Building, in which I stated that in conjunction with an architect of the Bridge and Ferry Division of the Public Works Department, plans and specifications for doing this work would be prepared. At that time I firmly believed that plans and specifications could not be made up to contain sufficient knowledge whereby a general contractor could give a fair estimate for doing this work. My impression at that time has been confirmed by a communication received from the division engineer of the Bridge and Ferry Division, a copy of which I am inclosing to you.

You will observe in same that he states that the building is in a dangerous condition and this work should be started at once. He also estimates the expenditure of approximately $15,000 exclusive of the amount that will be required to take care of the tenants while the work is being done.

In consideration of the foregoing, I respectfully request permission to award a contract to R. J. Connolly, 1146 Dorchester avenue, in a sum not to exceed $20,000, on a cost plus basis, without the usual form of advertising.

Awaiting your pleasure in the premises, I am,

Respectfully yours,

JOHN P. ENGLERT,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

The Rendle Corporation, $910; Buck-MacDonald Company, $994.72; William H. Ellis & Son Company, $1,163.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Upon January 27 the Mayor approved contracts with contractors as indicated for the construction of artificial sidewalks. A communication from J. H. Sullivan of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, January 25, 1927.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Your permission is respectfully requested to the award of contracts for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to the following persons and corporations on the ground that these contractors are not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; secondly, the expense of construction is to be divided by the city and abutters; and also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars:

Adams Pond Company, Hervey F. Armington, Inc., John Basile, D. M. Biggs, & Co., Hyman E. Cline, Sylvester Connolly, George M. Crowell, A. DeStefano, & Son, Inc., J. J. Duffy, Merton P. Ellis, Estabill Brothers, F. J. Gallagher, & Co., V. Grande, B. F. Hanrahan, Thomas J. Hind, Company, Jenkins Anderson Corporation, Thomas J. Kelly, Luccio & Son, John J. Lane, M. H. Respectfully yours,

JAMES H. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon January 10 the Mayor approved a contract with the Walter H. Moreton Corporation for repairing and overhauling the Water Division boat, "Watercrest." A communication from J. H. Sullivan of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, January 10, 1927.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Your approval is respectfully requested to the award of a contract, without advertising, to the Walter H. Moreton Corporation for overhauling and repairing the engine of the Water Division boat, "Watercrest," at an estimated cost of $800.

This boat has not been repaired for two or three years and should be overhauled this winter. This firm handles this particular kind of engine, and their price is reasonable; therefore the city would derive no advantage by calling for bids.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES H. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon January 20 the Mayor approved a contract with the Chandler-Cleveland Motor Car Company for one Chandler Metropolitan Sedan De Luxe. A communication from Herbert S. Frost of the Supply Department was as follows:

Boston, January 17, 1927.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising for same, to the Chandler-Cleveland Motor Car Company to deliver to the Fire Department the following: One Chandler Metropolitan Sedan De Luxe, to be equipped with front and rear bumpers, stop light, trunk to order, Lovejoy shock absorbers and spare tire, car to be painted Fire Department standard color and delivered f. o. b. Boston, $1,692.25.

As this concern is the manufacturer, no advantage would be gained by publicly advertising.

Respectfully yours,

HERBERT S. FROST,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon January 20 the Mayor approved a contract with the Boston Buick, Inc., for furnishing the Building Department one new model sedan. A communication from Herbert Frost of the Supply Department was as follows:

Boston, January 17, 1927.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising for same, to the Boston Buick, Inc., for furnishing to the Building Department the following:

One new model 27-47 five passenger Buick sedan, equipped with the special Lovejoys on old car, delivered, $1,700; less allowance on old model 27-47 Buick sedan, $500. Net amount of contract, $1,200.

This purchase is made necessary owing to the fact that the Building Department car used by the commissioner was struck by a Boston Elevated bus and very badly damaged, so much so that it is impossible to use same and for this reason I respectfully request that permission asked for be granted.

As this concern is the manufacturer, no advantage would be gained by publicly advertising.

Respectfully yours,

HERBERT S. FROST,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly Dorchester and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Belmont street, bounded:

REJECTS OLD AND CALLS FOR NEW BIDS.

Mayor Nichols announced on January 20 that he had instructed the Superintendent of Supplies to reject all bids of December 31, 1926, for A castings (branches, curves, etc.), to be delivered to the Water Service and E castings (9 by 9 flanged frames) for the Water Service for the reason that following an investigation made by the Superintendent of Supplies he was of the opinion that lower prices could be obtained by readvertising the contract.

He also announced that he had instructed the Superintendent of Supplies to reject all bids received December 30 for cast-iron water pipe and special castings for the same reason.

The Mayor also announced that he had approved the award of a contract for furnishing 400,000 pounds D castings (frames and covers) to the E. L. LeBaron Foundry Company, one of the two lowest bidders. The Franklin Machine Company of Providence, R. I., and the E. L. LeBaron Foundry Company of Brockton were the two lowest bidders, each quoting a price of 2.65 cents per pound.

The Franklin Machine Company has never executed a contract for the city, while the LeBaron Foundry Company has done work for the city under contracts for the past four or five years in a satisfactory manner, and inasmuch as the LeBaron Foundry Company is situated in Brockton the cost of inspection would be less if the contract were placed with this concern than would be the case if the contract went to the Franklin Company of Providence.

The Mayor also approved the award of a contract to the Mechanics Iron Foundry Company for furnishing 500,000 pounds B castings (gates and hydrants) for the Water Service. The Harrison Square Foundry Company and the Mechanics Iron Foundry were the two low bidders at 4.75 cents per pound. Soon after the opening of the bids the Harrison Square Company notified the Superintendent of Supplies that they would request permission to withdraw their bid as they were limited in their output and were of the opinion they would be unable to successfully carry out the contract.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

The Maplewood Construction Company have been granted an extension of time until May 15, 1927, for the completion of the contract for constructing concrete walks around the monkey house, Franklin Park.

T. J. O'Connell has been granted a further extension of the time of completion of the contract for building sewerage works in Beacon street, Roxbury, Arlington and Providence streets, city proper, and man-holes, catch-basins and drains in South Boston, Roxbury and Dorchester, from January 31, 1927, to April 15, 1927, seventy-four days.

ANNEXATIONS TO BOSTON.

East Boston, in 1637; South Boston in 1804, being set off from Dorchester; Roxbury in 1868, a city of Norfolk County since March, 1846; Dorchester in 1870, a town since September, 1630; Charlestown in 1874; a city of Middlesex County since February, 1847; Brighton in 1874, set off from Cambridge and incorporated as a town of Middlesex County in February, 1807; West Roxbury in 1874, set off from Roxbury and incorporated as a town of Norfolk County in May, 1851; Hyde Park in 1912, a town of Norfolk County since April, 1868.

These annexations, which added 24,312 acres of land to the original land of Boston, were by area as follows: East Boston, 1,435 acres; South Boston, 795; Roxbury, 2,450; Dorchester, 5,600; West Roxbury, 8,075; Brighton, 2,664; Charlestown, 424; Hyde Park, 2,869. Filled land increased the area later by 1,396 acres. In 1875 the annexed territory had a population of 201,250, or 58.86 per cent of City's total; in 1910 its population had increased to 477,311, or 71.18 per cent, Hyde Park not included. By 1915 the total was 549,139, or 73.67 per cent of City.

AREA OF BOSTON TO WARD LINES.

Total, 30,598 acres (i. e., 47.81 square miles), 2,944 acres being filled land, 1,143 acres water area and 1,436 acres flats. land area only, 28,019 acres (i. e., 43.78 square miles). Included in the latter are 160 acres of filled flats recently added to the land area of South Boston and 175 acres to that of East Boston.

Original Boston contained about 780 acres of land. Of the twelve leading American cities, eight are larger in land area than Boston, viz., Los Angeles (364 sq. miles), New York (318), Chicago (199.4), Philadelphia (129), Baltimore (91.9), Detroit (80), Cleveland (56.6), and St. Louis (61.25). The only city in Massachusetts with larger land area is Taunton (50 sq. mi.).

If Boston should expand by annexations as New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and others have expanded, its total area, in case of including the 39 cities and towns within the 15-mile radius, would exceed the largest, viz., Los Angeles, the present land area of "Greater Boston" being 409.3 square miles.

METROPOLITAN VALUATION AND TAX RATES.

Total valuation of taxable property in District on April 1, 1924, $3,263,195,493 or an increase of $208,589,702 (6.83 per cent) over the 1923 total. Of said 1924 valuation 55.42 per cent applied to property in Boston and 44.58 per cent to that in the 13 cities and 26 towns outside.

The 13 cities in the Metropolitan District outside of Boston all had higher tax rates than Boston's ($24.70) in 1924. The highest of these was Revere's, $37.20; (2) Malden's, $35.00; (3) Chelsea's, $34.20; (4) Cambridge's $33.30; (5) Medford's $33.20; (6) Lynn's, $31.80; (7) Woburn's, $31.40; (8) Melrose's, $30.60; (9) Everett's $28.80; (10) Somerville's, $28.70; (11) Waltham's, $28.00; (12) Newton's, $27.40; (13) Quincy's, $27.00. Average tax rate of the 13 cities of Metropolitan District other than Boston, $31.25 or $6.55 more than Boston's rate. Said average tax rate was 30 cents more than in 1923.

APPROPRIATION FOR TRAFFIC ADVISORY BOARD.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 24, 1927.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—Permit me again to call to your attention a letter which was placed before you at the last meeting of your honorable body, calling for an appropriation of $25,000 to defray the expenses of the Traffic Advisory Board recently appointed to make a comprehensive study of traffic conditions in Boston.

The members of the Board were chosen from various trades and business organizations. They not only represent in an exceptional way the business transactions of the city, but personally they are men whose presence on such a Board brings great promise of usefulness in dealing with a most difficult problem. Other cities have made notable progress in treating with traffic congestion. A solution of the trouble in Boston will prove of inestimable benefit in the advancement of our municipal conditions.

The question of financing this endeavor was discussed at considerable length by the Board and it was the opinion of all that the question was one of community interest that could best be served by an appropriation of public money.

The Board is called "Advisory" because its work does not touch upon the duties of any existing board or commission. It will devote its efforts to a thorough study of existing rules, regulations and ordinances and the preparation of a plan which may be laid down for general guidance in meeting traffic conditions.

At a meeting held by the Board on Saturday, January 8, 1927, and upon its invitation Prof. Miller McClintock, a recognized expert in traffic regulations, presented a preliminary survey of conditions in Boston and placed before the Board the results of his personal knowledge and observation of progress made by other large cities in handling traffic. As it was the opinion of all members that the survey would be a community benefit, it was unanimously voted that the City of Boston be asked to appropriate the sum of $25,000 to defray the necessary expenses incident to this survey. Such expenses may be generally itemized as follows:

A general organization of a technical staff, including engineering force, field force, checkers, counters and clerks.....	$15,000
General field supervisor.....	3,600
Rental of quarters.....	2,000
Office expenses, supplies, printing of report, photographs and incidentals..	4,400
Total.....	$25,000

I respectfully recommend the adoption of the accompanying order by your honorable body.

Yours respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) be and hereby is appropriated to be expended by the Traffic Advisory Committee, under the direction of the Mayor, in the prosecution of its duties, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund when made.

DISCLAIMER OF TITLE TO TREMONT STREET LAND.

On motion of Coun. RUBY the Council took up the following assignment, viz.:

4. Whereas, By a Resolve and Order of the Board of Street Commissioners of the City of Boston, passed March 26, 1925, an easement was taken to widen Tremont street in the City of Boston; and

Whereas, Certain premises within the limits of said taking belonged to Ira W. Shapira, as trustee of the Whitehall Realty Trust; and

Whereas, The said Ira W. Shapira, trustee of the Whitehall Realty Trust, executed to the City of Boston for street purposes a deed of the said premises which belonged to him as trustee of the Whitehall Realty Trust, which were within the limit of said taking, and in addition thereto a portion of Warrenton place, so called, and rights therein which were not within the limits of said taking; said deed is dated June 26, 1925, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Lib. 4711, page 161; and

Whereas, The purposes of said deed from said Ira W. Shapira, trustee as aforesaid, to the City of Boston was to convey to said City of Boston for street purposes the premises which belonged to the said Ira W. Shapira, trustee as aforesaid, which were within the limits of said taking;

Now, Therefore, it is ordered, That the Mayor of said City of Boston be and he hereby is authorized in the name and behalf of said City of Boston to affix the corporate seal of said city and to sign and deliver in form satisfactory to the Law Department of said City of Boston a disclaimer of all title to any and all premises which it acquired by virtue of said deed to any land or property which were not within the limits of said taking or within the limits of the second taking made by a Resolve and Order of the said Board of Street Commissioners, passed June 22, 1925, except the right to slope and bank the filling of said Tremont street to the grade established by said Resolves and Orders, upon the remaining land of said Ira W. Shapira, which was adjacent to the land taken by said Resolves and Orders.

The question came on the passage of the premises and order.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, is this the order that the councilor from Ward 3 said at the last meeting or the meeting before he was going to investigate?

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I would state that I opposed this at one time in this body, but I have since investigated it and am satisfied that it is all right, if that will please the councilor.

Coun. DONOVAN—Mr. President, I believe it is poor policy for this Council or any other Council, or anybody connected with the City of Boston, to turn over a piece of land to anybody without being very sure of the facts. I believe that Mr. Lyons, the Assistant Corporation Counsel, in his argument contended that these parties could go into a court of equity and that such a court would decide in favor of Shapira. If it is Mr. Lyons' opinion that Mr. Shapira could go into a court of equity and get what he asks for here, why not refuse to pass this order and give him a chance to go into court, and see whether he can get it or not.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I believe matters of this kind should take the proper course, and I believe it is within our province to correct a mistake, justly admitted to be a mistake, made through our Law Department. I believe this matter has been as carefully investigated, has been given as careful and minute scrutiny, as any order could be given in this Council. The Executive Committee at its meeting had the Assistant Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston before it, a man who knew more of the situation, I dare say, than any member of the Council. We listened to him and, if I remember correctly, he distinctly told us that this was something to which the petitioner was justly entitled; that the City of Boston now has title to something that it never contracted for, never paid for, and that in his opinion the City of Boston should vote to correct the situation as a matter of justice to the petitioner. The matter has been on the calendar now for a number of weeks, and there is no reason in my mind why it should be held there any longer. Were I of the opinion after listening to the councilor that the petitioner was not entitled to this, I would not hesitate a minute to vote against it, but after listening to him I have heard nothing that would change my opinion, based on the facts that have been stated to me. I would say also that we have given to all the members of the Council who wanted a chance to investigate the matter an opportunity to do so, and apparently no facts have been brought out which would warrant us in voting against the order. I believe the Council should in this case accord the same rights to this man that should be granted to anyone who is justly entitled to them.

Coun. DONOVAN—Mr. President, I would ask the gentleman who has just taken his seat to answer a question.

Coun. RUBY—I will answer it if I can, Mr. President.

Coun. DONOVAN—In the award of $280,000 that was made to Shapira wasn't there included an amount for this land?

Coun. RUBY—I understand not. This was inadvertently put into the deed, as I understand it from Mr. Lyons' statement. All the information I have in the matter comes from Mr. Lyons, the Assistant Corporation Counsel, in whom we all have confidence.

Coun. DONOVAN—Will the gentleman stand for a postponement until we can look at the deed?

Coun. RUBY—Absolutely. I have no objection to that.

Coun. Donovan's motion to further assign the matter to the next meeting was lost.

The order was given its first reading and passage, yeas 17, nays 3.

Yeas—Coun. Bush, Dowling, Englert, Fitzgerald, Freeley, Gilbody, Guild, Keene, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, McMahon, Parkman, Ruby, Ward, Wilson, Wragg—17.

Nays—Coun. Donovan, Green, Heffernan—3.

A QUESTION OF PRIVILEGE.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

Chairman DOWLING—The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I think you and the other members of this body will agree that I am never very thin-skinned about what appears in the papers relative to me and my actions in this body, but once in awhile there is an editorial that goes into one of our Boston newspapers that is so extreme as to call for action of this kind. There was published on Saturday an editorial in a Boston newspaper that was so extremely vicious that I have had several men, and men of standing, refer to it and say that it called for action. So, on Saturday I answered the editorial with a letter, which I sent by special delivery, stamped, to the editor of the paper, who, I assumed, would take the responsibility for writing it. As the paper did not print my letter, I feel that I should have some record made of it that will stand for all time, and I am therefore taking this means of reading it into our record. The editorial was entitled "Our City Fathers," and it said:

"We have recently increased the size of our municipal council, and so the volume of its oratorical output. Whether the sum total of human knowledge has been increased thereby seems doubtful. The situation to date reminds us of the boarding house keeper who explained her success by saying that she found out what was bad for her guests and gave them enormous portions of it. We are surely having those portions.

"One day we learn that we shall have no traffic relief till we abolish the Common, remove Faneuil Hall, demolish King's Chapel and otherwise rectify environment. Another day we learn that the telephone company has established a "listening in" service, exceeding anything that the old-time Czar of Russia ever contemplated, and that whatever we say or listen to over the wire finds tabulation in its voluminous archives.

"The Herald regularly receives letters from former Judge Henry S. Dewey of Pierce Farm. We have not been able to use them in our Letter Box. But we have found a place for him and for his views. He should be in the municipal council of Boston. He would do more to improve its tone than the recent enlargement has accomplished."

I believe, Mr. President, that when the editor wrote that he was facetious, but in talking with men far older than myself he believed that in his desire to be humorous he stepped beyond the bounds of propriety. Therefore, sir, when it was called to my attention in this room, I immediately had one of our stenographers write the following letter:

Boston, January 22, 1927.
Robert Lincoln O'Brien, Editor, The Boston Herald, Boston.

Dear Mr. O'Brien,—I was surprised and amused to read an editorial in your paper on Saturday, January 22, 1927, entitled "Our City Fathers," and to find how easily a man in your position can be misinformed, but possibly this is due to the fact that you are so far removed from the touch of the common people.

You referred to a speech made by me in which you charged that I advocated the abolishing of the Common, Faneuil Hall, King's Chapel, and other old Boston landmarks in order to make way for our modern traffic.

Let me refer you to the correct speech as made at that time when I said that no honest effort could be made to relieve traffic conditions in downtown Boston because of these old Boston landmarks, and I further said that one solution for remedying the congestion at the corner of Tremont and Boylston streets would be to bring Commonwealth avenue across Boston Common, but I emphasized the fact that because the Common, like these other landmarks, was sacred to Boston no one with a real love for our city would ever advocate such a drastic measure, and, therefore, there could be no real solving of the downtown traffic problem as our streets can never be widened.

I have made the suggestion that until the retail business of Boston, together with the Boston City Hall were moved to the Park square section, where men like William J. MacDonald, Mark Temple Dowling, J. Sumner Draper, and other Bostonians with a splendid foresight have built wide streets to accommodate modern automobile traffic, there would be no relieving of the present traffic congestion. That was my position then and it is my position today, which I believe you will agree greatly differs from that in which you place me in your editorial.

So far as my charge that certain telephone lawyers were listening in to the conversations of subscribers is concerned, it is unfortunate that any Boston newspaper should have to defend the telephone company when they have such a staff of competent lawyers for this purpose. However, we are giving these men their day in court next Friday, January 28, 1927, at two o'clock, and if my statements are not true they should be in a position to refute them successfully.

The last paragraph of your editorial seemed very unwise and unfair when you paraded the mental illness of former Judge Henry S. Dewey, who is now confined at Pierce Farm, before the public in order to belittle that unfortunate gentleman.

There was a time when Judge Dewey held as high a place in Boston society as you now enjoy, and I would suggest to you, Mr. O'Brien, that as neither you nor I have entire control over our future life, it would be well for you to be temperate and considerate in your criticism of any citizen, especially one who cannot defend himself.

Hoping that you will print this letter in its entirety in your Letter Box column in fairness to me, I remain,

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH McGRATH,
City Councilor.

With the reading of that letter, sir, I will end my story except to say that when twenty-two men have been selected by majority vote of the people in the various wards of the city, men who are lawyers, doctors, professional and business men, and splendid, decent young fellows living here and doing everything they can to properly represent their city and make it a better city for the citizens to live in, it is a sad commentary that any man of the years of Mr. O'Brien should reach out and with one fell blow try to degrade them, representatives of the city in which he lives. I feel that the gentleman has overshot the mark in writing such a vicious editorial.

TRANSFER OF BOOKS TO HARVARD COLLEGE.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:
Ordered, That the Trustees of the Boston Public Library, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to furnish the City Council a copy of the agreement made between said trustees and the Overseers of Harvard College, by which many valuable books, some given in trust and others belonging to the city, are about to be transferred from the accessible main library building in

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK ON CRAWFORD STREET.

Coun. BUSH offered the following:

REINSTATEMENT OF THOMAS J. MONAHAN.

Coun. WRAGG offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby favors the enactment of legislation to authorize the reinstatement of Thomas J. Monahan in the service of the City of Boston.

Coun. WRAGG—Mr. President, in presenting this resolution I will simply say that it comes under the same category as a number that we passed at the last meeting. That is, it comes under the rule of the Massachusetts Legislature which requires that certain petitions to the Legislature shall be approved by the City Council and the Mayor. I ask suspension of the rule and the passage of the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

AMENDMENT OF ORDINANCE.

Coun. GUILD submitted the following:

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston as follows:

Section 12 of chapter 3 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925 is hereby amended by striking out the words in the first sentence, "but citizens, and, if male subordinates," so that said first sentence shall read as follows:

"Every officer in charge of a department shall employ, fix the compensation of, and may discharge for such cause as he shall deem sufficient and cause to be recorded in the records of the department, all subordinates in his department, but shall employ none but legal voters of Boston, in any capacity."

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, in introducing that ordinance I would respectfully direct the attention of the body to the present state of the city ordinances bearing on this matter. At present they are in the same state as they were as long ago as 1898, at which time the heads of departments were required to employ male subordinates who were voters in the City of Boston and only voters in the City of Boston, as subordinates, if those subordinates were males. Since that time the women of Boston have been enfranchised, and there seems to be now no good reason why the same rule that applied to male subordinates in the departments should not apply to female subordinates. I have, therefore, introduced this resolution with a view to eliminating whatever discrimination may exist in that direction.

The ordinance was referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

REWARD FOR APPREHENSION OF MURDERER.

Coun. KEENE offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to submit to the City Council an order offering a suitable reward for the detection and apprehension of the person or persons responsible for the death of Maybelle Matheson, and making the necessary appropriation therefor.

Coun. KEENE—Mr. Chairman, on Friday last there was enacted in our section of the city, West Roxbury, one of the most wanton and brutal murders that has happened in the limits of the city for a good many years. A young girl, nineteen years of age, left her place of employment to go home. Her body was found on Saturday morning. The examination by the medical authorities disclosed that there was no criminal assault. The consensus of opinion seems to be that the act was that of a mania. The atmosphere in our community is rather stirred up and there is a tension and mental strain at this time among the women and children. I have therefore thought it proper to ask the passage of this order and that the Mayor be requested to submit to the City Council an order offering a suitable reward for the detection and apprehension of the person or persons responsible for the death of Maybelle Matheson and make the necessary appropriation therefor. I would move a suspension of the rule and the passage of the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LOAN FOR NORTH BEACON STREET.

Coun. HEFFERNAN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston favors the enactment of legislation authorizing the City of Boston to borrow money for the laying out, widening and construction of North Beacon street, from Union square to Brooks street, in the Brighton district of said city, and for this purpose to borrow money outside the debt limit.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONTRACTS WITH NONCITIZENS.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council whether, in his opinion, Article 10 of the provisions of contracts of the Supply Department of the City of Boston, which specifies that no contract can be made with any individual who is not a citizen of the United States, or any corporation or legal association wherein the controlling interest is not held by citizens of the United States, would allow an individual, corporation or association who met with these requirements, upon receiving an award of contract to sublet it to some other individual who, or corporation or association which, did not comply with Article 10 of the specifications.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

MUNICIPAL BUILDING, FIELDS CORNER.

Coun. GILBODY offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council favors the enactment by the General Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts of legislation authorizing ing the City of Boston to borrow money outside of the debt limit for the construction of a municipal building in the Fields Corner section of the Dorchester district of said city.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I move that we proceed to the election of a president to serve until the first Monday in January, 1928.

The motion was carried and the Clerk called the roll, with the following result:

For Charles G. Keene—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Englert, Guild, Keene, Parkman, Ruby, Wilson, Wragg—9.

For John J. Heffernan—Coun. Donovan, Dowd, Fitzgerald, Freely, Gilbody, Green, Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, Ward—11.

For Henry Parkman, Jr.—Coun. Dowling—1.

For William G. Lynch—Coun. McMahon—1.

Chairman DOWLING—The result of the ballot just taken is 1 for Coun. Parkman, 1 for Coun. Lynch, 9 for Coun. Keene, and 11 for Coun. Heffernan, and there is no choice.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I now move that we take another ballot for president.

Coun. GUILD—And, Mr. President, I would add my amendment.

Chairman DOWLING—If there is no objection, the Chair will assume that Coun. Guild's amendment will be added.

The motion as amended was carried.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, before we proceed to take a vote on this matter I would like to say a word. First of all, at this time I am perfectly willing to release any of the men who have been pledged to me, and am willing to do it, because I am trying to act in the interest of harmony, so that we may get some man elected here whom we will agree is not going to be subservient to certain interests in this city. I don't like to be personal in this matter, and I am going to try to avoid, as far as possible, being personal. But we are facing a strange situation. First of all, we have here a Council with a majority of three or four Democrats. Last year we did elect a Republican president. A few weeks ago there was a vote taken vacating the office, and it would be necessary to shift several votes to put back that man who acted as president. I have no personal grievance against the man who was our president before. This is politics and not a question of personalities at all. But I realize, and I think everybody in this body realizes, that that man was elected by a certain group in this city. We realize that that man's candidacy was fostered by a certain group, and certain men came into this body and voted for him, when they did not know him two or three weeks before. They did not vote for him on his personality; they voted for him because certain people wanted him, certain people who wanted to control this Council. This is not a personal matter with me. I am perfectly willing to sacrifice myself if we can get as our presiding officer a man who is not going to be controlled by those certain interests; and I say that I think there are certain men in this body whom I really believe ought to cut themselves away from the candidacy of that man. I say that for this reason. You can talk to any Republican member of this body and say, "Why don't you vote for another Republican?" and he will say, "We cannot get any Democratic votes." Are Democratic votes being obtained by one man on the basis of personality, against the others, or what pressure is being brought to bear? You men are practical men. You know, each and every one of you, who has been around to see you, who has been to your houses. You know whether the men who have gone to you are honest taxpayers in your district, interested in good government, or whether they are people interested in having a certain organization control things in this city. There are certain men in this body, Republicans, whom I am sure are here to do absolutely the right thing for the public, the right thing for the city, and I think when they continue along their present course they are only aiding and abetting the continuance of the state of affairs I have referred to, in continuing to vote the way they have for this man who is being fostered here until certain pressure can be put on to break down certain men. The Democrats in this body realize, after what has happened here in the past, that if they vote for Charles G. Keene, they are through politically. I think that is a safe statement to make, that they will be through politically. Why? Not because he is a Republican, because in the past when Dan Lane, a Republican, sitting in this body, was elected by Democratic help, there were no charges then made. But this year we have a different situation. It has come to a stage that is pretty close to a public scandal, and every man in this body realizes it. I am perfectly willing that the men who have voted for me shall now vote for anybody they see fit, but I think it is time for us to decide whether we here shall hold ourselves up to outside ridicule by having a proposition put over as has been attempted in this body. How can they switch two votes to Mr. Keene? You know that it means a switch of two votes. Can you, Mr. Chairman, switch your vote? You know—or at least I think you do that you cannot change your vote without there being an awful lot of explaining. Can any other man in this body shift his vote after voting for removal without an awful lot of explaining? I think it is time that we sat down and attended to business and that we elect a man who will be a representative of this body, a body that ought to govern itself. We ought not to tolerate outside interference. It should be left to this body to decide, and this body can govern itself. This year means more to the Republicans than to the Democrats, because it is safe to say in this city every Council from now on is going to have a majority of Democrats, and if the issue is going to be made, as this year—and there is no question about it—if a Democrat votes for a Republican, he is going to do it from wrong motives, which means that in the future a Republican cannot win. There are Republicans in the body whom I would be glad to see president of the body, but I say today that I don't think it is safe for us to vote for any Republican after the issue that has been made here. The issue is of their making, not ours. I am going to release the men who have been voting for me here, and I only hope that we can get together and organize the body without this outside interference that has been thrust upon us for the last two or three weeks.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, before we proceed to a ballot, I wish to say a word. The last speaker says that he now releases the men who have been voting for him. I think, in view of this long controversy and in view of the elements that gather here every Monday, some in the gallery, trying to stampee and bulldoze members as to what they should do, an explanation is in order. I am one of the few who did not vote for John J. Heffernan at first, but after the matter had been carefully considered and I found that he had a majority of the Democratic votes, I changed my position. Also, Coun. Green, after he said that he would not vote for Coun. Heffernan, after a conference in the interest of the Democratic party, in the interest of harmony and of the orderly conduct of business in this body, sacrificed any personal ambitions he might have had and voted for John J. Heffernan, thereby giving him eleven votes. Now, Coun. Heffernan says that he releases those who have been voting for him. I cannot see any good reason why the people who have been pushing this, who have brought this about, could not bring in the one remaining vote for Coun. Heffernan. It is true that this is a nonpartisan body. There were 182,000, pretty nearly 183,000 ballots cast in the last city election. Mr. Cook received 1,771 votes and Mr. Nichols received 64,492 votes, a total for the Republican candidates of 66,263, barely one third of the votes cast. It is true Malcolm Nichols was elected Mayor, but only through a division of the Democratic vote in this city, and he is a minority man. This is a Democratic city. If it were not for the division among the Democrats on that day—John A. Kelliher, Theodore A. Glynn, Joseph H. O'Neill, William T. A. Fitzgerald, Doctor McGauley, Thomas C. O'Brien, all Democrats, in a Democratic city, there would have been no chance for a Republican to be elected. Now, this is a nonpartisan body. I don't see why the Republicans in this body cannot vote for John J. Heffernan. He is a clean man, a lawyer, a man of ability. He may not be the aggressive man that some here would like to have in the chair. He has served in the Massachusetts Legislature, and he is a man of standing in this community. He has eleven votes. He now says that he releases those votes, and that he is ready to withdraw. What I shall do on future ballots is my own personal affair. I will vote as my conscience dictates, and not as any rabble or mob may try to sway or bulldoze me into doing. I come from a section that will not be bulldozed, and I know there is no one in that gallery who comes from my district who wants to bulldoze me. If Coun. Heffernan now sees fit to withdraw from this contest, that is his business. Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I don't think there is any secret in connection with the balloting here. I think every one is balloting as he honestly sees fit to ballot. We held a caucus last week and Coun. Heffernan was the candidate of our party. It is true that this is a nonpartisan body, but there were those who thought there should be a change in the presidency from last year. I was one who voted for our president of last year, and I have never regretted that vote. He made a splendid presiding officer. I know him in political and in personal life, and I am glad to say that the president of last year is my personal as well as my political friend. I think he lent a lot of tone and dignity to this body in his first year. But when the caucus was held I was not in this city, sir, and the result was that the majority in the caucus voted for the name of John J. Heffernan of Brighton. When I came back and asked who the party nominee was, they said, "John J. Heffernan of Brighton." I said, "Get the eleven men besides myself and make him President," because twelve votes were necessary for the man who should sit in that chair. But as the thing proceeded I saw that Heffernan knew that there were certain men on the so-called Democratic side who would not vote for him. When we assembled in the last caucus—and I speak now for nine of the men who are here, who had the same understanding that I did,—we came back after the recess on this floor and voted on two ballots for John J. Heffernan of Brighton. He had in mind a man on the Republican side who he thought might be with him because of his proximity in the ward and because of a lot of interests that they have in common, to give him the twelfth and deciding ballot. But he did not get sufficient votes to elect, and Johnnie Heffernan, who has always been a fair and square man, said after the second ballot, "I find that I cannot be elected president of the body, and I will release the men who have been voting for me." An effort was then made to elect a man, rather than go out and recess again, who could be voted for on the third ballot. My recollection of that meeting is extremely clear, sir. The remaining vote there said, "I will tell you what I will do. I will suggest the name of a man who can win on the third ballot," and the name of William G. Lynch of South Boston, in whom we all had confidence, was suggested, and we polled that committee. Coun. Freeley was sitting in the chair and asked the men there if on the third ballot Heffernan was not elected, if they would go through for William G. Lynch, and McMahon of Dorchester said, "If William G. Lynch is the man, then I am the twelfth man. I will make the twelfth vote." When we walked out of the caucus onto this floor, one or two things happened. On one of the first ballots Johnnie Heffernan, of whom we are all proud, was unable to get the twelfth vote he thought he could get, and it was understood that if at the end of the second ballot he was not elected William G. Lynch had the twelve pledges to go in and be president. The man who has consistently not voted for Heffernan is McMahon of Dorchester, but he said that he would vote for Lynch. Now that Coun. Heffernan releases the men who have been voting for him, if they are to stand by the rule of that caucus—and I understand that the fundamental principle of democracy is that the majority rules always—the president of this Council, if we abide by the decision of the majority vote of our caucus, will be William G. Lynch of South Boston.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I would like to ask the councilor from Brighton one question—if at any time he has felt that he was being used as a political pawn by a certain coterie of gentlemen within this body and in this city.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. Chairman, I would say in answer to the gentleman that I don't think at any stage I have been used as a pawn. I will say that at a good many stages I have questioned the motives and actions of a good many people because, if my memory serves me correctly, on the first ballot I was supposed to have twelve votes. The twelve agreed to vote for me, and the twelfth man did not do so.

The Clerk called the roll, and the members responded as follows:

For Charles G. Keene—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Englert, Keene, Ruby, Wilson, Wragg—7.

For John J. Heffernan—Coun. Donovan, Fitzgerald, Green, Parkman—4.

For William G. Lynch—Coun. Dowd, Gilbody, Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, McMahon, Ward—8.

For Henry Parkman, Jr.—Coun. Dowling, Guild—2.

For John F. Dowd—Coun. Freeley—1.

Before the result was announced Coun. WARD said:

Mr. President, before the announcement of the ballot, I wish to change my vote to John J. Heffernan.

Coun. MAHONEY—Mr. President, I would like to change my vote to John J. Heffernan.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I desire to change my vote to John J. Heffernan.

Chairman DOWLING—Coun. McGrath votes for John J. Heffernan. The result of the ballot just taken is Coun. Heffernan has twelve votes,

Coun. Keene seven votes, Coun. Parkman two votes, and Coun. Lynch one vote. By your votes you have elected Coun. Heffernan president of the body. (Applause.)

Coun. KEENE—Mr. President, I move you, sir, that the election be made unanimous. (Applause.)

Coun. KEENE'S motion was carried, and the election of Coun. Heffernan as president of the body was declared unanimous.

Chairman DOWLING—The Chair appoints a committee consisting of Coun. Parkman and Coun. Gilbody to escort the new president to the chair. (Applause.)

The committee performed the duty assigned.

Chairman DOWLING, in greeting President Heffernan, said:

Coun. Heffernan, it gives me a great deal of pleasure as the temporary presiding officer of the Council and one of your most intimate friends, one who has seen you grow up from boyhood to young manhood, to welcome you to this chair and to offer to you the gavel. The Council, I feel, has made no mistake in its selection. Although I felt that I could not cast my vote for you as president of the Council, I know that you will make a first-class, able and impartial presiding officer during the coming year. (Applause.)

President HEFFERNAN, in taking the chair, said:

I wish to thank the entire membership for the honor that has been bestowed on me today. Regardless of anything that may have happened during the heat of this contest, regardless of anything else that I or any one else has said, I hope the Council will now sit down as a body and all be friends again, and that anything that has happened will not act as a barrier to any friendship that has existed here. I desire to thank the Council again, and I will try to the best of my ability to serve as well as the past president of this Council has served, and to be fair to the entire membership. The Chair awaits the pleasure of the Council.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I move a reconsideration of all action taken today, hoping that the same will not prevail.

The motion to reconsider was lost.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. RUBY, at 3.55 p. m., to meet on Monday, January 31, at 2 p. m.

TAKING OF LAND IN CHARLESTOWN FOR SCHOOL PURPOSES.

A communication was received from the Superintendent, under date of Jan. 10, 1927, to whom was referred at the meeting of Dec. 6, 1926, (see p. 271), an order passed by the City Council on November 29, 1926, requesting the School Committee, through His Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of taking land at the corner of Charles Street, Charles Street Place and School House Court, Charlestown District, for school extension purposes.

At the request of the Superintendent, the Board of Apportionment gave careful consideration to this request of the City Council, and reported to the Superintendent that in its opinion it is inadvisable to recommend the purchase of this property, since there are other more urgent needs for which appropriation should be made. There has recently been acquired for the pupils of the Bunker Hill and Thomas Starr King Schools playground area amounting to 9,863 sq. ft. This, in addition to about 5,000 sq. ft. recently transferred from the Park Department, makes a total of newly-acquired area of 14,863 sq. ft. Furthermore, the School Committee has in contemplation the erection soon of a large central intermediate school in Charlestown. This building, when completed, will relieve all the other districts of their seventh, eighth and ninth grades. At that time it is quite likely that the Thomas Starr King building, which is very old and which adjoins the Bunker Hill, will be abandoned, and thus adequate play space will be provided for the pupils.

The Superintendent concurs in the opinion of the Board of Apportionment, and recommends that a copy of this communication be sent to the City Council as the School Committee's reply to the order passed by the City Council on November 29, 1926.

Mr. O'Hare and Mr. Sullivan were opposed to accepting the foregoing report as to the inadvisability of purchasing the property in question, and on motion, the report was laid over and the Director of School Hygiene was asked to report; his opinion as to the necessity for taking the property in question in the interests of the health of the school children.

Placed on file.

On motion, it was

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

The Chairman stated that the Board would proceed to the election of a Treasurer of the Corporation, which was laid over at the previous meeting.

The Secretary was directed to call the roll, and the members, as their names were called, respectively stated that they voted as follows:

For MR. SULLIVAN—Mrs. Barron, Messrs. Bogan and Gray—3.

NOT VOTING—Messrs. O'Hare and Sullivan—2.

The Chairman declared Edward M. Sullivan duly elected treasurer of the corporation.

Mr. Sullivan declined to accept the office of treasurer of the corporation.

The Chairman stated that in view of Mr. Sullivan's declination, the Board would again proceed to the election of a treasurer:

The members, as their names were called, respectively stated that they voted as follows:

For MR. SULLIVAN—Mrs. Barron—1.

For MRS. BARRON—Messrs. Bogan and Gray—2.

NOT VOTING—Messrs. O'Hare and Sullivan—2.

There being no choice, the Board proceeded to a third roll call.

The Chairman asked Mrs. Barron to cast a vote for herself.

The members, as their names were called, respectively stated that they voted as follows:

For MRS. BARRON—Mrs. Barron, Messrs. Bogan and Gray—3.

NOT VOTING—Messrs. O'Hare and Sullivan—2.

The Chairman declared Mrs. Jennie Loitman Barron duly elected Treasurer of the corporation.

Question came on the passage of the two orders laid over at the meeting of Jan. 3, 1927, amending the rules, as follows:

(1) Section 13, paragraph 1, to provide for weekly meetings of the Committee at 4:30 o'clock P. M.

(2) Section 16, paragraph 1, to provide for a four-fifths vote instead of a majority vote in order to go into executive session.

In this connection, the following statements were made:

Mr. O'Hare: In introducing this order, I did so with several things in mind. In the first place, we are now a corporation spending over twenty million dollars a year of the public's money, and except on specific occasions there has never been a corporal's guard present at any of the meetings.

Mrs. Barron: You mean of the citizens?

Mr. O'Hare: I mean of the public to find out what we are doing and how. I think the public apathy is due to our method of procedure and the fact that the meetings are at 6:30. At half past six practically every family in Boston is having its evening meal, consequently we have no attendance; and secondly, because our public meetings are nothing but the carrying out of the doings of a conference which has determined policies. I think it is time to re-create a public interest in our meetings and in our doings by coming down here in open meeting and passing across the table our thoughts on subjects bearing on the administration of the schools.

I sincerely hope this order will pass, even if it takes a little more of our time to conduct the public meetings this way.

Mr. Sullivan: I introduced an order similar to the one Mr. O'Hare now presents in February, 1924, and I ask that the Secretary write into the minutes of this meeting the amendment that I offered then with my statement pertaining thereto.

Everything Mr. O'Hare has said appears to me as absolutely sound. My order introduced in February, 1924, was defeated. I re-introduced it in June, 1924, and it was again defeated. The reasons that obtained in February and in June, 1924, now obtain I think with more force and with sounder logic and reason, in that I have since acquired considerable experience as a member of this Committee. I recall very well one of the retorts employed when I first introduced the order by an associate on the Committee—"The people aren't interested in the doings of the School Committee." He was wrong fundamentally but right specifically. In so far as the actual presence of our constituents goes, he was right, but he had no reason to infer that the people are not fundamentally interested. It is ludicrous to suggest that the people are not interested in their children and their children's schools. As Mr. O'Hare has said: How can we expect the people to be here at 6:30? Now Mr. O'Hare suggests that public meetings be called at 4:30, and it is an excellent idea.

Even if it is a bit more inconvenient, and I am not willing to grant that it is, I feel that after we get used to discussing in public our differences, there would not be the inconvenience attached to it that some anticipate. Even if it should turn out to be a bit inconvenient, I say that the public right is paramount to private convenience and we must do our work or quit. We were elected to serve all people in the best fashion possible.

I will vote for the passage of Mr. O'Hare's order.

The order and statement referred to by Mr. Sullivan are as follows:

"In School Committee, February 4, 1924.

The following was offered:

ORDERED, That section 16, paragraph 1, of chapter I of the rules be amended to read as follows:

Sect. 16. 1. All sessions, conferences, meetings and hearings of the Board shall be open to the public, with the following exception:

The Board may, by a majority vote, go into executive session for preliminary consideration of a particular case or matter of a nature universally accepted as peculiarly private, involving the personal conduct, character or reputation of a member of the Committee, school official, teacher or other employee of the School Committee, parent, pupil or any other person; provided, however, that full record shall be duly taken of the proceedings and no vote shall be passed in such executive session.

This order shall take effect on its passage.

Laid over."

"In School Committee, February 18, 1924.

The order laid over at the meeting of Feb. 4, 1924 (see p. 8) amending section 16 of the rules to provide that all meetings and hearings of the Board shall be public, was taken up.

In connection with the foregoing, Mr. Sullivan submitted for insertion in the minutes the following statement:

Public Right is paramount. Public Right is supreme when Public Right clashes with private convenience. In such conflict, private convenience must yield. The foregoing statements are the expression of a fundamental principle in American Government, so elementary that its acknowledgment without proof is universal.

Upon this principle is based my order which calls for open, public meetings, excepting however, certain, enumerated, specific cases of a nature universally accepted as peculiarly private.

The application here of this great American principle is as elementary as the principle itself and hence ought to be equally acceptable, without proof.

This Committee, in its nature, purpose, and jurisdiction is an elective, public body created to legislate and administer the affairs of our public schools, but this is public business and hence the business of the people. Therefore, this Committee should operate and function in the open. Its meetings should be public.

In this Committee, there should be no room for secrecy, less room for privacy, and more room for publicity.

In every American community there is an irresistible urge by the people for the policy of "open covenants openly arrived at" in all governmental affairs. This urge for the recognition of a popular, sovereign right is indeed justified. Witness the recent scandals of national proportions, all creatures of secrecy, that consume us. And secrecy has been the policy of this Committee for years!

This scheme of secrecy is a sad commentary on the rule my order seeks to amend. Section 16, paragraph 1, the rule under which the Committee now functions, says:

"The sessions of the Board as a rule shall be open, but the Board may at any time, by a majority vote, go into executive session. It shall, however, pass no votes in executive session."

I charge that the Committee has so corrupted this rule that its presence in the "Rules and Regulations" is a meaningless, useless superfluity. Else, the Committee in its violation of the Rule has been guilty of illegal practices. The exception has been made the Rule, and the Rule has been flouted and corrupted to read:

"The Board shall always go into executive session for full consideration and full determination of all matters within its jurisdiction."

This Committee meets in conference (another name for executive session) every time it convenes without the necessary majority vote, in defiance of the present rule.

Votes are passed in conference, against the rule's strict prohibition.

The conference "is the thing" wherein the destinies of our public schools are determined.

The custom of the conference has grown so strong that every notice from the Secretary's office relative to the Committee meetings carries the word "conference" and sets forth the fact that the School Committee will meet in conference. The conference is carried on in strictest secrecy. No record kept. Press and Public ruled out. And so the scheme of secrecy is all comprehensive. And for this, the people pay $14,000,000 yearly; an increase of 90% since 1919, a short space of five years.

I pass over the bi-monthly "public" meeting. It is a mere incident. "Public" in name only, it is a public farce and mockery!

I now come to my order and its reception by this Committee. The order is self-explanatory. "No Secrecy—Less Privacy—More publicity!"

What of its reception! The Public and Press were expelled. The Committee went into conference, though the very subject matter of the order was against such conference.

I was then urged to withdraw my order and to stand by for several months to acquire atmosphere and experience. I refused because I declined to become a party in the scheme of secrecy. My order was then criticized because of my lack of formal "experience," for this human limitation; that I am unable to translate "future" into "present," I am sorry. The observation that pleased me most informed me that I was "most unusual" in that for the first time in memory, a new member had presented an order at his initial meeting.

The only objection that can stand the test of a second glance, and I anticipate this one, is on the ground that my order is too restrictive of the discretion resident in every governmental agency. Perhaps that is so, but it is better to restrict than to abuse. Let me recall that this Committee has abused its discretion, and restriction always follows abuse as here.

All the apologies, without exception, for the present policy of privacy and scheme of secrecy ultimately sound in "convenience"; that private meetings are more "convenient" than public meetings. In the same breath, the apologists in the committee assert that the people are not interested in their schools. If the people are not interested, I say, if this is so, it is so because of this committee's policy of exclusion, and program of privacy; that it is so because the public has been left on the "door-steps" so long, it has wearied of waiting for welcome. However, assuming that it is so, my order has an added appeal for, in that event, we shall have public meetings with all the protections of public meetings and all the conveniences of private meetings. Truly, an ideal state! Aside from this, I repeat here, as I stated in conference, that my order is not based upon any assumption of public interest, but rather on the principle and fact of Public Right.

To the plea for "private convenience," I say that Public Right is always paramount and supreme. Of that, there can be no doubt; with that there can be no quarrel.

The issue is clear. On the one hand, the passage of my order for the Public Right and the public weal; on the other, its rejection for private convenience.

Mr. Chairman, and Members: The issue before you is all-important. The people of Boston love their schools and spend millions for their support. Our schools are the cornerstone of our community and this great Republic. They are the makers of our future citizens. There is no room in them for secrecy.

The "Dark Lantern," the "Star Chamber" should be but memory. They have no proper place in true American government.

The "convenient-conference" custom is the one thing that stands in the way between this Committee and the realization in the right, that "public business is the business of the public."

Placed on file.

The question came on the passage of the original order.

The order failed of passage by the following vote:

YEAS—Mr. Sullivan—1.

NAYS—Dr. Bogan, Miss Curtis and Mr. O'Hare—3.

ABSENT—Dr. Seannell—1.

"In School Committee, June 16, 1924.

ORDERED, That section 16, paragraph 1, of Chapter I of the rules be amended to read as follows:

Section 16, 1. All sessions, conferences, meetings and hearings of the Board shall be open to the public with the following exception:

The Board may by a majority vote, go into executive session for preliminary consideration of a particular case or matter of a nature universally accepted as peculiarly private, or involving the personal conduct, character or reputation of a member of the Committee, school official, teacher or other employee of the School Committee, parent, pupil or any other person; provided, however, that full record shall be duly taken of the proceedings and no vote shall be passed in such executive session.

Laid over."

"In School Committee, Feb. 16, 1925.

The order laid over at the meeting of June 16, 1924 (see p. 124), amending section 16, paragraph 1 of the rules relative to the sessions of the Board being open, was taken up.

A roll call being requested, the order failed of passage by the following vote:

YEAS—Messrs. O'Hare and Sullivan—2.

NAYS—Dr. Bogan, Miss Curtis and Dr. Seannell—3."

Dr. Bogan. As to weekly meetings: The business of the Committee does not demand weekly meetings. At this time of the year when the budgets are being put into shape, we are meeting more than twice a month. When the budgets are done with, meetings every two weeks are sufficient, and for that reason I am opposed to the order which provides for weekly meetings.

Mr. Sullivan. I am not questioning the Chairman's vote, or his service, the kind or character of his service merely because he is voting as he is today. I do feel that perhaps he may have been led or misled because of tradition and custom that has existed in regard to our School Committee conferences and meetings. I know that the Chairman wants to serve honorably and well and has so served. I know that Mrs. Barron has served and wants to continue to serve honorably and well, and likewise Mr. Gray. But are you going to stand here and vote "yes" and "no" because it is the custom? Can't we broaden ourselves once in a while and see if there is not something to be gained by change? I advocate it because of the great American principle underlying it, which gives the right the people have to come here if they want to come. I say that at least we ought to give these weekly public meetings a trial.

(At Mrs. Barron's request, the proposed amendment of section 13, paragraph 1, and section 16, paragraph 1 were read.)

Mrs. Barron. At present I understand our rule reads that the sessions of the Board shall be open but the Board may at any time go into executive session by a majority vote. The change now suggested demands a four-fifths vote. I believe the majority should determine.

Mr. Gray: Mr. O'Hare's first three orders are in substance a request that the Committee shall discuss all matters before it in public except where, on a fourth-fifths vote of the Committee (the existing rule calls only for a majority vote), the Committee shall vote to go into executive session. In other words, Mr. O'Hare wishes to do away with the practise—adopted in 1906—and as I am informed maintained in operation since that time—of conferences and public meetings. "Conferences" precede each public meeting and occur on every Monday when there is not a public meeting, except in July and August. These conferences last between two and three hours and all matters there discussed are subsequently acted upon at the public meetings. To those who are not familiar with the workings of the committee, Mr. O'Hare's order might seem to indicate that the "conferences" enable the committee to do and say in secret what it would not do and say in public. The inference which might be given his order is that the conferences are "Star Chamber" affairs. In that connection I wish to state with all the emphasis at my command that such is not the case. On the contrary the conferences are informal meetings of the committee, where the frank and free discussion has but one purpose, namely, a thorough thrashing out of each problem to the end that the ultimate action by the committee at the public meeting shall be its best judgment. Then at the public meeting each member has an opportunity—frequently taken advantage of—to voice his opinion or state his reasons, if he deems it necessary or desirable, for his vote. The recorded votes of the members at the public meetings (transcript of which is immediately published in one or more Boston newspapers) convey to the public each member's final action on any given proposition. I have thought it proper to make this statement of the committee's existing procedure so that any one not familiar with it may know that the workings of the committee are neither secret nor in any way subversive of the school system or the public.

Coming now to the question of doing away with the conferences and of having the committee's deliberations on all subjects open to the public and the press, let me say that if the committee so votes, I shall cheerfully acquiesce in its decision, but I think the committee will make a serious mistake for the following reasons:—

(1) While the committee, under Mr. O'Hare's order, would naturally go into executive session in any case where the rights of an individual under consideration might be placed in jeopardy, it is not always easy in a general discussion to foretell just when the rights of an individual may be prejudiced by public utterances. It is conceivable that if the committee holds all its meetings open to the public and the press it may unwittingly injure a person under Mr. O'Hare's scheme which would never have been the case under existing procedure.

(2) Any fair-minded person will readily admit that discussing a problem in an informal group is one thing and talking for all the world to hear is another. In school committee work both have their proper place, but in my opinion the ordinary business of the committee can be more effectively and speedily dispatched by its present system of informal conferences and subsequent public meetings than by public meetings only. Extraordinary matters, or questions in which any of the members are particularly interested, may well be taken up at the public meeting, and this is just what is done under the existing procedure.

(3) Finally, and of far greater importance is the fact that throwing all matters open to the public is bound to handicap the committee in its work if not to cause actual harm to the school system. Many questions such as salaries, major appointments, creation of new positions or departments, or new projects of one sort or another, etc., etc., require in their preliminary phases the most careful and prolonged discussion and study. If Mr. O'Hare's order prevails, however, those affected by such matters, as well as the public, will be in possession of this preliminary data before the committee itself has had time to consider it, much less to study it. Under the system which Mr. O'Hare suggests we cannot expect newspaper men who may be present at the meeting—considerate and wise though they may be—to refrain from giving to their readers any subject of interest presented at the meeting, even though it is preliminary in nature. Nor could we always hope—under the system Mr. O'Hare would introduce—to have our remarks in public reported just as we stated them. Thus it seems to me that at a time where the committee should have opportunity for free and frank discussion which is so necessary to a satisfactory thrashing out of any problem, the tendency will be to have the committee's deliberations on a formal and less open basis.

In my judgment such a result would not only cripple the school system, but would run counter to the wishes and the interests of the public. For it seems clear that when the citizens of Boston twenty years ago abolished the old school committee of 24 members and set up in its place a committee of five, they did so in the belief that a small committee would be able to function as a committee—that is to have frank and free discussions informally as well as formally from which each member, before reaching any conclusion on a subject, might derive new light. It is only after discussions of that sort, informal discussions, that it is possible to come to a wise conclusion, and this, in my opinion was just what the citizens had in mind when they established the Committee of five.

To adopt Mr. O'Hare's order is to run a grave risk of losing the advantages of the present effective and fair system as well as to nullify the purpose which the people had in mind when they established in 1906 the School Committee of five members. Therefore I vote against the orders.

Mr. Sullivan: First of all I want to commend Mr. Gray's statement because it carries with it conviction and because it is a very fair attempt to diagnose the present system and the proposed change. Mr. Gray feels that the action in 1906 changing the Committee from twenty-four to five was laudable and that the subsequent establishment of procedure concerning public meetings is similarly praiseworthy. If this is Mr. Gray's premise and part, I must disagree with his inference and conclusion because I do not agree with his premise regarding the change from 24 to 5. I do not mean to return to 24, but I believe that the number should be increased.

Mr. Gray says that we might inadvertently harm someone by discussing all matters in the open, some individual whose name might be presented. The amendment I originally proposed specifically excludes such situations.

Mr. Gray. I made that quite clear.

Mr. Sullivan. Some system might be devised whereby the Secretary might inform us, either through a sheet or some memoranda at our desks that something is due to come up of a personal nature. Then anyone may move that we go into executive session. I think all those little incidentals will speedily iron themselves out and we will be glad we took this step because after all it is going to protect this system from getting dried up.

Mrs. Barron. In order to clarify the situation, I want to have read into the records Section 16, paragraph 1, as it now stands, as follows:

"The sessions of the Board shall be open, but the Board may at any time by a majority vote go into executive session. It shall, however, pass no votes in executive session."

Mr. Sullivan. Will you please add that that section, as it now stands, was amended to read that way after I introduced my order.

Mrs. Barron. I am very glad to give Mr. Sullivan the credit.

Mr. O'Hare. That procedure has not been followed.

Mrs. Barron. The only difference between Mr. O'Hare's proposed rule and the present rule is that if this motion passes, we may go into executive session not by a majority vote but by a four-fifths vote. I am opposed to a change that requires a four-fifths vote. I think the majority should rule. I have always believed in open meetings so that the public may always be informed of the proceedings of the School Committee. I am opposed to secrecy and during all my service I do not know of any secret action that has been taken. I do believe that conferences are necessary in order that matters may be discussed and situations clarified, provided no vote is taken and no action is taken. I do believe that it would be an excellent thing if we could stimulate the public to come to our meetings. I should not like to vote on the time of meeting now. I would be in favor of a change of hour of meetings so that families might attend, even if it may cause me inconvenience. I do feel that conferences are absolutely essential provided that nothing is hidden from the public. I repeat that in my one year of service I know of no action that has not been presented in open meetings. Any member of the Committee has been free to discuss any subject in the open. Mr. O'Hare has asked that the meetings be held weekly. It so happens that we have had many meetings in addition to the regular meetings—open public meetings, of which the newspapers have been duly informed. It does not seem necessary now to have weekly meetings, but if at any time our business should increase to the extent of needing weekly meetings, I should be very glad to have them.

Mr. Sullivan. I think steps should be taken to petition the Legislature to increase this body to some number between five and twenty-four. I think one of the greatest handicaps—I am not saying this for my benefit because I have always served without any desire for compensation,—I say one of the greatest handicaps is the absence of salary and the no-salary aspect that attaches to the School Board. That opens a field for argument. . . . I say that it is just as un-American for a man to return his pay check to the government,—I think it is an anomalous situation, and it holds in this case because the absence of salary necessarily places us who are not gifted with this world's goods to such an extent that we can afford to make our work here a hobby—. . . . It makes this position a closed corporation because it restricts the attraction thereto. Young men and young women of poor circumstances are called upon to sacrifice far beyond their means and measure. I feel that this committee should be a representative gathering from all walks of life and I hope that the time will come when a salary will be attached to this position.

Mr. O'Hare. The "star chamber" inference drawn by Mr. Gray I care nothing about. I want to get the public interested in our expenditure of their money. That is my prime purpose. We have all got sense enough not to attack an individual's character in public or in private.

The additional time element of public meetings does not bother me. I will give every moment of time outside of my business and that required for the well-being of my family, to the interests of the School Committee. The public delegates its authority to us because they cannot act as they did in the old-time form of town government. I do not care whether the discussion is preliminary or final. I want the public here. We are responsible to them. I think in many instances the reaction of the public to matters in preliminary form would aid us in arriving at correct final determinations of policies.

Mr. Sullivan: Lest you be misunderstood. You are not censuring the public. You are saying the public has not had the opportunity.

Mrs. Barron: At the expense of repetition, I want to make this statement. I am as anxious as Mr. O'Hare or Mr. Sullivan to have the public interested and alive to what we are doing, and I personally believe the trouble has existed not because of conferences at all, because everything has been open at the open meetings. It may possibly have existed because of the time of meetings. I think the whole trouble lies in the time of meetings. I do not think it has anything to do with the so-called "star chamber" sessions.

On motion of Mrs. Barron, the order amending section 13, paragraph 1 of the rules, was again laid over.

A roll call being requested on the passage of the order amending section 16, paragraph 1 of the rules, the order failed of passage by the following vote:

YEAS—Messrs. O'Hare and Sullivan—2.

NAYS—Mrs. Barron, Messrs. Boggan and Gray—3.

Question came on the passage of the order laid over at the meeting of Jan. 3, 1927, amending section 18, paragraph 1 of the rules, to provide for strict adherence to the order of business at meetings of the Committee.

The order was again laid over.

Question came on the passage of the order laid over at the meeting of Jan. 3, 1927, amending section 22b, paragraph 6 of the regulations, by striking out the paragraph which reads as follows:

6. Candidacy for election to the Board shall operate as a resignation of the position held by any person in the employ of the Board.

Passed unanimously.

Mrs. Barron offered the following:

ORDERED, That the School Committee join as party plaintiff in the case of John M. Sullivan vs. City of Boston, and that a committee of this Board, of one or two members, be appointed by the chair to consider and make report to this Board as to the advisability of employing counsel for the School Committee.

The order passed and the Chairman appointed Mrs. Barron and Mr. Gray a committee in accordance therewith.

On motion of Mr. O'Hare, it was ORDERED, That the small Board of Apportionment, comprising the Superintendent, the Business Manager, and two Assistant Superintendents, present to this Board its recommendations for lands, plans and buildings for the year 1927 in the immediate future in order that this Board may be enabled to determine its policies in these matters at an early date.

On motion of Mr. O'Hare, it was ORDERED, That the large Board of Apportionment, comprising the Superintendent, the entire Board of Superintendents, and the Business Manager, present to this Board at once its study on salaries of teachers and members of the supervising staff so that this Board may determine early in the year 1927 a salary schedule for teachers and members of the supervising staff for the school year 1927-28.

On motion of Mr. O'Hare, it was ORDERED, That the Chairman is hereby authorized, for and in behalf of this Board, to petition the General Court for legislation to provide for larger appropriating power for money to be expended for salaries of teachers and members of the supervising staff, and for salaries of custodians of school buildings.

In reply to question as to the probability of going to the Legislature this year for additional money for maintenance, the Business Manager stated it would depend wholly upon the decision of the School Committee as to salary increases. If general salary increases are to be allowed, increased appropriations will have to be sought.

Mr. O'Hare asked if a study is being made of the salaries of custodians of school-houses, and the Business Manager stated that the Board of Apportionment is making such a study, and for the purpose of obtaining necessary information has prepared and sent to the custodians a questionnaire in order to ascertain the net compensation of custodians.

The Board adjourned.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of 50 or 60 persons, arriving in September and settling at Naunkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about 400 persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a Governor and Council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident Governor on April 20, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on Oct. 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as Governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served 13 years as Governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott 15 years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving 12 years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed 82 years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR ROXBURY DISTRICT.

Mayor Nichols and Commissioner Sullivan have been making a personal inspection of the city streets for the work of spring repairs, and on February 1 visited the Roxbury section where considerable dissatisfaction has been expressed with the condition of Dudley street and Harrison avenue.

The Mayor stated with relation to Dudley street that he had addressed a letter to the Elevated calling the attention of the Elevated to an agreement that the road had made with the Commissioner of Public Works to do this and part of the repair work in the city, which agreement had not been carried out although the city had received bids for the repair of Dudley street, between Harrison avenue and Blue Hill avenue.

The Mayor also stated that the contract had been let for Harrison avenue from Lenox street to Warren street, and that work would be started as soon as the weather would permit. Ruggles street will also be repaired by the city forces.

The Mayor conferred with Commissioner Sullivan upon the work in various portions of the city, and said that the Roxbury section of the city had been given a very liberal share of the appropriation for the repairing and construction of streets during the year 1926.

The activities of the Public Works Department in the Roxbury district during the year 1926 season embraced many important thoroughfares in the repaving and regulation of roadways and sidewalks.

Washington street, Massachusetts avenue across Williams street, Warren street, Dale street across Quincy street, 75 per cent completed. The work was suspended by the storm of December 5. Huntington avenue, Fenway to Brookline avenue, Blue Hill avenue, Quincy street across Grove Hall. A contract has been awarded for repairing Harrison avenue, from Lenox street to Warren street. The work of reconstruction will begin as soon as the weather permits. Crawford street is also under contract and construction will begin in April.

In addition to the foregoing, the following streets were reconstructed with bituminous pavement.

Arnold street, $3,900; Ball street, $3,800; Benton street, $2,500; Burke street, $2,300; Cunard street, $5,600; Davenport street, $4,100; Kendall street, $15,000; Sawyer street, $10,000; Sarsfield street, $3,400; Walpole street, $2,800. Total, $53,400.

Cliff street, Washington street to Warren street, was also surfaced with asphalt at a cost of about $4,000.

Dudley street is on the list for this year's work and will be readvertised early in the season. It would appear that Roxbury has had liberal treatment in the distribution of the money available for repair and reconstruction of streets, much more than in previous years. The reconstruction of Washington street, from Massachusetts avenue across Williams street, is a real improvement which the business people have been looking forward to for a long time, and the same can be said of Blue Hill avenue, which is now complete from Dudley street to Grove Hall.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR ROXBURY.

In addition many streets have been resurfaced in this district and cement sidewalks constructed.

Mayor Nichols gave out the following letter which he had written to the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway relative to Dudley street:

TRUSTEES OF THE BOSTON ELEVATED RAILWAY, 31 St. James Avenue, Boston.

DEAR SIRS,—Permit me to call to your attention again the condition of Dudley street, between Harrison avenue and Blue Hill avenue, and to express the hope that you will without delay co-operate with the City of Boston in the resurfacing of this section of Dudley street. Last July the Commissioner of Public Works received from Mr. Steward, your superintendent of maintenance, a letter stating that if the city desired to have an asphalt pavement laid the railway would be agreeable to this arrangement, and would pay for the cost of the pavement for which it was responsible, that is, you would pay for the areas within the rails. Thereafter we advertised for bids for the reconstruction of the roadway, and seven bidders responded with a range of $39,761 to $43,847. On August 14, two days before the bids were opened, Mr. Steward again wrote Mr. Sullivan and stated that it would not be possible to do the work because there were tracks in worse condition than those on Dudley street that required rebuilding and that there were many uncompleted jobs. Mr. Sullivan endeavored by further conferences with Mr. Steward to have this work carried out, but could obtain no answer beyond that contained in the letter of August 14.

I had stated that bids were to be advertised for this work, and it was publicly understood that Dudley street was to be repaired. Therefore, you cannot wonder at this time that there is a great deal of dissatisfaction being expressed because the work is not being done, and that there is a strong reasonable demand for the carrying out of the program originally agreed upon between the Elevated and the city.

The position of the Elevated is not that there is no money available, but that the money for the repairing of tracks is to be spent elsewhere after arrangements for Dudley street had been agreed upon. When it was found impossible to proceed as agreed upon, the Commissioner of Public Works repaired the street as best he could, but the street is in an extremely unsatisfactory condition and should be given attention just as soon as weather conditions are favorable.

I am calling this to your attention because I feel that you should co-operate with the city in placing this heavily traveled thoroughfare in good condition, and I confidently expect that you will assure me that the Elevated is now prepared to proceed as we expected last summer.

Very truly yours,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Leo J. Respectfully yours,

BOSTON WINS SHIPPING SERVICE.

Mayor Nichols announced on February 1 that he had received word from Washington that President Dalton of the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation had issued a rescript renewing his recommendation that the twelve ships of the American Republic's Line should be transferred from New York to Boston and placed in charge of the C. H. Sprague & Son Company and that the members of the United States Shipping Board unanimously voted to adopt this recommendation.

On this matter the Mayor appeared before the Shipping Board on Monday, January 24, and urged the claims of Boston. Frank S. Davis of the Maritime Association was also present. A delegation of fifty from New York, representing railroad and shipping interests and the various Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade were also present, urging the retention of these ships for the New York service.

At the conclusion of the hearing the Shipping Board announced that Tuesday and Wednesday would be set aside for the filing of briefs and statements by all other interested parties, after which all facts and evidence produced would be referred to the Emergency Fleet Corporation for recommendation.

It is very gratifying to Boston to learn that the Emergency Fleet Corporation recommendation and action of the Shipping Board in sending these ships to Boston has been so promptly received.

DAMAGES ASSESSED.

The Mayor has approved the following vote of the Board of Street Commissioners:

Voted, That in the matter of Jacob L. and Pauline Green, petitioners for damages on account of the taking of an easement in 151 square feet of land for the extension of Cotting street, under the order of the Board of Street Commissioners and Mayor of April 15, 1925, after consultation with the Law Department and on its advice, the Board assesses the petitioners' damages in the sum of fifty-five hundred (5,500) dollars flat; and consents that the Corporation Counsel agree to judgment in said case on the terms herein stated.

ORDERS OF ADDITIONS.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

The Mayor has approved the issuance of the following orders of addition:

The issuance of an order of addition, in the sum of $2,915.11, to the contract of Leighton-Mitchell Company for erection and completion of the Lewis School Addition.

This amount is required to cover the cost of extra excavating and concrete foundations required on account of an old cellar which came in the new foundations, also for blasting boulders and trench blasting out to the sewer on Walnut avenue. This trench had to be drilled by hand and small charges of dynamite used, on account of telephone and electric conduits being in the trench.

The issuance of an order of addition, in the sum of $1,412.07, to the contract of Paul Caputo for the erection and completion of the addition to the Washington Irving School, in the Roslindale district.

This amount is required to cover the cost of furnishing and installing roof lights over the second floor corridor. It was found that the corridor would be dark, and in order not to be obliged to use electric lights during the daytime, the Board considered it would be a saving to install these roof lights. There is also included in this amount the cost of running a 3-inch cast-iron rainwater conductor pipe from the new building to low roof of old building.

TRANSFER OF BOSTON SANATORIUM.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 31, 1927.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith an amendment to the ordinances providing for the transfer of the powers and duties of the Trustees of the Boston Sanatorium to the Trustees of the Boston City Hospital.

This amendment follows the recommendation of Dr. Haven Emerson, Professor of Public Health at Columbia University, who was designated by the City of Boston to study the needs of tuberculosis hospitalization and make a report thereon.

A copy of Dr. Emerson's report is appended herewith.

I recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

An Ordinance Concerning the Boston Sanatorium.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

The powers and duties of the Trustees of the Boston Sanatorium Department are hereby transferred to the Trustees of the Hospital Department who, in addition to their other powers and duties, shall hereafter exercise the powers and perform the duties of the Trustees of the Boston Sanatorium Department. The offices of the Trustees of the Boston Sanatorium Department are hereby abolished.

Referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

SALARY OF BUILDING COMMISSIONER.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 31, 1927.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith an amendment to the Revised Ordinances of 1925 which will establish the salary of the Building Commissioner at the level of $7,500 a year.

The present salary of $6,000 a year inadequately represents the importance of this office with its heavy responsibilities for the protection of life and property.

A proper enforcement of the building laws through appropriate regulations is a municipal function whose value cannot be overestimated, requiring not only fine administrative capacity but a high degree of technical skill.

For the foregoing reasons I ask your favorable consideration for the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

An Ordinance Concerning the Salary of the Building Commission.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section 5, of chapter 3, of the Revised Ordinances of 1925 is hereby amended in the clause establishing the salary of the Building Commissioner by striking out the words "six thousand" and inserting in place thereof the words "seventy-five hundred."

Referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

Office of the Mayor, January 31, 1927.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a new order for the appropriation of $25,000 to be expended for the Traffic Advisory Committee under the direction of the Mayor, and desire to have the order pending before your committee withdrawn and the new order substituted therefor.

Yours respectfully,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Ordered. That the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) be and hereby is appropriated to be expended for the Traffic Advisory Committee, under the direction of the Mayor, in the prosecution of its duties, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund when made.

LEASE TO ROXBURY POST VETERANS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 27, 1927.
To the Honorable City Council:

Gentlemen,—Inclosed please find an order to lease the building commonly known as the Elmwood Street Gymnasium situated on Elmwood street in the Roxbury district of the City of Boston, to the James F. Mahoney Roxbury Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, No. 457. The premises herein referred to were leased to Roxbury Post No. 685, Veterans of Foreign Wars, on November 1, 1921, for a term of five years at a rental of one dollar per year. The Roxbury Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, No. 685 is now merged with another post and desires a lease of the aforesaid premises in the name of James F. Mahoney Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, No. 457 with the same terms and conditions as were contained in the lease given by the City of Boston to Roxbury Post No. 685, dated November 1, 1921.

It is the opinion of the Commissioner of Public Buildings that the same terms and conditions in the lease of the aforesaid premises given by the City of Boston to Roxbury Post No. 685, Veterans of Foreign Wars, are adequate and should be contained in the lease to the James F. Mahoney Roxbury Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, No. 457. I recommend the passage of accompanying order.

Yours truly,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Ordered. That his Honor the Mayor be and he hereby is authorized and empowered in the name and behalf of the City of Boston, for the consideration of one dollar per year, and in a form satisfactory to the Law Department, to execute and deliver to the James

F. Mahoney Roxbury Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, No. 457, a lease of the building commonly known as the Elmwood Street Gymnasium, situate on Elmwood street, in the Roxbury district of Boston, formerly used as gymnasium, said lease to run for a term of five years beginning November 1, 1926, the premises to be used for post headquarters by the said post. The said lease may be canceled by the lessor at any time by a written notice of not less than ninety days given by the Mayor or Superintendent of Public Building of said city, by mail, addressed to the commander of said post or to said lessee at said building. The lessee shall at its cost and expense keep the building in good condition and repair, both inside and outside, shall heat and light the same and shall pay all water rates therefor.

Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

LOAN FOR LONG ISLAND INSTITUTIONS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 31, 1927.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith an order for $1,000,000 for the construction of additional accommodations at Long Island. These accommodations, as it will appear from the appended report from the Institutions Commissioner are very much needed, as the present Long Island Hospital is crowded and the demands upon it are severe.

It is evident that plans for more adequately taking care of the aged sick and needy should be started at once so that actual work may be begun as soon as the weather will permit.

Therefore I recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Institutions Department,

January 19, 1927.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—The recommendations which I have made for enlarging the existing buildings at Long Island, and the construction of new ones, are not original, but are rather a continuation of the building program found to be necessary many years ago, and for which plans and a general layout were formulated, which were temporarily interrupted under the last administration, in the attempt to relocate the whole institution on the mainland.

In order that the whole situation may be clearly before your Honor, I am submitting a brief history which will clearly show that the present projects carry out the original scheme.

History.

All public chronic hospitals are the outgrowth of infirmaries attached to almshouses. Until 1895, the almshouses in Boston were located at various points, a chronological history of which is as follows:

- 1662. First almshouse built on the Common, near the corner of Beacon and Park streets.
- 1682. First almshouse burned.
- 1686. Second almshouse built on site of first.
- 1800. Third almshouse built on Leverett street, opposite present Spring and Barton streets. Removed in 1825.
- 1823. Fourth almshouse (House of Industry) at South Boston.
- 1849. Fifth almshouse (House of Industry) at Deer Island.
- 1872. Men transferred from Deer to Rainsford Island.
- 1874. Charlestown, with its almshouse, annexed to Boston.
- 1877. Women transferred from Deer Island to Austin Farm.
- 1887. Women transferred from Austin Farm to Long Island.
- 1889. Men transferred from Rainsford to Long Island. Women transferred from Long to Rainsford Island.
- 1895. Women returned to Long Island to occupy new building erected for their accommodation.

Since 1895 the almshouses for both men and women were located at Long Island, and then the need of a modern chronic hospital began to become apparent and took concrete form in the report of the Trustees of the Infirmary Department in 1911, from which I quote:

"For several years the need of additional accommodations both for the almshouse and hospital at Long Island has been apparent. In order to meet the ever-growing demand, it is the opinion of the Board that steps should be taken to provide additional buildings for the suitable accommodation of the inmates of the almshouse as well as those of the hospital."

The report of the visiting medical staff for the same year (1911) contains this statement:

"The growth of the hospital has demanded more adequate accommodations for the increased number of nurses."

In 1912 the trustees reported as follows:

"For several years this Board and previous boards have called attention to the necessity of more suitable accommodations at Long Island. This necessity in a special sense pertains to the hospital which is entirely inadequate to meet the demands made upon it."

The same report contains the following:

"Accommodations must be provided to meet the immediate demands of the present and new buildings must be erected to meet those of the future. With the extension of the hospital, it is hoped that a special building may be provided for the children."

The report of the visiting medical staff for the same year (1912) is as follows:

"Matters of importance regarding the hospital and its development have arisen during the past year. The most important of these is the question of increased accommodation for patients, rendered imperative by the natural growth of the institution."

"Since it has been definitely determined that the hospital is to remain at Long Island and not to be transferred to the mainland as was at times formerly suggested, the necessity of planning wisely for future expansion has become a matter of vital importance. It is gratifying in this connection to call attention again to the unanimity of opinion now existing between your Board and the medical staff regarding the importance of maintaining the institution primarily as a hospital for the chronic sick."

The foregoing took definite shape in 1913. The almshouse at Charlestown was sold for $72,000 and this money was placed in the hands of trustees of this department for new buildings at Long Island, and a general scheme for development was adopted under the guidance of architects, and a sketch of the entire hospital to be erected was made, a copy of which is hereto annexed. To quote from the report of the trustees in 1913:

"The money received by the city for the sale of the Charlestown Almshouse, $72,000, has been placed in the hands of the trustees for new buildings at Long Island. It is hoped that a further appropriation will soon be granted and that as soon as the weather makes it possible work on the new buildings may be commenced."

"In the plans finally adopted, the men's building is to be made the central administration building, the main entrance of which shall be at the northeasterly end of the present building. A wing is to be added to the northeasterly side from which will extend toward the southwest a series of dormitory pavilions for men with connecting corridors. On the opposite side of the building, from the wing at the rear of the present side of the building, will be extended a series of hospital pavilions for men. It is planned to serve all the buildings from the new kitchen by means of subways. The new nurses' home is to be located near the chapel."

The visiting medical staff the same year reported as follows:

"The main interest at the hospital during the past year in which the trustees and the visiting staff have a like share, has been the question of new and more adequate buildings. Plans have been drawn and the various questions relating to the proper disposition of buildings carefully considered. The medical staff is gratified that such improvements, to which attention has from time to time been called in this respect, are likely to be accomplished."

Work and erection of buildings in furtherance of the general scheme was carried on during 1915 and 1916. In addition to the $72,000 obtained from the sale of the chronic almshouse loans were made totaling $621,000, and this construction work was kept steadily in progress with the approbation of boards of trustees and medical staff until 1920, at which time the Board of Trustees was abolished and a single headed commission substituted. The buildings were further improved in 1922 by the installation of the sprinkler system at a cost of $100,000.

In 1914 the medical staff reported as follows:

"In the investigation of chronic diseases the hospital offers facilities superior to those of any institution in the city. With the natural growth of the city, and the increasing tendency on the part of the people to seek hospital treatment, the institution will doubtless need further additions in the future."

In 1915 the visiting medical staff reported:

"This hospital fills a very definite need in the community, and should be provided with facilities for the treatment of patients comparable to that of its sister institution for acute disease, the Boston City Hospital. With such facilities provided, it is not to be questioned that work of importance not only to the patients now resident at the hospital but to those who come after and to the community at large would be accomplished."

The proposals now before your Honor are as follows:

1. To Construct Additional Men's Dormitories.

The men's dormitories have never been completed in accordance with the architects sketch annexed. The normal bed capacity of such dormitories as were completed is 325. At the present time the number of patients in the dormitory is 505. It will thus be seen that we are at the present time accommodating 180 more than the normal capacity permits. In order to do this it has been necessary to place beds in a semibasement and in corridors and also in the reading room. The cost of these dormitories will be approximately $300,000.

2. To Construct Additional Wings on Men's Hospital.

The present men's hospital has a normal bed capacity of 150 beds. The present number of bed patients is 180. This has necessitated putting hospital patients in the sun rooms, which are not suitable for hospital beds, and there are at present at least 100 men in the dormitories who should be occupying hospital beds, creating a vital necessity for further hospital accommodations. The cost of these new wards would be approximately $250,000.

3. To Enlarge The Children's Building or Construct a New One If Deemed Advisable.

There are at present eighty-six children at Long Island, and the Health Department reports that there are several hundred children in the city who should be transferred to Long Island for treatment, as this site is regarded as the most healthful for children of any location within the city limits. The present building was not constructed for the use of children, and in order to make it adequately serve that purpose it must be entirely reconstructed or a new one built. The cost of this improvement would be approximately $150,000.

4. To Enlarge the Nurses' Home.

The present number of nurses at Long Island is seventy-four. This is about twenty less than the requirements of the hospital at the present time, and with the construction of the new hospital wards for men and the enlargement of the children's building, thirty or forty additional nurses will be required. The nurses at the present time are obliged to live two and three in a room and beds have been placed in the basement, an unsanitary and undesirable condition. Two additional stories should be added to the present nurses' home. The approximate cost of this will be $100,000.

5. To Make Such Additions to Power, Heating and Lighting Systems as May be Necessary Because of the Foregoing.

It is impossible to estimate the cost of relaying the old water and heating pipes, and the laying of such new ones as may be necessary if the building program herein outlined is carried into effect. It is conservative to say that the cost will be many thousands of dollars.

The furniture, medical equipment, hospital beds and all other equipment needed to complete the buildings herein outlined will be in excess of $200,000.

The city now has at Long Island a chronic hospital and dormitories for men and women, and all the necessary ancillary buildings, including the nurses' home, attendants' home, laboratories, power plant, mortuary, garages, superintendent's house and chapel. With the improvements suggested this institution can satisfactorily care for the chronic sick for many years. If the improvements are not made, an entire new plant must be constructed on the mainland at the cost of many millions of dollars.

The cost of these improvements as outlined above will be approximately $1,000,000, and the accompanying loan order prepared by the Corporation Counsel is broad enough to cover all of the contemplated improvements.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM S. KINNEY, Commissioner.

Ordered, That the sum of one million (1,000,000) dollars be and the same is hereby appropriated for new buildings and additions to existing buildings at Long Island, as well as for equipment and furniture for such new buildings and additions, all for Institutions Department purposes, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be and hereby is authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

ADDITIONAL LAMPS ON FRANKLIN FIELD.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 20, 1927.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a communication from the Park Department in reply to your order of January 10, 1927, in relation to installing additional lamps on Franklin Field.

Yours respectfully,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, January 19, 1927.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of January 14 with inclosure, order of the City Council relative to installing additional electric lamps on Franklin Field.

In reply I regret exceedingly to inform you that the department has no funds for this purpose in the budget at the present time, and it would be very inadvisable to go to this great expense for the short period of skating now remaining this year.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

Placed on file.

LUMP SUM BUDGET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 28, 1927.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen:—Under the provisions of section 3, chapter 486, of the Acts of 1909, the Mayor is required to submit the budget within thirty days after the beginning of the fiscal year.

Under existing law the city may raise $6.52 on each one thousand of the average valuation for three years, less abatements, for general municipal purposes, exclusive of schools.

In 1926 the budget for city maintenance purposes totalled $30,823,236.52. The total appropriating power available under the present statutory limit is approximately $18,500,000. It is evident from a comparison of these figures that the appropriating power available under the existing law is inadequate to provide for the needs of the city.

It is my intention to request the Legislature to fix a tax limit for 1927 which will be adequate to meet the needs and requirements of the various city departments. Until this request is acted upon it is impossible for me to submit to your honorable body the annual budget in full segregated form.

In order to avoid any question being raised as to the submission of a budget within the time limit stated in the city charter, I submit herewith a budget in lump sum form.

Respectfully,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

APPROPRIATIONS AND TAX ORDERS FOR THE FINANCIAL YEAR 1927.

Ordered, That to meet the current expenses payable during the financial year beginning with the first day of January, 1927, for performing the duties and exercising the powers devolved by statute or ordinance, or by vote of the City Council during the year, upon the City of Boston or County of Suffolk, or the departments or officers thereof, and to meet their respective obligations for interest on debt, sinking fund requirements and maturing debt not provided for by sinking fund, the respective sums of money specified in the tables and schedules hereinafter set out be and the same are hereby appropriated for the several departments and for the objects and purposes hereinafter stated.

Ordered, That the appropriation for Water Service, current expenses and the payment to the state under the provisions of chapter 488 of the Acts of 1895 and acts in addition or amendment thereto, and for the interest and debt requirements or for loans issued for water purposes be met by the income of said works and any excess over income from taxes; that the appropriation for Printing Department be met by the department income and any excess over income from taxes; and the appropriation for City Record be met by the income of said publication and any excess over income from taxes; that the other appropriations hereinafter specified be met out of the money remaining in the treasury at the close of business on December 31, 1926, exclusive of the money raised by loan or needed to carry out the requirements of any statute, gift, trust or special appropriation, and by the income of the financial year beginning January 1, 1927, and taxes to the amount of $17,327,255.33 and that said amount be raised by taxation on the polls and estates in the City of Boston.

Ordered, That all sums of money which form no part of the income of the city, but shall be paid for services rendered or work done by any department or division for any other department or division, or for any person or corporation other than the City of Boston be paid into the general treasury, and that all contributions made to any appropriation be expended for the objects and purposes directed by the several contributors thereof.

Ordered, That all taxes raised to meet the appropriations of the city and all taxes assessed for meeting the city's proportion of the state tax for the year 1927, or for any other taxes or assessments payable to the Commonwealth, be due and payable on the fifteenth of September, 1927; that interest shall be charged on all taxes remaining unpaid after the second day of October, 1927, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 59, section 57, of the General Laws, until paid, except the taxes assessed upon shares of national banks, which shall bear interest at the rate of 12 per cent per annum from the fifteenth day of September, 1927, until paid, and that all interest which shall have become due on taxes shall be added to and be part of such taxes.

Ordered, That except as the appropriation for any purpose or item shall be increased by additional appropriations or transfers lawfully made, no money shall be expended by any department for any of the purposes or items designated in the tables and schedules hereinafter set out in excess of the amount set down as appropriated for such specific purpose or item; and except as aforesaid, no salary or wages shall be paid in excess of the rate in said tables and schedules.

APPROVAL OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

President HEFFERNAN, under unfinished business, called up No. 1 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor January 24, 1927, of S. J. Rubin, to be a Weigher of Goods.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Donovan and Dowling. Whole number of ballots 15, and the appointment was confirmed, yeas 15, nays 0.

TRANSFER FOR BROADWAY BRIDGE.

President HEFFERNAN, under unfinished business, called up No. 2 on the calendar, viz.:

2. Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Massachusetts Avenue Bridge, $10,000, to the appropriation for Broadway Bridge, South Boston, $10,000.

On January 17, 1927, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 22.

The order was given its second reading and passage, yeas 17, nays 0.

SEWERAGE AND HIGHWAY WORK.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, under "Recommendations by the Mayor" we find on sheet 2 of the calendar two orders, one for a million dollars for sewerage work, and the other for a million dollars for highways, making of. These orders are of vital importance to the citizens and taxpayers of Boston in connection with the construction of new streets and sewers. Although the chairman of the Committee on Finance (Coun Green) is not here, I am going to make a motion, subject to his approval, that those orders be taken from the Finance Committee and referred to Executive Committee today, so that they can have their first reading today. I trust that that action will be taken, if agreeable to the Council.

President HEFFERNAN—The Chair cannot understand how a motion can be made subject to the approval of Coun. Green if he is not present.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I think you misunderstood my meaning; I did not mean subject to his approval, but to the approval of the Council. I referred to Coun. Green, because he is chairman of the committee, and I would like a chance to confer with him in regard to the matter later, as I would not wish to tread on his toes in referring this to the Executive Committee.

President HEFFERNAN—The question is on recalling the two orders from the Committee on Finance.

(The orders referred to are as follows:

In Effect After March 11, 1927.

I. Order for a loan of $1,000,000 for Sewerage Works. Filed January 10, 1927. Referred to the Committee on Finance.

In Effect After March 18, 1927.

II. Order for a loan of $1,000,000 for Highways, Making of. Filed January 17, 1927. Referred to the Committee on Finance.)

The motion to recall from the Committee on Finance was declared lost.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I doubt the vote and ask for a rising vote.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, before that matter is put to a vote it seems to me that these orders can go over for a week as well as not. Neither of these are to take effect for a period of some six weeks, at the earliest, and in the absence of Chairman Green, who might have some particular desire in the matter, I think it is unseemly to take them away from his committee. I am, therefore, opposed to the adoption of the motion in its present form, particularly in the absence of Coun. Green.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, do I understand that the discussion now is on the order for a loan of $1,000,000 for next year's streets?

President HEFFERNAN—Both orders, $1,000,000 for streets and $1,000,000 for sewerage works, as the Chair understands it.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I am as much interested in streets as anybody else, but, as I understand the facts, only sixteen streets were accepted last year. Therefore, I think this may well be put over for a week or more, in view of the fact, as Coun. Guild says, that the money is not immediately necessary. I think also it would be well to check up on the matter of how last year's million dollars has been spent. The last report I got, only about a fifth of it had been spent. I think it may be well to take stock of last year's million dollars before we appropriate this year's million—which I am in favor of.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, it may be a guess on my part, but it seems to me an intelligent guess, that Coun. Green's committee has deferred action upon these matters with the idea that there might be a change in the personnel of the committee, and therefore I think it would be well not to act upon the matter in the absence of Coun. Green. I think it highly improper to take the action proposed at this meeting, in his absence.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, in view of the fact that certain statements have been made here, this is a matter that deeply concerns new streets in the outlying sections of Boston and, as I understand from authorities in charge of such matters in the Hall, no work can be done in making plans or obtaining the necessary data for the proposed work, until this million dollars is available for use in the Street Commissioners' department. The thought I had in mind was this, that the Council is usually late in passing these orders, with the result that time runs along and it is May, June or later before plans can be made by the different departments, and we have got to the last of August or in the fall before any work can be done. The result is, in such a case, that no satisfactory work is done during the year. In order to anticipate that situation, I thought we might get some action upon these orders today. I know that the chairman of the committee is a perfectly fairminded man, and I think he would realize the reasons that actuated me in making the motion. But, in view of the fact that the proposed action, taking these matters from the Finance Committee and referring them to the Executive Committee today, is objected to, in view of the absence of the chairman, I am perfectly willing to withdraw my motion and let the orders take their due course.

President HEFFERNAN—The gentleman desires to withdraw his motion. Unless objection is made, the motion is withdrawn.

CONTROL OF BOSTON ELEVATED RAILWAY.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Whereas, There is now pending in the Massachusetts Legislature a bill providing for the extension of from forty to fifty years of the control of the Boston Elevated Railway Company by the Board of Public Trustees; and

Whereas, The years during which the Board of Public Trustees has administered the Boston Elevated Railway Company have witnessed a steady decline in the service of this public utility to the citizens of Boston, notwithstanding an increase in fare; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council go on record as opposed to granting to the Board of Public Trustees any further extension of its powers over the Boston Elevated Railway; and that it favors the plan proposed by former Representative Luke D. Mullen of Charlestown calling for the purchase of the elevated structures, their removal, and the substitution of subway or tunnel transportation.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

ELECTRIFICATION OF STEAM ROADS.

Coun. GUILD offered the following:

Whereas, The various steam railroads entering the City of Boston are committed to a policy of abandoning the transportation of passengers between Boston and suburban points as being unprofitable; and

Whereas, This policy has contributed more than any other factor to the congestion in the streets of Boston, and the existence of a serious traffic problem with its concomitant expense to the city; and

Whereas, The lines of existing steam railroads are natural traffic arteries already in existence; and

Whereas, The transportation of passengers between Boston and suburban points can be done at a profit by electric railroads;

Resolved, That the Boston City Council favors the electrification of steam railroads entering Boston and that it favors legislation looking to such electrification.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

ACCEPTANCE OF FAXON STREET.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Faxon street, between Butler avenue and Riverside avenue, Ward 1.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ANNUITY TO THOMAS H. WRIGHT.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby favors the enactment of legislation to authorize the city to pay an annuity to Thomas H. Wright, formerly employed in the repair shop of its Fire Department.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CERTAIN BILLS FILED IN LEGISLATURE.

Coun. HEFFERNAN, for the Committee on Legislative Matters, to whom was referred bill filed in the Massachusetts Legislature relative to exemption of certain property from taxation, and also bill concerning the number of Overseers of Public Welfare, reported, recommending that the Boston City Council take no action on this legislation.

Report accepted.

BILLS IN RE PASSAGE OF ORDINANCES AND LOAN ORDERS.

Coun. HEFFERNAN, for the Committee on Legislative Matters, to which were referred bills filed in the Massachusetts Legislature by the Finance Commission, regulating the passage of ordinances and loan orders of the City of Boston, and to regulate takings by eminent domain in the City of Boston, submitted report recommending passage of the accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the chairman of the Legislative Committee be instructed to appear before the proper committees of the Massachusetts Legislature in opposition to bill filed by the Finance Commission regulating the passage of ordinances and loan orders of the City of Boston in its present form; and in opposition to the bill filed by the Finance Commission to regulate takings by eminent domain in the City of Boston.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, I should like to see the report of the committee adopted in a slightly different form than the way it now reads, so far as it relates to the passage of loan orders in the City Council. The order in its present form directs the chairman of the Legislative Committee to appear in opposition to the bill as it now reads, and goes no further. If the Council is in favor of some change in the city charter, which would avoid the situation which occurred last summer, when the snow removal order was put across here by a majority vote, I think the Council should consider at this time what further instructions to give the chairman of the Legislative Committee, or that the Legislative Committee should perhaps be instructed to prepare a substitute bill. I make a motion, therefore, that the report of the committee be amended so as to add a provision for the chairman of the Legislative Committee to appear in opposition to the present bill, but to favor the bill in principle.

President HEFFERNAN—The Chair would suggest to the councilor that the report of the committee be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, that will be satisfactory to me.

The report was referred to the Executive Committee.

WIDENING OF RIVER STREET.

Coun. WRAGG offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation to authorize the city to borrow money outside the debt limit, for the widening of River street from Mattapan square to Pierce square.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REBUILDING OF BRIDGE NEAR MORTON STREET STATION.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation to authorize the city to borrow money outside the debt limit, for the rebuilding of a bridge over a railroad location near the Morton Street Station.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WIDENING OF DORCHESTER AVENUE.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston hereby approves the enactment of legislation to authorize the city to borrow money outside the debt limit, for the widening of Dorchester avenue.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

On motion of Coun. MAHONEY, the Council voted at 2.29 p. m. to take a recess, subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President Heffernan at 4.27 p. m.

2. Report on the report of the Committee on Legislative Matters, with accompanying order (referred today) instructing the chairman of the Legislative Committee to appear before the proper committees of the Massachusetts Legislature in opposition to bill filed by the Finance Commission regulating the passage of ordinances and loan orders of the city in its present form, and in opposition to the bill filed by the Finance Commission regulating takings by eminent domain in the City of Boston,—recommending reference of same to Committee on Legislative Matters.

Report accepted; said reference ordered.

Report accepted.

4. Report on new order submitted by the Mayor (referred today) appropriating $25,000 to be expended by the Traffic Advisory Committee, under the direction of the Mayor, in the prosecution of its duties, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund, when made,—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 19, nays (Coun. Fitzgerald), 1.

5. Report on order submitted by the Mayor (referred January 10) appropriating a sum not in excess of $3,500 to be expended by the Board of Zoning Adjustment, under the direction of the Mayor, in the prosecution of its duties, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund, when made,—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

6. Report on preambles and resolution (referred today) favoring the electrification of steam railroads entering Boston, and favoring legislation looking to such electrification,—that the resolution ought to pass.

Report accepted; resolution adopted.

7. Report on preambles and resolution submitted by Coun. Dowd (referred today) opposing bill pending in the Legislature providing for extension of from forty to fifty years of control of Boston Elevated Railway by the Board of Public Trustees, and favoring adoption of Mullen plan,—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted, said preambles and resolution declared passed.

Later in the session Coun. DOWD said:

In the reports of the Executive Committee has there been any report on the resolution that referred to the extension of Elevated control and the plan proposed by former Representative Luke D. Mullen?

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, my understanding is that that was laid on the table for one week.

President HEFFERNAN—The Chair will rule that it has been reported by the committee and that the report of the committee has been accepted and the resolution passed.

Coun. PARKMAN—Then, Mr. President, I move a reconsideration of the action of the Council.

Coun. GUILD—And I second the motion, Mr. President.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, may I ask that the Chair have the vote put on the measure in the way in which it was reported from the Executive Committee—namely, in split form, one part dealing with further control for an extended term of years by the Trustees of the Elevated, and the second part dealing with the purchase of the elevated structures and the building of a subway to Lowell or intermediate points?

Coun. Parkman's motion to reconsider the acceptance of the report and the adoption of the resolution was declared carried.

Coun. DOWD doubted the vote and asked for a rising vote.

Coun. KEENE—Mr. President, I rise to a question of information—whether there was not a division of the resolution in executive session?

President HEFFERNAN—The chairman of the Executive Committee will kindly report as to the situation in that respect?

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I understood—and I hope I will be corrected by the committee if I am wrong—that the question was divided, and that the report as it has been read here was made by the committee. There was a division of the two propositions contained in the resolution that was offered and referred.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, isn't the question now on reconsideration of the action that was taken?

President HEFFERNAN—The Chair will rule that it is.

Coun. GUILD—And the vote we are about to take is whether our action shall be reconsidered?

President HEFFERNAN—Yes. The Chair would suggest that, as this matter has apparently been reported upon as an entire proposition, it be referred to the Executive Committee, by whom it may be reported here dealing with the separate parts, as was the intention of the committee. The Chair would make that suggestion if the motion to reconsider prevails.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, my main purpose in offering the resolution today was that it might be acted upon before this matter that is referred to in it is passed upon by the Legislature. I understand that the committee of the Legislature has had a hearing upon it and is considering it at the present time, and no doubt within two or three days may act upon it. If we put it over for another week, until next Monday, it may be too late for us to act, and I believe we should act today.

Coun. ARNOLD—Mr. President, if my recollection serves me correctly, back in 1918, when this matter was first before the Committees on Street Railways and Metropolitan Affairs of the Legislature, acting jointly, they had it under consideration for something like three months. So I do not believe the councilor's fears have any material grounds. I personally believe that this act will be before the joint committees of the Legislature for some time to come. Therefore, I see no reason why this matter cannot be referred again to the Executive Committee, so that they may bring in the report that they really intended should be brought in here today.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I believe the motion before the Council at this time is to reconsider, and I always believe that a matter should be reconsidered when there is some misunderstanding about it. I believe that there is clearly some misunderstanding here. While I do not always agree with the ideas of the gentleman who asked reconsideration, I do take the same position that he takes upon this matter. I hope reconsideration will prevail, because the two questions involved here should be clearly understood by the members of the committee. I think if we act upon the resolution in a divided form, we shall have no difficulty in arriving at the right solution. Therefore, I hope the motion to reconsider will prevail, and the matter can then be acted upon as it was intended to be acted upon in the committee.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I would make a suggestion that the motion to reconsider be withdrawn, and that the matter be referred to the Executive Committee, to be straightened out there.

President HEFFERNAN—The motion to reconsider must first prevail before the matter can be referred again to the committee. The Chair would suggest that, inasmuch as there was a division of the vote in committee, we reconsider the action we have taken here and then vote upon the two matters separately.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, in the Executive Committee that paper was considered in its present form, and it was there decided that we should divide the subject matter with which it deals into two parts, one the resolution dealing with long term control by the trustees, with a suggestion of opposition on our part to any further extension of the powers of the trustees over the Boston Elevated Railway; and second, the part of the resolution dealing with the plan proposed by former Representative Mullen of Charlestown, calling for the purchase of the elevated structures, their removal, and the substitution of subway or tunnel transportation, possibly clear out to Lowell. In the committee we voted to divide those two questions, and voted to go on record only as against the proposed extension of control of the Boston Elevated for forty to fifty years. When the Clerk read the report today, I voted with the feeling that we were simply carrying out that vote in the committee, which was that we were opposed to that long extension of control under the trustees. But I certainly did not think that we were voting in favor of the destruction of the elevated structures and the carrying out of an indefinite plan of subway or tunnel construction. I certainly do not feel that I or anybody else should be jockeyed into any such vote under a misapprehension, and consequently I trust that the motion to reconsider will prevail.

President HEFFERNAN—The report was read exactly as it was turned in by the chairman of the Executive Committee, but apparently there was a misunderstanding.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, if it would advance matters I shall be glad to withdraw the motion to reconsider and the Council can go then into executive session for a very few minutes, straighten the thing out, and then come back and report in accordance with the wish of the committee. If that is the best way to proceed, I will withdraw the motion to reconsider and would suggest that the matter be referred to the Executive Committee and acted upon this afternoon.

President HEFFERNAN—The Chair will rule that nothing can be done until our action is first reconsidered.

The Council's action in accepting the report of the committee and adopting the resolution was reconsidered.

President HEFFERNAN—The Chair awaits the pleasure of the Council.

Coun. FREELEY—Mr. President, I move that we take a recess for five minutes.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, before we take a recess I move that the matter be recommitted to the Executive Committee for action this afternoon.

Coun. Parkman's motion, that the report be recommitted, was carried.

The Council voted at 4.40 p. m. to take a recess for five minutes, and at 4.45 p. m. was called to order by President Heffernan.

The Executive Committee reported on the resolution (offered by Coun Dowd and referred today) for opposition to further extension of public control by the trustees and approval of plan for purchase of elevated structures, recommending (a) that the Boston City Council go on record as opposed to granting to the Board of Public Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company the proposed extension of from forty to fifty years of control of the railway; and (b) favoring the plan proposed by former Representative Luke D. Mullen of Charlestown calling for the purchase of the elevated structures, their removal, and the substitution of subway or tunnel transportation.

President HEFFERNAN—The question comes on the acceptance of the report of the committee.

The report was accepted.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I would now move, dealing with the recommendations of the committee, that they be split, striking out for purposes of the first roll call, if there is a roll call, all following the semicolon in the final paragraph, namely "and that it favors the plan proposed by former Representative Luke D. Mullen of Charlestown calling for the purchase of the elevated structures, their removal and the substitution of subway or tunnel transportation."

Coun. Wilson's amendment was adopted, and that part of the resolution providing that the "Boston City Council go on record as opposed to granting to the Board of Public Trustees any further extension of its powers over the Boston Elevated Railway" was declared adopted. Coun. FITZGERALD doubted the vote and asked for a rising vote. The Council stood divided, and that part of the resolution was declared adopted 10 to 8.

Coun. FITZGERALD further doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I rise to a question of information. May I ask, whether, if we favor the amendment, we are simply going to have the resolution submitted to us in two divisions? Is that the purport of the amendment?

President HEFFERNAN—The Chair rules that the adoption of the amendment would strike out the balance of the resolution entirely.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, may I ask if that was the purport of the Executive Committee's report?

President HEFFERNAN—The Chair will rule that that was not the purport of the Executive Committee's report. Any member, however, can offer a motion to amend, as Coun. Wilson did.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I think the Chair misunderstood my motion. I am not trying to jockey the other side, any more than I care to be jockeyed. I simply raise the point that I don't care to vote in one motion or in one resolution upon the question of whether we favor an extension of control of the Boston Elevated, and also whether we favor the demolition of the elevated structures, and also whether we favor the construction of subways or tunnels to parts unknown, at the present time, even though it may be favored by Mr. Mullen. My reason for making the amendment, therefore, was simply to strike out for the time being the part following the semicolon, so that we could vote clearly on what preceded that. But, on the other hand when that is disposed of, I have no objection to the latter part following the semicolon being taken up, so that everybody may have a chance at the Luke Mullen proposition.

President HEFFERNAN—The Chair is willing to accept the amended motion as made by Coun. Wilson, if there is no objection.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I would like to have Coun. Wilson state his motion again.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, the resolution as reported, through an obvious error, was reported in a way contrary to the way in which we voted in the executive session. Unless it is amended in such a way as I have just suggested, it will force every man in this room to vote on one resolution which includes two different parts, namely, that we oppose further control of the Elevated by the trustees, and also that we are for or against Luke Mullen's bill. I merely ask in my motion that we leave the Luke Mullen part out of it and vote first for or against the extension of Elevated control by the trustees. That having been settled, by roll call or otherwise, I am entirely willing that everybody should then have a chance to be recorded for or against the Luke Mullen part of the resolution. My point is simply that I don't think the two matters should be combined in one resolution, and that we should be expected to vote on both of them together, when they should properly be divided.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, if Coun. Wilson's motion prevails and we pass the resolution as he intends, it wipes out all reference to the Luke Mullen bill, does it not?

President HEFFERNAN—The Chair rules under the motion as made that, first, a vote will be taken on the first part of the resolution, dealing with the extension of public control, and then on the so-called Luke Mullen part of the resolution.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I would like to ask Coun. Dowd, through you, if he is satisfied with that arrangement.

Coun. DOWD—Yes, Mr. President. That was the understanding in executive session.

President HEFFERNAN—The question now comes on the adoption of the first clause in the resolution, down as far as the semicolon.

The first part of the resolution, viz.: "Resolved, That the Boston City Council go on record as opposed to granting to the Board of Public Trustees any further extension of its powers over the Boston Elevated Street Railway," was declared adopted.

President HEFFERNAN—The question now comes on the adoption of the remainder of the resolution ("and that it favors the plan proposed by former Representative Luke D. Mullen of Charlestown calling for the purchase of the elevated structures, their removal, and the substitution of subway or tunnel transportation").

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I move that that latter part of the resolution be laid on the table for one week.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, on the question of laying on the table for one week I would like to say this—

President HEFFERNAN—The Chair will rule that the motion to lay on the table is not subject to debate.

The motion to lay on the table was carried, yeas 12, nays 7:

Yeas—Coun. Bush, Dowling, Englert, Freeley, Guild, Keene, McGrath, McMahon, Parkman, Ruby, Wilson, Wragg—12.

Nays—Coun. Dowd, Fitzgerald, Gilbody, Green, Heffernan, Mahoney, Ward—7.

TERMINATION OF COUNCIL COMMITTEES.

Coun. KEENE offered the following:

Ordered, That the term of office, as members of the several standing and special committees named in the rules, of the members of the City Council heretofore appointed on said committees, be terminated upon February 7, 1927.

The order was read a second time, and the question came on its passage.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, it seems to me it would be a great mistake to pass this order terminating the term of office of the committees. This body is a body elected for two years, and presumably the committees are appointed for two years, and it takes a vote of the Council to remove them. There are certain committees of the Council which have been acting during the past year, and to my mind the efficiency of our work depends in large measure upon their continuing in office not only for the first year but for the second. I would refer, among others, to the Legislative Committee. When the Council first organizes, in the first part of January, the Legislative Committee is appointed, and a new committee, it seems to me, would be unable to take any intelligent position on legislation which may already have been introduced into the Legislature or may be before the Legislature at that time, although the committee which has already been acting upon such matters may be entirely familiar with them. In the course of the year the Legislative Committee naturally becomes familiar with such matters and is in a position to determine the policy which should be adopted in regard to legislation one way or the other. The importance of such a committee becomes greater in the second year of its term than in the first. The same thing is true of the Committee on Appropriations. If committees are to be changed in the middle of the existence of this body, it seems to me there will be a great loss in efficiency. The members of a committee become familiar with the matters that would naturally be referred to it—in the case of the Committee on Appropriations, for example, the budget, and if the committee is not going to be continued in office the second year of the term it ceases to have the value that it would otherwise have, as the work cannot be taken up as intelligently by another succeeding committee. I think the Council should consider the matter very seriously before removing committees that are in existence, and not only this present Council, but having in mind the establishment of a precedent for future councils.

Coun. KEENE—Mr. President, under our rules the presiding officer has not only the power but the duty to appoint committees that he thinks will best serve the body and the city during his incumbency. We now have a new president of the body and I think it would be extraordinary if the body did not give to the new presiding officer that power. A duty rests upon him. Unless the President of the Council has the right to say who shall serve on the committees, not only as members but as chairmen, to assist him in carrying out his work, he is not enjoying the rights and the prerogatives that a presiding officer properly has; and I sincerely hope the members of the Council will extend that privilege and that courtesy to our new president, so that he may perform his duties and function in that respect in the way that a presiding officer is supposed to function.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I think the most forceful argument in favor of giving the president the right to change the committees is that which has been advanced by the gentleman who has just taken his seat. He occupied the chair last year and appointed certain committees, and our new president should have that same right, the right that is supposed to be exercised by the presiding officer of a body. Not only that, but we have in our membership the gentleman from South Boston (Coun. Mahoney) who was not a member of the body at the first of last year, and who had to take the leftovers. It seems to me that he and other members should be given the same opportunity to obtain committee appointments at the hands of our new president that members of the body enjoyed last year under our preceding presiding officer.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, it is so seldom that I disagree with the gentleman from Ward 5 (Coun. Parkman) that it is now almost a pleasure to disagree with him. I think the President of the Council ought to have the power to appoint his committee. I think the proper functioning of the Council depends a good deal on the relations between the president and the members, and I think the president's success in presiding over the body depends a good deal on the co-operation he gets. After all, he is the man whom we look upon to guide us here, and I certainly think the president, like any president of a body, ought to have the power to appoint his committees. Therefore, I hope the motion will prevail.

Coun. FREELEY—Mr. President, I would like to say that I am in favor of the attitude taken by my colleague from Brighton (Coun. Dowling), feeling not only that the new president should have a right to make changes in committees if he wishes to do so, but also feeling that we, the different members of the body, who have been acquainted here for a year and whose term together will be another year, might well have a chance to change our committees, in order that we may get the all-around experience that would go with membership on different committees. I feel that the committees should be changed.

Coun. BUSH—Mr. President, I am heartily in accord with the sentiments expressed by the councilor from West Roxbury (Coun. Keene) not only because of the reasons expressed by him but also because of the fact that, since the Council has seen fit to elect a new president, it should be left to that new president to exercise the discretion he desires as to the heads and members of committees to serve under him. With reference to the argument used by the councilor from Ward 5 as to the value of having certain members continue on certain committees, I feel sure that the President of the Council will take into consideration the fact that there are some committees that might perhaps best function along the lines in which they have been acting if they are continued with the same personnel.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I move the previous question.
The order was passed.

CONTRACTS WITH CITY OF BOSTON.

Coun. McGRATH submitted the following:
In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-Seven.

An Ordinance Concerning Contracts with the City of Boston.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Chapter 40 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925 is hereby amended by adding at the end of clause A or section 18 the words, "whose plant or plants are located in the United States," and by adding at the end of clause B of said section the words, "whose plant or plants are located in the United States."

Referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

MUNICIPAL EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

Coun. WARD offered the following:

Ordered, That a committee of five members of the Boston City Council be appointed to investigate the Municipal Employment Bureau of the City of Boston, and to report the result thereof to the City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I do not believe that that order should be passed at this time.

President HEFFERNAN—The Chair will rule that the order has already passed.

Coun. FITZGERALD addressed the Chair and was recognized.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I doubt the vote.

President HEFFERNAN—The Chair will rule that the doubt is too late. Coun. Fitzgerald has been recognized.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I understand that under our procedure I can move a reconsideration after Mr. Fitzgerald has introduced his order, or must I do it before?

President HEFFERNAN—The Chair will rule that the gentleman may do so, provided he is recognized by the Chair.

Coun. RUBY—Thank you, sir.

COPIES OF PENDING LEGISLATIVE BILLS.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:
Ordered, That the City Messenger be instructed to keep on file in his office copies of all bills pending before the Massachusetts Legislature which refer to matters pertaining to the City of Boston of any and all description.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

APPROVAL OF EAST BOSTON TUNNEL.

Coun. GREEN, for Coun. Donovan, offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council hereby favors the enactment by the General Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts of legislation to authorize the City of Boston to construct between Boston and East Boston a tunnel or tunnels for vehicular traffic, and for the apportionment of the cost of construction of said tunnels upon the political subdivisions of the Commonwealth, or upon the Commonwealth.

The resolution was laid on the table on motion of Coun. DOWD.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I move that the passage of Coun. Ward's order for the appointment of a committee to investigate the Municipal Employment Bureau be reconsidered.

The motion to reconsider was declared lost. Coun. RUBY doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

Reconsideration was refused, yeas 8, nays 12:

Yeas—Coun. Bush, Dowling, Guild, Keene, McGrath, Ruby, Wilson, Wragg—8.

Nays—Coun. Donovan, Dowd, Englert, Fitzgerald, Freely, Gilbody, Green, Heffernan, Mahoney, McMahon, Parkman, Ward—12.

COUNCIL'S DUTY ON LEGISLATIVE BILLS.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I would like to ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

President HEFFERNAN—If there is no objection, you may make your statement.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I notice in this week's papers that the General Court of Massachusetts threw out all bills affecting the City of Boston that had been introduced by members of the Legislature, because one of their final acts last year was to insist that whatever bills affected a city or town—in our case, whatever bills affect the City of Boston—must be signed first by the Mayor and the City Council. I think that is one of the most important things that has come about since our coming into office. I think it is one of the things that everyone of us should keep in mind. Instead of the Massachusetts Legislature running the affairs of the City of Boston, they are now in the hands of the Mayor and the City Council. With that thought in mind I want to have this put into the record, that it would be well for us to govern ourselves accordingly and to give due consideration to any order that is introduced here which involves going to the Legislature, because now our action will be of some real importance when it leaves this body.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

On motion of Coun. DOWLING, the Council refused a general reconsideration of all action taken at this meeting.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. WARD, at 5.05 p. m., to meet on Monday, February 7, at 2 p. m.

NAMES EVACUATION DAY PARADE CHIEF MARSHAL.

Mayor Nichols announced on February 7 the appointment of Charles D. Martin of 382 West Fourth street, South Boston, Chief Marshal of the Evacuation Day parade to be held on March 17, 1927. Mr. Martin was born in South Boston on March 20, 1891, and has resided there all his life. He is a veteran of the World War and served as Sergeant Major of Headquarters Company, 13th Battalion, stationed at Camp Devens. He was a member of C Company of the old Ninth Regiment of the National Guard, and is a member of the Michael J. Perkins Post, American Legion, and the 40 and 8.

MAYOR REPLIES TO FINANCE COMMISSION.

Mayor Nichols, on February 9, addressed the following letter to the Finance Commission:

Boston, February 9, 1927.

MR. CHARLES L. CARR, Chairman of the Finance Commission of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Your letter dated January 26 calls my attention to pending awards for damages resulting from the improvements at Dock square and Faneuil Hall square in order that, as you say, I may be fully apprised of the situation.

I thank you for the information presented in reference to the estimated profit of the owner but my official concern is less with this information than with the element of real estate values and the possibility of jury verdicts against the city.

These cases have been reviewed by the municipal real estate expert. Have you another expert study deemed to be equally good? The Corporation Counsel advises that these cases should be settled out of court. Do you think his advice unsound?

Please bear in mind that if I direct these cases be tried against the advice of the Corporation Counsel the question to be decided by the jury relates to the fair value of the properties when the takings were made, and not only must I determine whether the proposed awards represent fair values but I ought to estimate the risk of higher awards by a jury if the cases are to be tried.

One Dock square case has been decided by a jury, that brought by Anna N. Barry, the owner of the property immediately adjacent to one of the properties concerned. In that case the jury rendered a verdict of $1,48,294. This estate contained 1,450 square feet of land with a four-story brick building one hundred years old. The city took about one half the lot or 741 square feet, leaving 709 square feet. Mr. Barry testified in court that he purchased the estate for $153,000.

The building itself was assessed for $22,800, but even estimating the building at an unusual figure of say 75 per cent over the assessed valuation, the amount of the jury verdict, if apportioned between the taking and the remainder, shows an apparent profit to Anna N. Barry greatly in excess of $100,000. This, however, did not deter the jury from the verdict as stated.

Furthermore, I am informed by those who heard the trial of the case and the testimony of the plaintiff's experts that the verdict was regarded by them as a victory for the city and a more fortunate outcome than could be generally expected. What weight should be attached to this verdict in deciding the two cases in question?

II. CHAPTER 278, ACTS OF 1926.

Section 7A of chapter 89 of the General Laws, inserted by section 2 of chapter 306 of the Acts of 1925 (as published in General Orders No. 83, series 1926) has been amended by inserting after the word "passed" the following new sentence: "No person shall drive a vehicle over a hose of a fire department without the consent of a member of such department" so that the section now reads as follows:

"Section 7A. Upon the approach of any fire apparatus which is going to a fire or responding to an alarm, every person driving a vehicle on a way shall immediately drive said vehicle as far as possible toward the right hand curb or side of said way and shall keep the same at a standstill until such fire apparatus has passed. No person shall drive a vehicle over a hose of a fire department without the consent of a member of such department. No person shall drive a vehicle within three hundred feet of any fire apparatus going to a fire or responding to an alarm, nor drive said vehicle, or park or leave the same unattended, within six hundred feet of a fire within the fire lines established thereat by the fire department. Violation of any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than twenty-five dollars."

DANIEL F. SENNOTT,
Chief of Department.

MAYOR'S REPLY.

May I now ask you if you have a record in these pending cases of the arbitrary reduction made from the original awards. What, in your opinion, would be the effect of having presented to a jury the facts relating to this arbitrary reduction?

I have before me the findings of the municipal real estate expert, the recommendations of the Corporation Counsel, the revised awards made by the Street Commissioners and against them your communication.

There are only two ways of settling these cases. The Mayor may dismiss the responsibility and allow them to go to a jury for whatever awards may be obtained. Experience has shown that the city has suffered severe loss from this policy. On the other hand, the Mayor must assume the responsibility of making these settlements upon the recommendations of municipal experts.

Your reasons for disagreeing with the city experts may be sound but I have means of judging what these reasons are from your communication. It will be helpful, therefore, if you will send me at your earliest convenience answers to the questions herein presented.

Respectfully yours,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

MAYOR PROTESTS MILK BILL.

Mayor Nichols announced on February 4 that he had sent the following telegram to Senator Gillett:

Boston, February 4, 1927.

Boston emphatically protests against the passage of the Lenroot-Taber bill restricting importation of milk into the United States. The defeat of perfecting amendments to the bill restricting importation of milk into the United States creates a serious menace to the health of those living in large cities in eastern states. Boston vigorously opposed this bill at a hearing in Washington last year and is just as strongly opposed today. This bill if passed may create periodic milk famines in Boston which cannot be adequately supplied from the existing sources and increased cost to the consumer and will seriously affect the welfare of infants and children as well as of the sick.

RENEW WHITE FUND MANAGER'S CONTRACT.

Mayor Nichols announced on February 8 that at a meeting of the trustees of the George Robert White Fund it was voted to renew the contract of George E. Phelan, manager, for a period of four years beginning April 1, 1927, at the present rate of compensation, namely, $20,000 a year, the manager to pay from that sum the cost of all personal service rendered to him in conducting the work.

The trustees in considering the length of term of renewal were influenced largely by their belief that the extension should proceed far enough into the next administration to afford an opportunity for personal study on the part of the new Mayor of the work of the fund.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 1029.

It has come to my attention that there are members of the force who have not acquired a legal residence within the City of Boston, in compliance with Rule 35 of the Rules and Regulations, although they have had ample time since their appointment to acquire such residence. It was stated very clearly to all members of the force what their obligations were with regard to residence when they entered the department, i. e., that they would be allowed a reasonable length of time to move their families into the city, but they themselves must forthwith acquire a legal residence.

Members of the force who have not up to date, acquired a bona fide residence in Boston, must do so forthwith and any member who does not care to abide by this rule may forward his resignation. If it be ascertained that any member of the force is not complying with this rule, charges will be preferred against him.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

FINANCE COMMISSION LETTER.

The Mayor has received the following communication from the Finance Commission:

Boston, February 4, 1927.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

SIR,—Your Honor has authorized the Superintendent of Public Buildings to make a contract, without advertising, on a cost plus basis, with Raymond J. Connelly to renew a part of the flooring at Quincy Market. The estimated cost of the work was stated to be at least $15,000, but not to exceed $20,000. The excuse given for awarding the contract without advertising was that the floor was in such a condition that it was a matter of emergency.

The repair of this floor has been a matter of emergency at least since 1916. At that time the Building Department examined the Quincy Market and, by report to the Mayor on May 17, 1916, stated that the first floor was in an unsafe condition. It was a matter of emergency again when, by letter of June 10, 1926, the Building Department called the attention of the Superintendent of Public Buildings to the fact that it had found timbers in the first floor decayed and that the floor was in a dangerous condition. It was a matter of emergency again when, by letter dated September 21, 1926, the Building Department reported to your Honor the dangerous condition of this floor, and again when, by letter of September 23, 1926, the Superintendent of Public Buildings informed the Building Department that your secretary wished to know if it was absolutely necessary to proceed with the work at once, and received the reply that it was. Again, nearly eleven years after the first report of the dangerous condition of the floor, it was still a matter of emergency when the engineer of the Bridge and Ferry Division reported to the Superintendent of Public Buildings, by letter of January 18, 1927, that the floor was in a dangerous condition and that the work on repairs should be started at once.

The commission has been advised that the floor has already been shored up and that if any further immediate danger exists there is no insurmountable difficulty in further shoring the floor to make it safe for such reasonable time as may be required to draw up proper specifications for the work and to call for public competition for doing it.

It should be noted that the proposed contract is to be on the cost plus basis which has already in so many cases proved expensive to the city and detrimental to its interests. An example of this is the contract for the repair of the North End Bathhouse (see Finance Commission's Reports, vol. XXI, page 189).

The commission recommends that your Honor do not award the contract without public competition nor on a cost plus basis, but that you take steps to obtain a definite contract for performing the work through public competition after due notice has been given.

Respectfully submitted,
THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
By CHARLES L. CARR,
Chairman.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 8.

I. TRANSFERS.

On January 23 the captain of Engine Company 27 reported to the Fire Commissioner that the pumping engine of that company had been disabled and put out of service by the introduction of some foreign matter in its gasoline supply tank. A chemical analysis of the gasoline taken from the tank of the apparatus showed it to contain a large percentage of sulphuric acid.

It is evident that this acid was secretly introduced into the tank for the malicious purpose of preventing this apparatus from responding to alarms, and thus depriving the citizens of its protection. This crime is one of the most atrocious on record in the history of the Boston Fire Department, and it was only on account of the efficiency of the officers of this company that it was discovered before the apparatus was called upon to respond to an alarm of fire. In addition to this crime being committed the honor of the department has been publicly disgraced.

The crime of wantonly or maliciously injuring fire apparatus is punishable by a fine of $500 or imprisonment for two years, and the person guilty of the crime may be ordered to furnish sureties for his good behavior during any length of time which the court orders.

The press of Boston in commenting on the crime under date of Thursday, February 3, made the following statement:

"Fire-fighting apparatus is of no use unless it is ready at any instant for actual fire-fighting service. A fire engine is in the custody of a fire company. That company is responsible for the readiness of the engine whenever an emergency may appear. Yet somehow two gallons of sulphuric acid found their way into the gasoline tank of the motor pump of Engine 27, and no matter whether that was done by a member of the company or by an outsider the company alone is responsible for the condition of its apparatus. Carelessness in guarding such apparatus cannot be extenuated or overlooked."

The members of Engine Company 27 have been given ample opportunity to vindicate the honor of this department by discovering who committed this crime, but have failed to do so. In fact the commissioner has received no co-operation whatever from the members of this company in his investigation to determine the guilty party. Therefore, the following transfers from Engine Company 27 are made for the good of the service to take effect at 8 a. m., Monday, February 7, 1927:

SIGNS CONTRACT FOR QUINCY MARKET FLOOR WORK.

Mayor Nichols announced on February 8, that he had signed a contract awarded to Raymond J. Connelly for new floors at Quincy Market at a cost estimated from $15,000 to $20,000.

It appears that for many years the flooring at the Quincy Market has needed repairs. This was called to the Mayor's attention during the summer and the letter of the Finance Commission under date of February 4, 1927, indicated that the emergency is even more serious than the Mayor had supposed. There can be no doubt, therefore, of the necessity for prompt action in this matter. The only delay is that caused by the Finance Commission in its criticisms of the contract itself which objected to the work being done on a cost plus basis and its recommendation that public bids be called for.

The method of making this contract was the first consideration of the city after the premises had been examined by engineers of the city. Mr. John E. Carty, division engineer of the Public Works Department, reported the middle of January, 1927, that work should be started at once and stated that it would be very difficult for a contractor to give an intelligent figure on the repairs needed as he could not know what is covered up in the flooring and walls. Mr. Louis K. Rourke, Building Commissioner, reported on the difficulty of preparing specifications of sufficient detail to support competitive bidding. His report was that in an old structure of the character of the Quincy Market a great portion of the cost of repairs is the finding and removing of dangerous parts which are not exposed sufficiently for examination. Therefore no responsible contractor could be expected to bid a lump sum for the work without very extensive exploration. For this reason it did not seem wise to the Mayor that money should be spent on examinations which ought to be expended on the work itself.

His Honor further stated that five responsible contractors examined this work with a view of bidding upon it, and all stated that the nature of the work was such that they would not feel justified in submitting lump sum bids for the necessary repairs.

FINANCE COMMISSION COMMUNICATION.

The Mayor has received the following communication from the Finance Commission:

Boston, February 5, 1927.

To the Honorable the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—On January 31, 1927, the Mayor transmitted to your honorable body a loan order for $1,000,000, for the purpose of providing new buildings and additions to buildings at the institutions on Long Island, which consist of the almshouse and the chronic hospital. From a communication of the Institutions Commissioner to the Mayor, it appears that it is proposed to use the proceeds of the loan to construct additional men's dormitories, additional wings to the men's hospital, and additions to the children's buildings, the nurses' home and the power, heating and lighting plant.

If the loan is authorized and the expenditures are made, a further step will be taken to commit the city to the policy of caring for all its chronic cases at Long Island where the almshouse and hospital are both located.

A study of the chronic hospital situation in Boston was made by the Finance Commission at the request of his Honor as the beginning of last year and a report thereon was made, dated April 3, 1926, a copy of which is annexed hereto. At a result of this study the commission found that the proposed hospital building to be erected on Parker Hill in Roxbury, for a part of which a contract had been let, would be expensive both to build and to operate, and that the top of Parker Hill offered a poor site.

On the other hand, the commission found that there existed a need for a chronic hospital on the mainland. It found that there were many chronic cases cared for in acute hospitals and in undesirable homes, and that for many of these patients Long Island was not the proper place. It found a strong sentiment in favor of the establishment of a chronic hospital on the mainland under the management of the City Hospital trustees, and independent of the Long Island institutions. It found that this opinion was well justified.

Several sites for such a hospital on the mainland were considered. The use of the hospital buildings of the West Department at West Roxbury was suggested. The commission found that these buildings would soon be vacated by the Veterans' Hospital. It made an examination of them and found they were well adapted to form a nucleus of a chronic hospital on the mainland and under the direction of the City Hospital trustees. The Institutions Department has attempted to discredit these buildings, but the report of Dr. Frederic A. Washburn, Superintendent of the Massachusetts General Hospital, annexed to the chronic hospital report of the commission, shows that they are well adapted for the beginnings of such a hospital.

This hospital property at West Roxbury, even on the basis of the assessed value, is worth over half a million dollars. When the Veterans' Hospital moves out, the buildings will be valueless unless some use is made of them.

In concluding its report the commission advised the Mayor to abandon the Parker Hill site and to continue to maintain the almshouse and hospital at Long Island, but it further recommended "That the city plan for the development of a chronic hospital at the West Department in West Roxbury."

The Finance Commission now recommends that the loan for $1,000,000 for improvements at Long Island be rejected.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,

by CHARLES L. CARR, Chairman.

AUTHORITY TO DO WORK.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Public Works Department for authority to renew wooden flooring on West Fourth Street Bridge, over the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, by the Bridge Service force. This work will have to be done in conjunction with the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad contractors and the Boston Elevated Railway Company so that it would be very difficult work to do by contract and the most economical way is by day labor methods with the department force, without advertising, the estimated cost for labor and material being $15,000.

MAYOR URGES NEW POST OFFICE.

Mayor Nichols announced on February 8 that he had sent the following telegram to Senator Gillett.

TRANSFER OF POWERS OF TRUSTEES OF BOSTON SANATORIUM.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 7, 1927.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith and recommend for passage by your honorable body an amendment to the ordinance providing for the transfer of certain of the powers and duties of the trustees of the Boston Sanatorium to the Health Commissioner and the control and management of the Boston Sanatorium at Mattapan to the trustees of the Boston City Hospital.

This amendment follows the recommendation of Dr. Haven Emerson, professor of public health at Columbia University, who was designated by the City of Boston to study the needs of tuberculosis hospitalization and make a report thereon.

This ordinance is in substitution of the ordinance recommended by me on January 31, 1927, which is hereby withdrawn.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

An Ordinance Relating to the Boston Sanatorium Department.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section 1. The powers and duties of the trustees of the Boston Sanatorium Department exercised and performed in connection with the buildings and work carried on in the Mattapan district are hereby transferred to the trustees of the Hospital Department who, in addition to their other powers and duties, shall hereafter exercise said powers and perform said duties.

Sect. 2. All other powers and duties of the trustees of the Boston Sanatorium Department and more especially those powers and duties in connection with the Out-Patient Division are hereby transferred to the Health Commissioner who, in addition to his other powers and duties, shall hereafter exercise and perform said powers and duties.

Sect. 3. The offices of the trustees of the Boston Sanatorium Department are hereby abolished.

Referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

BRANCH LIBRARY, HARVARD COLLEGE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 7, 1927.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communications from both the Law Department and the Library Department in reply to your orders of January 24, 1927, relative to agreement of trustees of the Public Library in transferring property of the City of Boston to Harvard College.

Yours respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Library Department, February 4, 1927.
Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Sir,—Referring to the order of the City Council of January 24, 1927, forwarded to us by your Honor, we herewith inclose a copy of the agreement between the trustees and Harvard University.

Replying to the request that the trustees report their reasons for the same—the books and other material which it is proposed to deposit in the library building of the Graduate School of Business Administration in Brighton consist largely of public documents, reports of railroad, public service and other corporations, and similar statistical material which is not in current use, and is of no value except to the research worker in this field. The material is incomplete in many respects and relates mainly to a period prior to 1902, at which time the active collection of such material by the public library ceased. It is not proposed to transfer books which are in current use or which are called for with any frequency for reference. The agreement provides that title to the transferred material remains in the public library.

The similar material in the Harvard business school library commences in the main at about the period where ours leaves off and is in constant process of active collection under expert advice. It will in ordinary course be kept up to date as a great business library. The public library could not keep current the collection of such material on a large scale without a much greater expenditure than has been made for the purpose in the past.

As the books and pamphlets to be transferred are not used or useful except for the purposes of investigation in this field, and as this work is usually a matter of hours or days, the few minutes longer which it may take to reach the library at Brighton is of minor consequence compared to the right of access (which without this agreement could not be had) to a collection there which not only covers a longer period, but is also superior in every respect to the collection now in the central library building. Any book or class of books transferred may be recalled permanently to our shelves, or may be recalled temporarily to the central library on notice that they are wanted for examination there.

The Graduate School of Business Administration has been willing to constitute its library building with all its contents, free of any charge, a branch of the Boston Public Library subject to certain conditions which are no restraint as a practical matter against the freedom of its use by every citizen. While reference is made to this arrangement as an "agreement," the fact is that its clauses merely safeguard each party against unforeseen conditions. It is actually no more than a deposit of books, to which we retain title, and although on a larger scale, it is in principle similar to arrangements which we have in effect in other instances.

Another advantage to the public library, although not the controlling one, is that we remove from our shelves in the central building some twenty-five thousand items which are very rarely used, and make room which is greatly needed for other purposes. The number of volumes in the central building has nearly doubled since it was built, and now stands at a million volumes notwithstanding the fact that out of a total direct home circulation for the whole library system of 3,500,000 volumes last year only 340,000 of this or less than 10 per cent was from the central building.

Although the central building is and will be used largely for reference works and special collections, the normal growth of these will soon require an addition to the building, with a corresponding increase in operating expense, unless the trustees sooner or later store infrequently used material elsewhere subject to withdrawal as required, or place some of it in appropriate depositories as occasion may arise, where it will be cared for and open to public use. The latter course seems preferable. There may be other opportunities to establish branches in special lines, such as this agreement contemplates, without cost to the library, and if other institutions are as generous as Harvard has been in this case we shall be glad to consider them seriously.

Having thus stated our reasons, we may have answered the question as to our legal authority. If the matters we have discussed pertain to library management, they were in 1878 placed in charge of the trustees of the Public Library of the City of Boston, a corporation organized under a special act of the general court, and there they apparently still remain. The city charter, which in 1909 enlarged the powers of the Mayor, contain a provision that nothing in the charter shall authorize the taking away of any of the powers or duties of the Library Department as established by law. The City Council by the act incorporated into the trustees was authorized to pass ordinances not inconsistent with the act. The only ordinance in point (1914) reads:

"The library department shall be in charge of a board of five trustees who shall adopt such measures as shall extend the benefits of the institution as widely as possible, and may from time to time establish branch libraries and delivery stations in different sections of the city."

This the trustees have done from time to time by locating thirty-one branches and more than 300 deposits.

The authority of the trustees in library management has never been questioned except in the matter of salaries paid to employees. This subject has come up at times, and as our files contain the opinions of eminent lawyers bearing on the duties of the trustees and the present status of the act incorporating the trustees in 1878, we are referring them to the Corporation Council for their consideration. As he has also been asked by the Council for his opinion as to the validity of this arrangement with Harvard University under the so-called Anti Aid amendment to the constitution, we beg leave to call to his attention that this amendment prohibits the appropriation of public money or the use of public property for the purpose of founding, maintaining or aiding certain institutions (including colleges) not under public control. We suppose the purpose to be examined is that of the trustees. We did not make this arrangement for the purpose of aiding Harvard University, or its Graduate School of Business Administration. We made it for the purpose of aiding the public library and the citizens of Boston, and any benefit which the college receives is small compared to the consideration which it gives.

We now have more than three hundred depositories of books including schools, engine houses, hospitals and many institutions. On this list are 212 schools, of which 17 are parochial schools. There are hospitals, Jewish Welfare Centers, and many other institutions not under public control. Some of them are apparently within the prohibition of the amendment if the deposit of books is to be considered an aid to such institutions. The trustees do not so regard it. On the contrary, it seems to the trustees that such intelligent help as any responsible institution will give in the circulation and use of our books, and in the encouragement of better reading, constitutes a service on the part of such institution rather than an aid to it. We do not concern ourselves with the other functions of any institution willing to take proper care of our books, and place them in the hands of the public. While these deposits are not large in volume, the question raised by the City Council—unless the trustees have construed the amendment correctly—not only affects such deposits but other plans which the trustees have in mind. The use of the library and its branches in connection with adult education is perhaps the most promising field for extending the value of the library without much expenditure of public money. It would be impractical to enter on this without the co-operation and assistance of institutions not under public control which are engaged now in this work, and of others willing to share in it.

We call these considerations, through your Honor, to the attention of the members of the City Council in the hope that they will approve the general policy of the trustees—which is 'to extend the benefits of the institution as widely as possible' rather than to regard the library merely as a place in which books are kept until called for, or kept whether called for or not.

Very respectfully,

THE TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON,
by GUY W. CURRIER, President.

Agreement by and between the Trustees of the Boston Public Library and the President and Fellows of Harvard College.

Whereas, in order that the material of the Boston Public Library relating to business and business education and business administration and the material of the Harvard Business Library may be made available in such a way as to render the greatest practicable service to the community and to the cause of business education and research at a minimum cost, it is hereby agreed as follows:

1. The Trustees of the Boston Public Library shall constitute the Harvard Business Library, located in that part of Boston known as Brighton, a depository for books and other material as hereinafter provided, the Harvard Business Library becoming to this extent a branch of the Boston Public Library. The books and other material so deposited shall be combined with similar material of the Harvard Business Library and the two catalogued jointly.

2. The Harvard Business Library shall furnish the physical facilities and equipment as rapidly as possible to take over such books and material as shall be agreed upon, thus relieving the Boston Public Library of considerable expense for operation and releasing space in the Boston Public Library for other uses.

3. The Harvard Business Library will, as rapidly as its resources permit, prosecute the work of introducing the books and material into its shelves and cataloguing them. Such sum or sums as the Trustees of the Boston Public Library may at any time, and from time to time before completion of this work, contribute to its prosecution, the Harvard Business School will devote to the purpose, and by so much will the work be expedited and the full use of the collection become available earlier.

4. The Boston Public Library will furnish the Harvard Business Library with a copy of the essential information in its existing catalogue relating to the transferred material.

5. The books and other material transferred to the library of the Harvard School of Business Administration by the Boston Public Library, with the other material belonging to the Business Library and any additions however made, shall be available for use by such persons as would be entitled to use the same if contained in the Central Building of the Boston Public Library, subject to any restrictions made in an instrument of gift of any such books or material and to reasonable restrictions to the use of particular items of books or material which may be made by the authorities of the Harvard Business School Library. It is understood that the library of the Harvard School of Business Administration will afford reasonable opportunity for such use in its library building, so far as such use is consistent with the ordinary and usual service for which the facilities of the library are adapted. In the discretion of its authorities, however, the library of the Harvard School of Business Administration may restrict such use of its library building to the extent of its facilities for service; in case of such restriction the Boston Public Library may provide for such use in its Central Building, and may call for such books and material as are required from time to time by its card-holders for such use, in accordance with and subject to such reasonable regulations as may be from time to time agreed upon between the authorities of the two libraries.

6. Both libraries are to co-operate to as full an extent as is practicable in the inter-loan of books, to the end that the material of each shall be so used as to be of maximum benefit to the community.

7. The books and material intended to be covered by this agreement are those pertinent to the work of the Harvard Business Library which are not, in the opinion of the librarian of the Boston Public Library, needed for current use of the Boston Public Library. The librarian of the Boston Public Library may at any time recall from deposit specific material for which need has arisen.

8. All details as to the transferring of the books and material to the Harvard Business Library under this agreement shall be under the direction of the librarians of the two libraries. Books and material so transferred shall remain the property of the Boston Public Library. Lists of books and materials actually delivered shall be signed by the two librarians or someone authorized to sign on their behalf.

9. It is expected that the arrangement for which provision is made in this agreement will be permanent. It is, however, understood that if it appears to either party to be undesirable it may be terminated upon conditions to be subject of consideration at the time, but which, so far as possible, will work a minimum of damage to either party and which will leave both with as complete collections of books and material as is possible under the circumstances.

10. Each party shall bear the risk of loss by fire or other hazard or by theft; it being understood that the Harvard Business Library will give the same degree of care to the books and material of both parties.

11. The two institutions, that is to say, the Trustees of the Boston Public Library and the President and Fellows of Harvard College, stand ready to co-operate in the establishment, as a branch of the Boston Public Library, of a business reference library in the downtown section of Boston, to be established, operated and maintained by and in connection with the two libraries. The expense of such a reference library would have to be borne presumably by the business community, or at any rate by some person or persons other than the two libraries.

In Witness Whereof the parties hereto have caused their official seals and signatures to be affixed by their duly authorized officers this fifteenth day of January, 1927.

THE PRESIDENT AND FELLOWS OF HARVARD COLLEGE,

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON,

City of Boston,

Law Department, February 4, 1927.

Hon. Malcolm F. Nichols,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—The City Council has requested through your Honor my opinion concerning the legality and constitutionality of the contract made recently between the trustees of the Boston Public Library, hereinafter called the trustees, and the President and Fellows of Harvard College, hereinafter called the Harvard authorities, for the use of certain books pertaining to business education administration. The Council seeks to be advised whether the contract is, first, a legal one, and secondly, whether it is in violation of the so-called anti-aid or sectarian amendment of the Constitution of Massachusetts, section 2 of Article XLVI of the Amendments, which in substance prohibits the use or grant of public property or money for the benefit of any private institution.

I have made a very careful study of the agreement in question in order that I may properly answer the question submitted. In addition I have sought to learn the intention of the parties when the instrument was executed.

From an examination of the agreement it is clear to me that it was intended by the trustees of the library to establish a branch library, many of which are now in existence throughout the city. This conclusion the trustees of the library confirm.

The trustees have attempted from time to time to cater to the needs of the various sections of the city by the establishment of branch libraries. In the South End of the city branches have been established with books that appeal to the residents of this district. In the North End of the city a branch caters to a still different type of citizenry. Branches have been established in schools catering to the type of pupils who attend these schools. Recently the suggestion was entertained of instituting the cart library, by which library books may be brought to the neighborhood in carts. There has been a continuous agitation for a business men's branch library, that is a place where the business man may conveniently find those books that are of interest to him and which may help to administer and conduct his business more efficiently. All these matters are for the determination of the trustees, who by law are the authorities entrusted with the conduct and management of the Library Department of the city. See section 5 of chapter 114 of the Acts of 1878, as amended by section 1 of chapter 222 of the Acts of 1880, and by sections 1 and 2 of chapter 60 of the Acts of 1887, wherein the trustees are given general care and control of the Central Public Library and of all branches which have been and which may thereafter be established and are given full control of the expenditures of money appropriated therefor. See, also, section 5 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909 (Amended City Charter) preventing the city government from taking away any of the powers or duties of the Library Department as prescribed by law.

Under these provisions of law the trustees have complete discretion as to the management of the Library Department and full authority of the question of branch libraries, their power being subject only to the provisions of law requiring the trustees to submit a budget of their needs and estimates of expenditures for the fiscal year (section 3 of chapter 486 of the acts of 1909); subject also to the Mayor's approval of contracts involving the expenditure of money, and to such other provisions of law contained in the various charter provisions applicable to the administration and conduct of the various municipal departments.

By the agreement in question the trustees desired to establish a branch library where there might be centered the books of the city pertaining to business administration and education, and whereby the greatest possible use might be made of them to the end that the greatest good might be rendered that portion of the public interested in them. They were able to secure the co-operation of the Harvard authorities in establishing this type of branch library. The agreement entered into, from its contents, which I will analyze hereinafter, is nothing more than a memorandum of the understanding and intentions of the trustees and the Harvard authorities to avoid future misunderstanding and dispute.

Section 1 of the agreement states that the Harvard business library shall constitute a "depository for books and other material as hereinafter provided, the Harvard business library becoming to this extent a branch of the Boston Public Library." Here is the intention of the parties stated with clarity and in unequivocal language. It is contained in the very outset of the agreement or memorandum. Everything that follows must be interpreted in the light of this declaration between the parties. There does not seem to be any ambiguity in section 1 as to just what the parties contemplated or desired.

Section 2 indicates a desire on the part of the trustees to avoid and not incur expense and to release space in the central library, and to this end the Harvard authorities in their desire to co-operate in this endeavor state that they will speedily furnish the equipment and facilities to help establish the branch.

By section 3 the trustees state that in the near future, if they so decide, they may make an appropriation to relieve the Harvard authorities of the entire onus of establishing the books in the branch and of cataloguing the same. The trustees state that they are willing that this work should be done in their behalf by the Harvard Library and further agree that the trustees will be encouraged to make a contribution towards the expense of the establishment of this branch library if, by so doing, the branch may be opened sooner.

Sections four to ten, inclusive, contain the understanding of the parties as to the method of conducting the branch. These sections state to what extent the Harvard authorities will co-operate and what it expects and requires from the trustees in return for the co-operation and assistance it intends to provide. For instance, in section 5 the trustees state, in substance, that although the branch is to be in the Harvard School of Administration Building, that all the books of the Boston Public Library, as well as those of the Harvard Library should be available to all such persons who, if they so desired, would be entitled to use the books of the Central Library. This same rule is applicable to all the branch libraries in this city. It is further made clear that the Harvard authorities may establish reasonable rules and regulations pertaining to the use of its building and its books. This provision is the same that pertains to all branch libraries of the city located in other public or private institutions. If a branch is contained in a public school, the School Committee is permitted to make reasonable rules and regulations pertaining to the use of the school buildings. If the branch is in a municipal building the Superintendent of Public Buildings may make reasonable rules and regulations as to the use of the municipal building. It is to be assumed that reference is made to the right to prevent tramps and loafers from using the library as a rendezvous; to prevent congestion; and generally to make the library most serviceable. So, too, may the length of time which particular books may be used be regulated by the Harvard Library authorities who are to manage and conduct the branch for the city. It is to be noted, however, that under no circumstances does the city relinquish title to the books and other material deposited in this branch. This is the same rule applicable to all branch libraries. The public are authorized and permitted to use this branch library just as they do other branches of the central library.

By section 7 the librarian of the Boston Library may recall any book or books he may need or desire.

By section 8 the trustees make it very clear that they may abandon this branch and end the arrangement at any time they so desire.

Everything in this so-called agreement indicates the intention of the trustees to establish a branch library for such persons interested in business books at a place where through the kindly offices of the Harvard authorities there may be collected under one roof the greatest collection of business books possible, and whereby they may be made available to the public of Boston interested in them.

The parties in section 13 also state that they believe another branch of similar nature ought to be established in the downtown section of Boston, with the trustees and the Harvard authorities again co-operating. The present relationship, as evidenced by this so-called agreement, provides for no immediate expenditure of money by the library trustees.

I must, therefore, advise you that I can find no legal objection to this agreement or memorandum. The entire arrangement need not have been put in writing at all. It could have been executed by the parties without any written agreement whatsoever. The library trustees, under their discretionary authority to conduct the Central Library and such branches as it may create, have full authority to establish this branch at Brighton and to accept the kind offer of co-operation by the Harvard authorities. It is a part of the management of the Library Department of the City of Boston. See chapter 20 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925 for a declaration of this statutory authority in the library trustees and the requirement by the city government that the benefits of the library institution shall be extended as widely as possible.

Of course, if the library trustees found it necessary to expend a sum of money amounting to $1,000 or more, then the Mayor's approval is necessary to such contract and the charter provisions must be complied with and the contract entered into not by the trustees but by the City of Boston, acting by and through the trustees of the library, exactly as would be necessary in the case of any other city department. If, however, the expenditures were to be paid out of the various private funds which the trustees hold by virtue of bequests and devises made to them as incorporated trustees, then the Mayor's approval is not necessary nor need such a contract be made as meets the requirements of the various charter provisions. See chapter 114 of the Acts of 1878, creating the library trustees a corporation for the purpose of receiving and holding real and personal estate in trust for the benefit of the library, as provided in the various bequests and devises made to them as incorporated trustees.

I must advise you also that in my opinion the so-called memorandum is not in violation of the anti-aid amendment. This amendment (Article XLVI, section 2) in substance prohibits the grant of public funds and the use of public property for the benefit of private institutions. It was created to prevent the appropriation of public money by the Commonwealth, its cities and towns, for the especial benefit of aiding and assisting religious and educational institutions, most of which were sectarian and denominational. I cannot see how the arrangement discussed hereinbefore between the library trustees and the Harvard authorities can be said to violate this amendment. The city, through its trustees, is not making a grant of money to the Harvard Library for its use, nor is it permitting the use of its property for the especial benefit of the Harvard Library. The city is establishing a branch library for the benefit of the people of Boston. It is a particular type of branch library. By its co-operation the Harvard Library makes the city's branch a bigger and better institution. The city and its citizens are the gainers by the arrangement whereby the Harvard Library permits the use of its facilities and equipment by the people of Boston. If this amendment is to be construed as prohibiting such cooperation, then the library trustees must abandon all its branch libraries in neighborhood houses, settlement houses, various club houses, in community centers, and in the various other private institutions and organizations whereby their co-operative efforts and the use of their buildings and facilities may help the library to come closer to the people and afford a greater opportunity for the education of the masses. The incidental advantage and service, if any, which the branch library affords to the settlement house, the community center, the local charitable organization, the local religious society and many other organizations can hardly require the construction that it is proposed shall be made of the amendment so as to prohibit their co-operation with the Library Department of the city. That the amendment should not be so construed may be readily ascertained by an examination of the record, journals and debates of the Constitutional Convention, which framed the amendment for submission to the people. See Volume I, Debates of the Constitutional Convention, 1917-1918.

I, therefore, advise the Honorable Council that the so-called agreement between the library trustees and the Harvard authorities in my opinion is not illegal nor can it be said to be in violation of the provisions of the anti-aid amendment to the Constitution of Massachusetts.

Very truly yours,

FRANK S. DELAND,
Corporation Counsel.

REPORT OF FINANCE COMMISSION ON PROPOSED LONG ISLAND LOAN.

The following was received:

Boston, February 5, 1927.
To the Honorable the City Council.
Gentlemen.—On January 31, 1927, the Mayor transmitted to your honorable body a loan order for $1,000,000, for the purpose of providing new buildings and additions to buildings at the institutions on Long Island, which consist of the almshouse and the chronic hospital. From a communication of the Institutions Commissioner to the Mayor, it appears that it is proposed to use the proceeds of the loan to construct additional men's dormitories, additional wings to the men's hospital, and additions to the children's buildings, the nurses' home and the power, heating and lighting plant.

If the loan is authorized and the expenditures are made, a further step will be taken to commit the city to the policy of caring for all its chronic cases at Long Island, where the almshouse and hospital are both located.

A study of the chronic hospital situation in Boston was made by the Finance Commission at the request of his Honor at the beginning of last year and a report thereon was made, dated April 3, 1926, a copy of which is annexed hereto. As a result of this study the commission found that the proposed hospital building to be erected on Parker Hill in Roxbury, for a part of which a contract had been let, would be expensive both to build and to operate, and that the top of Parker Hill offered a poor site.

On the other hand, the commission found that there existed a need for a chronic hospital on the mainland. It found that there were many chronic cases cared for in acute hospitals and in undesirable homes, and that for many of these patients Long Island was not the proper place. It found a strong sentiment in favor of the establishment of a chronic hospital on the mainland under the management of the City Hospital trustees, and independent of the Long Island institutions. It found that this opinion was well justified.

Several sites for such a hospital on the mainland were considered. The use of the hospital buildings of the West Department at West Roxbury was suggested. The commission found that these buildings would soon be vacated by the Veterans' Hospital. It made an examination of them and found they were well adapted to form a nucleus of a chronic hospital on the mainland and under the direction of the City Hospital trustees. The Institutions Department has attempted to discredit these buildings, but the report of Dr. Frederic A. Washburn, Superintendent of the Massachusetts General Hospital, annexed to the chronic hospital report of the commission, shows that they are well adapted for the beginnings of such a hospital.

This hospital property at West Roxbury, even on the basis of the assessed value, is worth over half a million dollars. When the Veterans' Hospital moves out the buildings will be valueless unless some use is made of them.

In concluding its report the commission advised the Mayor to abandon the Parker Hill site and to continue to maintain the almshouse and hospital at Long Island, but it further recommended "That the city plan for the development of a chronic hospital at the West Department in West Roxbury."

The Finance Commission now recommends that the loan for $1,000,000 for improvements at Long Island be rejected.

Respectfully submitted,
THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by CHARLES L. CARR,
Chairman.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

APPROPRIATION FOR CLERICAL ASSISTANCE, MUNICIPAL COURT.

Coun. FITZGERALD, for the Committee on County Accounts, to which was referred December 13, 1926, communication from chief justice of the Municipal Court of the City of Boston relating to expenditures of the Municipal Court for Civil Business, submitted a report recommending passage of the accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars per annum be and hereby is allowed for clerical assistance in the office of the clerk of the Municipal Court for Civil Business, until otherwise ordered.

Report accepted; order passed.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

Coun. PARKMAN, for the Committee on Claims, submitted the following report:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS FOR THE YEAR 1926.

In City Council, February 7, 1927.

The Committee on Claims respectfully submits the following report showing the disposition of claims during the municipal year 1926. The committee accepted the recommendation of the Law Department in all cases but eight. Of these eight cases the committee rejected two claims in the total amount of $325, and reduced the amount awarded in the six other cases by the amount of $175. The committee has attempted a classification of the nature of the claims against the city which it appends to the report, showing the percentages both by number of the claims and amount. It will be observed that by far the largest percentage, both in numbers and amount, are claims for damage caused by defective highways. Refunds account for 28 per cent of the number of claims but for only 8.4 per cent of the amount. The next in order of amount are claims for water damage, 12.6 per cent collision with fire apparatus, 7.7 per cent, collision with city automobiles, 5.3 per cent, sewer damage, 4 per cent, ferry service, 3.3 per cent, miscellaneous claims account for 13.7 per cent of the amount.

In the eleven months year of 1925, the Law Department acted on 811 claims, of which 335 were approved, or about 41 per cent. In the twelve months year of 1926, the Law Department acted on 748 claims, of which 264 were approved, or about 35 per cent. The total amount of claims pending and received in 1925 was 1,523; in 1926, 1,727, of which 979 were pending January 1, 1927. From these figures it would appear that the Law Department is spending more time on investigation of the claims with the consequent reduction in percentage of claims approved.

For the Committee,
HENRY PARKMAN, JR.,
Chairman.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENTS.

President HEFFERNAN, under unfinished business, called up Nos. 1 and 2 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor January 31, 1927:

Theodore R. Bernson and William J. Reid to be constables.

William T. O'Mara and Francis W. Darling to be weighers of coal.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Donovan and Keene. Whole number of ballots 19, yeas 19, nays 0, and the appointments were confirmed.

President HEFFERNAN called up, under unfinished business, No. 2 on the calendar, viz.:

2. Whereas, By a Resolve and Order of the Board of Street Commissioners of the City of Boston, passed March 26, 1925, an easement was taken to widen Tremont street in the City of Boston; and

Whereas, Certain premises within the limits of said taking belonged to Ira W. Shapira, as trustee of the Whitehall Realty Trust; and

Whereas, The said Ira W. Shapira, trustee of the Whitehall Realty Trust, executed to the City of Boston for street purposes a deed of the said premises which belonged to him as trustee of the Whitehall Realty Trust, which were within the limits of said taking, and in addition thereto a portion of Warrenton place, so called, and rights therein which were not within the limits of said taking; said deed is dated June 26, 1925, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Lib. 4711, page 161; and

Whereas, The purposes of said deed from said Ira W. Shapira, trustee as aforesaid, to the City of Boston was to convey to said City of Boston for street purposes the premises which belonged to the said Ira W. Shapira, trustee as aforesaid, which were within the limits of said taking;

Now, Therefore, it is Ordered, That the Mayor of said City of Boston be and he hereby is authorized in the name and behalf of said City of Boston to affix the corporate seal of said city and to sign and deliver in form satisfactory to the Law Department of said City of Boston a disclaimer of all title to any and all premises which it acquired by virtue of said deed to any land or property which were not within the limits of said taking or within the limits of the second taking made by a Resolve and Order of the said Board of Street Commissioners, passed June 22, 1925, except the right to slope and bank the filling of said Tremont street to the grade established by said Resolves and Orders, upon the remaining land of said Ira W. Shapira, which was adjacent to the land taken by said Resolves and Orders.

On January 24, 1927, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 17, nays 3.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 18, nays (Coun. Donovan, Heffernan), 2.

MUNICIPAL BUILDING, WARD 14.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That the sum of five hundred thousand dollars be appropriated, to be expended by the Superintendent of Public Buildings for a municipal building in Ward 14, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, bonds or certificates of indebtedness to the said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

APPROVAL OF ACTION OF LIBRARY TRUSTEES.

Coun. WARD offered the following:

Whereas, The report of the trustees of the Boston Public Library, as published in the press this day, discloses the fact that through a liberal, constructive and courageous policy of expansion they are rendering a service to the public unequalled anywhere in the world, be it and it is hereby

Resolved, That the Boston City Council in session assembled approve and commend the policies now in operation and hereby publicly express appreciation for service rendered by the said trustees of the Boston Public Library.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I think I am in sympathy with the sentiment expressed in the resolutions, but I would suggest that it be laid on the table for one week pending a report on the same matter. I so move.

President HEFFERNAN—The Chair would state that the matter has been referred to the Executive Committee, and that the councilor can make that motion when it is reported back.

WORK FOR UNEMPLOYED.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

That his Honor the Mayor be requested to determine as soon as possible if there is not some large constructive work contemplated by the City of Boston in the spring of this year and which can be started forthwith, in order to take care of the hundreds of unemployed in this city who are willing and anxious to work at any honest labor that will return them a fair weekly wage.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I introduce this order because of the number of people who have visited my home and have visited the homes of Coun. Green and other members over Saturday and Sunday, men honestly deserving of work, who really want to work; men who are able to do good work. It does seem to me, as this part of the winter is open and there is some construction work contemplated for the spring, that such work could be well started now to take care of these men who are so deserving and so anxious to work at this time.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

IMPROVEMENT OF RADIO RECEPTION.

Coun. FITZGERALD submitted the following:

City of Boston.

In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-seven.

An Ordinance to Eliminate Man-Made Static and Improve Radio Reception.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

1. It shall be unlawful to operate in the City of Boston any apparatus generating or causing high frequency oscillations which interfere with radio broadcast transmission or receiving apparatus, without a permit.

2. Those desiring to operate such machines must apply to wire inspector for permit, and pay fifty cents for permit.

3. Plans and specifications shall be submitted for his approval showing approved devices installed or to be installed for the purpose of suppressing said oscillations which interfere with reception as described in section 1.

4. The wire inspector is authorized to inspect apparatus in premises at any time and suggest or demand any changes which he thinks necessary. Permits are revocable for cause.

5. For failure to comply with this ordinance a fine of $100, or three months imprisonment, may be enforced.

6. This regulation shall not apply to any stations or licenses issued by the United States Government.

Referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

MUNICIPAL BUILDING, WARD 11.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following:

Ordered, That the sum of five hundred thousand dollars be appropriated, to be expended by the Superintendent of Public Buildings for a municipal building in Ward 11, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, bonds or certificates of indebtedness to the said amount.

Referred to Committee on Finance.

BRANCH LIBRARY AT HEATH SQUARE.

Coun. FREELEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Public Library be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to locate and maintain a branch library and reading room at Heath square, corner of Parker and Heath streets, Roxbury, for the convenience of the pupils of the Jefferson and Lowell Schools located in that neighborhood, and for the use of the adult residents of the locality.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RELOCATION OF GREEN STREET.

Coun. GUILD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Street Laying-Out Department, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to relocate the southerly side line of Green street in Ward 19 at and near its intersection with the easterly side line of Centre street in said ward, by taking a parcel of land substantially as described below, and including it within the limits of said Green street:

Beginning at the intersection of the present southerly side line of Green street with the easterly side line of Centre street; thence easterly by said present southerly side line of Green street twenty (20) feet; thence westerly and southerly by a curved line following the arc of a circle of a radius of one hundred (100) feet centered south of Green street to the present easterly side line of Centre street; thence by said easterly side line of Centre street ten (10) feet to the point of beginning.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, my object in introducing this order at the present time is because there is a bad corner there where the two streets have made an angle of approximately 60 degrees. A recent fire has destroyed the building that made the blind corner, and it will now be possible to make a small taking of land at comparatively little expense, which cannot be done if a five-story brick building, or something of the sort, is erected on the corner within the next year or two.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

NEW POST OFFICE BUILDING.

Coun. GUILD offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council is in favor of legislation by the Congress of the United States appropriating money for the erection of a new building in Boston for a general post office to replace the building now used for that purpose, to cost seven million dollars more or less; and be it further

Resolved, That the City Clerk transmit to each United States Senator from Massachusetts and to each Representative in Congress from Boston a copy of this resolve.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, although I have been in the past foremost in opposing on the floor of the Council memorials to the Congress of the United States, to the Legislature of Massachusetts and other bodies, the matter which I have now brought forward seems to me to be one in which the City of Boston is so peculiarly interested that it is proper that the City Council of Boston should go on record as expressing the opinion of the body to our representatives in Congress. I am informed that the appropriation bill covering this item is now pending before the appropriate committee in Congress, and it would seem that perhaps a little spur from the City Council of the City of Boston would lend courage which might be lacking in Congressmen representing Boston and Suffolk County, so that they would hold out as strongly as possible for the new postoffice for Boston to which we are entitled. I move a suspension of the rule and the passage of the resolution.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I want to go on record as opposing this resolution, in order to be consistent. We have opposed practically every resolution that has come in this year to memorialize Congress or the Legislature in regard to matters before those bodies; and I should certainly feel very loath to take action which might be considered an insult to Congressmen Tinkham, Douglass and Gallivan, by urging them to go before any committee of Congress to get a new post office for Boston. I feel that those men require no urging to do their duty, and that if the members of this Council will function as well as our Congressmen from Boston function, and will take care of their work in connection with this city as well as our Congressmen are taking care of their work in Congress, we will find that we have ourselves plenty to do without memorializing our Congressmen with respect to matters that are pending in Washington.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I am not going to make any extended remarks on the resolution now before the body, but consistency is a jewel, and I am going to ask that the resolution be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion to suspend the rule was lost by a rising vote, 1 to 12, and the resolution was referred to the Executive Committee.

INVITATION TO NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Coun. LYNCH offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council invite the National Democratic and Republican Conventions to meet in Boston in 1928.

ROADWAY OVER SHAWMUT BRANCH EXTENSION.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor, through the proper department heads, be respectfully requested to advise the City Council in detail with reference to the investigation of the expense of constructing a roadway or street for pleasure vehicles over the tunnel or araway of the Shawmut Branch Extension of the Cambridge Tunnel, requested in City Council order passed November 29, 1926.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

EXPENSE OF ROADWAY OVER SHAWMUT BRANCH EXTENSION.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That a committee of at least three members of the City Council be appointed by the President to investigate the advisability, the practicability, and the additional expense, if any, of constructing a roadway for pleasure vehicles over and along the tunnel and araway of the Shawmut Branch Extension of the Cambridge Tunnel, from Geneva avenue or Park street to Peabody square.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, the two orders which have just been read are supplementary to my two orders of November 15 and November 29, on which dates I first advocated the utilization of the roof of the proposed Shawmut Branch Tunnel for pleasure vehicle traffic, at least from Park street, Dorchester, to Peabody square, a distance of four fifths of a mile. In November I stated that the revised plans for rapid transit at these points called for the construction of a tunnel or tube, with the roof of the subway absolutely level and flush with the adjacent land and streets, and sufficiently strengthened, at least at all intersecting cross streets, to permit traffic to cross the subway roof at such points as Park, Mather, Lyndhurst and Centre streets and at Melville and Welles avenues. In other words, even now there will admittedly be vehicle traffic directly across the subway roof at all cross streets. My two orders of November last therefore merely suggested that quite consistently with the present plan, the intervening distances along the subway roof between cross streets be likewise strengthened sufficiently to support light traffic. I visualized then and I visualize now no Commonwealth avenue or City Point Boulevard, but I have advocated and now urge that a through route for pleasure vehicles on this four thousand foot stretch is not only practicable now but a necessity for the future, supplementing Dorchester avenue leading to Peabody square on the one side, and Washington street leading through Codman square on the other. Mr. Sullivan of the Transit Department knows as well as I do, and better than I do, that on a roof 33 feet wide, even without the use of adjacent land, there is available roadway width of at least 30 feet, preferably without sidewalks. If two Elevated lines of traffic can run inside the tunnel, I would assume that two lines of light traffic can easily run above the tunnel. I have now learned, through sources which I consider reliable, that even the intervening stretches of the subway roof between cross streets are, according to existing plans should be, strong enough to support light traffic. I understand that contractors in estimating the cost of construction were given to understand that they would be permitted to drive trucks along the roof of the subway incident to backfill work. I also understand that in the vicinity of Welles avenue it is contemplated that the Sewer Department, after abandonment of the steam railroad and following construction of the tunnel, will necessarily drive its carts along the subway roof, properly to siphon sewer pipes at intervening points between cross streets. I certainly do not assume that the Sewer Department intends to utilize private land for that purpose. A full and fair consideration of the proposed roadway, not from the viewpoint of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, but from the viewpoint of the people of this city and particularly the citizens of Dorchester, will, I believe, conclusively prove to all,—except perhaps Boston Elevated Railway officials, past and present,—that a roadway along the line of the Shawmut Branch is no pipe dream, but a reasonable and practical proposal and one which in fairness to the public at this time should be seriously considered at once.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I have followed the remarks of the speaker who just preceded me with a good deal of interest. Practically the whole situation is located within my ward, and I hoped that he might have had some comprehensive idea that would alleviate traffic conditions in the neighborhood of Peabody square, Dorchester avenue and Washington street, as well as at the other points he has suggested here. A study of the situation might possibly reveal that this proposed plan would hold up the construction of work now contemplated in connection with the rapid transit branch. I would merely mention the fact, without disagreeing with him, that what the people particularly want in Dorchester is rapid transit, first, for the car rider. They are ready later, or even now, to take into consideration automobile or vehicular traffic, but provision for the car rider is the one crying need. So I would simply ask my brother to have the order referred to the Executive Committee so that we might have a full hearing and give thorough consideration to the matter.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, without wishing to take up too much time of the Council I wish simply to briefly call the attention of one of the other councilors from Dorchester to the fact that this part of the line I have referred to—unless he is geographically correct—is at the lower end of Ward 17. In fact, one of the polling booths backs up to this particular line of railroad. My only point is this, that the tunnel excavation is now being made and is partly done. I do feel that while this plan is being carried out the Transit Department should seriously consider the possibility of handling the surface traffic situation. If that is considered done, it will not slow the job down one bit, because they have not yet reached a state where any of their work would have to be undone in this connection. If Coun. Gilbody will take a short, swift walk over to the district and look at the situation, I think he will be satisfied that what I have said is correct. To my mind, the time to settle whether there shall be a utilization of the roof of the subway for surface traffic is now, when the excavation is being made, and not two years after the tunnel has been completed.

The order was referred to the Committee on Rules.

MORTON STREET IMPROVEMENT.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners and the Public Works Department, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to comply with the requests made in orders passed by the City Council on December 6, 1926, with reference to the early construction of the second section of the so-called Morton street improvement.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONVENIENCE STATION AT CODMAN SQUARE AND WIDENING OF WASHINGTON STREET.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be and he hereby is respectfully requested to advise the City Council whether in accordance with orders passed by the City Council on December 6, 1926, suitable provision is being made in the proposed 1927 budget for the construction of a convenience station at Codman square, Dorchester and also the prompt appropriation of at least $10,000 from the 1927 tax levy to be expended for the laying-out, widening and construction of the Washington street section of the so-called Morton street improvement authorized by chapter 325 of the 1925 Acts of the Legislature.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel and the Finance Commission, through his Honor the Mayor, be again respectfully requested, in courteous compliance with Coun. Heffernan's order passed by the City Council, November 29, 1926, to forward to the City Council copies of all bills and resolutions relating to the City of Boston filed with the Massachusetts Legislature of 1927.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC OFFICER AT WASHINGTON AND PARK STREETS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be and he hereby is respectfully requested to assign regularly a traffic officer at the intersection of Washington and Park streets, Dorchester, at opening and closing school hours, for the safety of young children, including pupils attending the Lucy Stone School for backward or mentally deficient children, whose lives are daily endangered by street car and automobile traffic at that point.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Report accepted; said orders passed.

4. Report on order (referred from last year) authorizing the heads of departments, through his Honor the Mayor, to allow veteran employees who served in the armed forces of the United States during the World War, leave of absence to attend the convention of the American Legion in Paris, France, in September, 1927,—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

RESIDENCE OF MUNICIPAL EMPLOYEES.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. Chairman, in the absence of the chairman of the Special Committee on Residence of Municipal Employees, I will submit the following report, which has been signed by the members of the committee. I might say that at a meeting of the committee I was instructed to draft this report for the purpose of submitting it to this meeting of the City Council. Ordinarily I would hand it to the chairman to submit, if he were present, but in his absence, and the report being signed by all the other members of the committee, I desire to file it.

The report was as follows:

PRELIMINARY REPORT.

The Special Committee on Residence of Municipal Employees respectfully recommend, as a preliminary report, the passage of an ordinance modifying section 12 of chapter 3 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925 as it now stands, by eliminating whatever distinction is now made between male and female subordinate employees of the city by the terms of said section.

The Special Committee is not prepared at this time to make its final report, but is of the opinion that this preliminary report should be made now, in view of the pendency of the specific matter referred to above before the City Council.

At the time of the passage of the ordinance in the form in which it now stands, females were not completely enfranchised, and that fact may then have been a sufficient reason for drawing the distinction. As that reason no longer exists, the distinction should no longer be made.

The Special Committee accordingly recommends the passage of the ordinance now pending in the City Council on that subject.

TIMOTHY F. DONOVAN,
HORACE GUILD,
MICHAEL J. MAHONEY,
ROBERT G. WILSON, JR.

The report was accepted.

President HEFFERNAN—The Committee on Ordinances will take due notice.

LEGISLATIVE HEARING IN RE ORDINANCES AND LOAN ORDERS.

Coun. PARKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Committee on Legislative Matters be authorized to appear at the hearing to be held by the Committee on Cities of the Massachusetts Legislature on Thursday, February 10, to state their position on House Bill No. 2, accompanying the first recommendation of the Finance Commission of the City of Boston, entitled "An Act to Regulate the Passage of Ordinances and Loan Orders in the City of Boston."

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I rise for information. We having now authorized the Committee on Legislative Matters to appear and state its views, I would like to be informed as to what its views are.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, I am unable to state what the views of the Committee on Legislative Matters are, as it has only been appointed this afternoon and, I suppose, has not met. As soon as it meets, I suppose it will be qualified to make up its own mind as to the position it should take.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, in answer to the gentleman from Ward 5 (Coun. Parkman), it seems to me that the position of the Council might not be very clearly stated or its interest might not be very well represented by a committee appearing on any of those matters, under the circumstances. I don't know how a committee of five members of the City Council could very well represent the interests of twenty-two members of this body on such a question as we have had before us here for discussion under a proposed loan order to provide apparatus for the removal of snow. I am not sure that I make my position clear to the councilor from Ward 5, because it is not very clear to myself. But it seems to me that is the trouble at this time, that under the circumstances the position that the committee might undertake to assume, as representing the members of this Council might be a very hazy one.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, I said in Executive Committee that I thought it was probably, as a general rule, very unwise to allow any committee of the Council to appear before a committee of the Legislature without specific instructions from the Council as to the position it should take. But this matter has been recommended from time to time to the Committee on Legislative Matters. In fact, it was recommended to the committee last Monday. The Committee on Legislative Matters has failed to meet since, and therefore is not prepared to make a report to the Council at this time. The act which is coming up for consideration before the Committee on Cities Thursday is one that concerns the internal affairs of this Council more intimately, perhaps, than any other legislative business that the Massachusetts Legislature will have to deal with, and under the circumstances, with the short amount of time remaining, it struck me wise, as I stated in executive committee,—and as I thought was thoroughly understood there,—to authorize the Committee on Legislative Matters to meet, determine its position and take a stand before the Committee on Cities on Thursday.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I think the views of the councilor from Ward 5 (Coun. Parkman) on this matter are in perfect accord with my own. As chairman of the Committee on Legislative Matters I would state that we are going to hold a meeting at two o'clock on Wednesday here to determine what stand we shall take on this matter. This is a case where twelve members can lay a bill on the table and then, without any action being taken in the way of accepting or rejecting the bill, it will automatically become a law after a period of days as we saw on the snow removal order. It does seem to me that the Council should be represented before the Committee on Cities of the Massachusetts Legislature at 10.30 a. m. Thursday. So, if any member of the Council wishes to state his views as to the stand we should take, I would simply suggest that he may do so at two o'clock Wednesday before our committee, and we will then be able to appear before the Committee on Cities Thursday and state the views of the Council in regard to the matter.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I think I understand the situation better now, and I hope that my inadequate and incoherent remarks may be stricken from the record.

President HEFFERNAN—The Chair would be opposed to that, because the record as printed would not be understandable if the remarks of the gentleman were excluded.

BOSTON TRAFFIC TUNNEL.

On motion of Coun. DONOVAN, No. 3 was taken from the table, viz.:

3. Resolved, That the Boston City Council hereby favors the enactment by the General Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts of legislation to authorize the City of Boston to construct between Boston and East Boston a tunnel or tunnels for vehicular traffic, and for the apportionment of the cost of construction of said tunnel, upon the political subdivisions of the Commonwealth, or upon the Commonwealth.

Coun. DONOVAN—Mr. President, in asking this body to consider this resolution at this time, I will simply state that my views are these. This is to give the members of the General Court an opportunity to study the advisability of a vehicular tunnel between Boston and East Boston. While I personally favor the construction of a bridge between the two sections, still I believe, in order to be fair to certain people who are interested in this matter and who favor a tunnel between the two sections, that we should give them an opportunity to be heard at the State House. This proposition is merely based upon a report submitted by the Transit Commission when our present Mayor was a member of it, and the Mayor will at the present time then be given an opportunity to decide whether he wants to enter-tain or favor a matter of this kind.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. Chairman, I think this is a matter that may well be referred to the Committee on Legislative Matters. As I stated last week, no matter involving expense to the city can be considered by a committee of the Legislature until the Boston City Council and the Mayor approve of it. This reads "That the Boston City Council hereby favors the enactment by the General Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts of legislation to authorize the City of Boston to construct between Boston and East Boston a tunnel or tunnels for vehicular traffic." If we do not pass some such resolution as this, the matter under the new rule of the Legislature will have no standing before the Legislature. But this new rule also lays a greater responsibility upon this body, Mr. President. With the significance that now goes with our action upon a matter of this kind, there is a greater responsibility laid upon us. Therefore, I believe that a matter of this sort, because of its importance and size, should have a hearing before your legislative committee of the Council before we decide to take any definite stand.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I have no particular animosity to the idea of a tunnel or a bridge to East Boston, but I will frankly admit personally that I don't know whether I would be in favor of the expenditure of millions of the public money for a tunnel or a bridge without giving the matter very serious consideration. I don't know that the Legislature knows at this time whether it wants a tunnel or a bridge, or what it may decide. That is a conclusion to which it can only arrive after a full and fair hearing, unless the thing is to be decided by the toss of a coin, or something of that sort. But, while I am not in a position personally to say definitely that I favor a tunnel between Boston and East Boston, I am willing to say that I do not oppose it. I would certainly have no objection to having the matter thoroughly and seriously considered. But I could not conscientiously—and I presume others in the Council feel the same way—say that I favor a tunnel, without looking into the matter more than I have been able to do up to this time.

Coun. DONOVAN—Mr. President, I would like to say that I am perfectly agreeable to having this matter recommended to the Committee on Legislative Matters. While as a member of the Legislature I personally favored the erection of a bridge and believe that is a matter of vital importance to the City of Boston, and while there is much to be said in favor of a tunnel for vehicular traffic, I think this is a matter that should be heard before the Committee on Legislative Matters. My idea in having the resolution taken from the table at this time was that it might be given an opportunity to be heard by the Legislature themselves if it is favorably considered by the Committee on Legislative Matters and they take action in favor of it. This bill calls for the construction of a tunnel or tunnels for vehicular traffic and for the apportionment of the cost of construction upon the political subdivisions of the Commonwealth or upon the Commonwealth. I suppose the idea would be to make such apportionment upon the surrounding cities and towns. So the entire expenditure would not fall upon the City of Boston. Yet, I believe we would do well to recommend the resolution to the Committee on Legislative Matters.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I rise to a point of information. I would ask the members of the Legislative Committee what became of the so-called Logan bill before this year's Legislature in regard to either a vehicular tunnel or a bridge between Boston and East Boston?

Coun. DONOVAN—Mr. President, may I say for the benefit of the councilor from Charlestown that I do not recall any occasion when the Mayor and the City Council approved any proposed bridge bill or plan between Boston and East Boston, yet these matters are being heard at this time in the Legislature. Expedition is evidently the motto of the Legislature this year, and already the Logan bill, while it has not been printed, is before the Legislature and committee hearings have been held upon it. I believe it is the duty of the Committee on Legislative Matters of this Council to delve into these matters and to appear there personally and state their position. But, speaking relative to the Mayor and the City Council, I don't know that there has been any approval or support extended on behalf of this city to the Logan bill.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I believe at the Legislature the rules have already been suspended on these matters, and that hearings have been had. Of course, if there is to be a tunnel proposition put through, other cities and towns benefitted should pay their proportionate share. When the matter was threshed out in the Legislature last year I was one of those who voted against it, and it was defeated by four or five votes. I do believe that those who want to have something of this sort done should have an opportunity to be heard. We have already seen that there is influence enough there to suspend the rules, and that they don't have to come to the City Council in the matter. I do believe in people who are interested in matters of any sort having an opportunity to be heard, I do not believe in giving too much power to any one man or set of individuals in anything of this sort. The Legislature is there to redress the wrongs of the people. On one of these propositions there were sufficient votes to suspend the rules, but on the other proposition there were not. So it is deemed desirable to get assistance in the matter of having this thing presented at the Legislature, down here. Up there they are not willing to suspend the rules on this proposition. I think it is a great big problem, that there are different opinions upon it, and that it should be heard on its merits. Everybody knows about the lobbying that was done up there a year ago. Without question, we had the greatest lobbying that has been seen at the State House for a great many years, and the bill was only defeated after a great deal of hard work. But the rule has been suspended up there on another branch of this Boston and East Boston matter, and I believe those interested should have the same privilege to present their views upon this, that both matters should be heard, and the merits presented, if either is to be heard.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, for years, when the people of Boston did not want some big measure to go across, those who were in favor of the measure would go to the Massachusetts Legislature and put it through regardless of opposition in the city. They have been trying for years to put through a highway in downtown Boston which would cost $25,000,000, and have been trying for years to put a bridge or tunnel across to East Boston. One element have wanted the thing to be paid for by a private corporation, and the other has wanted it to be paid for by the City of Boston. But, however, it was to be done, there were always those who believed it was to be to their own advantage, people outside of the City of Boston, who have pushed it. One of the gentlemen from Melrose, for instance, this year has introduced a bill for a $25,000,000 highway in Boston, Boston to pay the entire cost. The Legislature has finally become ashamed of that kind of thing, forcing Boston to do and to pay for things they didn't want to have done or to pay for, and last year adopted a law or a rule that unless such a proposed order or bill had the sanction of the Mayor or City Council it should not have any standing before that body. Up to that time members here, for political reasons, have introduced orders appealing to the Legislature to do this, that or the other thing for their own districts. I would do the same thing. But now when we introduce an order here sanctioning a thing, we are putting it formally before the Legislature. That is the only way in which they can get it before them. So, as I said last week when I asked unanimous consent to make a statement, when we have confronting us a gigantic proposition like this, and when a suspension of the rule is asked for so that we may favor the thing up there at the State House, may lend it our support, I believe suspension of the rule should not be granted until the project itself is properly considered, so that we may know whether it is a thing that we should favor. It is not now, as it has been in the past, simply a matter of good fellowship for some fellow to put in this or that order, but it becomes a matter of the city actually lending its support and giving standing to a bill, and presenting formally to the Legislature our action showing that we do formally support a bill. Therefore, I believe, in a matter of this size, better consideration should be given by some committee, after a sufficient hearing, where members will have a chance to learn the facts and decide whether they should be with it or oppose it.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I understand that Coun. Donovan made a motion that this matter be referred to the Committee on Legislative Matters. Is that right?

President HEFFERNAN—Yes.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I am agreeable to that action, so that we may hear the stories that may be told and act upon the matter intelligently in the committee. Therefore, I trust that the councilor will press his motion.

Coun. DONOVAN—Mr. President, I heartily coincide with the views expressed by Coun. McGrath and by some of the other members here, and I move now, sir, that this resolution be re-committed to the Committee on Legislative Matters.

The resolution was re-committed to the Committee on Legislative Matters.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

On motion of Coun. BUSH a general reconsideration of all action taken today was refused.

Adjourned at 4.51 p. m., on motion of Coun. WRAGG, to meet on Monday, February 14, at 2 p. m.

MUNICIPAL YEAR.

From 1926 the municipal year begins on the first Monday in January, which falls on Jan. 4 in said year. This change is in accordance with the City Charter amendments of 1924.

UNDERGROUND RAPID TRANSIT IN BOSTON.

The Boston Transit Commission, consisting of five members, two appointed by the Governor and three by the Mayor, began its official existence, July 1, 1894, and ended it July 1, 1918, after seven extensions of the original term. It constructed, under the authority of Acts of the Legislature, the following subways and tunnels, the ownership of which is vested in the City of Boston, and all costs to be covered by revenue from same, not by taxation; Tremont Street Subway, from Broadway and Tremont St., South End, to North Station and from Boylston St., near Charles to Park St., 1.68 miles, opened to Park St. September 1, 1897, and to North Station on Sept. 3, 1898, costing with subsequent alterations, $4,416,000, the first transportation subway in the United States; East Boston Tunnel, from Maverick square, E. Boston, under Boston Harbor and State St. to Scollay square, Boston Proper, 1.42 miles, opened December 30, 1904, costing $3,336,000, the first all-concrete underwater transportation tunnel in the world; Washington Street Tunnel, from Ash st. opp. Nassau, South End, to Traverse st., near North Station, 1.16 miles, opened November 30, 1908, costing $8,496,700 (including $2,850,000 land damages; Cambridge Connection Subway, from under Park st. station of Tremont St. Subway to Grove st., near Cambridge Bridge, 0.47 miles, opened March 23, 1912, costing $1,465,000; Boylston Street Subway from Commonwealth ave., near Kenmore st., Back Bay, to Tremont St. Subway, near Charles st., 1.5 miles, opened October 3, 1914, costing $5,485,639; East Boston Tunnel Extension from Scollay square to North Russell st., 0.41 miles, opened March 18, 1916, approximate cost, $2,523,000; Dorchester Tunnel, from Park st., Boston Proper, to Andrew square, South Boston, 2.26 miles, opened December 3, 1916, as far as South Station; on December 15, 1917, to Broadway, South Boston, and on June 29, 1918, to the Andrew Square terminal. Trains of four or six cars are run in the East Boston Tunnel, the Washington St. Tunnel, continuing on elevated track to Forest Hills, also in Dorchester Tunnel from Andrew sq., So. Boston, connecting with Cambridge Tunnel, to Harvard sq., Cambridge, while only single or double street-cars are run in the other tunnels and subways. Cost of Dorchester tunnel, $11,016,700 to Jan. 31, 1925; of new Arlington Station extending under Boylston St., between Arlington and Berkeley, $1,230,676; of East Boston Tunnel Alterations, Maverick sq., $3,768,857.

Total gross debt on Feb. 1, 1925 for all subways and tunnels, $42,096,700; against which a sinking fund of $7,825,262 has been accumulated from the revenue, making the net debt $34,271,438. The loans are payable mostly in 40 years from date of each (loans since 1911 payable in 45 years), annual interest averaging 3.8 per cent.

These underground ways, about nine miles in all with total of 19.27 miles of single track, were leased to the Boston Elevated Railway Company (which furnished the equipment) for term of 25 years (except Tremont Street 20 years) at annual rental of $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{3}{4}$ per cent of net cost (except East Boston Tunnel which was at $\frac{1}{2}$ of one per cent of all annual gross receipts of said company).

In accordance with Chapter 741, Acts of 1911, the various leases were extended to July 1, 1936, the rental to be $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent of net cost after expiration of the first-term leases.

By Chap. 185, Special Acts of 1918, the powers of the Transit Commission, whose term expired that year, were transferred to the Mayor, Commissioner of Public Works and City Treasurer, or such person or persons, not exceeding three, as the Mayor might appoint. By Chap. 3, Ordinances of 1918, the Transit Dept. was established as a regular City department, to be in charge of three commissioners.

By Chap. 480, Acts of 1923, the extension of the Dorchester Tunnel from Andrew Square about 1,300 feet south-erly was ordered, the proposed new railway location then coming to the surface 400 feet southeast of Dorchester Ave., thence continuing to Harrison Square; thence along the Shawmut Branch railroad to its termination at Blue Hill Ave. and River St., Mattapan.

Loans issued in 1924-25 for Dorchester Tunnel extension, $300,000 and for Dorchester Rapid Transit, $150,000.

NATIVES AND CITIZENS OF BOSTON AND VICINITY HONORED IN HALL OF FAME.

In the American Hall of Fame, New York City, dedicated in 1901, are inscribed, on bronze tablets the names of 56 eminent men and 7 distinguished women deemed worthy of the highest honor on account of their services and attainments. Of the 63 individuals thus selected (up to 1920 inclusive) by an electorate of 100 leading Americans, 27 were natives or for some time citizens of Boston or vicinity. The names of the latter are as follows:

Chosen in 1900—John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, William Ellery Channing, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Daniel Webster, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, Horace Mann, Nathaniel Hawthorne, George Peabody, Samuel Finley Breese Morse, Joseph Story, Asa Gray, Gilbert Stuart—total, 13.

If those who were natives or residents elsewhere in the State are added to the list, the following 7 names increase the total to 34 for Massachusetts or more than half the whole number, viz.: William Cullen Bryant, Jonathan Edwards, Mark Hopkins, Elias Howe, Eli Whitney, Maria Mitchell, Mary Lyon.

If all New England is included, 4 more names will bring up the total to 38 or 60.3 per cent of whole number chosen, these being Roger Williams, Henry Ward Beecher, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Emma Willard.

WEALTH AND TAXATION.

Total assessed valuation of real estate on April 1, 1924, in the 39 cities and 316 towns of Mass., $5,249,628,907 ($283,567,249 more than in 1923) of which 60.85 per cent applied to buildings and 39.15 per cent to land; of personalty, $1,046,215,516; aggregate valuation, $6,295,844,423 (5.44 per cent increase over 1923) on which the total tax levy was $176,859,926, showing an average tax rate of $27.71 per $1,000. Boston's valuation ($1,808,569,298) equal to more than 40 per cent of all other valuations in Mass.

Massachusetts ranks fourth in amount of Federal income tax paid, this total being $109,857,344 in year ended June 30, 1924. N. Y., Penn. and Ill. rank first, second, and third.

Total taxes assessed by Mass. (exclusive of $10,000,000 State Tax on municipalities) in year 1924, $44,068,996, divided thus: Income tax, $15,211,192; business tax on domestic corporations, $11,448,89; same on foreign corporations, $2,528,470; inheritance tax, $6,484,110; franchise tax on 252 out of 403 public-service companies making returns, $2,447,692; on insurance premiums, etc., $2,558,523; on savings bank deposits (incl. Trust Co. Savings Depts.) $2,194,323; on national banks, $935,408; all other, $261,189. Additional 10 per cent assessment of $3,382,976 under Chap. 487 of 1923, to pay refunds to national banks for excess taxation.

Number of Mass. income tax returns received in 1924, 327,354, of which 213,221 were found taxable. Total taxable income reported for 1923 and assessed in 1924, $467,320,201, divided thus: Business income, $268,793,704; interest and dividends, $167,053,669; gains, $29,787,328; annuities, $1,685,500.

Total distribution of income tax to Mass. cities and towns in 1924, $13,972,422 ($1,215,238 more than in 1923) of which Boston's share was $3,554,002; distribution of business, public-service, etc., taxes, $14,073,870, of which Boston received $3,110,115. Number of business corporations taxed, 22,104, of which 2,755 were foreign.

Total property in Mass. exempted from taxation in 1924, $1,138,209,926 (mostly real estate) divided thus: Public property of cities and towns, $488,136,195; of literary and scientific institutions, $196,737,667; of United States, $141,772,499; of churches, $108,583,064; of charitable and benevolent institutions, etc., $80,795,278; of State, $85,371,327; of counties, $15,940,489; cemeteries, etc., $12,641,996; all other, $8,231,411. In Boston, the total exempt property in 1924 was $355,485,100 or 31.23 per cent of all in Mass.

The total wealth in the United States on Jan. 1, 1923 as ascertained by the Federal Census Bureau, was $320,803,862,000 or $2,918 per capita. This is an apparent increase of 72.2 per cent in the 10 years since 1913. The value of real estate, with improvements, amounted to $155,908,625,000, not including public, ecclesiastical and institutional property exempt from taxation, which amounted to $20,505,819,000.

The increase in money value of other classes of property is largely due to the price inflation of recent years and should not be represented as a permanent increase in the quantity of wealth.

In Massachusetts the total wealth increased 106.7 per cent or from $6,279,- 266,000 in 1913 to $12,980,839,000 in 1923, the latter averaging $3,243 per capita.

It is the best of natural harbors, near open sea, sheltered and spacious for anchorage; main ship channel 35 feet in depth at mean low water, increasing to 40 feet from President Roads to open sea; new dredging operations in charge of U. S. engineers are under way for increasing depth of said main channel to 40 feet; waterfront (i. e., lineal pier space) 40 miles, 6 miles fronting on 30 feet depth at low water.

There are 32 foreign steamship lines with regular sailings to and from Boston and 18 coastwise lines (5 to Pacific ports). In 1915 a revision of the harbor lines was made and the project undertaken whereby 600 acres of flats between Governor's Island and Jeffries Pt. will be filled in and used for extensive commercial developments under State control. About 175 acres of flats have recently been filled in and added to the land area of East Boston and 160 acres to that of South Boston.

In April, 1918, the Government decided to establish its Army Supply Base on a portion of the Commonwealth lands in South Boston. About 57.6 acres were purchased from the State, the price being $1,317,510, soon followed by the construction of two pier sheds, each 920 feet long, a wharf shed and other buildings, including one of the largest storehouses in the world, built of reinforced concrete, eight stories high, 1,638 feet long, 126 feet wide and with floor space of over 1,650,000 square feet. The total outlay for the plant was $26,000,000.

Total expenditure by State for improvement of Boston Harbor $21,968,003, from 1859 to 1924, inclusive; total Federal expenditure from 1790 to June 30, 1924, $13,148,538.

There are also within the City limits 964 acres of Metropolitan parks and parkways under State control, chief of which is Stony Brook Reservation in West Roxbury and Hyde Park districts, containing 464 acres of wild forested hill and dale with many rocky knolls and an extensive view of the Charles River valley and beyond.

AREA OF BOSTON TO WARD LINES.

Total, 30,598 acres (i. e., 47.81 square miles), 2,944 acres being filled land, 1,143 acres water area and 1,436 acres flats, land area only, 28,019 acres (i. e., 43.78 square miles). Included in the latter are 160 acres of filled flats recently added to the land area of South Boston and 175 acres to that of East Boston.

Original Boston contained about 780 acres of land. Of the twelve leading American cities, eight are larger in land area than Boston, viz., Los Angeles (364 sq. miles), New York (318), Chicago (199.4), Philadelphia (129), Baltimore (91.9), Detroit (80), Cleveland (56.6), and St. Louis (61.25). The only city in Massachusetts with larger land area is Taunton (50 sq. mi.).

If Boston should expand by annexations as New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and others have expanded, its total area, in case of including the 39 cities and towns within the 15-mile radius, would exceed the largest, viz., Los Angeles, the present land area of "Greater Boston" being 409.3 square miles.

UNITED STATES SHIPPING BOARD ALLOCATES 12 SHIPS TO BOSTON FOR SOUTH AMERICAN TRADE.

ESTABLISHMENT OF DIRECT FREIGHT SERVICE WITH SOUTH AMERICAN PORTS BY TRANSFER OF SHIPS OF AMERICAN REPUBLICS LINE GIVES BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS, AND NEW ENGLAND MERCHANTS THE GREATEST OPPORTUNITY EVER KNOWN FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF TRADE RELATIONS WITH COUNTRIES OF SOUTH AMERICA. MANUFACTURERS AND SHIPPERS OF BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS, AND NEW ENGLAND, ARE URGED TO SUPPORT VIGOROUSLY THE SHIPS OF THE AMERICAN REPUBLICS LINE JUST ALLOCATED TO BOSTON.

The decision of the United States Shipping Board at Washington, transferring to the Port of Boston from the Port of New York twelve ships of the American Republics Line is the most successful commercial development project for the extension of Boston, Massachusetts, and New England trade that has ever been known in local shipping circles.

The transfer of these ships, each with a cargo capacity of approximately 8,800 tons, with direct service to the ports of South America gives unprecedented opportunity for the building up of our foreign trade.

No time has been lost in the operation of these ships, and the steamer "West Selene," with a valuable cargo from Buenos Aires, Santos Bahia and Montevideo is due in Boston about February 23.

It is proposed to sail the ships direct to Boston as the first port, and the operation of the line will have as agents C. H. Sprague & Sons, Inc., 141 Milk street, Boston, and Capt. Eugene E. O'Donnell will serve as manager and director of the ships.

The initiative in bringing the ships of the American Republics Line to Boston has been largely that of Frank S. Davis, manager, Maritime Division of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Davis learned in August, 1925, that the members of the United States Shipping Board were dissatisfied with the operation of these ships from New York, and went to Washington for a conference with T. V. O'Connor, chairman of the Board.

Gen. A. C. Dalton, president of the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation, came to Boston and was deeply impressed by the public spirit of the merchants of the city and the harbor facilities afforded here. He made a recommendation to the United States Shipping Board as a result of his visit that the twelve ships of the American Republics Line should be transferred from New York to Boston.

New York shipping circles opposed the suggestion, and aided by merchants of Philadelphia and Baltimore protested in public hearings before the Board in Washington.

Mayor Nichols went to Washington on January 24 to urge the claims of Boston before the members of the United States Shipping Board. The United States Shipping Board voted unanimously on February 1, 1927, to allocate the ships to Boston.

A luncheon in honor of Chairman O'Connor, General Dalton, members of the United States Shipping Board and executives of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, on the occasion of the visit of these officials at the dry docking of the steamer "Leviathan," was tendered the visitors by the Maritime Division, Boston Chamber of Commerce, at the Copley Plaza Hotel, upon Monday, February 14.

Mayor Nichols delivered the following address:

Boston is honored today in the opportunity to extend the greetings of its citizens to its distinguished guests, Chairman O'Connor, General Dalton, and the members of the Shipping Board.

I am conscious of no greater honor nor pleasure during my service as chief magistrate of the City of Boston than in coming here today to bid welcome to you gentlemen whose wisdom and judgment sent to this port the twelve ships of the American Republics Line, marking the largest and most important shipping transfer in New England since the close of the Civil War.

We appreciate in full measure, gentlemen, the unprecedented opportunity for the development of the export trade of the Port of Boston, which your action has made possible, and which with fine incentive and undoubted executive management will give to the manufacturers of New England markets of the greatest possible value.

We also appreciate your knowledge of the fact that the most successful policy that can be determined by the United States Shipping Board is diffusion of the ships under its control, rather than their centralization in any leading port of the United States.

We welcome you today, Chairman O'Connor, as one of the most devoted and steadfast friends which the cause of organized labor has ever known within the United States.

Your personal service and sacrifice, during your long residence in Buffalo, in behalf of the welfare of the men engaged in the varied industries incident to shipping upon the Great Lakes, especially those engaged as longshoremen, have given to the men of one of our country's most arduous labors, a personal welfare and means of protection, unsurpassed in the history of the cause of labor.

No man better appreciates than I the extreme necessity of the worthy men under your direction, whose service is so important in promoting the welfare of commerce and industry, upon one of the greatest outlets of our common country.

Your promotion to the position of chairman of the United States Shipping Board, one of the most difficult and exacting positions in the United States Government, has been both well deserved and highly merited.

We appreciate to the utmost the full value of the important decision, extended in behalf of the Port of Boston, which will provide for the export trade of Boston, Massachusetts and New England, opportunities unsurpassed in all our splendid history.

We extend to you also, General Dalton, the appreciation of our citizens, and the thanks of our several communities, for the important personal recommendations that have resulted in extending our export trade in South American ports beyond even our fondest hopes of recent years.

Let me also assure you, General Dalton, of the appreciation of the City of Boston for your distinguished service as chief of the Construction Division, in the office of the Quartermaster General of the War Department, where your personal insight into the important problems concerning the welfare of the Army of the United States, has accomplished so much for the welfare and happiness of its personnel.

May I assure you, gentlemen, during my entire service in public office, I have never welcomed a happier opportunity than that provided me in my journey to Washington, to appear before the United States Shipping Board, and heartily urge the transfer of the twelve ships of the American Republics Line, from the Port of New York to the Port of Boston.

I stand as the firm and steadfast friend of the upbuilding of the American Merchant Marine, and to accomplish this end, our Government must furnish money and build ships and directly or indirectly operate them, in order that we may compete upon the seas of the civilized world with the centers of foreign shipping.

A brilliant naval authority has well and truthfully declared that merchant ships are just as essential to our security in time of danger as the naval vessels of the United States.

The benefits to our commerce, affecting every line of industry, are far greater than any cost of maintenance to our government, under the wise direction of the United States Shipping Board.

I firmly believe, from my constant study of this question, that the farmers of our country are each year becoming more and more insistent for the upbuilding of the American Merchant Marine, in order that their products, which are the standard of the world today, may have opportunity for sale in the markets of the world.

I appreciate the singular opportunity which is provided here, today, in explaining to these noted commercial and industrial advisors of our Federal Government, the full character of our accomplishment in metropolitan Boston.

Metropolitan Boston is a mighty center which is steadily growing in size and importance. Its population has grown from 1,269,682 in 1905 to 1,808,845 in 1925, an increase of 42.46 per cent; growing in the past decade at the rate of 25,000 a year.

With an area of 409 square miles, it is next to New York in compactness of population. In area connected by steam and electric mileage it is greater than any other district of its size in the Western Hemisphere. There are 4,000,000 people within a 50-mile radius.

In the score of years from 1905 to 1925, there has been a practically uninterrupted growth of manufacturing business in metropolitan Boston. There are 5,000 manufacturing establishments in this area and 25,000 mercantile places.

The manufactures alone amount to more than $1,250,000,000 a year, with a pay roll of $230,000,000 yearly. There are 178,000 workers employed in the factories of our city. Boston is the natural center for manufacturing and trading interests of New England, one of the richest industrial regions in the world.

Boston is the fourth greatest commercial and industrial center in the Western Hemisphere.

New England shoe industries have a capital investment of some $250,000,000, with a yearly output of more than $500,000,000, and practically all this industry centers in the commercial capital of New England, Boston.

Boston is the first wool market in the country and the center of the most important cotton manufacturing district in the United States. Boston receives more than half the raw wool imported into the United States each year with storage capacity in one warehouse for 100,000,000 pounds.

Boston leads in printing and publishing, with a business of more than $80,000,000 a year.

Boston is the great fishing center of the Western Hemisphere, engaging 1,000 vessels and giving employment to 30,000 persons who earn more than $20,000,000 a year. Boston is the most up-to-date fishing port in the world, with the exception of Grimsby, England, and with the largest fish freezing and storing plant in the world, with a capacity of 15,000,000 pounds.

Boston is one of the three great rubber manufacturing centers of the world with 12,000 persons employed and an output of more than $54,000,000 annually.

She is the center of trade in coffee and spice roasting and grinding, with an output of over $20,000,000 each year. More than $55,000,000 worth of confectionery and $44,000,000 worth of ice cream business is done annually in Boston. The clothing manufacturing business amounts to $55,489,521 a year; manufacturing of electrical machinery, etc., $64,668,771; foundry and machine shops employ 9,000 persons, with an annual business of $45,000,000; Boston's business in drug preparations amounts to more than $17,000,000 each year; her furniture manufacturing business to more than $18,000,000 a year. There are 438 bakeries in Boston, with a pay roll amounting to $7,187,657, and an output valued at $41,613,053. Her cutlery manufacturing business amounts to $24,620,446.

In import trade Boston ranks next to New York, with a business of $321,566,828 for 1925. There are 300 banks with a clearing house business of $22,481,915,315 for the year 1925.

There are 125 hospitals in Boston, 200 hotels, 900 churches and 200 institutions of education. We also have 10,627 acres of public parks in metropolitan Boston.

We must remember also that in South American countries are produced raw materials which must be exported in order to enjoy the full measure of commercial and industrial prosperity. These raw materials, as has been proved again and again, are the raw materials that contribute so largely to the success of the major industries of New England. In return the South American countries demand manufactured goods of the highest quality which can be exported from the Port of Boston under the very best auspices.

New England, it appears, provides approximately 11 per cent of the total manufacturing business of the United States, and about one half of such manufactures originate within two hours of the City of Boston.

It is vitally important that New England shall now look to a successful foreign trade for a sturdy future growth and prosperity.

We are deeply indebted to Mr. Frank S. Davis, manager of the Maritime Division of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, Capt. Eugene E. O'Donnell, vice president and general manager of C. H. Sprague & Son, Inc., and other gentlemen who have so splendidly served the cause of the City of Boston in these important negotiations, which will fairly revolutionize the commerce of New England with South American countries.

One enthusiastic merchant of Boston has declared that the bringing of the ships of the American Republics Line to the Port of Boston means the "salvation of industry in New England," and it certainly seems as if this was no overstatement.

The saving of money to the merchants of New England by shipping direct from the Port of Boston will be evident at once, tremendous, and will help our people to sell their goods cheaper, and it is certainly a true maxim that when New England merchants can sell their goods cheaper, they will assuredly sell more goods in South America.

The spirit of the present hour should be one of active and hearty co-operation upon the part of every manufacturer in New England who can supply products for the extension of our South American trade.

Captain O'Donnell, who will manage and direct the vessels of the American Republics Line from the Port of Boston, is one of the ablest and best qualified shipping men in the United States, but it must be remembered that even he cannot make "bricks without straw."

Every organized industry in New England should stand squarely behind Captain O'Donnell in his notable endeavor to build up our South American trade, and to bear out successfully the prediction of many of his shipping friends, that our South American fleet will eventually have to be increased to twenty-one ships.

Mr. Davis, of your Maritime Division, has well illustrated the possibility of the increase in our South American trade in submitting a statement of direct coffee imports through the Port of Boston. The figures are as follows:

1920.....	2,784 net tons.
1921.....	16,487 net tons.
1922.....	23,153 net tons.
1923.....	32,947 net tons.
1924.....	23,218 net tons.
1925.....	24,358 net tons.
1926.....	31,812 net tons.

One of the chief benefits extended to the Port of Boston will be in developing markets in South America for our textile industry. Statistics reveal the fact that textiles comprise the second largest item imported by Brazil, Uruguay, and Argentina.

With direct steamship service from Boston, under Captain O'Donnell's direction, and with the largest branch bank in Buenos Aires, that of the First National Bank of Boston, of any of the financial institutions of the United States, and with our New England textile mills located within trucking distance of the seaboard, the opportunity is now at hand for reviving our textile industry in a manner quite unknown before.

The First National Bank of Boston, which today ranks sixth among the banks of the United States, with deposits in excess of $300,000,000, established a branch in Buenos Aires in 1917. They occupy their own building, which is the largest office building in South America, and maintain a staff of between 350 and 400 employees.

The First National Bank of Boston is vitally interested in the development of New England business in South America and through splendid representatives is doing everything within its power to encourage an interchange of New England products and raw materials from Argentina and other countries.

The larger markets of South America are essentially the highest type of quality markets. They demand the goods that New England produces, high grade machines, tools, textiles, boots and shoes, paper and paper products, with many others.

I am firm as an optimist in the success of the operation of the American Republics Line ships from the Port of Boston, and I firmly believe that Boston and New England money will eventually own and operate these ships. Let us well appreciate the fact that in the textile industry of New England alone there is a capital investment of over $500,000,000, and in the boot and shoe industry of New England, a capital investment of approximately $250,000,000. The contact will be direct between these major industries of New England and our South American ships, under the management of Captain O'Donnell.

Kindly also bear in mind the fact that Boston is the largest wool port of the United States, and Argentina is a tremendous exporter of wool. Our connection is of the closest in this regard, and the opportunity is wonderful.

Buenos Aires, the capital and metropolis of Argentina, not only is the principal mart and shipping point of the River Plata region, but ranks first in importance among South American ports. In 1859 the population of Buenos Aires was slightly more than 150,000, but by 1905 it had reached 1,000,000 and in 1926 a total of 2,000,000 was attained, or one fifth of the entire population of the country. It is the largest city of the southern hemisphere, is second only to Paris among the Latin cities, and rivals Philadelphia for third place among American cities.

Let no man decry the opportunity of Massachusetts.

Here American liberty began, and here under the masterful leadership of merchants of an era long past and gone, we opened for American civilization the priceless treasures of the Orient and the Far East.

The biennial survey of manufactures, made by the experts of the United States Census Bureau, in its last computation, reveals the fact:

Gentlemen, I desire to call to your particular attention the fact, that here in Massachusetts we produce commodities, varied products, that are essential to the life and welfare of a happy and prosperous nation.

I have explained to you carefully the rank of Massachusetts, as compared with the production of the other states of our Union.

Our opportunity is unexcelled, and I promise you, faithfully, we will live true, in the exportation of Massachusetts and New England products to the nations of the Southern Hemisphere.

In the name of the City of Boston, in closing, I again desire to thank you, as representatives of the Federal Government, for your high consideration of Boston, Massachusetts, and New England, and assure you, that as in the days of the history of our glorious past, we will prove true to the rich gifts we have received from your generous hands.

MAYOR ACTS ON TELEPHONE RATE LEASES.

Mayor Nichols has addressed the following communication to Corporation Counsel Frank S. Deland:

BOSTON, February 12, 1927.

FRANK S. DELAND, ESQ., Corporation Counsel, 11 Beacon Street, Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I am in receipt of your communication which directs my attention to the so-called telephone cases filed by the City of Boston prior to my taking office as Mayor and now pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Your letter is accompanied by a communication to you under date of February 3 from Mr. E. Mark Sullivan, who has been employed by the city under your direction as special counsel to represent the city in the matter of these complaints.

From this correspondence it appears that the prosecution of these complaints involves the expenditure of an immense sum of money, possibly several millions, covering years of litigation. I agree with you that when these complaints were originally brought the cost of prosecuting them was not carefully considered, as it was supposed that the information to be had would be procured by the commission itself. The case, of course, with which we had had experience, was the local rate case before the Public Utilities Board which cost the New England Telephone Company over $2,000,000.

The burden upon the taxpayer was naturally unforeseen. The sum of $25,000 originally appropriated for this purpose, of which about $15,000 has been expended, clearly indicates the limitation imposed by the city upon its own prosecution. Such a program is not practicable for the City of Boston nor, in my opinion, for any city. It is strictly a matter for the United States Government.

Furthermore, it is apparent from the correspondence that there is a question of the legal right of the city to prosecute such complaints for the benefit of the entire country and even if legal presents a new principle which no municipality ought to adopt unless by the exercise of an unusual willingness to undertake other people's burdens.

It appears that the Interstate Commerce Commission has raised the question as to whether or not these complaints ought to be dismissed, and Mr. Sullivan, as well as yourself, comments upon this suggestion by pointing out the burden which would have to be borne by the city.

The commission is a fact-finding body and in a much better position to find the facts than the City of Boston. Whether it is possible at this time for the commission to institute fact-finding proceedings is a matter for its own determination. I am very sure of this, however, that the commission appreciates the importance of the allegations set forth in the complaints of the City of Boston and were the necessary funds made available by Congress would gladly carry on appropriate proceedings.

The City of Boston has done all that may reasonably be expected of any one municipal corporation. You will therefore proceed no farther. The Federal Government on the other hand should study these allegations, make such preliminary inquiry as can be made, and upon the basis of that inquiry decide upon its future course in a matter which in the beginning appeared to be purely local but which has now taken on the aspect of an inquiry nation-wide in its scope.

Yours very truly,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Letter from Frank S. Deland, Corporation Counsel, Law Department, City of Boston, 11 Beacon street, Boston, Mass.

BOSTON, February 12, 1927.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—The writer desires to direct your attention to the status of the so-called telephone cases filed by the City of Boston some time before you assumed the office of Mayor and now pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

You will recall these cases are the outgrowth of an adverse decision on a petition by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company to our State Department of Public Utilities for an increase of rates, which petition was opposed by the City of Boston. From these proceedings, involving only a question of local rates, there had been developed a complaint of considerable magnitude, encompassing allegations against the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the Western Electric Company, Inc., the Graybar Electric Company, Inc., the Bell Telephone Laboratory, Inc., and the Bell Telephone Securities Company. These allegations, originally blended in one complaint, were, at the request of the Interstate Commerce Commission, segregated into two complaints. One complaint against the New England and the American Telephone Company is essentially a rate case, with averments of "unjust, unreasonable, discriminatory, preferential rates violating sections one, two and three of the Interstate Commerce Act."

It seeks to compel the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to give to the New England Company a larger share of the toll rates collected in the New England States and also seeks an investigation by the Interstate Commerce Commission into the so-called license agreement or $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent contract and the supply contract with the Western Electric Company, both of which contracts all the Bell companies in the country make with the American company. This complaint in so far as it seeks a greater distribution of toll rates from the American company affects all the New England states in which the New England company operates, and in so far as it relates to the $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent contract and the supply contract affects every community in the country in which the Bell companies operate.

The other complaint proceeds along totally different lines and alleges a monopoly by the various companies mentioned above in "the transmission of intelligence by electricity as applied in the art of telephony. The manufacture, distribution, use and control of telephone equipment, apparatus and supplies; the financing of telephone operations and sales of stocks and securities of other telephone operating companies," all in violation of various sections of the Clayton Anti-Trust Act. This monopoly complaint clearly discloses a case national in its scope, application and character and one that affects the various communities in the United States in which the subsidiary Bell companies are located. It is similar to many other monopoly cases, national in scope, such as the American Tobacco, Standard Oil and other antitrust cases. Like these cases, this complaint cannot be confined to any one city or state. It affects almost every large community in the country.

The expense of conducting these complaints must of necessity be enormous. The local telephone case of 1925 in which the city participated can hardly be compared with these new complaints, which according to certain members of the Interstate Commerce Commission are considered as among the most important cases on the docket of the commission.

It must be remembered that in the local 1925 case, the New England Company had the burden of going forward with the evidence and proving its case. The city thereby, without cost, obtained a mass of information that could be analyzed and assailed, if need be, by its experts and accountants. The expense of accumulating all this data was on the New England Company. In the complaints, now pending, the burden of going forward and presenting the mass of data and evidence is upon the City of Boston, which must sustain the allegations contained in its complaints. This evidence is not now in the city's possession. The city is of the opinion, however, that it can be secured by an examination of the books and records of the respondent companies. Just what will be disclosed by this examination at the present time is of course an admixture of conjecture and opinion. A staff of engineers and accountants must be employed to make a complete analysis of these books and the companies' plants. Valuations of the properties of these companies by experts and their assistants will be necessary. In my opinion, from an investigation of other rate cases, and especially the 1925 telephone rate case, I believe the cost of this work will be several million dollars covering a period of years. This does not include the cost of possible appeals from the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission to the Federal Courts and the time consumed in prosecuting these appeals.

In connection with this cost I have interviewed some of the experts with indefinite results. The standard to guide us, however, was set up in the local rate case whose scope was very much more limited than the present case. In that the Telephone Company had the burden of going forward with the evidence, similar to the city in the present case, and was forced to expend, so I am creditably informed, over two million dollars.

This perplexing and forbidding factor of cost has been fully considered by Mr. Sullivan, our present counsel, and his letter, herewith, attached, states how he tried to meet the difficulty. To simplify the problem, dropping the rate case and proceeding solely with the monopoly case has been suggested. But from this proposed solution there arises a legal difficulty, whether or not the city could constitutionally proceed with a monopoly case. It has been urged that such a case involves primarily the question of rates because these various dominating relationships, as alleged, affect the base upon which the rate is built. But even if it be granted that the city could legally proceed in this kind of a case, there still remains the practical question of cost. To properly present evidence sustaining the allegations in the monopoly case would involve a complete and exhaustive study of the internal affairs, equipment and intercorporate relations of companies, some national, others international, in their areas or operations. This work would be reflected in an expenditure of money that would present a serious impairment of the city treasury.

It further means that the City of Boston must bear the burden of carrying on a rate case that is national in scope and character and which affects the entire country. Is the city justified in expending large sums of money for the benefit not only of this city but of the entire country? Should the taxpayers of Boston be expected to bear the burden of the entire country? These are questions it seems to me your Honor must answer in this connection. Your Honor will observe from Mr. Sullivan's letter that an attempt to secure the co-operation of the other large cities of the country in bearing the expense has not met with very much success.

Aside from the legal aspect of this case as it affects the right of the city to make these expenditures, I submit to your Honor the advisability of expending large sums of money, how much only the future can tell, in order to correct certain alleged evil practices of the telephone monopoly of the country.

When these complaints were originally brought the cost of prosecuting them was not carefully considered. The urgent desire to proceed against these companies was present due to the action of the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities in allowing the increases in rates. The larger expense involved and the consequent burden upon the taxpayer was given but scant consideration.

Some time ago when I was in Washington I brought these matters to the attention of the chairman of the commission and tried to persuade him that the commission should proceed upon our complaint and examine into the affairs of the companies but it was pointed out to me that this could not be done because of lack of appropriation.

Therefore, after much reflection on these matters, it seems to me my responsibility to you demands decisive action. Consequently, I deem it my duty to lay these observations before you and to recommend to your Honor that the city inform the commission of its predicament and that it can no longer continue the cases before the commission, unless the commission itself is willing to go forward and make the necessary investigations, and have Congress appropriate the large sums of money necessary to do so.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK S. DELAND,
Corporation Counsel.
